Maths – start revising as early as possible. This can increase your grade by up to 2 grades. If GCSE Maths is like a marathon, Corbett Maths 5 a day is the best training programme! Consider your calculator!

English – little and often. Educake is a great tool!

Science – you must be regularly doing independent quizzing on Educake in addition to the homework we set on there. A little and often starting now is far better than cramming at the end.

Post 16 Pathways

Understanding different levels

A Levels are linear 2 year courses. This means you need to study for the full 2 years, then pass all the examinations to get the qualification. A Levels are advantageous for university.

BTEC (Business & Technology Education Council) is a vocational qualification, organised and awarded by Edexcel (Level 3 is equivalent to A Levels).

T Levels (Introduced in 2020) will consist of technical knowledge and practical skills in a specific industry. Each T Level will have 1800 hours over 2 years including a placement of at least 45 days (vocational and work based).

Apprenticeship is a job with training. Being an apprentice means that you have a job that includes gaining recognised qualifications and essential skills whilst you are working and earning wages.
