Forever Brave & Bold...

Brave: (brāv) adj: 1. Excellent: great 2. Possessing or displaying courage 3. Making a fine display: impressive.

Bold: (bōld) adj: 1. Fearless and daring, courageous. 2. Requiring or exhibiting courage and bravery

Janelle Kalls

Scott Cagnon, Mark Flores, Adam Rice

What does it mean to be Brave and Bold? To have those qualities one must exhibit the willingness to be daring and courageous, accept challenges, and face ones fears head on. Throughout the 04-05 school year Timberline students exhibited time and again their Bravery and Boldness. Academically Timberline students continued to uphold a standard of excellence expected of them at many different levels. Blazer athletes accepted challenges and confronted adversity with courage and dignity throughout the year.

Daniel Castellanos, Kashi Washington

Simone Hyman, Megan Birge, and Jessica Navarro

As members of a larger community Blazer pride was seen by those outside of Timberline High School as students participated in a wealth of volunteer activities and community events. So while you reminisce over the past school year take pride in who you are...

A Forever
Brave and
Bold Blazer!

Kim Mason Class of 90
"Yes, my daughter sings it all the time- in the car, at the dinner tabel, inthe bathtub. The weird-est place would be the shower."

Jeff Birbeck class of 82
"Yes- it is a great song. The weirdest place would be disneyland."

Celeste Emmons class of 78... "Yes, The most unusual place I have found myself humming the fight song is on the Rainier Express on my way to the top of Crystal Mountain."

Do you find yourself sing- ing or humming the fight song at weird times or in places other than at THS?

All hats off to blazers cheer them on to fame fight ever on to victory we're sure to win this game
go blazers go blazers
we honor green and gold figh! fight! fight!
for timberline forever

brave & bold!

Christine Kewley class of 05 "I'm constantly sing- ing the fight song when I'm in my car or when I can't think of a song in the shower."

Cary Eick class of 07...
"Yes, anywhere and everywhere in public places where I can look like a true blazer."

Sherrie Cornett class of 05... "Yes, the weirdest place would have to be at the mall sitting on a countertop at Spencer's."

Most Embarrassing Moments:

"I made an ass out of myself!!"

"We had just moved into our new house, when the neighbor boy came over to say hi. My brother had just gotten a new dirt bike and i was trying to go really fast and show off, when i forgot my mom had come home and parked the car in the driveway. So when i was haulin around the house and looking for the cute neighbor boy, i plowed right into the car. it was ok, he rushed over just to see if i was okay, im not one to be easily embarrassed, but i made an ass out of myself!!"

Brenda Gonsalves

"I ran away and cried!"

Hollie Tillinghast

"In elementary, me and my friends were playing tag and I was 'it'. When I was trying to catch someone, a boy ran up behind me and pulled my pants down. I ran away and cried! It was pretty embarrassing."

Samantha Lopez

"My family and my boyfriend were on our way to the Korean restaurant and when I opened the door, I decided to get out of the car and I ripped my pants all the way down and I didn't have another pair so I ate with ripped pants!"

"I ripped my pants all the way down."

Megan Stone

"Once it was the fourth of July, and i was at this one party with my family... I was outside running into the house, unfortunately, I didn't see the glass door there, and I ran right into the glass door!! Everyone on the other side of the door saw and couldn't stop laughing...It was great!!"

"I ran right into the glass door!!"

"My freshman year, during soccer practice, a random ball glew out and hit me in the nuts. It laid me out pretty hardcore, I cried!"

Christopher Jensen

Stephanie Miller

"One of my most embarrassing moments is my freshman year when it was freshman orientation, some upper classmen were checking me out and they waved. I waved back, but then i ran straight into this pole. They all started laughing."

"I ran straight into this pole..."

"I tripped and fell on my face!"

"I was running to Mrs. Mason's room to ask her a question when i tripped and fell on my face! My back pack hit the back of my head and everyone was laughing at me!"

Jessica Jagelski

Q: Who has influenced you the most the past four years?

A: My dad has influenced me the past four years because he's been there and to see if I am actually in class or not.

Heather Jacobsen

Q: What is one thing you will always remember about high school?

A: One time I was drinking sprite in the hallway and my friend Quynh flicked the can and it spilled all over me.

