

Chrome has released a few updates over the past couple weeks introducing a new "Allow access to devices on the local network" permission box that pops up.

If you selected "Block" and you are on Kaneland's network, you will need to reset your permissions.

On <https://www.kaneland.org/board-of-ed/meeting-docs-videos> click the settings button in the URL. It will bring up the following menu. Toggle on "Local network access" and refresh the page.
