Think of another character from the story. Describe ways the other character is different from the character you chose.

Use the same event you used above. But, this time draw what might have happened if the other character had faced the same problem or challenge. Include dialog with speech bubbles. What would the other character have said? What would they have done differently? Be prepared to explain why you think the other character would have reacted this way.

BONUS: On the back write an alternate ending to this story, if YOU had been the character facing the problem or challenge. What would YOU have done or said differently?
