 * I don't want to talk to a colonel, I want to talk to a private!!...Did you hear the one about the missionary and the natives?...Where the heck did this bedpan come from?
 * ...Will you guys shut up back there, you sound like a bunch of chickens--Carin--I don't believe it--Bach, Bach
 * ...We never know where he goes anymore... You Koreans can stop ringing those bells now... Well, how about "Coney Island Baby?"... Where is Paul? Everytime we do the operating scene we have to find another half-dead body... File this garbage under--under--Oh, who cares?... What was that noise? Oh, I think John's machine just blew up... I say he stays--He goes--He Stays--He Goes--HE GOES!!.....
 * Yes, he does go.

How about a little trip to my tent, sweetheart?

Boys' Track

The WFHS tracksters, young and inexperienced, were led by shot-putter, Tom Rausch. Rausch broke the school record at the Southeast Regional Track Meet with a toss of 55'10". At the West Fargo Packer Backer Relay, the 2-mile relay qualified for the state track meet with a school record-breaking run of 8:28:7 min. The relay team consisted of J. Lepird, A. Marx, Greg Irwin, J. Finstad. Others going to state were B. Montgomery (high jump), and K. Pettie (javelin).

Tennis Anyone?

Tennis is one of the fastest growing sports in the world today. The increasing interest for the sport was also sparked at WHFS. This was the first year for boys' tennis and it proved to be a successful one with approximately 20 participating. Practice was held in the high school gym until weather permitted the team to move outside to the public courts. The year started, for the most part, with inexperienced players but by the end of the season was a very respectable, upcoming team. The tennis team, coached by Gary Clark and Laurel Thoreson, competed in 10 matches which included: Shanley, Wahpeton, Fargo North (JV), Fargo South (JV), Moorhead (JV), and a tournament at Valley City. The team feels that the year was a very rewarding, successful one and hopes that it will continue to progress.

Tournament at Wahpeton, leave at 7 am. But Prom doesn't get over till 5:00. Sleep on the way down! Where's Brekke? 8:15... there he is. Breks wearing cow-boy boots! Hey, someone wake him and drag him to the first tee. Why can't Chet have friends? Kres got 49... really, what he get on the second hole? Samson quit using "Beaver Specials."

Girl's Track

The West Fargo Girl's Track Team was young this year with one senior, one junior, and the rest freshman and sophomores. Coach Miller got them started out with the usual painful exercises and running. There was also much time spent in the smelly weight room weightlifting.

An encouraging addition were the new uniforms used for the first time this year. But it was difficult starting the outdoor season because of the rainy weather. Nevertheless, Kay Robinson and Jan Haug qualified for State Competition in the 220 yard dash. Although the team didn't have as great a season as they had hoped, much effort was shown.

Mouse for President

The Student Body Presidential Election for 1975-76 was a mildly conducted effort with little campaigning or evidence of excitement. Nevertheless, four people ran for the office of president. Throughout the generally apathetic atmosphere, the most excitement of last year's election was over a small mouse who scurried through the gym during the final speeches. Would it be man or mouse? Neither, it turned out to be woman! So, Women's Lib has finally hit WFHS.

Magic Night-Prom '75

Each of us has his own memories of that evening-- dancing with an untrainable partner, watching the chaperones show off, and applauding those unique couples who danced out the door. But more important than our own are the memories we gave to each other--the hysterical laughter over a silly joke, the sarcastic comments over the hopelessly ridiculous banquet, and the silent thoughtfulness of a sultry spring night that wandered into morning. These are memories impressed in an individual's consciousness forever. "How sweet the silent, backward tracings! The wandering as in dreams, the meditation of old times resumed--their loves, joys, persons, voyages." - Walt Whitman.

I think I just got a laugh!

Saddle Shoes and Bubblegum

Baby, Let's Boogie!!

