School Improvement Focus

Instruction	Culture and Climate
Professional Learning Communities Theory of action: If we implement professional learning communities, including the implementation of standards-based literacy strategies focused on vocabulary, creation of relevant classroom assessments based on standards (CABS) by grade level, and review of CABS results during grade-level meetings, then teachers and staff will plan and execute lessons that are results-driven and explicitly teach content-based vocabulary aligned to Bloom's taxonomy with fidelity. As a result, students will apply content-based vocabulary during performance tasks and assessments as evidenced by increased proficiency in ELA/SLA CABS, formative and summative assessments, and Star reading scores by the end of the 2024–2025 school year.	Social and Emotional Learning Theory of action: If we implement social and emotional learning, including the consistent implementation of Second Step instruction with accountability and increase our focus on communication and relationship building with families, then teachers and staff will implement SEL with fidelity and increase purposeful and intentional communication with other staff and with families, reflecting on the impact of their practices on behavior and attendance. As a result, students will demonstrate an understanding of the importance of attendance by utilizing the strategies provided to attend regularly as evidenced by Infinite Campus contact logs, Second Step Excel data sheets, and ClassDojo and Remind transcripts by the end of the 2024–2025 school year.

School Vision and Values

School Vision

At Hayes, we provide a safe, inclusive community to cultivate bilingualism, biliteracy, multicultural identity, and pride through a culturally responsive dual-language model. Through STEAM education, we foster academic achievement and design thinking, preparing students for a scientifically and technologically advanced society.

School Values

Hayes Bilingual embraces identity through ethnicity, language, and culture!
