

Bosnia & Herzegovina

Bosnia and Herzegovina is located in Southeastern Europe. Southeastern Europe is located on Balkan Peninsula, and the capital of Bosnia and Herzegovina is Sarajevo.

Some interesting facts about Bosnia and Herzegovina is that the tallest mountain out of 9 tall mountains is the Bjelasnica mountain. The longest river in Bosnia and Herzegovina out of 9 long river is the Sava river it runs 615 miles. Bosnia and Herzegovina largest city is Sarajevo city.

Bosnia and Herzegovina got its name after 2 historic regions, and the total number of states Bosnia and Herzegovina have is 10 cantons (subdivisions). The size of Bosnia and Herzegovina is 19,767 to 19,772 square miles, and the population is 3.13 million and 3.35 million.

The continent Bosnia and Herzegovina is located in Europe, and the neighboring country is Croatia to the northwest, Serbia to the east, and Montenegro to the southeast. The flag of Bosnia and Herzegovina represents the country's key features and aspirations for unity and peace. The president of Bosnia and Herzegovina is Zeljko Komsic.

These are some historical facts about Bosnia and Herzegovina: The history is made by periods under Roman, Ottoman, and Austro-Hungarian rule.

Here are some tradition/culture items: Zalta Fillipovic is a famous person in Bosnia and Herzegovina. The main religion of Bosnia and Herzegovina is the Islam, Orthodox Christianity, and Catholicism. The 3 languages of my country are Croatian, Serbian, and Bosnian. The foods they have in Bosnia and Herzegovina are cevapi, burek, various, and stuffed peppers. They wear casual clothes that are modest in both dresses, footwear as modesty is taught in their religion. Some of the musics Bosnia and Herzegovina use is Sevdalinka, which is accompanied by instruments. The types of dances they do are Kolo, Variations, and Symbolism.

These are some important holidays they celebrate Statehood Day, Orthodox, and Catholic Christmas. Some famous landmarks are Sarajevo War tunnel, Sarajevo Olympic Bobsleigh, and Luge track.

I hope you enjoyed my presentation as much as I enjoyed researching it!