

The

GATEWAY GOODS

September 1, 2023 | Issue 1 |

Top: Louis Timberman and Sam Hornburg examine a robot in their first period PLTW Civil Engineering/Architecture class.

Right: Armond Pressley stays after class on August 31 to drive a robot.

Photos by Colette Morton

PLTW Facts:

87%

of PLTW (6-8) students report their PLTW course made them more interested in STEM.

92%

of high school PLTW students report their PLTW course made them more interested in STEM.

70%

of students believe that PLTW classes help in other areas they want to study further.

<https://www.pltw.org/about/approach-impact-efficacy>

AP World History

Top Akyra Mosby and Lin Chillers with their AP World History Class with Mr. Torres Wedding.

Photo by Josh Torres Wedding

AP World History
classes on the football field acting out a “big history”
timeline of the earth.

Big History is an academic discipline that studies the history of the universe from the Big Bang to the present. It uses evidence and ideas from many disciplines to create a broad context for understanding humanity.

Respect All; Fear None.

Tylin Moore, Javion Jones, and Laron Spencer pose for a photo before the Gateway Football against East Alton – Wood River on August 26, 2023. The Jaguars won 42-0. Photo by Jovon Spencer.

Adventure Time

Top: Adriana Centeno listens as Ms. Maher speaks.

Ms. Maher and her students take a tour of Gateway during advisory.

Photo by Melanie Bales

TELEPHONE

Top: Tommy Halloran and his students experiment with tin can phones.

Photo by Melanie Bales

Right: Tommy Halloran plays his guitar for students (last year).

Photo by Colette Morton

