Accountability Data Arrived Today — and FCPS Is Rising!

Fayette County Public Schools continues historic gains in academic performance driven by the collective focus and determination of our educators, students, and families. For a second year in a row, Kentucky's accountability ratings demonstrate that FCPS is delivering results and students are directly benefiting.

Results Reflect Momentum and Purpose

More high-performing schools than ever

The number of schools rated Blue or Green has increased again in 2025. With 25 schools earning these top tier marks, nearly half of FCPS campuses hold this distinction.

Students poised for future success

More students than ever are completing college credits in high school and graduating with industry-recognized certifications and licensures. Graduation rates have reached a 10-year high, climbing to 92.4% in 2025.

Academic growth at every level

For the fourth consecutive year, the percentage of FCPS students scoring Proficient and Distinguished in reading and math outperformed the state at all three levels: elementary, middle, and high school.

Every student counts

To meet federal requirements, schools in Kentucky are evaluated on both overall student achievement and the performance of groups of students based on race, special need, English language proficiency, and family income. FCPS serves such a variety of families that our schools have 326 different groups and in 2025, 94.2% met required achievement thresholds.

Historic milestone achieved again

For the second year in a row—and only the second time in district history—no schools in FCPS were identified for low achievement among black students or economically disadvantaged students. This is real, measurable progress, achieved through intentional leadership and belief in the brilliance of every student.

*These results reflect a district on the move, guided by a clear and purposeful vision, higher achievement across our schools, and a deep commitment to students. Strong leadership matters. Aligned systems matter. Belief in children matters. And results follow. FCPS is becoming a model for what public education can achieve when urgency is paired with purpose—and we are just getting started.
