Title I Permission/Opt-out 2022-2023

Dear Parent/Guardian,

September 15, 2025

The school year is now under way for the students and faculty of the Scranton School District. Each student has learned what is expected from his/her teacher, and has been putting forth the best effort possible.

The Title I Reading Specialists and Math teachers in the Scranton School District work with a small group, providing a more individualized approach. Often this is all that is necessary to keep a student at, or near the pace of the rest of his/her class.

The following indicators may be used to determine which students could benefit from supplemental instruction: reading or math benchmark assessments, classroom teacher recommendation, or the student's reading or math report card grades. After evaluating these sources, the Reading/Math Specialist feels that your child should be scheduled to receive Title I assistance on a weekly basis. If you would NOT like your child to receive these services, please check the statement at the bottom of this paper and sign to show that you do NOT want a Title I teacher to work with your child. This form may be returned via email or mail. If we do not receive a letter refusing Title I Reading or Math services, it will be assumed by the school district that your child may receive Title I supplemental instruction.

Please feel free to contact me at 570-348-3651 with any questions or concerns that you may have. Thank you.

Please check a line below if you would like to discuss your child's Title I referral.

☐ I do not feel that Title I services are in the best interest of my child and choose not to participate at this time.
