4 THE POLICY

This policy applies to all staff, directors, trustees and volunteers working within Little Trees Day Nurseries and all children. Little Trees Day Nurseries is fully committed to ensuring that the application of this Safeguarding and Child Protection policy is non-discriminatory in line with the UK Equality Act 2010.

Date of issue: November 2025

Review Date: September 2026

Owner: Group Operations Manager

This policy will be made available on the website of each nursery and copies will be provided to parents on request. In addition, it will also be made available to all staff within Little Trees Day Nurseries.

This policy is renewed annually by the Group Operations Manager with the Regional Managers and Designated Safeguarding Lead's to ensure that it reflects current legislation and local Safeguarding board procedures.

This policy sits in conjunction with our other Safeguarding policies, namely our Safer Recruitment policy and our Safety of the Children Policy

Little Trees Day Nurseries uses age-appropriate filters on all IT systems within the nurseries to restrict access to illegal and inappropriate sites as well as monitor internet usage and sites accessed. Any attempt to access extremist or terrorist sites, extreme or violent pornography or illegal sites would be blocked and reported.

Children will only be collected from the nursery by an authorised adult known to the staff. Children will be accompanied at all times by authorised adults when taking part in the nursery's external activities, e.g., walks, visits, trips etc.

The Nursery Manager will notify the relevant inspectorate and the Local Authority of any incident or accident that meets the threshold for notification, and any changes in arrangements which may affect the wellbeing of children.

All visitors will sign in and out, wear a visitor's badge and state the purpose for the visit. Children will not be left alone with any visitors.

5 SAFEGUARDING CONCERNS

There will be occasions when a member of staff suspects that a child may have a significant welfare issue but there is no real evidence of a Safeguarding or Child Protection concern. It may be relevant to complete a Nursery Concern Form (see appendix B). Signs to be aware of include:

- a. Behavioural changes
- b. Signs of confusion or distress in written or practical work
- c. Physical changes
- d. Bullying or suspicion of bullying

Any member of staff may make a referral to external agencies at any time. However, it is normal practice to pass information to the DSL in the first instance.

If the child begins to reveal information of a Safeguarding or Child Protection nature, the procedures below should be followed. It is better to raise concerns which may not need action than to do nothing or delay reporting. Always act in the interests of the child and maintain an 'it can happen here' attitude.

DSLs operate an 'open door' policy for the reporting of safeguarding issues and child protection concerns when it is deemed appropriate.

7 SIGNS OF ABUSE

Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, or by knowingly not preventing harm. Children may be abused in a family, the community, an institutional setting, or more rarely by a stranger (e.g., via the Internet). Most young people who are abused know their abuser. They may be abused by an adult or adults, child or children.

- Physical abuse: This may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.
- Children regularly collect bumps and bruises, but it does not mean they are being abused. Injuries need to be considered in the light of the age of the child, their stage of development, where injuries are on the body and any explanation given.
- Indicators of physical abuse include bruises, grip marks, cigarette burns, bite marks, swelling, fractures, injuries in an area of the body that is unlikely to be harmed in everyday activity, and injury with no explanation or conflicting explanation.
- Fabricated illness: This is also a type of physical abuse. This is where a child is presented with an illness that is fabricated by the adult carer. The carer may seek out unnecessary medical treatment or investigation. The signs may include a carer exaggerating a real illness or symptoms, complete fabrication of symptoms or inducing physical illness e.g., through poisoning, starvation, inappropriate diet. This may also be presented through false allegations of abuse or encouraging the child to appear disabled or ill to obtain unnecessary treatment or specialist support.

