

Update from the Superintendent
November 14, 2025

Good evening, POB School Community,

I hope you are looking forward to the weekend. With the first quarter of the 2025–26 school year behind us and the holiday season approaching, I encourage you to mark your calendars for the many upcoming events that reflect the learning, talent, and spirit that make POB Schools a special place to learn and grow, for students and adults.

POB SEPTA Meeting

Monday, November 17 • 7:30 PM • Mattlin Middle School Library

Please join SEPTA for an informative evening featuring our District psychologists; occupational and physical therapists; speech teachers; and our vision specialist. They will share an overview of the services provided to students across the District. All are welcome to attend, learn more about these supports, and meet some of our dedicated providers.

Let Grow Parent Conversation – Free Webinar

Tuesday, November 18 • 7:00 PM

As a follow-up to our Parent University session, The Power of Pause: Creating Balance for Our Children, and in partnership with our K–4 Let Grow Initiative, founder Lenore Skenazy will host a conversation with Jill Sepowitz, creator of Champions for Childhood. Click below to register:

JFKHS Drama Club Presents Radium Girls

November 20–22

Come support our talented student performers as they bring this powerful production to the stage.

Parent/Teacher/Administrator Workshop with Cornelius Minor

Thursday, December 4 • 7:00 PM • POBMS Library

We look forward to welcoming author, educator, and community builder, Cornelius Minor, for an interactive workshop focused on helping students understand how classroom skills connect meaningfully to their daily lives and how they can be agents in creating the schools and community in which they want to learn and live. An invitation with an RSVP link will be sent next week.

Congratulations to Our Varsity Girls' Volleyball Team!

Last night, our POB Hawks captured the Long Island Championship. While we don't expect families to travel to Glens Falls for next weekend's State Championship, we hope you'll join us in cheering them on. Enjoy this clip of the final point that secured their win!

Have a good weekend.

Warmly,

Mary O'Meara, Ed.D.