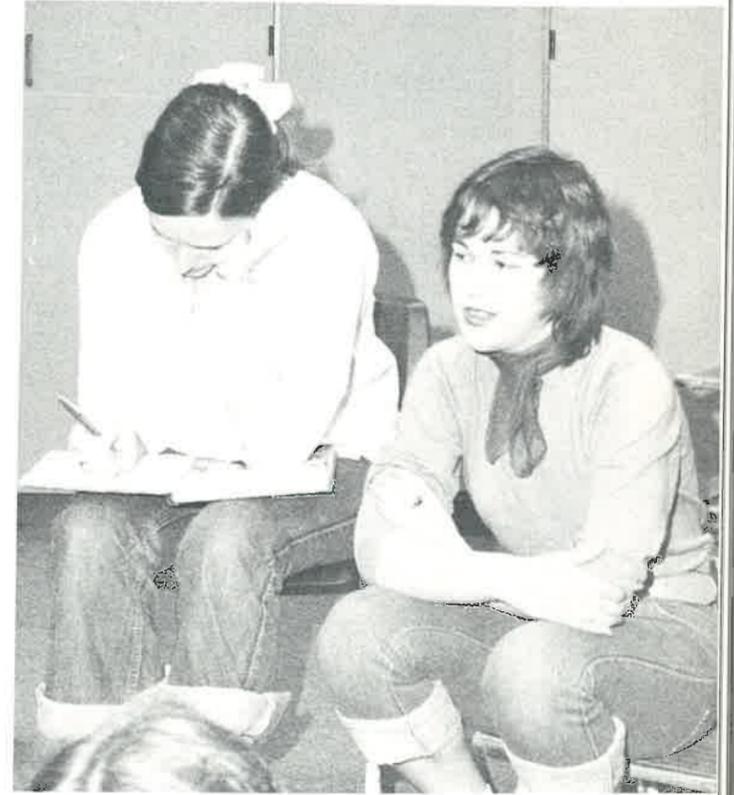

This was the last day of high school '75. But why so unusual? Probably because it was so crazily cheerful. It is easier that way, though. If you make a party out of sentimentality, you don't have to cry. Yet, so few put anything into 50's Day that it would hardly seem worth repeating--even though those that participated enjoyed it far more than those who sat and watched. The Music Room became the center of revival--with dancing and other general "runnings around" occuring during the day. But The Car was the thing--and getting the picture included here became a major project with the cutup choir doing the posing. The only casualty--a broken aerial. But no one cared; there was really no reason to. This was for posterity, the thing that each of us cares about and wants for ourselves. As the day came to an end, pensive seniors gathered their things together and departed; some striding, some shuffling. Altogether, it seemed a fitting end to four years of crazy high school days.

How about this for talent?

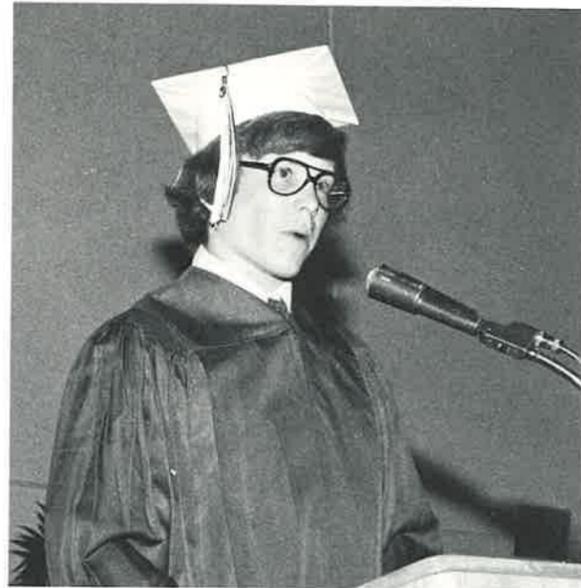

Kelly, Vicki and Lynette--Hanging Out

WHAT WE ARE TO BE,

WE ARE BECOMING

Diplomas--caps and gowns! The long-awaited moment had arrived. Goodbye SOUS and "Walt Schwark report to the office." No more jokes from Mr. Clark--the memories begin. Parents told us--"high school will be the best four years of your life." They were right, weren't they?

