Notice to George Mason Neighbors

We would like to inform you of upcoming changes to the construction work zone around the George Mason project site. With the demolition of the former building now underway, hauling of demolition debris has begun. To help maintain safety for both private and transit vehicles, our construction partners at Whiting-Turner have made a request to the City of Alexandria that parking restrictions temporarily be extended to include the opposite side of Cameron Mills Road. This adjustment will only affect parking on the side of the street opposite the construction entrance, not the full length of the street. Pedestrian access will not be affected and the sidewalk will remain open.

This phase of work will take place over an eight week period. We appreciate the community's flexibility and understanding as we continue to bring this project to life while prioritizing safety for all. Construction updates will continue to be posted on the George Mason Modernization webpage. Questions about the project can be directed to ask@acps.k12.va.us.