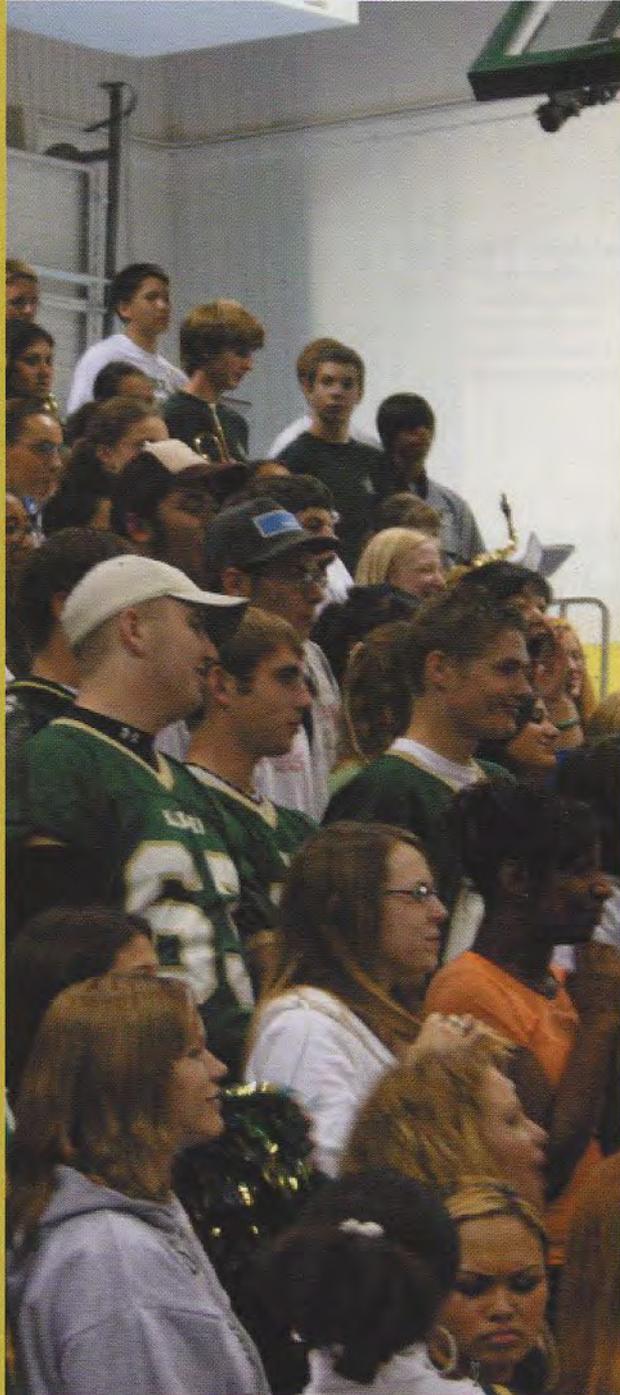

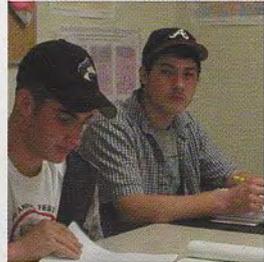

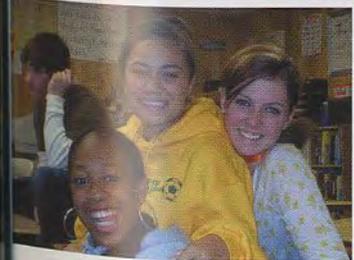

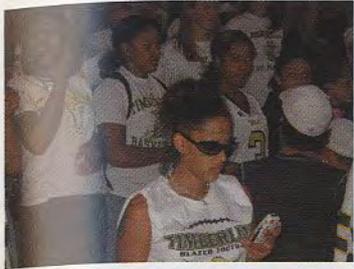

Naomi Bornemann

Q: Has senioritis gone to your head?

A: Yes, that started in when I was a Junior.

Seniors: Things to Say

Staja Mealing

Q: What do you define as cool?

A: Cool is not a popular thing but being who you are and being around your friends.

Natalie Roberts

Q: Are you ready for Senior Year?

A: In a sense no, I don't feel ready, because that's one step closer to college. But Seniors rock and I can't wait to be one.

Stacy Weaver

Q: Are you ready for your senior year?

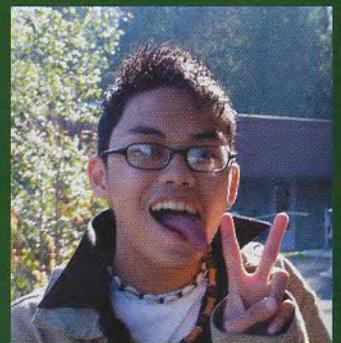

A: No, not really because I am not ready to get away from Timberline.

Scott Crooks

Q: Are you ready for senior year?

