DEDICATION

We would like to dedicate this annual to the teachers who have taught at Timberline for ten years. Timberline has gone through many changes this past decade. These teachers have been instrumental in bringing about these changes and helping students cope with the new school and world environment.

In this decade of change one thing has remained constant and that is the Timberline Crest. On Timberline's 10th birthday we have decided to re-emphasize the meaning of the Timberline Crest and through this get an insight into the Spirit of Timberline!

Crossed Axes-used for building

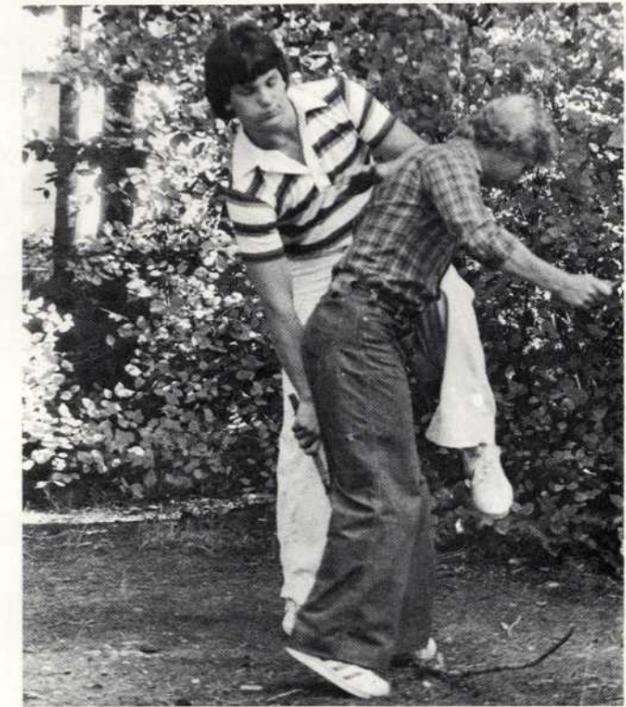

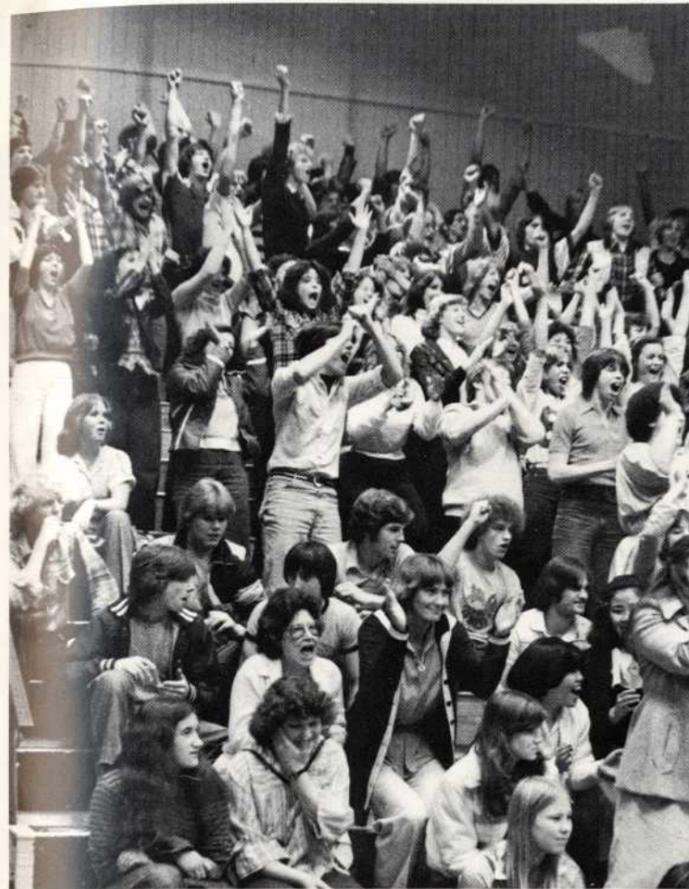

When Timberline opened for school in 1970, all classes were held in the gym as work continued in the main building. We have attempted to show the building of the school from its first conception to how it looks today. Timberline has become a mixture of concrete amidst the natural beauty of its surroundings.

