

Restorative Mix-Tape

DECEMBER

This month's Mix-Tape invites us to pause, reflect, and lean into what it means to build community during a season of care and connection. Inside you'll find resources that elevate relationship-building, safety and belonging, trauma-informed practices, and the power of joy and vulnerability. These tools and activities are designed to strengthen our classroom communities, nurture emotional well-being, and remind us that restorative work is human work. Let's close the year with intention, heart, and compassion for our students and for ourselves.
