Dear STE Community,

As we reach the midpoint of the school year, I am grateful for the extraordinary momentum that has carried our community forward. When this school year began, we identified four major initiatives to guide our work: improving school culture, advancing academic excellence, recommitting to our sacred purpose, and strengthening communication. I am pleased to share that, thanks to the dedication of our faculty, staff, families, and students, we have made remarkable progress on each front.

First, we set out to strengthen and elevate our school culture.

This fall, we introduced a new Dean of Students to reinforce expectations, provide consistent support to students, and foster an environment characterized by courtesy, accountability, and joy. The results are already visible: improved decorum, heightened engagement through our House System, and an overall rise in the warmth and spirit that make STE such a distinctive place.

Second, we focused on advancing academics and extracurricular programs.

Our faculty have expanded the curriculum with new electives, reintroduced our orchestra program, and adopted MAP Growth assessments to measure student learning and guide instruction. These developments ensure that our classical program remains both rigorous and responsive to the needs of our students. We also engaged an external consultant to review our athletic program and help us design a plan for its next stage of development.

Third, we recommitted ourselves to our sacred purpose.

Worship remains at the heart of who we are. Daily chapel services, weekly Scripture memorization, and a culture grounded in faith continue to shape the minds and hearts of our students. This year, thanks to the leadership of the Rector and Chaplain, we have taken deliberate steps to deepen reverence, strengthen our liturgical life, and remind our students—and ourselves—of the sacred mission that animates this school.

Fourth, we prioritized communication and transparency.

From weekly updates to monthly focus groups to increased visibility across campus, we have been intentional about inviting our community into the life and future of the school. These efforts have strengthened trust and partnership, and we will continue to build on them in the months ahead. We hope this newsletter will become a biannual magazine showcasing the life of the school and fostering connection among our alumni.

Underlying all of this has been a surge of generosity and support. Together, we have raised a record amount of funding this year—resources that are already enhancing the student experience, upgrading facilities, and expanding professional development opportunities for our faculty. For example, we are sending five of our teachers to the prestigious summer institute at Phillips Exeter Academy in New Hampshire, where they will study alongside some of the nation's finest educators. Your gift to the Saint Thomas' Fund makes that possible.

Looking ahead to early 2026, we eagerly anticipate sharing STE's new five-year strategic plan—one that will propel us toward greater mission faithfulness, programmatic excellence, financial sustainability, and an exciting capital campaign to improve our facilities. Even before reaching those lofty goals, we expect to revamp our lunch program over the summer and expand our teaching faculty by the start of the 2026–27 academic year, adding foreign language in Lower School and several new faculty and courses in Middle and Upper School.

As we enter the Christmas season, we remember the angel's proclamation: "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Savior, which is Christ the Lord" (Luke 2:11). I am grateful for the dedication of our faculty, the enthusiasm of our students, and the steadfast support of our parents, grandparents, board, alumni, and friends. The work we are undertaking together is already bearing fruit, and I am confident that the months ahead will feature continued growth, joy, and achievement.

Thank you for your partnership. Wishing you and your loved ones a joyful Christmas and a blessed New Year.

With gratitude,

The Tartan Society

The Tartan Society: Leadership Giving that Strengthens STE

The Tartan Society recognizes leadership-level donors to the Saint Thomas' Fund. With five levels of giving beginning at $1,000, each tier offers meaningful benefits designed to honor and celebrate the generosity of our supporters. Now in its second year, the Tartan Society continues to gain remarkable momentum thanks to the exceptional engagement of our community.

This fall, we hosted six Tartan Society House Parties, warm, intimate gatherings that allowed STE families to connect more deeply with our vision for the 2025–2026 school year. These events have played a tremendous role in strengthening our culture of philanthropy and fostering a shared commitment to our mission.

To date, nearly 170 households have given or pledged close to $500,000—a 59% increase in participating households and a 75% increase in total giving compared to last year. This level of support is extraordinary and speaks volumes about the confidence our community has in the future.

We extend our heartfelt thanks to our gracious hosts:

Cettina & Thomas Halsey
Suzanne & Wayne Knupp

Ann & Tony Loayza
Katherine & Jon Palmer

Kelly & Jared Cmaidalka
Rob Scholl

Your hospitality and dedication have made this year's success possible. Thank you! Please contact Carla Elliott at elliott.carla@stes.org if you would like to participate.

It's been a lot of fun growing our Upper School Legacy Colors into a full K-12 House System. Every student has now been sorted into House Navy or House Gold, and they're competing as individuals, as homerooms, and as part of their larger house community. We're proud to share that students have already logged over 1,900 service hours, along with several campus competitions that have helped make the House System the lens through which our campus life shines.

Why do I give? I came to this school twelve years ago in a different financial position that I'm in now. I saw that the school thrived, in part, due to the generous donations of families who were here before me. My memories hold names and faces of people ahead of me that donated both their time and money to the school. I told myself that, when my time came, I would do my part. I give as a promise kept to the families who came before me. I give as an example to families who come behind me. I give because I love this school.

This year, 46 Upper School students have stepped up to mentor and tutor young students after school each week. Students work together on homework, organization, and study skills. Families consistently praise the impact. This program is building confidence, strengthening skills, and connecting our students in powerful ways."

An excellent array of Senior readers have been taking us through the Gospel of Mark, and portions of Matthew, in Chapel this Fall. Guest Chapel speakers — including Brody Cooper of Blast & Cast Men's Ministries, Casey Garrett for Operation Christmas Child, and our Athletics Director, Chris Twine — have added their voices to the teaching and communication of hope in the Gospel as we endeavor to live with integrity by the values of the school: Christian Faith, Discipline, Honor, Love, Excellence, and Respect. Upper, Middle, and Lower School choristers have also enriched our daily worship by offering different settings of the canticles.

My “why” for staying involved is simple: I want to help preserve the legacy of STE and ensure that current and future students benefit from the same transformative experience. I've never been more energized about the direction of the Alumni Association. More alumni are engaging in meaningful ways than ever, and the momentum is undeniable. From here, we can continue to grow and build a vibrant, connected community that honors our shared history and supports one another in the years ahead.

Anna Gryska '07

STE Alumni Board Vice President

Volunteering at STE has been an important aspect of our family life since we became a part of the STE community over ten years ago. Being a parent volunteer gives me the opportunity to help curate the educational experience and school life that I want my children to have, while forming stronger bonds with other families within our community, and fostering a sense of duty towards service in my children. I love working with other STE parent volunteers to help support the school and give our children the unique, loving, and familial school experience we all want them to have.
