School Board Recognition of State School Superintendent's Student Advisory Council Appointees

Summary Explanation and Background

Sequoyah High School senior Sebastian Murillo and Etowah High School junior Allegra Panga are among the 79 high school students from across the state selected for the prestigious role. State School Superintendent Richard Woods chose his student advisors based on their applications and answers to essay questions about improving public education.

The group will meet with Superintendent Woods throughout the school year to talk about how state policies affect their schools.

Sebastian is an officer with Sequoyah's chapter of the DECA student marketing, management and entrepreneurship association, a Student Government Association grade-level representative and National Honor Society member. He volunteers as a Journey Club mentor for elementary school students.

Allegra, who runs on Etowah's track team, is a member of National Spanish Honor Society, National Honor Society, and Science National Honor Society. She volunteers through her school's service clubs.