SOPHS

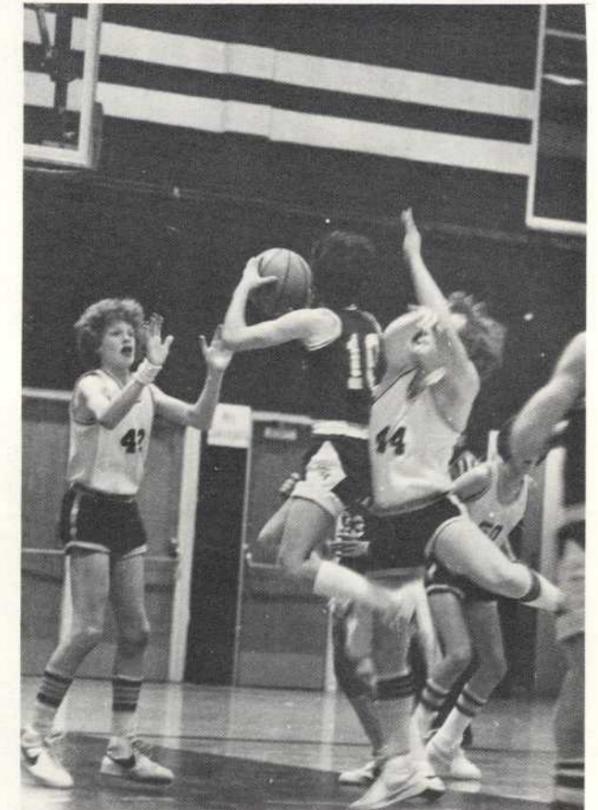

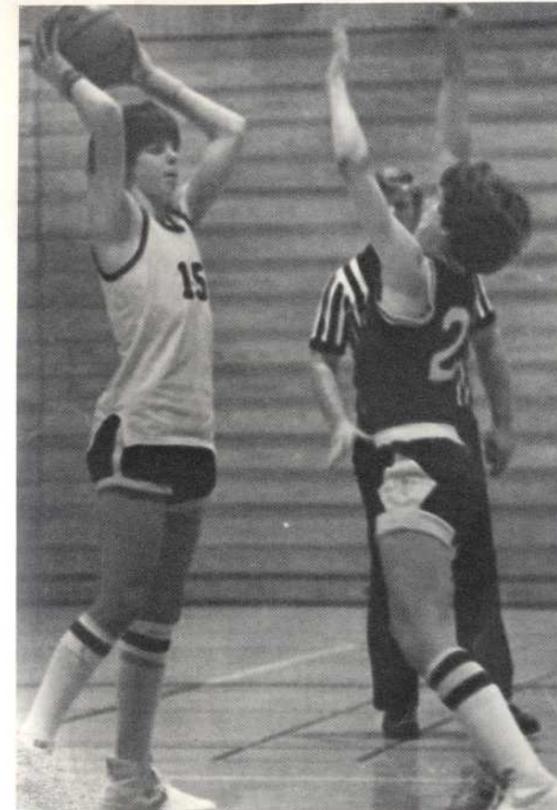

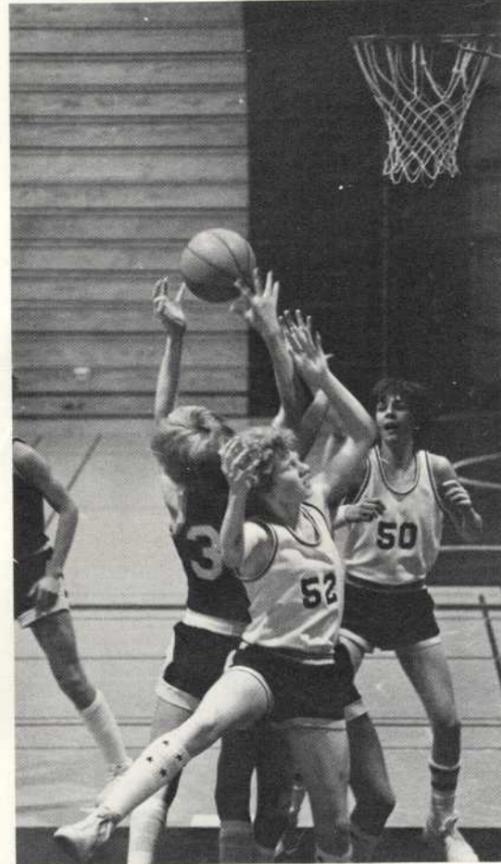

The Sophomore Basketball Team is working hard to improve their skills and often goes unnoticed. Games are played at Nisqually often in front of only family and friends, but the players strive for excellence and the opportunity to move up to J.V. or Varsity Basketball.

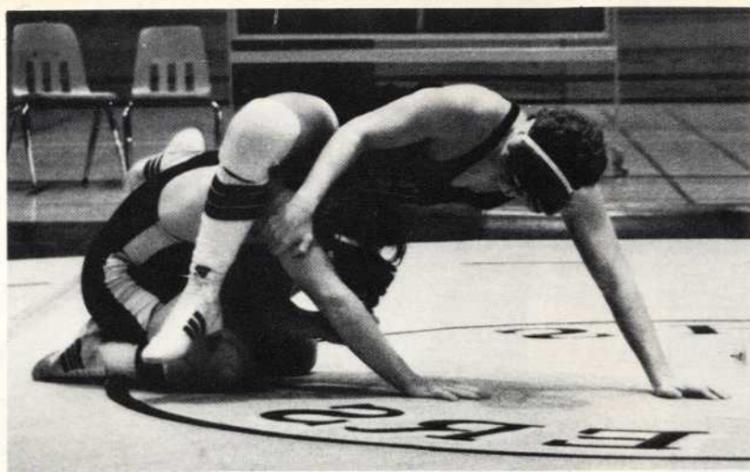

Top Left: Pete Leach, #30, goes up for two points and #32 Chris Politikas moves to the open area after a screen by #44 Marty Mayen.

OUR TOWN

by

Thornton Wilder

This year's fall production, was another jewel in the crown of Sheila Ross. Under her skillful direction, the Timberline Theater Company once again pulled off another hit. The large cast of twenty held nothing back. Their performances clearly captured the very essence of Thornton Wilder's play OUR TOWN.

POTLATCH

The traditional Northwest Coast Indian Potlatch has been a part of the Timberline experience since 1972 when Pat Hawthorne's and Ralph Heino's students initiated the activity here with singing, dancing, and feasting at Priest Point Park. Since then the custom has been carried on by Indian Studies classes taught by Rebecca Jo Downey and Sharon Thomas who were taught several Nisqually songs, legends, and dances by Maureen Frank. Other Indian students who have helped with the course are Henry Wells, Stephanie Wells, and John Clark.