Date of issue: November 2025

Review Date: September 2026

Owner: Group Operations Manager

- Emotional abuse: This is persistent emotional maltreatment which is likely to cause serious harm to the child's health and emotional development. It may involve conveying to the child that they are worthless, unloved or inadequate and cause the child to feel frightened, in danger, be exploited or corrupted. It also includes rejecting or ignoring a child completely, using degrading language or behaviour towards them, rejecting social interaction with them, threatening them, encouraging self-destructive behaviours and allowing a child to witness mistreatment of another.
- Indicators of emotional abuse can be difficult to identify but include developmental lags, acceptance of excessive punishment, over-reaction to mistakes, self-deprecation, fear of new situations, inappropriate emotional response, neurotic behaviour, self-harm or substance abuse. Children suffering emotional abuse may have difficulty forming relationships, seek attention inappropriately, be withdrawn, underachieve or show other signs of disturbed behaviour.
- Sexual abuse: This is forcing or enticing a child to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not they are aware of what is happening. This may involve physical contact, penetrative or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside clothing. It can also include involving children looking at or watching pornographic material or watching sexual acts and encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways or grooming a child in preparation for abuse (including via the internet). Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males; women and other children can also commit acts of sexual abuse.
- Indicators of sexual abuse include damage to or soreness in genitalia, anus or mouth, sexually transmitted disease, pregnancy, urinary tract infection, inappropriate sexual knowledge, sexually provocative behaviour, personality or character change, poor trust in significant adults, insecure or regressive behaviour or self-harm. Many children who are sexually abused will have no visible signs due to the attacker not wanting to leave evidence.
- Neglect: This is persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and psychological needs which is likely to result in serious impairment to their health and development. This may involve a parent or carer failing to provide food, shelter, clothing or a failure to protect from physical or emotional harm or danger, not ensuring adequate supervision, or not allow access to medical care or treatment. It may also include the neglect of a child's basic emotional needs. Where it is deemed appropriate, the DSL may undertake a Neglect toolkit assessment/ Quality of Care Profile.
- Neglect may also result in a child being diagnosed as suffering from 'faltering growth' also known as 'failure to thrive'. This would usually be diagnosed in a young child by a medical practitioner.
- Indicators of neglect include constant hunger or tiredness, frequent lateness or non-attendance, destructive tendencies, poor social relationships, poor personal hygiene, poor general health or untreated medical problems.

Staff also need to be aware of other specific forms of abuse:

- Children absent from nursery: A child absent from nursery education is a potential indicator of abuse or neglect. A record of children absent from nursery education should be kept, particularly if absence is repeated, unknown, unexplained and for long periods of time, to help identify the risk of abuse and neglect, including sexual exploitation, and to help prevent the risks of them being absent in the future. All staff should be alert to signs to look out for and for the individual triggers to be aware of (as detailed in this policy) when considering the potential safeguarding concerns such as travelling to conflict zones (radicalisation) and FGM.
- The DSL should follow procedures as set out above in terms of investigation and referral within 24 hours.

Date of issue: November 2025

Review Date: September 2026

Owner: Group Operations Manager

- Female Genital Mutilation (FGM): This involves procedures that include the partial or total removal of external female genital organs for cultural or other non-therapeutic reasons. The practice is medically unnecessary, extremely painful and has serious consequences for physical and mental health. FGM is illegal in the UK.
- Victims of FGM are likely to come from a community that is known to practice FGM. Specific risk indicators include:
 - a. Poor integration of the family into UK society
 - b. The daughter of a woman who has undergone FGM or where another close family member such as a sister has undergone FGM
 - c. Any girl withdrawn from PSHE lessons particularly if from a high-risk group and specially in the lesson is about sex or FGM
 - d. The visit of a family elder from the country of origin to a family where a daughter is of FGM age (typically 5 -8 although not always)
 - e. A girl talking about FGM; reference by a girl to a special procedure; a girl going on a long or unexpected holiday to the country of origin or where FGM is practiced
 - f. Changes in behaviour, medical issues unspecified requested for help from an adult particularly if medically orientated
- It is a mandatory requirement to report FGM in a girl under the age of 18. The report should be made to a healthcare professional or the police without delay. If a girl has been recently cut or is at imminent risk 999 should be called. Safeguarding procedures should be followed if FGM is reported or suspected, and specific guidance sought from the police and social care.
- Child Sexual Exploitation: This involves exploitative situations, contexts and relationships where young people receive something (for example food, accommodation, drugs, alcohol, gifts, money or in some cases simple affection) as a result of engaging in sexual activities. This can include seemingly consensual relationships or sexual activity in exchange for attention, accommodation, gifts or illegal substances, to serious organised crime by gangs or groups. It is the imbalance of power which makes the relationship exploitative. Child Sexual Exploitation is illegal in the UK.
- In CSE the perpetrator always holds some kind of power over the victim which increases as the exploitative relationship develops. Sexual exploitation involves varying degrees of coercion, intimidation or enticement, including unwanted pressure from peers to have sex, sexual bullying including cyberbullying and grooming. Some young people who are being sexually exploited do not exhibit any external signs of this abuse.
- Domestic violence: This is underestimated in the UK. Even if a child does not suffer physical violence in the home, the emotional effect of witnessing violence is significant in children. Children may be hurt by trying to prevent violence. There is a proven link between domestic violence and the abuse of children.
- Operation Encompass, in Gloucestershire, is an innovative project in which schools and nurseries are participating and aims to support children and young people who are affected by domestic abuse. Witnessing or experiencing domestic abuse is really distressing for a child or young person, who often see the abuse, hear it from another room, see a parent's injuries or distress afterwards, or can be physically hurt by trying to stop the abuse.

