Welcome & Roll Call

Barbara Chick, Robert Williams, Marita Hernandez, Mashelia Moore, Amy Godinez, Stacy Moses, and Mary Tallent.

- New Items
  - AP Introduction

    -Mrs. Moses introduced herself and looks forward to working with the SOT team.

  - Behavior Data for the past 3 years

    Ms. Moore shared behavior data and for the 19-20 school year, the top 3 three categories were aggressive behavior, bullying, and unacceptable language. For the 18-19 school year, the top three categories were aggressive behavior, bullying, and fighting.

    For the 20-21 school year, the top category is inappropriate online usage.

    We don't have data for March-May for the 19-20 school year because we went out, due to COVID.

    As far as bullying goes, this data includes all substantiated and unsubstantiated claims. If it didn't include unsubstantiated claims, it would be much less.

    PBIS- We are working on teaching students the skills and language they need to respond to behaviors, to know what bullying is, etc.

    80-90% of the aggressive behaviors came from 1 student for one year and then from 2 students the other year.

  - Feedback on Family Game Night

    -The feedback was that it was positive and they wish it would have been a little bit longer, so students could have gone to every room.

    -Sometimes, the teachers didn't know which student they were talking to and it was a little bit confusing, some games went longer and that caused an issue getting to the next game, other than that, everyone enjoyed it.

    -A lot of preschool students didn't want to leave and had fun. The only issue they had was some internet issues.

-Third grade winners were selected from the program and students could still win, even if they entered in the middle of the game. Third grade felt it went well.

- Future Family Involvement Events
  - Choose an event and calendar it

-Yes, the game night was fun and we could do it again.

-We could also try a story night.

-We could do a poll to see what families would like to do.

-The ideas we came up with last time were: movie night, cooking night, goose chase, or bingo.

-We tentatively chose January 26th for the next event.
