

How can NGOs and social enterprises work together to create educational opportunities for girls in India?

Importance

- promoting gender equality and empowerment by expanding access to education
- looks at the effectiveness of NGOs and Social Enterprises in alleviating social issues
- Through my business Anja Jay, I donated a portion of the profits to a charity in India supporting Children's education-- I wanted to learn more about creating opportunities for these children

- ## Research:
- quantitative and qualitative data
  - qualitative: lived-experience interviews, stories from NGO/Social Enterprise leaders
  - quantitative: use life maps, statistics on gender gaps in education, and representation of educational opportunities in various countries