As a result, following any domestic abuse incident being reported to the police, the police may make contact with the setting to share relevant, necessary and proportionate information to nominated nursery staff. This will ensure that the setting is made aware at the earliest possible opportunity and can subsequently provide support to children in a way that means they feel safe and listened to.

Each setting has members of staff who have been fully trained in liaising with police and Children's Social Care when required and will ensure that the necessary support is made available to the child or young person following the notification of a domestic abuse incident.

8 PREVENT DUTY

Radicalisation: The nursery is aware of its responsibilities to safeguard children from the risk of radicalisation. The nursery does this by:

- Providing a safe environment for children to talk about issues that may concern them, including sensitive topics such as terrorism and extremist ideology appropriate to the age and stage of development
- Identifying children/ individuals who may be susceptible to terrorism, violent or non-violent extremism.
- Knowing how to complete a Channel referral and how to seek support for the child/ individual as appropriate
- Ensuring all staff receive appropriate safeguarding training and have the knowledge and confidence to identify children/ individuals susceptible of being drawn into terrorism and extremism and challenge extremist ideas.
- Ensuring children are safe from terrorist and extremist material when accessing the internet in nursery, including having in place appropriate levels of filtering.

9 Other Safeguarding and Child Protection issues that staff need to be aware of include:

- a. Bullying including cyber-bullying
- b. Illegal substances including drugs
- c. Faith abuse
- d. Gender-based violence and violence against women and girls (VAWG)
- e. Mental health
- f. Child missing from home or care
- g. Fabricated or induced illness

10 CONFIDENTIALITY AND INFORMATION SHARING– in conjunction with Confidentiality policy NL022

Safeguarding and Child Protection issues warrant a high level of confidentiality, not only out of respect for the child and staff involved, but also to ensure that evidence is not compromised by being released into the public domain.

All suspicions, enquiries and external investigations are kept confidential and shared only with those who need to know. Any information is shared in line with guidance from the LSCB.

Safeguarding issues should be discussed with the minimum number of people and usually only with the DSL in the first instance.

Safeguarding records should be carefully kept in a secure facility with limited access. Child Protection records are kept in a secure facility by the DSL separate from other child records, utilising a digital system called CPOMS. CPOMS requires two-step authentication to access for DSLs only.

When a child leaves our setting, we have a duty to share any safeguarding concerns and records with the child's new setting/ school. Little Trees will seek any safeguarding records from a child's previous setting when they join our setting.

At Little Trees, safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children is our highest priority. We believe that maintaining open communication with parents is essential in ensuring the safety and well-being of all children. Below is our policy for informing parents when a safeguarding concern arises:

Parental Notification

We aim to communicate with parents as soon as possible when a safeguarding concern is raised, ensuring they understand the nature of the concern and any steps that need to be taken. We may ask for additional information to better understand the situation. We will make it clear that the call or meeting is taking place in the context of safeguarding.