A: There is so much responsibility that comes with it, but yeah.

Tony Tran

Q: What do you define as cool?

A: Cool is a constipated, over hated, over weighted loser...

Stephanie Kardos

Q: Are you ready for senior year?

A: Yes, and no, because I don't want high school to end so fast.

Which is Worse?

Forgetting to brush your teeth and having bad breath or having bad B.O. on a first date?

"Having bad B.O. i wouldn't want her to turn and run."
-Benjamin Baria.

Your mom not shaving and wearing shorts or your dad shaving and wearing shorts?

"My dad because he is a really hairy guy and he would look weird with smooth legs and hairy arms." - Travis Blogett

Walking in on your parents or your parents walking in on you?

"Your parents on you! It is way more embarrassing and awkward!" -Aaron Pentland

Stuck in a room with never ending classical music or in a room with never ending gas.

"Gas, because you can't relax to gas like you can with classical music." -Andrew Withee

Being naked in a pit of full snakes or in a pit of full cockroaches naked?

"Being naked in a pit of cockroaches because I have a snake of my own!"-Kyler Clem

Playing footsie with Osama or playing footsie with Hitler?

"Hitler would be worse because he is racist!!"
-Cody King

Ants chewing away at your arm or be hit in the face by a baseball bat?

"I would rather have ants chew at my arm, if i got hit in the face then everyone would see." - Kara Briley Talk like Yoda or Breath like DARTH?

"Yoda rather talk like I" -James Santos

Sophomore 2 Things to Say

Q: If you could change the school colors what would they be?

A: I would change the school colors to red and black.

Paul Grzybowski

Katie Everson

Q: What do you think so far being halfway done with high school?

A: I enjoy being halfway done with High School. Most people are not ready for it to be over but I am having fun.

Brenna Lindsey-Swecker

Q: What was one embarrassing moment you remember this year?

A: Walking down to the commons and falling on the flat steps with both my sports and school things.

Mary Kewely

Q: What was one embarrassing moment you remember this year?

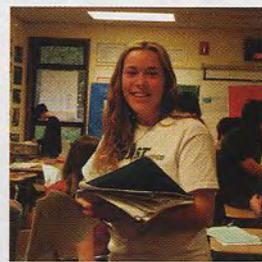

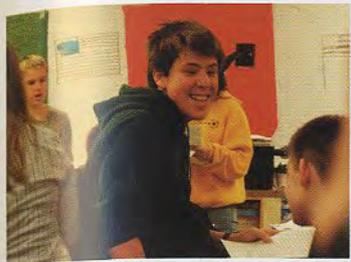

A: On the way to my sister's car, I tripped and rolled and everybody stopped and stared.

Q: If you could change the school colors what would they be?

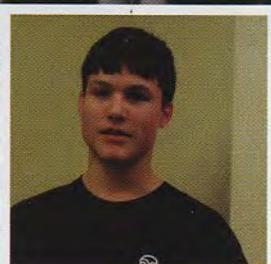

A: Purple and black would be our new school colors. They go together really well and give off a magical affect.

Freshman & New Students

The 2004-2005 school year was started off with the annual freshman/new student orientation. Blazer citizens got together early in the summer to prepare the activities they shared with the freshman. Blazer Citizens are a selected group of upperclassmen who are hand picked by their teachers and counselor. The Blazer citizens had a group of about 12-15 incoming students. They played various activities in which the students got to learn new and interesting facts about their classmates. On the second day of orientation the freshman got to meet their teachers and get a better idea of how the school day will go. This was a new experience for many students because they weren't used to having six classes a day. Orientation was followed by the annual Welcome Back dance. This is the first dance of the year that many Blazer anticipates.

Circle up ... Led by Senior Nicholas Emory a group of incoming freshmen prepare for the second day of orientation.

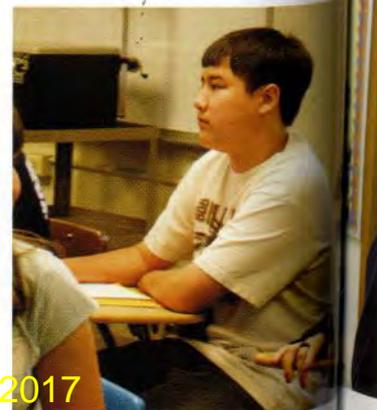

Freshman control... Susana Carrillo and Carissa Lee keep the freshman in line with their kindness and memorable WHISTLES!

