

WESTMINSTER IMPACT REPORT RECENT PROGRESS

Outdoor Basketball Court Transformation

Thanks to last year's Westminster Gives Fund, the outdoor basketball court on the East Campus is receiving a new pavilion cover. This addition will maximize the space, providing opportunities for rainy day recess, special events, and more—all made possible through the generosity of our community.

Professional Development at the SCL Conference

This past June, nine members of Westminster's leadership and faculty attended the Society of Classical Learning's Annual Conference in Dallas, TX. This invaluable professional development opportunity strengthened our team and enriched our school's classical education programs.

Dear Friend of Westminster,

I am honored to serve as Interim Head of School for Westminster School at Oak Mountain. In my short time here, I've grown to love the faculty, staff, students, and families who make this community so special.

I am excited to share how the Westminster Gives annual giving initiative has strengthened our school. A few years ago, thanks to your generosity, we moved from operating in the red to achieving financial stability. Tuition now covers 97 percent of school expenses, which is well above the national average for private schools, and allows us to invest in faculty, programs, and facilities. For example, Westminster Gives funded a new pavilion for the outdoor basketball court and supported professional development for nine faculty and staff members at the Society of Classical Learning conference in Dallas.

Looking ahead, we aim to build a sustainable, recurring annual giving program to support the spiritual and academic growth of our students for years to come. Westminster's mission remains clear: to build Christ's kingdom by equipping students with wisdom, virtue, and eloquence.

Your faithful support makes this possible.

Soli Deo Gloria,

Bill McGee
Interim Head of School

WESTMINSTER IMPACT REPORT FUTURE PLANS

Equipping Students for What Lies Ahead

The accomplishments of our recent graduates reflect Westminster's mission to build Christ's kingdom by equipping students with wisdom, virtue, and eloquence. From academic honors and scholarship awards to leadership, athletics, and the arts, their achievements testify to God's work in and through them.

As we look to the future, we remain committed to preparing each new class to thrive wherever the Lord leads them, to lead with humility and courage, and to live as faithful disciples of Christ. The story of our graduates is not just about what has been accomplished, but about the ongoing work God is doing through Westminster students today and in the years to come.

New Community Life Center Project Is Coming to Life

The Community Life Center is well on its way, complete with a regulation eight lane track and soccer field. This $16.3 million project has been one in the making for quite some time and we are looking forward to gathering our community there for a grand opening event sometime this spring! With only $1.6 million left to raise, we are working to secure the funding and close out this chapter by the end of the year.

Annual Fund Update

As we wrap up funding the Community Life Center, we continue working to strengthen Westminster's financial foundation and provide exceptional learning experiences for our students. We're excited to welcome Lindsay Giadrosich as our new Annual Fund Coordinator! She'll partner with Megean Carter to implement a strategic annual fundraising plan for the school.