The DSL will clearly explain why the concern has been raised and discuss any next steps or actions, while maintaining sensitivity and professionalism.

In the event that a child presents with bruising/injuries that the Nursery's Safeguarding training has identified as immediate reportable situations to Social Services, the Nursery is duty bound to report these cases. Once the concern has been shared with Social services, they take the lead, and the Nursery must follow their directives. Where possible, the Nursery will provide parents with clear information about the process, however, this may not always be the case. Safeguarding is our top priority, and the Nurseries follows the guidelines set by their regulator, through their Duty to Report forms.

11.1 Sensitive and Supportive Approach

We recognise that safeguarding concerns can be distressing for parents. The DSL will handle these conversations with sensitivity and professionalism, ensuring parents are supported through the process wherever appropriate.

The DSL will provide emotional and practical support to parents during this difficult time. We will work with them, where appropriate, to ensure they feel informed and involved.

Parents will be referred to external support services if needed, such as family support workers, counseling services, or helplines.

11.2 Working Together

We value the trust parents place in us and strive to work collaboratively to ensure the safety of all children. We are committed to supporting parents and families through any safeguarding processes.

We encourage parents to be actively involved, where suitable, in understanding the concerns raised and any safeguarding actions. We will seek parental input and collaborate with them to ensure the child's best interests are prioritised.

In cases where we are advised by Social Care or safeguarding authorities not to involve parents immediately (for example, if a parent or family member is the suspected abuser), we will explain the process as soon as it is safe and appropriate to do so.

11.3 When Parental Notification May Not Be Suitable

There are certain circumstances where it may not be appropriate to inform parents immediately:

In such cases, we will follow the guidance of Social Care or the investigating child protection officers. Parents will be informed by the appropriate authorities if necessary.

- If notifying the parent might place the child at further risk of harm.
- If the concern involves suspected abuse by a parent or family member.
- If Social Care or any other safeguarding agency advises against notifying the parent.

11.4 Seeking Parental Consent for Referrals

We will always seek parental consent before making a referral to Social Care, except in situations where doing so may increase the risk of harm to the child. If consent cannot be obtained for this reason, we will proceed with the referral based on the child's best interests and in line with legal requirements. There are certain circumstances where a referral to Social Care is mandatory under safeguarding guidelines. These situations arise when there is a significant concern about a child's safety or welfare. Below are the key circumstances that typically require a mandatory referral:

- Suspected Physical, Emotional, or Sexual Abuse If there is reasonable suspicion or evidence that a child is being physically, emotionally, or sexually abused, a referral to Social Care is mandatory. This includes concerns about neglect or mistreatment that could cause significant harm to the child.
- Serious Neglect A referral is mandatory if there is evidence or suspicion that a child is experiencing neglect that is significantly affecting their development, health, or safety. Neglect may include failure to provide basic needs such as food, shelter, medical care, or supervision.
- Injuries to Non-Accidental Sites When a child presents with injuries in areas commonly associated with non-accidental harm (e.g., bruising on the face, neck, ear or torso), this may indicate abuse. In these cases, a referral must be made to Social Care for further investigation.
- Child Discloses Abuse or Harm If a child directly discloses that they are being harmed or abused, this must be taken seriously, and a referral to Social Care is required, even if there is no physical evidence or the disclosure seems unclear.
- Signs of Radicalisation Under the Prevent Duty, if there is a concern that a child, or a member of the family is at risk of radicalisation or being drawn into terrorism, a referral to Social Care is required. The referral may also involve the local Prevent team.
- Domestic Abuse in the Household If there is evidence or suspicion that a child is living in an environment where domestic abuse is taking place, and this poses a risk to their safety or well-being, a referral to Social Care is mandatory. This applies even if the child is not the direct victim but may be witnessing the abuse.
- Unexplained or Sudden Changes in Behaviour or Well-being If a child exhibits sudden and unexplained changes in behaviour, emotional state, or physical condition that suggests they may be at risk of significant harm, this could warrant a referral to Social Care.
- Concerns of Harm from Parents or Carers If there is suspicion that a parent or family member is responsible for causing harm to the child, or if the child is in an unsafe environment, a referral to Social Care is required. In these cases, parents may not be informed immediately to avoid placing the child at further risk.
- Child at Risk of Harm or Serious Injury If a child is at immediate or serious risk of harm or injury, such as through harmful cultural practices (e.g., Female Genital Mutilation or forced marriage), a referral to Social Care must be made urgently.

