THE FOXHOLE FLYER

PRINCIPAL MESSAGE

Hello VOL Families!

I hope this message finds you well and enjoying the beautiful weather we've been experiencing in Florida lately! It's a welcome reprieve and a perfect time for our students to recharge outdoors, which can make a big difference in their motivation and focus.

As the seasons change, it's a gentle reminder that the end of the semester will be here before we know it. I encourage all parents to keep a close eye on student progress in all courses. Regularly checking their grades and assignments, and maintaining open communication with their teachers, are essential steps to supporting student success in our virtual environment.
We're excited to introduce a new feature in the Foxhole Flyer: Parent Tips for Real Success in Virtual School (scroll down). This week, our tips focus on navigating the FLVS platform as both a parent and a learning coach. We hope you find these insights helpful in supporting your child's educational journey.

At VOL, we believe in true partnership with our families. Together, we can help every student thrive and reach their goals.

Thank you for reading. Have a great week!

IMPORTANT REMINDERS

Report cards are now available in Parent Portal. If you do not have a Parent Portal account, now is the time to create your account. Directions can be found here.

Academic Integrity Reminder - VOL students are required to submit 100% of their own work. We have seen several instances in the past week of students borrowing work from previous VOL/FLVS students and submitting it as their own. These items get flagged by the system and require an Academic Integrity review. Students should be reviewing all lesson content before completing the assignment, quiz, or exam associated with each lesson.

We love to hear from you! If you have something positive to share about a teacher, course, or your experiences as a VOL parent or student, please send us an email at volusiaonlinelearning@volusia.k12.fl.us.

THE FOXHOLE FLYER

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT!

Kristopher Zorri - 11th Grader

”Kristopher was nominated by Mrs. Moore. “Kristopher constistently displays outstanding academic achievement. He puts forth maximum effort and dedication towards his own learning. He attends all live lessons, stays at or above pace, and seeks out knowledge and real-world connections. He is respectful and actively participates in class discussions. He demonstrates a real love for learning!” ~Mrs. Moore

STUDENT SPOTLIGHT!

Caden Pustejovsky - 6th Grader

Caden was nominated by Dr. Allanson, who shared, “Caden is well ahead of pace and even volunteered to help create a review game for his classmates during our last live lesson.” Outside of school, Caden is passionate about soccer—he plays goalie for both his rec and club teams. According to his mom, he also loves pigs and enjoys spending time at their farms.

Parent Tips for Real Success in Virtual School

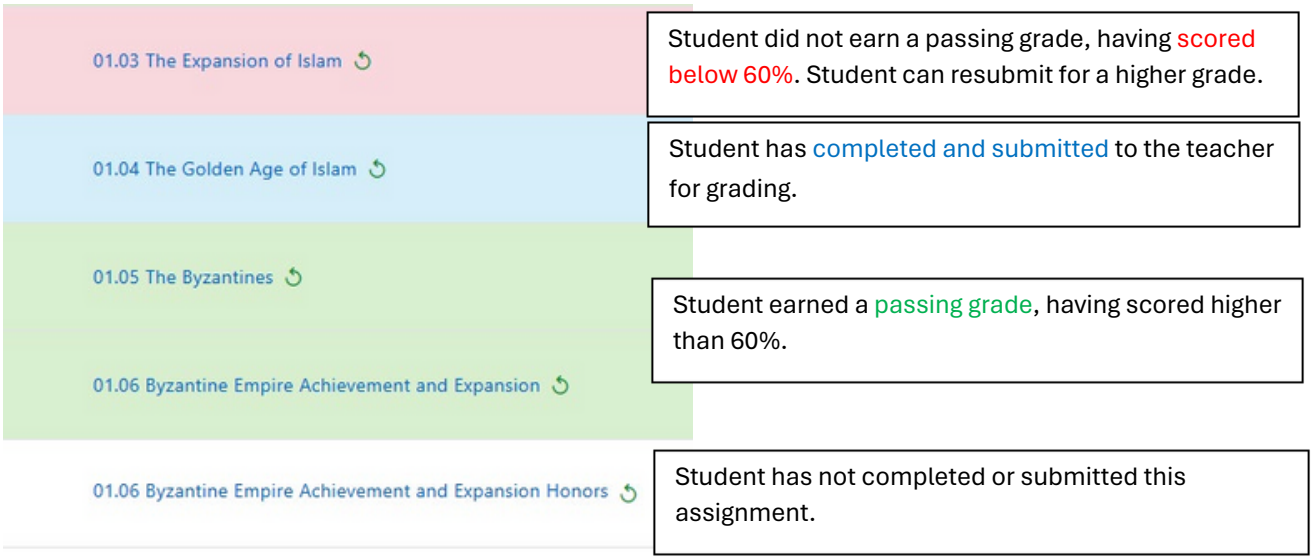

Three FLVS Essentials for Parents

1. Set up a parent/guardian profile in FLVS.
2. Print the live lesson schedule.
3. Print the pacing guide for each course and determine what lesson your student should have completed for the week.
    - Pacing guides can be found on each course's landing page.

3.01 and 3.02

Do you know how to check your student's progress in the FLVS platform? Don't let the student dashboard fool you!

Using the example above, according to the pacing guide, students are expected to be at lesson 3.02 by the end of the week. The screenshot of the gradebook reflects that the student has only completed up to lesson 1.06. That means that all assignments between 1.06 Honors and 3.02 have not been completed according to the course pacing guide. This student is 18 assignments behind pace and at the end of a grading period, these missing assignments are calculated as zeros on the student's report card.

In a virtual setting, weekly attendance is taken based on a student's pace in the course. Absences can accumulate quickly. Please set aside time each week to review your students' expected pacing and assignment completions. Set a plan for the week to ensure your student completes the required assignments for each course on time. Please reach out to your student's teacher or counselor if you need additional assistance.
