

GIVING THANKS

We paused arguing over fonts long enough to share what we're thankful for

This year, your slightly over-caffeinated yearbook staff is thankful for more than just the two-day school week. From teachers who put up with us, to friends who make us laugh, to the one computer that never crashes, we found plenty to appreciate—just in time for Thanksgiving (and hopefully a nap).

click below for entire article