

Request for Proposal 26009
PK-12 Social Studies
Addendum 3
October 20, 2025

QUESTIONS

1. Could you please clarify whether the comprehensive curriculum guidance documentation needs to be completed for each grade level we are submitting, or if we may submit one grade level as an example to represent the set?

Answer: Curriculum guidance documentation needs to be completed for each grade level, K-8. The following high school courses with explicit Oklahoma Academic Standards should also have comprehensive curriculum guidance: U.S. Government, Oklahoma History, Modern World History, U.S. History, Economics, World Geography, Psychology, and Sociology. There is no required curriculum guidance for advanced placement of social studies courses.

2. Are there sample curriculum guide examples (e.g., for grades K–2) that you could share to help illustrate the expected format and level of detail?

Answer: A link is already provided in the RFP to the district template for expected format and level of detail. (TEMPLATE LINK).

3. The last addendum indicated that the comprehensive curriculum guidance documents should “explicitly identify instructional content alignment to the 2019 Oklahoma Academic Standards for Social Studies and the Tulsa Public Schools’ Essential and Supporting Standards.”

*Does this requirement mean that two separate curriculum guidance documents are needed—one aligned to the 2019 Oklahoma Academic Standards and another aligned to the Tulsa Public Schools’ Essential and Supporting Standards (that are very similar to the 2025 Oklahoma Standards)?

*If two distinct documents are required, would the district consider providing an extension to the submission timeline given the significant amount of documentation needed?

Answer: No, two separate documents are not required. On the curriculum guidance, align with the Tulsa Public Schools’ Essential and Supporting Standards. A list of correlations to the 2019 Oklahoma Academic Standards for Social Studies is sufficient.

4. Regarding Page 9, Attachment A of the RFP document, our curriculum has been submitted to the State of Oklahoma as part of the 2025 State Adoption Review Process, and we are currently awaiting the outcome. Would the District consider evaluating a product not currently on the 2019 list?

Answer: Yes, products that are not listed as a 2019 state-approved resource are eligible for district review.

5. Regarding Page 1, Section: Purpose of the RFP, our curriculum is a newly developed product aligned with the 2025 academic standards. Would the District accept an alignment document for the 2019 standards and an alignment document for the 2025 standards?

Answer: Yes, alignment documents to the 2019 standards and 2025 standards would be accepted but are not required. Please see Addendum 3, question 3 response.

6. Regarding Page 6, Comprehensive Curriculum Guidance, can the District confirm if the US Government course is to be offered as a full-year course or a semester course?

Answer: U.S. Government is a semester course.

7. On pg. 6 of the Social Studies RFP #26009 there are Comprehensive Curriculum Guidance documents mentioned under "items to complete". Are these Guidance Documents required only for "modified courses" that have been edited in some way to be different/OK-specific from "national versions" or are the Guidance Documents also required for "national versions" being submitted?

Answer: All K-8 titles must be OK-specific only and have curriculum guidance for each grade level. The following high school courses must also have OK-specific titles only and have curriculum guidance: U.S. Government, Oklahoma History, Modern World History, U.S. History, Economics, World Geography, Psychology, and Sociology. Advanced placement titles may be national versions and do not require curriculum guidance.

8. On pg. 6 of the Social Studies RFP #26009 there are Comprehensive Curriculum Guidance documents mentioned under "items to complete". When submitting these new documents to support the programs, may a sample be submitted with the RFP and then all final documents provided by January 5, 2026? If so, how complete should the sample be?

Answer: It is strongly encouraged that all samples be submitted in their final form as part of the RFP response, as evaluation is based on the materials provided at the time of review. The sample should be complete. Submitting drafted samples limits the District's ability to conduct a complete and accurate evaluation. If revisions are anticipated, respondents must clearly identify all areas of the submission that are subject to change and describe the nature of those changes at the time of submission. The District reserves the right to consider the proposal non-responsive if substantial modifications are made after submission, and any failure to deliver the final documents as represented may result in cancellation of an adoption or purchase agreement.
