~~“During the lottery process, or whenever student spots open during the school year, should one gender reach 14 (all classrooms are capped at 22) or more students in an individual classroom, whenever possible, the remaining spots in that classroom shall be filled in such a way to bring gender back in balance. The gender balancing mechanism does not apply to vacancies to be filled by children of staff members or siblings of currently enrolled students.”~~

Appendix G: Equal and Bias-Free Access for Eligible Students

Selection Process

~~“During the lottery process, or whenever student spots open during the school year, should one gender reach 14 (class sizes are 22 students) or more students in an individual classroom, whenever possible, the remaining spots in that classroom shall be filled in such a way to bring gender back in balance. (see January, 2010 minutes). The gender balancing mechanism does not apply to vacancies to be filled by children of staff members or siblings of currently enrolled students.”~~

Watershed Charter School will no longer balance its classes by gender.

There was no mention of gender balancing in the contract.
