14. BOARD REPORTS

Ms. Lebsack expressed enthusiasm for ongoing literacy initiatives in schools, such as Davis Elementary's Literacy Night and the implementation of research-based reading programs, particularly for students with learning disabilities like dyslexia. She acknowledged the concerns of parents advocating for improved support and urged continued progress using evidence-based methods like the Orton-Gillingham approach. Ms. Lebsack also shared her experience at the Chicano Heritage Fair, where she connected with a long-time school custodian involved in community car shows. She attended a "Know Your Rights" webinar and emphasized the importance of legal awareness for immigrant families, particularly regarding AB495. Additionally, she proposed hosting a rights seminar for parents about the Supreme Court ruling Mahmoud v. Taylor, which affirms the right of parents to be notified and opt out of content conflicting with their religious beliefs. She inquired about the District's availability of opt-out forms and noted her use of a form provided by Informed Parents of California, which she submitted for legal review.

Dr. Alvarez began by requesting follow-up on issues raised during public comments, including concerns about dyslexia services, the dual language program, and alleged class overcrowding, which he noted may not align with the District's enrollment data. He proposed revamping Board recognitions by hosting them quarterly at various high school campuses to create a more celebratory and community-oriented event, suggesting the inclusion of school band performances, cheer teams, ASB, and culinary arts students. Dr. Alvarez also expressed anticipation for an upcoming presentation on the educational dashboard and emphasized the importance of governance training for Board members. Citing the Student Outcomes Governance Framework by the Council of Great City Schools, he advocated for structured training and mentorship, as modeled in states like Texas. He affirmed his commitment to data-driven governance and collaborative goal-setting to support the Superintendent's success and student outcomes.

Ms. Magdaleno thanked parents who spoke about the impact of recent changes to dual language programs. Emphasizing the need to uplift Spanish-speaking communities during a time of increasing hostility, she called for a presentation on the state of dual language programs in SAUSD. She requested data on student and teacher participation, grade levels served, availability of B-CLAD-certified staff, combo class structures, current instructional models, and pathways for expansion, ideally toward a dual language program at every elementary school site. She also suggested developing a Board resolution to support and sustain these programs. Concluding her remarks, Ms. Magdaleno strongly denounced a recent 6-3 Supreme Court ruling that she described as harmful to Latino and immigrant communities. She committed to continuing her advocacy for equity, support, and protection of families in Santa Ana, reassuring the community that resources are available for those feeling fear or uncertainty.

Ms. Brazer Acevez expressed gratitude to parents, educators, and students who provided public comments, particularly regarding concerns with dual immersion programs. She emphasized the importance of parental choice in school site selection and acknowledged that early-year enrollment fluctuations can impact class sizes. She noted ongoing conversations with Superintendent Dr. Perez and staff to improve systems and planning for dual immersion, including challenges with middle school transitions. She affirmed her commitment to transparency and collaboration, recognizing a need to reassess program design and expand support. Ms. Brazer Acevez is also monitoring the District's progress on dyslexia support, referencing recent presentations at the Community Advisory Committee and committing to follow up with parents on next steps. She thanked her guests and honorees for their contributions, and commended the District's support services team, specifically those working on restorative practices and for their dedication to student wellbeing.

Mr. Bustos began recognized National Deaf Awareness Month, honoring the contributions of the deaf and hard of hearing community, and highlighting the work at Taft Elementary, home to the District's specialized program. He extended appreciation to ASL interpreters for ensuring accessibility at Board meetings and reaffirmed the District's commitment to inclusive education. He thanked the Superintendent for meeting with families at King Elementary and emphasized the importance of listening to community voices while ensuring accurate information is shared. He clarified that current class sizes at King Elementary are well below the District cap, with the largest at 26 students. He also celebrated the grand openings of the Lydia Romero Cruz and Willard Intermediate libraries as part of ongoing investments in literacy. Finally, he noted several pending follow-ups, including Board recognitions, data dashboards, and legal developments which he planned to discuss further with the Superintendent. Additionally, Mr. Bustos supported Board colleagues' calls for a future presentation and/or resolution on dual language programs and acknowledged the need to continue addressing concerns around dyslexia support, library access, and equity in literature.

15. ADJOURNMENT

Having no further business to come before the Board, Mr. Bustos adjourned the meeting at 9:51 p.m.