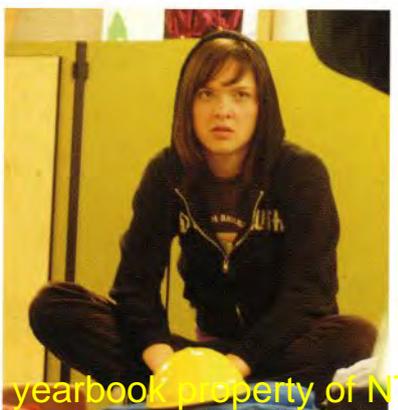

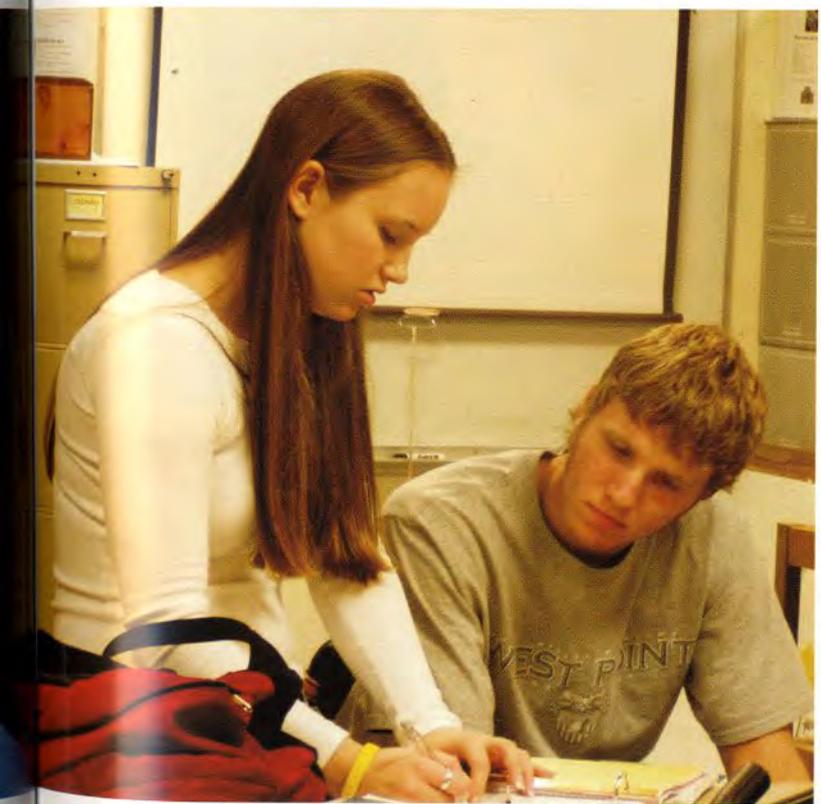

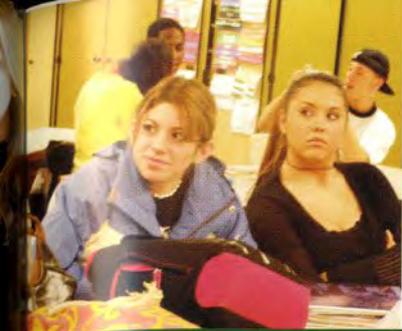

Blazer pride... Christopher Olson shows his enthusiasm for the upcoming school year by being involved in the activities.

Is Class Over Yet? Daniel Ponce sits in class during the second day of orientation anticipating the rest of the day.

Students & Leaders

The leadership class has accomplished many events around Timberline throughout the 2004-2005 school year. They are in charge of organizing the assemblies and planning dances such as Homecoming. They are also actively involved in the community, either doing various community services or sponsoring the annual blood drive. They also attended leadership conventions around the South Sound with other local high schools and non-local schools.

Mr. Geiger taught the students how to become active members in the community. He also taught the students leadership skills that will help them in the future. Whether it's in their jobs, sports, or families, the students have gained skills that they will remember and cherish for a lifetime.

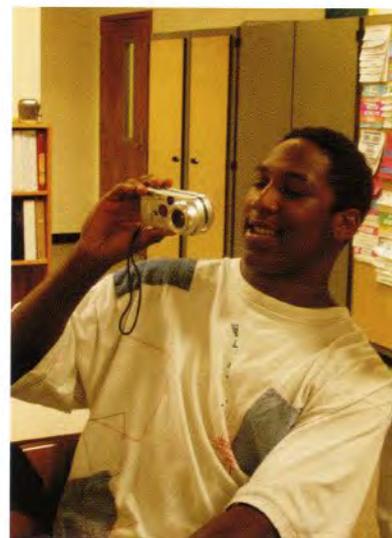

Hangin out... Ginny Soloman and sConnie Campbell get finished from their work early and get a break to talk about classes and work.

