WiNS is a privately funded program that sends bags of food home on Fridays with students in all elementary schools in Crawford Central School District. In the 2021-2022 school year, because all students in these schools are eligible for free breakfasts and lunches when school is in session, students' parents are sent a letter explaining the program. Students and their parents have to "opt-in" to participate in the program. Sue Mulvey estimates that about 500 students will participate in the WiNS program this year. The food is intended to provide nutrition for students over the weekend. The first distribution of food bags is projected for October 8. Special provisions assist with nutrition over the Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter breaks. Students at Calvary Baptist and Seton can also participate in this program if the schools indicate a need/desire for the WiNS program.

Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP):		Formerly known as food stamps, SNAP provides assistance to low-income and working Pennsylvanians, allowing them to purchase produce and groceries for themselves and their family. SNAP helps more than 1.8 million Pennsylvanians, including about 700,000 children, about 690,000 people with disabilities, and about 300,000 older adults, expand purchasing power to ensure their households, as enough food to avoid going hungry. SNAP is issued through a monthly payment to an electronic benefit transfer card, and benefits are based on income and household size. People can apply for SNAP online at www.compass.state.pa.us at any time.
Senior Farmers Market Nutrition Program:		This program runs from June 1 through November 30 each year. Seniors must be 60 or older by December 31 of the program year and have income at or below 185% of the US poverty level. The check distribution end when they run out or on September 30, whichever comes first. The recipient has until November 30 to use the checks they received. Eligible seniors should call their county Active Aging office at 814-336-1792 for information on the distribution of vouchers. Vouchers are distributed on a first-come, first-serve basis.
WIC Farmers Market Nutrition Program:		This program runs from June 1 through November 30 each year, and recipients must be on the WIC program to receive this benefit. Children 1 year and older and pregnant/postpartum women will receive vouchers for the program during their quarterly WIC visit (May through September).
