ATHLETICS

About St. John Bosco High School Head Baseball Coach Andy Rojo

Coach Andy Rojo is a nationally respected baseball coach and mentor whose career is defined by developing talent, building winning cultures, and earning recognition at the highest levels of prep and collegiate baseball. With a reputation for excellence, Andy has impacted athletes across multiple organizations, including USA Baseball, St John Bosco High School Baseball, and several top-tier collegiate and club programs.

Coaching Career & Organizations

Andy has contributed to USA Baseball, helping identify and prepare top amateur talent for international competition through the National Team Identification Series program. At the high school level, he has been a driving force for the Bosco Baseball program, leading the team to multiple championship successes while fostering a culture of resilience, accountability, and brotherhood.

At the collegiate level, Andy served as an assistant coach at Long Beach State University, where he held the positions of recruiting coordinator and hitting coach, helping the Dirtbags secure the 2008 Big West title. Earlier in his career, he also coached at Riverside Community College (RCC), under the tutelage of Head Coach Dennis Rogers, where he contributed to postseason success and talent development, culminating in RCC's 2007 CA State title.

Awards & Accolades

Andy's impact has been recognized nationally with numerous honors, including:

- MaxPreps National Baseball Coach of the Year (2025) - awarded to the top high school baseball coach in the nation.
- LA Times Baseball Coach of the Year (2025) – awarded after guiding St. John Bosco High to a Southern Section Division 1 championship and a Southern California Division I regional title.
- Cal-Hi Sports State Baseball Coach of the Year (2025) – recognized for his leadership and success on one of the state's biggest stages.
- National High School Baseball Coaches Association Coach of the Year (2025, Region 8) – one of only eight coaches nationwide honored.
- American Baseball Coaches Association Coach of the Year (2025, Region 8) - one of only eight coaches nationwide honored.
- NFHS California Southern Section Coach of the Year (2025) - recognized for furthering interscholastic athletics in California.

ATHLETICS

- Press-Telegram's Coach of the Year (2024 and 2025) - recognized for turning around and leading the St John Bosco baseball program to historic back-to-back seasons.
- ABCA Committee (2019 to Present) - Serves as a member of the American Baseball Coaches Association Travel Baseball Committee.

Coaching Style & Philosophy

Coach Rojo is known for a coaching style that blends discipline, energy, and mentorship. He emphasizes fundamentals, mental toughness, and consistency, preparing players not only to compete at the highest levels but also to succeed beyond the game. His approach strikes a balance between accountability and encouragement, motivating athletes to embrace hard work while instilling confidence and leadership.

Above all, Andy believes in developing complete players—athletes who play with passion, respect the game, and carry the lessons of baseball into every area of their lives. His players consistently credit him with helping them achieve goals ranging from collegiate scholarships to professional baseball opportunities.