Work! Work! Work! Kristen Everson and Zachariah Clark waste no time and get down to business planning their upcoming fundraiser.

Senior Pride... Seniors Heather Iacobson and Connie Campbell stay focused during one of Mr. Geiger's lectures. It is not all fun in games in leadership.

Huh, what was that? Lauren Flammini, senior, spaces out for a couple of moments then comes back to reality when asked a question.

Say cheese... Nick Adams takes a picture of his fellow classmates. Many memories were made throughout the year. "I can guarantee that!"

Jobs & More Jobs

Other than doing extra curricular activities many students are choosing to get a job. A job is a great way to get ready for the rest of our lives so why not get a head start! After all, once we were finished getting an education we were all going to get a job sooner or later. Students get jobs for many reasons, some just to have extra money in their pockets others like having the freedom of paying for their own things. It takes skill to be able to balance a job, school and not to mention homework. "Jobs take a lot of commitment and responsibility and before I had a job those are two qualities that I improved on." says senior Connie Campbell. Responsibility makes up a large part of having a job. For example getting to work on time remembering what days you work and working to the best of your ability. A job is a great way to build character, although some of us hate to admit it, these character building experiences play an important role in our lives. Jobs teach us the importance of setting goals, by pushing ourselves just a little bit further than expected and achieving success later along in life.

Life & Skills

A school within a school. The Life Skills program is a microcosm of the Timberline community it provides learning opportunities for students often considered dependent on others. Their days consist of learning basic skills such as cooking, cleaning, answering the phone, doing general chores, learning to ride the transit buses and interacting with the world around them. Life Skills students have a passion for being involved in the community. They are active in a popular activities and also are organize their annual auction in December. One of the major projects this year was the quilt they all helped to make to be sold at the auction. The students also involve in activities outside of the classroom. Many participate in the Special Olympics, are members of other community groups and even have their own Prom in May.

Education

& Career

New Market is an incredible way for students to learn the skills to have a career. It allows students from ten different school districts, including North Thurston, Rainier, and Olympia, to attend their classes. It is a chance for students to learn post-secondary education as well. It has several that it offers veterinary technician, careers, financial justice, cosmetology and many different automotive go half the day in Market then goes of the day or they first half of the day Market. The classes a student high as the experience in their life. Some

Advanced Placement

AP, advanced placement, and college class. Are you up for this work load or is it even that big of a burden. According to Senior Lindsey Millar who has taken many AP classes throughout her years at Timberline, say she takes "AP classes because they put you in class with students who are at the same level. They (students) are willing to handle the home work load." So I guess that you could say the class is more challenging if you do not have good study habits or not at the same level the class is. But what is the point of taking this extra work load? According to teacher Dian Weston the point of advanced placement classes is "It helps prepare them for college courses and teaches them to think critically." It also "creates a good way to earn college credit". Advance placement classes do not only let be challenged and gain college credit but Mrs. Weston says you can gain "more in depth information in an AP class. They explore the issues and events that have occurred in history. They move at a much more rapid pace." If you have good study habits or have a hunger to learn and want a chance to earn college credits then you should want to challenge yourself with advance placement classes.

No really, I say not... Katie Mammìna raises her hand to ask a question. Understanding the content is extremely important.

I'm Reading...

Tech Prep

Some people may not even know what Tech Prep is. But many students at Timberline have been involved in the Tech Prep program for many years. Like Senior Matthew Gagnon who has mastered almost every tech program that is afforded at Timberline. Matthew started off in Tech Prep hoping to get a head start on college credits. His goals have changed in the mean time. He has become a MOUS master of word, power point, and excel. Not only can you become a MOUS master like Mathew in Tech Pre but you could receive college credits in high school with out paying a cent. Teacher Kelly Boyer is involved in teaching Tech Prep classes and says that "We are not the only school that offers this. It is a popular thing across the state." You do not have a class go state wide if it is not effective and gives good skills for students to acquire. So if your not Techen and Prepin you should get involved in Tech Prep.

Thinkin' Hard...
Students strain the brain while doing challenging computer work.

Practice makes Perfect...

Hypothesis & experiment

For the months leading up to the Timberline Science Fair, science class students (ranging from Freshman science to Senior level physics) worked incredibly hard on their research, planning, creating, and experimenting. Then, as the Timberline High School Science Fair grew much closer anticipated being judged and seeing where their projects ranked amongst their classmates. The Science Fair is a chance to win scholarships to colleges nation wide and then other really amazing prizes. As one progresses from simple high school science fair to state wide and national fairs their chances of winning those things increase dramatically. This is great motivation for students and teachers alike. As well, many of the projects are useful for everyday life. Proving science is useful beyond the classroom.

