The seniors chosen as the Rotary Seniors of the month were Claire Livingston and Samantha Kiernan. Throughout their high school careers, they showed outstanding hard work and dedication towards their schoolwork, sports, extracurriculars and so much more. The Rotary Club recognized their efforts in this month's meeting.

The first rotary senior of the month is Claire Livingston. Claire is a member of the National Honor Society, National English Honor Society, Band (concert and symphonic), the Oxford and Jennersville swim teams, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Track and Field, and a part of the Unified Swarm Club. Claire is the woodwind manager for the marching band and is also in Band (concert and symphonic), she helps manage and look over all woodwind sections within the band. Claire is the public relations chair for National English Honor Society; she manages and posts on the National English Honor Society social media accounts. Claire is also a co-captain for the Oxford Swim Team, where she ensures a friendly and respectful environment and helps the coach with anything she may need. Claire has been a part of the Jennersville Club team for 11 years and has beaten records for both the Oxford and Jennersville team in many events. For the high school, Claire has set the record for the 100 breaststroke, 400 freestyle relay, 200 freestyle relay, and the 200 IM relay. She has broken the 200 breaststroke record for her club team and has also broken her own records a few times. Claire has been an incredible academic student who has excelled in all her classes. As she continues to a four-year college, she is going to major in Biology with hopes to be a biomedical researcher to satisfy her curiosity and want to help those with physical needs.

The second rotary senior of the month is Samantha Kiernan. Samantha is a member of National Honor Society, National English Honor Society, Marching Band, Stage Crew, Track and Field, Future Business Leaders of America, Rotary Journalist, and Band (concert and symphonic). Samantha is secretary for National English Honor Society, where they focus on the advancement of english education within the Oxford community by volunteer work and she helps with the organizing and running of the monthly meetings. She is stage manager for stage crew, overseeing the designing of props and the setting of the stage for the musical. Samantha is a section leader for the flutes in marching band, where she helps the rest of the flute section with learning, memorizing music and marching for the field shows and parade performances. Samantha is also secretary of helping hands which focuses on community service opportunities and improving the Oxford community. For Future Business Leaders of America, Samantha has made it to states this year for Organizational Leadership where she will continue testing to continue to nationals. Last year, she had a piece of artwork submitted to the Chester County Art Festival and had it recognized at their showcase. As she continues to a four-year college of her choice, she will be majoring in Biomedical engineering with hopes to make a difference with type 1 diabetes research.