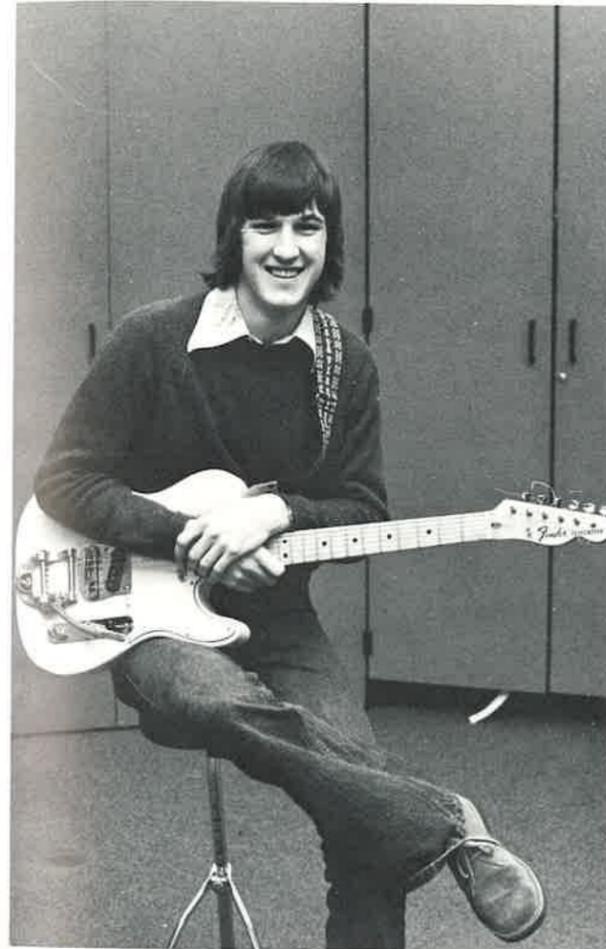

Don't worry, we'll make it.

I'd like to quote a Norwegian poet.

Laurie Keller and Kathy Gingrey--straight 4 point!

'75 AFS Student '76

When I first decided to apply for an American Field Service International Scholarship I had no idea that it could lead to an experience of a lifetime. Such is the situation of thousands of students every year from countries all over the world who decide to undertake such an adventure. AFS, for all those involved in it, gives them an opportunity to gain new understanding about themselves and the world about them. It also means a chance to experience life in a new situation, in a new community with a new family and friends. The adaption to life in this new situation is one of the most important parts of the year to an AFS student. He learns the ways of a new nationality of people from both an intimate and broad viewpoint, and also learns much of opinions of his own country from a different part of the world. It gives the student a chance to spread information of his own country around which is in many cases of great interest to the community in which he is placed. The AFS student also has a chance to learn about himself in many ways--his ability to adapt, make new friends, and generally undertake a relatively new way of life. Although the stay is not permanent, the bond attached between the student and his host family and friends is everlasting and is something to be remembered forever. My experiences in the U.S. have been most exciting; such things as football, stage band, pep band, concert band, concert choir and carolers, as well as the AFS club are activities which AFS gave me a chance to participate in and learn from while making friends and enjoying myself. Also, such things as the basketball season illustrated the school spirit in West Fargo High School that I feel is unequalled anywhere. To me my stay in West Fargo has been one I will never forget and the experiences I gained from it will stay with me for a lifetime. I thank AFS for that.

Thanks
for a great year!

Rob Pearce

Across the Seas . . .

Staying in Ceylon was a really great experience. Everything was totally different there from what we have: the food, the scenery, the customs, and the people. With my white skin and light brown hair I stood out like a sore thumb. I would walk down the street and people would yell out--Sudah, Sudah None! (fair foreigner lady).

I lived in a large city; a suburb of the capitol. Still, every little kid in the town knew my name. I would be on the other side of town from where I lived and hear: Nancy, Ayubonwan (Hello) Nancy.

Sometimes I became homesick while I was there, but now that I'm back in the United States I really miss Ceylon, especially the ocean.