Great work!

Interesting...
Brian Hutton, Freshman, waits to have his colorful display judged by the science fair volunteers

Science is cool!
Freshman, Scott Cagnon makes a thumbs up because of a great grade on his presentation.

Explove & Present

The Social Studies Department, like that of the Science Department, puts on fairs, activities, and presentations to show stuents work, accomplishments, and new found knowledge. Mr. Denning's "Salon" had his AP World students pick a past or present influential character to learn about how they impacted and influenced their world. Model UN had most Sophomores learn about how the UN worked and had them mock those important procedures. Lastly, History day brought together most History students from Freshman to Senior to show off their projects that they worked very hard on. Much like the Science Fair The students are graded and judged on how well their projects were presented. These students were part of teh World Studies II Russian Revolution Museum presentations.

Knowledgable!

Rhythm & Notes

The 2004-2005 Timberline Band increased in size and quality this year, with a better balance of instruments within the ninety-four students enrolled. The band is split into three separate groups; Concert Band, mostly freshman, Wind Ensemble, mostly upperclassmen who had to audition to become part of the this group, and of course the jazz Band who is a mixture of both Concert and Wind Ensemble during a O our class period. Those individuals also had to audition to become a part of this group. A mixture of all three groups worked very hard to fundraise for multiple trips to a variety of different places.

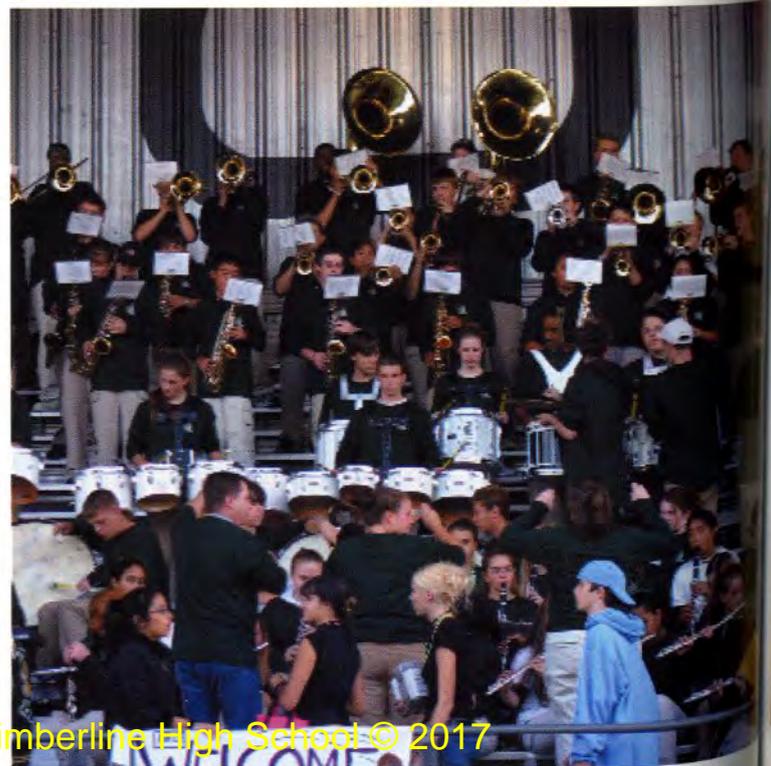

The biggest of these trips was to perform at Disney Land, California in the Spring. The second biggest was the Lionel Hampton Festival in Moscow, Idaho, solely for the jazz Band. Christine Kewley, a senior and also a Drum Major commented on what she'll remember most about her 4 years in the Timberline Band, "Tune or Die" As Mr. Anderson always told the bands "I've definitely learned to tune by ear!" Band Officers Naomi Bornemann, Allison Nichols, Kelly Laidlaw and Jessica Vargass where given much responsibility, more than officers in the past.

