

11/21/25

Dear Wyoming Families,

We had a great week here at Wyoming High School as we head into Thanksgiving Break, which begins next Wednesday, November 26th. The next weekly update you receive will be on Friday, December 5th. There is no doubt our students are ready for some time away from the building to rest and recharge.

When everyone returns on Monday, December 1st, we will begin a quick sprint to the end of the second quarter and first semester. We will have ten instructional days and one review day before exams begin on December 16th. You can find more information about exams later in this update.

As we approach the end of the semester, let's continue to work together at school and at home to remind students of the importance of staying focused and keeping up with their schoolwork. It is equally important for students to pace themselves, take breaks, and find time to rest so they remain healthy and prepared for the weeks ahead.

As always, please reach out to our office if you have any questions or if there is anything we can do to support your child. Thank you, and we wish everyone a very Happy Thanksgiving with friends and family!