We in the U. S. don't realize how much we really have. I found out last summer how lucky we are. I saw many things that left a deep impression on me for the rest of my life.

I'd like to encourage everyone to apply for the AFS Americans Abroad Program next year. It's really worth it!!

Nancy Krogh

There just isn't enough words or space to tell you of my summer. It is one of the most memorable things that has happened in my school years. Or should I say, my life.

First there's the agony of waiting--then the joy and excitement of knowing that I was going. Trying to hurry to be ready to leave--the fear that I was forgetting something--seeing New York for the first time--half dead from the lack of sleep when I arrived in Paris--not even blinking my eyes in case I might miss something during my first ride through Paris. This is how my summer began.

Eating new things--learning new customs--doing new things--speaking French--meeting lots of wonderful new people--learning to get used to wearing shoes all the time--never getting used to French driving cars--the awe of the countryside and Paris. These are a few things I experienced that made my summer something I'll never forget.

But the summer wasn't long enough, and soon came the tears and sad goodbyes to all my new friends. It's the worst part of the whole summer--but a summer that I will always treasure. And a summer that I will benefit greatly from with the knowledge and experience I gained.

Teresa Anderson

Through These Doors

Congratulations on reaching the end of another academic school year! The doors of West Fargo High School will soon close. For many they will open again in the fall, but for some they will close for the last time. Will they close in frustration and anger, or will they close gently upon happy and sad times, upon warm friendships, and lessons learned and unlearned?

Within these doors, some of you have reached the threshold of self-discovery--the key to the meaning of your existence. Some of you have striven for this knowledge and despised your ability to unravel life's intricacies. Some will yet forge on to this discovery, while others stumble into the pitfall of cynicism, looking for the worst in their peers and the future, growing older in years but never maturing, assaulting the temple of knowledge by close scrutiny of each word proceeding there from and taking offense at a single word even if none was intended, forever criticising the efforts of others to learn but never themselves coming to a knowledge of the truth.

Some of you have been given the keys of leadership to open doors for others to enter. Your ambition will tempt you to soar beyond human abilities, to over-reach the bounds of your humanity, to be a law unto yourself, to use others to further your ambition. You will know the multitude when you are on the wind-swept top; you will see them swarming at the bottom. You may command much, but you will also know the unrequited loneliness of your destiny unsupported by the shallow comfort of vindication.

All suffer loneliness and insecurity at times, but some of you will allow this to shape your life style by succumbing to the destructive forces of frustration and vengeance. You are the unfortunate for you shall be tossed about by every wave in the sea of human uncertainty. Because you will venture little in life, you will have little. You will test the fiber of society for you will shut yourself off from responsibility for the good of all.