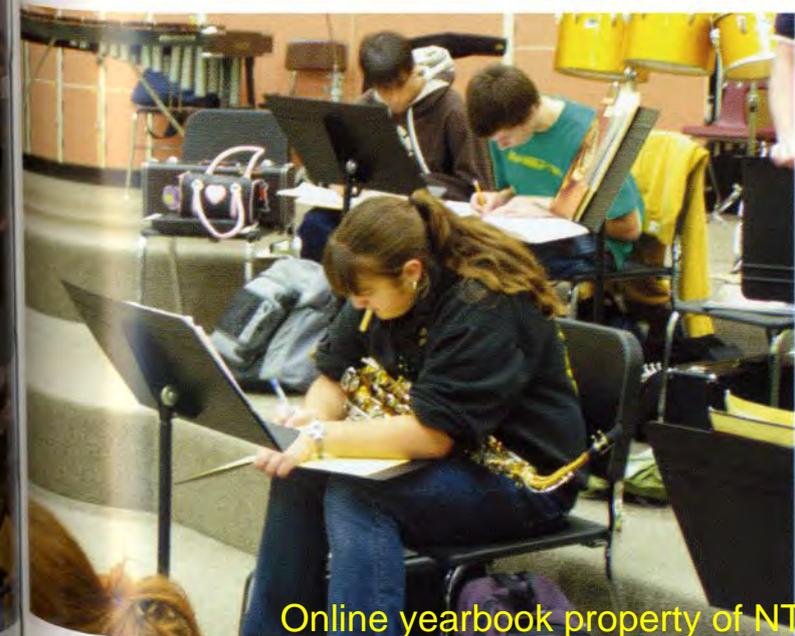

Marchin' with Pride... Freshman Carissa Rosenbalm marched with the band for a football half time show in the freezing fall weather.

Dedication... Tara Haying, Sophomore, plays her saxophone for the Wind Ensemble. She also plays this instrument for the pepband performances.

The Mighty Band... The Timberline Band keeps the crowd alive from the stands at an early home football game.

Practice makes Perfect...
Diadra Williams, Wendy Espe, and Janina Watson, put their clarinets together to prepare for the games.

Harmony & Melody

The Timberline choirs are divided into three separate choirs; Treble Choir, Concert Chorale, and Chamber Choir. This past year each group had to work together and encourage each other in order for the choir to excel even though they started with several newcomers. Choir Director Terry Shaw believes, "We all to be wisdom strugg-a firm m u s i c i a n s also lifetime Carnegie T h e decided to excit-to stay days and tions during their stay. As the year began many ideas ran through the minds of Timberline High Schools drama department. Memories from Scotland still fresh in their heads and thoughts for a year full of productions that included "Lend Me A Tenor". Many of the students had a great time on the trip over the Atlantic Ocean joining other schools all gathered in the small country for a festival of laughs, tears, and wonderful performances. For Adam Wright and Lillian Maley along with the rest of the group, it was the experience of a lifetime. "Going to Scotland and representing the U.S. and especially Timberline was a great honor and an incredible experience." Commented Wright while prepping for a performance of "Lend Me A Tenor". Most of the team agreed saying it was quite an honor to represent Lacey in a town across the world. The Timberline Drama Department filled the year with a number memorable performances. Each of the performances were a credit to the tradition of the department as well a reinforcement of the hard work and dedication that took them to Scotland last summer.

Manipulated

Digital Photo is a class that enhances students' skills with a camera as well as technology used today.

Most of the pictures you see on this page have been manipulated in some way. With the use of Adobe photoshop and the photography skills of the students, they were able to make a picture into nearly anything they want it to look like.

Popular techniques

often used included, color overlay, lens flare, color balance and hand tinting. Using a combination of these and other features the students used their imaginations to produce creative pictures.

Not only did students only manipulate their pictures but also captured natural scenes, just like the picture below Emily Dunklee took of the sun shining through the trees.

Christin Everson On Having a Long Distance Relationship

Hurry, Hurry!...
Here, the sophomore class' representatives, race to get the most water into their buckets. Even though the seniors seem to always win, every class cheers on their classmates.

What?! Ye! Ok!...
Mark Wilson and Michael "Lil Ion" Cain perform at the homecoming assembly during the drama skit.

Speaking...
Our own Timberline Veteran, Mr. Thomas gave a speech this year at out assembly. His touching words inspired people to be aware of their privlages as U.S. citizens.

Blowin' a kiss...
This year the dance team and marching band came together to make a great halftime presentation during our homecoming game.

Assemblies & Halftime

Assemblies and Halftimes are the highlights of entertainment.

