XIV. Interviews with Board Candidates (public session)

The Board then informed the public that they would be conducting interviews for the open seat vacated by Mr. Fisher. The candidates were brought in one at a time and asked a series of six questions which were as follows:

- 1) What motivates you to serve on the Board of Education at this time, and what perspectives or experiences would you bring to the board?*
- 2) How do you believe a board member should balance the needs of students, staff, and the school community when making decisions?*
- 3) Describe a time when you faced a difficult decision or disagreement in a group setting. How did you approach it, and what was the outcome?*
- 4) What do you see as the most significant challenges facing our district, and how would you hope to contribute to addressing them?*
- 5) How would you communicate board decisions to the community, especially when they may be unpopular?*
- 6) How would you ensure transparency and maintain community trust while also respecting confidentiality and the limits of the board's authority?*

Amara Wagner was the first one interviewed. She explained that she brings a lot of experience to the table having previously been on the Board. Now that her son is in college she has more availability. She stressed that the Board first and foremost needs to be an advocate for the students. She indicated that doing this often leads to the best decision for other groups such as teachers and parents. When asked about challenges the Board is facing, she indicated that replacing the Superintendent will be a huge task. She also pointed out that it will be challenging to find the funding to support the budget with aging buildings and rising health care costs. With regards to communicating with the community, she felt it is always best to be honest and straightforward. She concluded by commenting that while it is often difficult to deal with confidential information but ensure that the public is kept informed.

Mr. Luigi Vitale was next. He decided to put his name in for consideration when he saw the email notification from the district. He mentioned that he had two daughters, one graduated and one is a sophomore. His interest in being on the Board is to pay it forward. He appreciated what Park Ridge schools have done for him and wants others to have the same opportunities. He also felt that it was important to make decisions that benefit the students, even if they are unpopular. With regard to conflict, he felt it was important to understand the other person's point of view and try to find common ground to move forward. He felt that financial issues would be a big challenge that the Board would be facing. He mentioned that he was an accountant by trade. In communicating with the public, he thought that face to face discussions were important for unpopular decisions. He also thought that the Board should share as much as possible and explain when they were unable to do so as a result of confidentiality restrictions.

Ms. Josephine Hunt followed Mr. Vitale. She indicated that she had considered running in this last election and was interested in giving back to the community. She had three daughters that graduated from the High School. She felt that community service was rewarding. When making decisions, she felt it was important to do surveys and gather information through public sessions. In dealing with difficult decisions, she referred to her experience as an educator and gave an example of how listening and providing more information on a situation helped her resolve a conflict with a parent. She felt that the community has had a break with the educational needs of the district. She would work towards bringing everyone together and communicate needs better. She felt that people needed to be kept informed about what was happening in the schools. She felt that full transparency was needed. She concluded by pointing out ways the district could get this information out to the public such as PRTV and public information sessions.

Mr. Tim McCreight was the final candidate to interview. He also expressed a desire to give back to the community. He indicated that he had a 40 year career in sales and marketing and feels his skills could be useful on the Board. He stated that he makes decisions based on data. He outlined a process of starting with quantitative data and then working with people to get them behind the idea. Having worked in different markets, he is familiar with the dynamics of balancing opinions of different groups. He felt data informs decisions. Interpretation of that data is where you start. He gave an example of a conflict that occurred in his work life that resulted from a communication issue. Once resolved, the decision was easier to make. When asked about upcoming challenges, he pointed to technology and the use of AI. He also talked about making students lifelong learners. In communicating with the public, he pointed out that empathy is important. Some decisions will be unpopular, but it is important to be candid and get public input. He pointed to the most recent Budget meeting as a good example of this. He concluded by speaking to how to handle confidential information. He felt that educating the public on the Board's role is important. He advocated that you build trust one person at a time and then nurture that trust.

At the conclusion of the interviews, Mr. Bradler thanked the candidates. The Board then adjourned to private session to discuss.

XV. Adjournment to Private Session