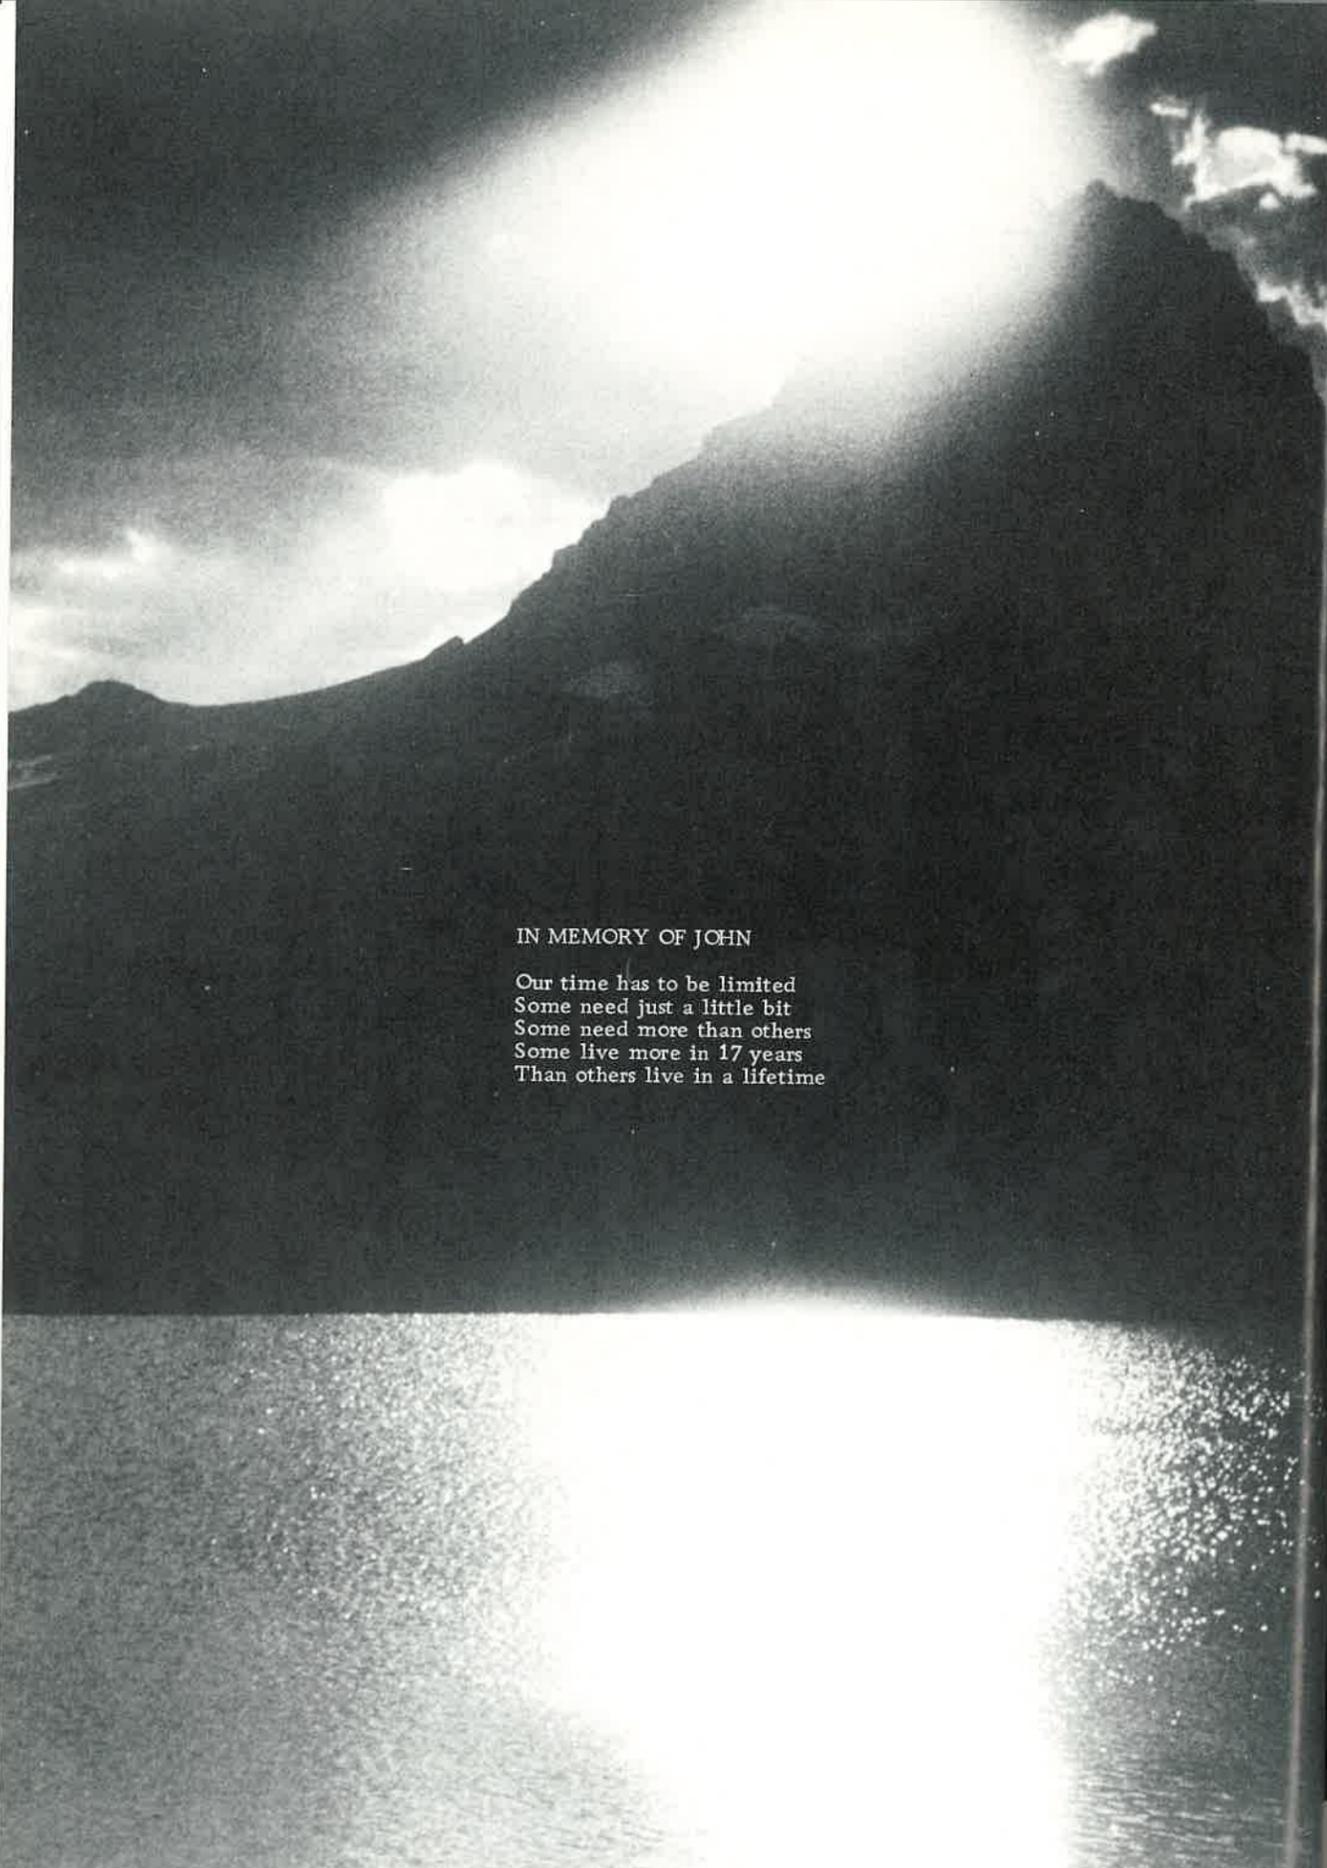

What you are now is what you have been working to become. What you will be in the years ahead, you will decide. You shape your future; it does not come by chance.

Out in the world many land jobs and think they have finally "made it." Their lives center around the endless cycle of getting up in the morning, going to work, coming home to eat and watch television, and going to bed. They are observers at the banquet of life, but they do not partake of it. Some who have sat through years of self-imposed boredom in their school lives have such a life style facing them.

Escape the unrelenting machinery of monotony with its specters of intellectual and creative death. Do more than just go to school or work. Get involved in life; participate in many activities that your school and community offer. Real learning and growing do not occur through listening and watching--only through doing.

All of you will soon walk out the doors of West Fargo High School for the last time. Let them close gently for they close upon your past and open into your future.

IN MEMORY OF JOHN

Our time has to be limited
 Some need just a little bit
 Some need more than others
 Some live more in 17 years
 Than others live in a lifetime

SOME WORDS FOR ED:

It hurt to know I never got to know you.
All it would have taken was some time.
Now look, I've got time.

And you, my friend, have none.
Why didn't I realize that I had time before?

'Cause whenever I was feeling low,
You always said 'hello'.
But this time you forgot to say goodbye.

I wish I could work miracles
To bring you back
For all my friends who need you desperately
And who want you back to stay.

Ed, I hope you'll come our way again....

Custodians and Cooks

Here We Go Again!

