BOOK COVER

Chase Matthews memory has been wiped and to make matters worse, he wakes up in a van full of strangers, and wounded. Before he knew it, Chase and the rest of the group were running from tons of infected. They reach a safe place where they find shelter until they decide to hunt the creator of the virus and find a cure. They must go through hell and more to find a cure to the virus that is quickly devouring the world. Will Chase and the rest of the group be able to save the world from the infected in time?
