Tess Matura is delighted to explore a new side of the theater world—directing! Working with this talented cast and her wonderful co-director, Haley, has been an incredibly rewarding and memorable experience. Tess has been involved in theater since first grade and has cherished every moment, both onstage and off. She loves the unique journey each production offers, the creativity it inspires, and the sense of community it builds. This show in particular has been a joy, filled with quick humor, heartfelt moments, and plenty of advice you may—or may not—want to take. Tess is passionate about theater and deeply proud of this production, and she hopes you enjoy it just as much as she has.

Haley Rivard is a senior who is thrilled to be sharing her directorial debut alongside some of her favorite people—and especially her co-director! A newer but passionate member of the theatre community, she took on the role of Eurydice in Hadestown, and more recently Denice (Perkins) in The Play That Goes Wrong. She additionally looks forward to participating in this year's spring musical, Fiddler on the Roof. In college, Haley hopes to major in the performing arts alongside a pre-med track (a perhaps daring, but undoubtedly exciting plan of action). Her eyes are settled on the east coast, but she cannot wait to see where she ends up!

Haley would like to extend her thanks first and foremost to Ms. Sequeira for the opportunity to take on the director's chair, but also to her amazing partner in crime (Tess Matura), her cast (who have been such a joy to work with), the tech team, her family, and her friends (shout out to Harper, Ange, the other directors, and many more).

Savannah Farr is a senior and thrilled to make her directorial debut on Notre Dame's stage. After she graduates, she plans on attending college and majoring in music on a pre-med track. Performing in shows since she was seven, she has acted in shows all over the valley like The Play That Goes Wrong as Rachel (Notre Dame Prep), Mary Poppins as Winifred Banks (Spotlight Youth Theatre), Matilda as Miss Honey (Greasepaint Theater), and The School of Rock as Summer Hathaway (Starlight Community Theater). She is also excited to perform in The Fiddler on the Roof as Golde this spring. Outside of theater, Savannah is the captain of the Sports Medicine Club, a character performer at Mrs. Potts Tea Party Company, and involved with Blood Cancer United (formerly the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society). Savannah would like to thank her supportive family, Ms. Sequeira, Renee, and Heather for helping her hone her craft both onstage and behind the curtain. Finally, she would love to give a special thank you to Maddie, her co-director, for her amazing work and dedication to this show.

Madeline Levell is so grateful for the opportunity to co direct Princess Party Smackdown! She is honored to have directed this show with Savannah Farr. Madeline has been involved in the theatre program at NDP since her freshman year, most recently seen in The Play That Goes Wrong as Taylor the lights operator. She thanks her co director Savannah, her cast, crew, mom, Amazon Prime, and Ms. Sequeria for all their patience and support!

Keira McNelis, a senior at Notre Dame Preparatory and president of the drama club, is honored to direct Backstory. A seasoned performer, Keira has starred in Macbeth (Lady Macbeth), The Play that Goes Wrong (Chris Bean), and Addams Family (Wednesday Addams). Her passion for performing arts is supported by training at the OpenJar Institute on Broadway, NY. Keira is grateful to the cast, crew, and parents for their unwavering dedication and support in bringing this production to life. Directing this one act is a dream come true, and she hopes it leaves a lasting impression on everyone involved. To the audience, she extends her deepest gratitude for sharing in this celebration of creativity and teamwork.