So begins the school year 1975-76 all over the country. The age-old complaint of "Where did the summer go?" is prevalent as we sit in stuffy classrooms while old teachers try to liven-up old subjects. New freshpersons are commented upon as the new seniors are both admired and scorned. Each class is given a lecture from Marv--the seniors awake to their new position of "responsibility." Just think, only 179 days left!!

FALL

Another school year begins in the fall
 With friends you're excited to see.
 Back to school signs, and using your mind
 You end up as busy as you can be.

Excited to see those teachers again?
 (Is that a dumb line or not?!)
 They give you homework, you think: "What a Jerk!"
 But they do it so you don't get mind rot.

Good summer times end and your memories begin
 And now it's time to get down to biz--
 But good times do come, and are just as fun.
 Sometimes schoolwork is even a whiz.

Now if you're like me--a graduate to be
 Fall can be more exciting and fun
 With all you do, make everyday and thing count.
 It really makes coming back more fun!

(I think I'm glad now that I'm back!?!)

Girl's Basketball

We love our coaches, oh yes we do. We don't love anyone as much as you. When you're not near us we're blue. Oh coaches, we love you!!!...Green Drill... Title IX... There's no easy way... On the Black Line... Hatchet Lady... Chicken Legs Janice... Where's the Tube?... Gut Busters... Peanut nose... North and South are still eating their Cheerios.

Football

Playoffs and state championships were not to be for the Packers in 1975, the first year of the playoff system, although expectations were high in pre-season and through the first two victories over Grand Forks Central and Grafton. The "Pack" suffered a mid-season slump losing the next three games, but a convincing victory over Wheaton set the stage for Homecoming and Fargo South, an opponent the Packers had never beaten. When the dust had settled the Packers left the field with a 14-3 victory and a successful season no matter what the last game held. We can look back with pride at a remarkably good year, the Varsity finishing 4-4 for the season and beating two EDC schools for the first time in WFHS history. We can look forward to success as the JV had their most successful season in the history of the school, finishing with a 6-1 record, two of those victories over North and South.

Settle Down, Leonard!

This year's Cross Country team was the best one West Fargo has ever had. We were very young but we proved to other people we weren't second rate or just another poor team who came to the meet just to get out of school. Running is not as easy as it looks and all the guys that came out knew they were going to work their cans off and prove something to themselves. We got along very well as a team (with the exception of Marx and Zahradka), but we had our bad times too. I would like to thank Coach Dahnke along with the rest of the team for a great year. We hope that next year we will be better than ever--if Leonard behaves himself.

In the beginning of the year we were expected to be tough. And as it turned out, we never placed lower than 34d in the tournaments we attended and took 1st at both the Valley City and Central Cass tournaments. As for next year, the team will be losing a lot of seniors but the younger wrestlers show good promise for keeping the strength up in the team.

Freshmen--Sharon Borgerson, Sue Brand, Lori Sleiter, Tammy Van Dyke, Marty Hanson, Dave Irwin, Reed Nudell, Rick Zabel.

For the first year in WFHS the Student Council planned a Snowball week. They planned activities and it worked out successfully. Choosing a senior queen and king, and princesses and princes from each of the other grades was an exciting event. Concluding the week was the Snow Ball dance. With all the people making this week worthwhile, we can say it was fun.

CLUBS

If you think getting work done for a class is tough, just try combining that with all the work involved in some of the clubs this school sponsors. Providing services, putting on productions, making money, plus various educational and fun activities--all these and more make up the clubs and organizations available to the student body of WFHS. But it always seems that the same people are in all the clubs and a handful do all the work. So, don't just "join" a club--Get Involved!

Why is it that 100 people turn out for the picture but no one ever comes to the meetings?

