Background

To promote youth & cultural exchange, Chinese leaders are launching study trip programs that encourage international students to visit China. All costs happening within China (meals, accommodation, transportation, etc.) are covered by the organizers (most likely local high schools or colleges).

Campers are responsible for covering the following expenses:
transportation from Hamden to the New York airport, round-trip airfare between China and the United States, and any personal expenses during the April camp in China.
