Each high school may make its own rules relating to graduation ceremony regalia, including hats and cords, except as provided in this regulation.

All graduation ceremony regalia should serve the purpose of celebrating all graduates and their accomplishments and should not serve as a distraction from that purpose or disruption to the ceremony.

Campuses may not prohibit students who are verified members of a federally recognized tribe from wearing traditional tribal regalia or objects of Native American cultural significance along with or attached to a cap or gown at graduation ceremonies or related school events.