In these mandatory referral situations, the nursery must follow local safeguarding procedures and work closely with Social Care and other safeguarding agencies to ensure the child's safety.

11.5 Respect for Confidentiality

We maintain the confidentiality of all safeguarding concerns and will only share information with those who need to know in order to protect the child.

Parents can trust that their concerns and discussions will be handled discreetly, and sensitive information will be kept confidential unless legally required to share it.

11.6 Clear Pathways for Further Questions and Concerns

We encourage parents to ask questions if they are unsure about any aspect of the safeguarding process. Our Designated Safeguarding Lead (DSL) is available to provide further clarification and offer ongoing support.

Should parents have concerns or wish to seek external advice, we will provide details of the safeguarding agencies, including local authorities and organisations like the NSPCC.

11.7 Referral to Social Care

If a referral to Social Care or another agency is required, we will explain the reasons for this referral and clarify that it is part of our responsibility to safeguard the child, not an allegation against the parents.

We will always seek parental consent before making a referral unless it could put the child at greater risk, or we have been advised not to do so. The nursery does not investigate a safeguarding concern as this is the role of Social Care and Child Protection officers.

Our aim is to work together with parents to safeguard children, offering understanding, support, and guidance every step of the way.

12 THE ROLE OF SOCIAL CARE IN INVESTIGATING A SAFEGUARDING CONCERN

When a safeguarding concern is raised and referred to Social Care, their primary role is to ensure the safety and well-being of the child. They follow a structured process to assess the situation and determine the most appropriate course of action. Below is an overview of Social Care's role in investigating a safeguarding concern:

12.1 Initial Assessment

Upon receiving a referral, Social Care will conduct an initial assessment to determine the nature and seriousness of the concern. This involves gathering information from the referrer (e.g., the nursery), reviewing the child's background, and considering any known risks.

Social Care will decide whether the concern meets the threshold for further investigation. If the concern is deemed serious enough, a formal investigation will proceed.

12.2 Strategy Meeting or Discussion

If the concern involves potential significant harm to the child, Social Care may convene a strategy meeting. This meeting typically involves key professionals such as the police, health services, and the nursery or school. The goal is to share information, assess the level of risk, and plan how the investigation should proceed.

The strategy discussion will decide whether there is a need for immediate protective action and what steps are needed to ensure the child's safety.

12.3 Child Protection Investigation (Section 47 Enquiry)

Under Section 47 of the Children Act 1989, Social Care is legally required to investigate if there are reasonable grounds to suspect that a child is suffering or likely to suffer significant harm.

The investigation typically involves:

- Interviews with the Child: Social Care, often working with the police or other professionals, may speak directly to the child (if appropriate for their age and understanding) to gather their perspective and any disclosures.
- Interviews with Parents or Carers: Parents or carers are usually interviewed to discuss the concerns and provide their perspective. In cases where they are suspected of harm, these interviews may be conducted with caution or delayed.
- Home Visit and Observations: Social Care may visit the child's home to observe their living environment and any interactions with family members. This helps assess the child's safety and well-being.

12.4 Collaboration with Other Agencies

Date of issue: November 2025

Review Date: September 2026

Owner: Group Operations Manager

Social Care works closely with other agencies such as health services, schools, and the police to gather relevant information. This multi-agency approach ensures a comprehensive understanding of the child's situation and the risks they may face.

The police may be involved if there is suspicion of a criminal offence, such as physical or sexual abuse.

12.5 Risk Assessment and Decision-Making

Social Care assesses the level of risk to the child based on the information gathered. They consider factors such as the severity of the concern, the child's developmental needs, and the capacity of the parents or carers to protect the child.

