"Looking Into the Future"

Yesterday is gone
only memories linger on,
there is only now
and what is to be.

Where we are is where we stand, and we hope for peace in days to come,
as we look into the future.

The first days with frightened faces, freshly marked with ink and wonder, the younger faces are filled with awe.

Times of smiles and friendship dawning, of classroom boredom and classroom yawning, and we live on,
ever looking to tomorrow.

The helping hands that guide us to the ever-present tomorrow, they feed our minds with wisdoms through the school year pain and sorrow.

A united class of learned friends, growing and learning, day by day, impatiently waiting for the day of release.

There is no yesterday,
only special memories,
a photograph or two, a book.

We live today, with these memories,
looking into the future...
David Colley

Yesterday is gone
only memories linger on,
there is only now
and what is to be.

Where we are is where we stand,
and we hope for peace
in days to come,
as we look into the future.

Adapting

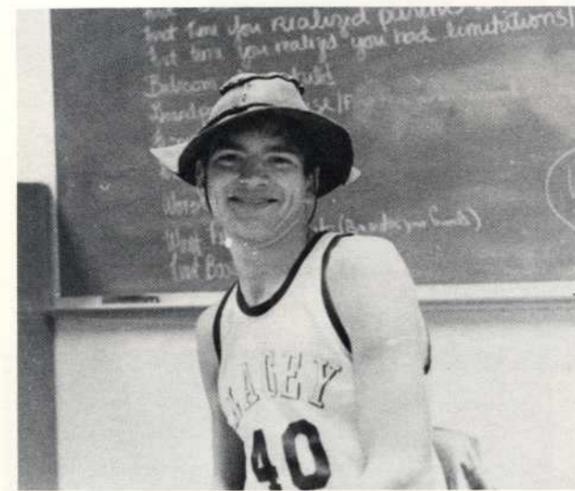

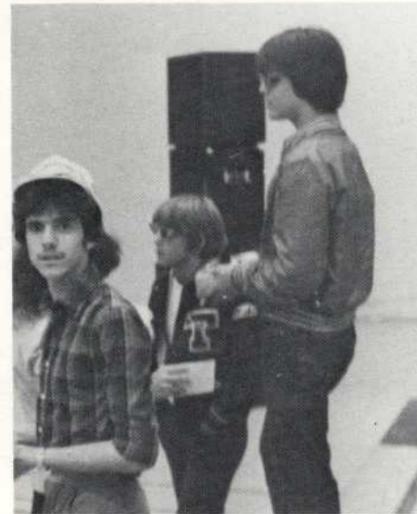

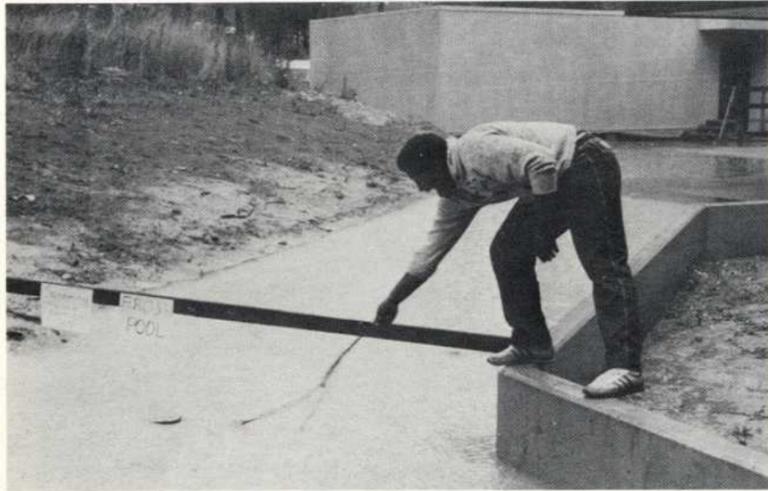

THROUGH PAST AND PRESENT, IN MIND AND BODY, WE HAVE BEEN FORCED TO ADAPT. OUR NATURE GIVES US THE UNCANNY ABILITY TO ADAPT TO IMPOSSIBLE SITUATIONS; THROUGH PAIN AND SORROW, THROUGH CONFUSION AND BLINDNESS. WE ARE ALWAYS ABLE TO BOUNCE BACK. IN THE FUTURE, WE WILL BE CONFRONTED WITH MANY MORE PROBLEMS IN WHICH WE WILL HAVE TO ADAPT. THE FUTURE, LIKE AN UNCERTAIN CONSTRUCTION, WILL CHALLENGE US. IN THE NEXT ELEVEN PAGES, WE HOPE TO SHOW HOW WE, THE BLAZERS OF TIMBERLINE HIGH SCHOOL, HAVE ADAPTED TO THE IMPOSSIBLE SITUATIONS OF CONSTRUCTION.

Have Books, Will Travel...