The Yearling Editors

We, the editors of the 1976 WFHS Yearling would like to extend to you a Bicentennial greeting and good wishes for your remaining years in high school. And for those of you who are graduating, have happy and prosperous lives. It was difficult for us to decide what we wanted to impress you with concerning our JOB. We could be quite immodest and say how hard it all was, how we worked our fingers to their bones, etc.--all for you, the population of ol' WFHS. It was hard work, we don't dispute that. Yet when this book is out for distribution and we finally see these words on the printed page we hope they and the rest of the book will have turned out as we wanted them to. Please don't be upset that it's not red, white, and blue--we don't believe patriotism concerns color. To us it's a feeling, hopefully well-expressed somewhere in this publication. We hope you enjoy the book. It was done for you and it IS you. To Debbie and Pam we wish all the best and hope that we have been of some help to them in preparing for next year's trials and tribulations.

The 1975-76 school year has been the busiest and probably most outstanding year for NHS. The Eggpower Drive reborn helped finance the NHS State Convention held at WFHS in March, 1976. This was by far the biggest project ever undertaken by the West Fargo NHS.

Speech

West Fargo is in the hopes of joining the National Forensics League this year which would make any state speech winner eligible to participate in the National Tournament.

Miss Knox, Pam Larson, Debbie Gorski, Lynn McCullough, Dana Zeller, Karen Aarstad, Terri Chale, Sandy Evenson, Kelley O'Leary. At Left, Bruce Moltzan and Miss Knox.

Miss Klippen.

Foreign Language Club

This year's French and German Clubs joined together to make the F.L.C. We had an Oktoberfest in the park this fall. Remember the slide?! And stuffing leaves in everyone's coat? Then we had a hallowe'en costume and initiation party. The room was really decorated well. Some initiation games, huh? It was fun unless you followed Warren on the train. We sold a lot of imported candy this year. We made a lot of money and it tasted good. Don't forget the Christmas party at Glen's where Miss Klippen and her sister flipped a pizza on Bill Pease!! Altogether it's a pretty good club. At least we've had a lot of fun!

Pep Club

The WFHS Pep Club has much to be proud of. In five years they've grown from a mere 17 members to almost 200. With tremendous school enthusiasm our pep club won the pep fest award at the 1974-75 State Class A Basketball Tournament. They also put on a successful Homecoming dance following a 14-3 win over Fargo South. We welcome a new advisor, Mrs. Panchenko, and say goodbye to Miss Van Eeckhout. Keep up the good spirit, everyone.

Mrs. Westby? Where should I tutor?.... Who's my student? Who?!...How many hours a week?...Notebooks? What notebooks?!...LT?!...Where's Peggy? She was just here...I'm tired today, do we have to have tutoring?...Alright, let's try it again! We have to keep going over this until you get it...Keep on going, you can do it--just think!...And is there anything more rewarding than helping someone who needs your help?

Camera Club

Camera Club is fun. last year we sold cookies. This year might even be more fun. We're having a picture taking contest. The subject...outdoor scenery. The winner gets three rolls of film. Actually, picture taking isn't half as fun as developing them before your eyes. Photography--capturing memories... unexpected moments... feelings... mood... emotions... nature... beauty.

Vocational Agriculture and the FFA go hand in hand. Students will be conducting individual projects associated with production agriculture. Leadership activities, including the correct usage of parliamentary procedure, are other learning tools of the organization. Last Nov., the chapter was represented by students and advisor at the District Leadership Conference in Valley City. Also, two members went to Kansas City for one week in Nov. to attend the National FFA Conference. The upcoming list of activities show to be very busy with a banquet, trips to Valley City & NDSU and the State Convention in Fargo.

DECA

During the year, DECA club raises money (through bake sales, concessions and dues), to go to the state convention. This year, the convention is in Grand Forks. At his convention, club members compete in different events, such as public speaking, job interviews, sales demonstrations, and ad layouts with other schools from North Dakota

We are a group of high school girls. The purpose of our club is service-- service to our school, to our community, and to our nation. We are sponsored by the Fargo Rough Rider Kiwanis Club. This year is our first year and we are already involved in many activities, such as a monthly party we have for the Hi-Rise in West Fargo. Our motto is: "Touch a Life."

Science

This year's Science Club explored the depths of science by participating in science fairs, UFO study, model rocketry, and a range of other topics.
