Albuquerque Aviation Academy Outshines State and District on Spring 2025 Testing

We're proud to announce that Albuquerque Aviation Academy once again outperformed both the state and local district in academic proficiency on the Spring 2025 assessments!

Our students achieved 63% proficiency in English Language Arts, 41% in Math, and 63% in Science, far exceeding both state averages (ELA 43%, Math 25%, Science 35%) and APS averages (ELA 43%, Math 25%, Science 35%).

These outstanding results are a reflection of our students' dedication, our teachers' commitment, and our school's continued focus on academic excellence.

Congratulations to our entire community for another year of exceptional achievement!

Too Tired to Learn? Let's Fix That

We've noticed an increase in students falling asleep during class, and we want to share some important information about sleep and its impact on learning.

Did you know that middle school students (ages 6-12) need 9-12 hours of sleep per night, while high school students (ages 13-18) need 8-10 hours?

Adequate sleep is essential for physical growth, cognitive development, and overall health. One of the best ways to help your child get enough rest is to remove devices from their bedroom. Encourage your child to charge their phone or tablet in a central location, away from the bed, because, yes, they often stay up playing video games or watching YouTube when left to their own devices. Supporting healthy sleep habits at home will help your child feel more alert, focused, and ready to learn each day.