Following the assessment, Social Care will make decisions about the next steps, which may include:

- No Further Action: If the concern does not meet the threshold for further intervention, Social Care may decide to take no further action. However, they may provide advice or refer the family to early help services for additional support.
- Ongoing Monitoring: In cases where the risk is not immediate but still a concern, Social Care may put in place a Child in Need plan. This involves ongoing support and monitoring to ensure the child's well-being.
- Immediate Protective Action: If the child is deemed to be at significant risk of harm, Social Care may take immediate protective action, such as removing the child from the home or applying for a court order to safeguard the child.

12.6 Child Protection Conference

If the investigation finds that the child is at risk of significant harm, a Child Protection Conference may be convened. This meeting brings together professionals from different agencies, along with the family (where appropriate), to develop a Child Protection Plan. The plan outlines the steps needed to protect the child and support the family.

The conference will review the investigation's findings, assess the level of risk, and make decisions about ongoing protection and support measures.

12.7 Ongoing Support and Monitoring

Following the investigation, Social Care may continue to support and monitor the child and family, either through a Child Protection Plan or a Child in Need Plan, depending on the level of risk.

Social Care will regularly review the situation and work with the family and other agencies to ensure that the child's safety and well-being are maintained.

12.8 Legal Intervention (If Necessary)

In extreme cases where the child is in immediate danger, Social Care may apply to the court for legal orders to protect the child. This could involve emergency protection orders, care orders, or supervision orders to remove the child from the home or place restrictions on parental access.

12.9 Informing the Parents

If the parents were not initially informed due to concerns that it might place the child at further risk, Social Care, along with other investigating agencies, will handle informing the parents as the investigation progresses. They will ensure that parents are involved in the process where appropriate and provided with support.

Parents will receive clear communication about the investigation and any decisions made, including referrals for additional support if needed.

12.10 Conclusion

Social Care plays a vital role in ensuring the safety and protection of children when safeguarding concerns arise. Their thorough investigation process is designed to assess the risk to the child, collaborate with other professionals, and take necessary steps to protect the child while working with families to provide support and guidance.

13 STAFF TRAINING AND INFORMATION

All staff and designated Directors/ Trustees will be regularly trained, relevant to their job roles and responsibilities, in Child Protection and Safeguarding every 3 years where a record will be kept. This training will be approved by the Local Safeguarding Children Board and may consist of completing an online module, training delivered by the DSL or training delivered by Local Safeguarding Children Board.

The DSL (who are usually the Nursery Manager) is responsible for the organisation, along with the Regional Manager, and the standard of training within their nursery. Temporary, voluntary and visiting staff will be given a copy of this policy for their information, including a brief induction so that they too know how to report concerns appropriately.

Volunteers, students and apprentices working with children at any of the Little Trees are always supervised by a qualified and experienced member of staff.

Staff Code of Conduct

Introduction

The Dean Close Foundation takes pride in the friendly and supportive atmosphere that exists between members of staff and children. The lack of barriers between children and staff creates a happy and productive working atmosphere but all colleagues must be aware that they have a professional relationship with children and that discretion must be exercised at all times. There is a difference between being friendly towards children/ parents and behaving as their friend.

Allegations of unprofessional or improper conduct can arise and it is the duty of all members of staff to behave professionally at all times. The purpose of this Code of Conduct is to ensure that colleagues know what acceptable and unacceptable behaviour is in order to maintain the safety of the pupils and guard against allegations of impropriety.

It is important that all adults working with children understand the nature of their work and their responsibilities relating to it, places them in a position of trust. At Dean Close, the welfare of children is paramount, so it is the responsibility of all adults to safeguard and promote the welfare of children. Members of staff are responsible for their own actions and behaviour and should avoid any conduct, which would lead a reasonable person to question their motivation and intentions. This guidance is not exhaustive and is designed to set out principles rather than to give detailed and specific advice as the circumstances in which staff work vary.

Key documents which inform this policy include:

- a. Guidance for Safer Working Practice for Adults who work with Children and Young People in Education Settings 2009
- b. Keeping Children Safe in Education September 2021.

Other Dean Close policies which relate to this guidance include:

- a. Safeguarding and Child Protection policy (NL001)
- b. Confidentiality policy
- c. Safety of the Children Policy (NL002)
- f. Staff Social Media policy (W057)
- g. Positive Behaviour Management policy
- h. First aid policy (S111)
- i. Acceptable use of ICT
- j. Guidance on Acceptance of Gifts (W001)
- m. Data Protection policy (W008)
- o. Whistleblowing policy (W035)

Duty of care

This is the duty, which rests upon each Nursery, and the staff within it to ensure that all reasonable steps are taken to safeguard the safety of children involved in any activity for which the nursery is responsible. All staff have a duty to keep children safe and protect them from sexual, physical and emotional harm. Children have the right to be safe and to be treated with respect and dignity.

Members of staff are accountable for the way in which they exercise authority, manage risk, use.

resources and protect children from discrimination and avoidable harm. The duty of care is, in part, exercised through the development of respectful, caring and professional relationships between staff and children and behaviour by staff that demonstrates integrity, maturity and good judgement.

The Nursery has a duty of care towards employees, which requires the provision of a safe working environment for staff and guidance about safe working practices. Staff who are subject to an allegation will be supported and the principles of natural justice applied.

Staff should not engage in any discriminatory behaviour towards children or colleagues of either a positive or negative nature.

Appendix F

Low Level Concerns

The Dean Close Foundation has processes and procedures in place to manage any safeguarding concerns about a staff member (including supply staff, volunteers and contractors). Paragraph 22 of this policy details the procedures that should be followed if an allegation of abuse by a member of staff is made.

It is also the duty of the Foundation to ensure that low level concerns, which don't meet the allegation thresholds outlined in paragraph 22-b, about a member of staff are also recorded so that any potential patterns of inappropriate behaviour can be identified.

A low-level concern is any concern, no matter how small, that an adult may have acted in a way which.

- a. Is not consistent with the Foundation Code of Conduct found in appendix E of this policy.
- b. Related to their conduct outside of work that has caused a sense of unease about that adult's suitability to work with children.

Staff do not need to determine whether the actions of an adult can be defined as a low-level concern or whether they reach the allegation threshold they just need to make a report. It is the role of the Area Manager, in conjunction with the DSL, if necessary, to make this decision.

Any member of staff can report a low-level concern about themselves or a colleague to their line manager, the DSL of the nursery, or alternatively, the Regional Manager, the Group Operations Manager, the Warden or the Director of HR.

Staff should feel confident that they can self-refer when for example they have found themselves in a position which could be misinterpreted, which might appear compromising to others and/or on reflection they believe they have behaved in such a way that they consider falls below the expected professional standards.

All low-level concerns should be recorded in writing as part of a professional interview or by email.

The record should include:

- a. The details of the concern
- b. The context in which the concern arose.
- c. The names of the individuals (children and staff) involved.
- d. The name of the reporting member of staff, if anonymity is not wanted.

Records of low-level concerns will be kept confidentially and securely and comply with GDPR legislation. In most cases, records will be destroyed 7 years after the employee leaves the Foundation.

Records will be regularly reviewed in order to:

- a. Identify patterns of concerning, problematic or inappropriate behaviour.
- b. Aid decisions on the appropriate course of action to be taken.

- c. Provide evidence if the records meet an allegation threshold and a referral to the LADO is made.
- d. Help in the identification of possible wider cultural issues within the nursery or Foundation that enabled the concerned behaviour to occur and decide on a course of action to minimise the risk of repeated low-level concerns.

Spectrum of behaviour

Allegation.

- behaved in a way that has harmed a child or may have harmed a child.
- possibly committed a criminal offence against or related to a child.

Low-Level Concern

- is not consistent with an organisation’s Code of Conduct, and/or
- relates to their conduct outside of work which, even if not linked to a particular act or omission, has caused a sense of unease about that adult’s suitability to work with children.