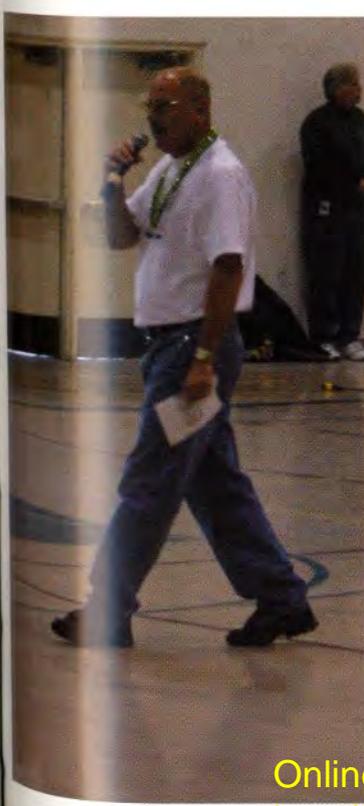

Throughout the year Timberline has several pep assemblies, cultural assemblies, as well as special assemblies for such days as Veteran's Day.

During Pep Assemblies students looked forward to the class competitions and to see whether or not the "Backwoods Boys" would make another return.

Halftime was also something to look forward to. With the fabulous marching band and stunning dance team performances, everyone was amused to see what Timberline students had to offer.

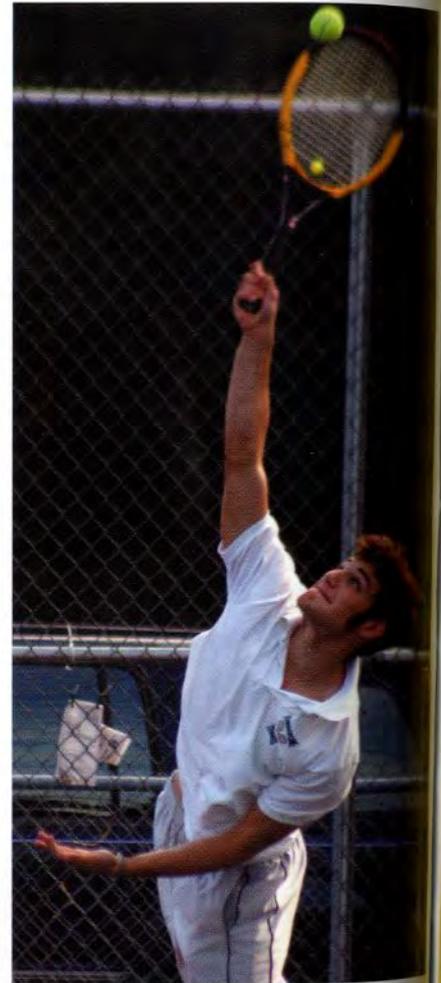

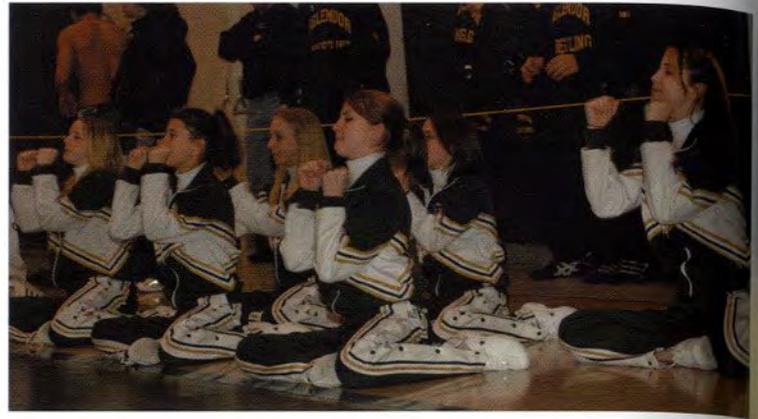

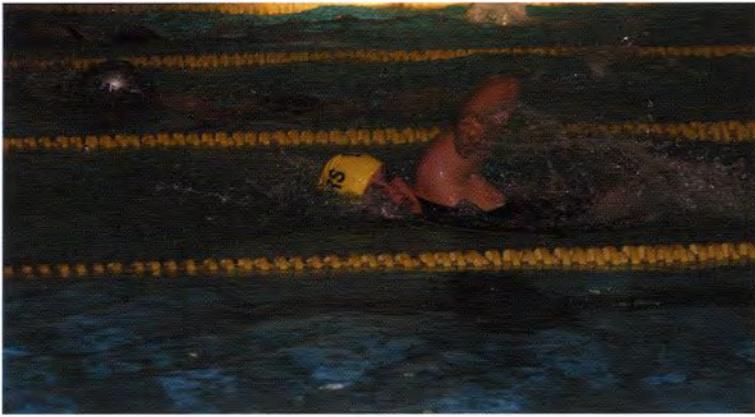

Students remained both respectful and proud and represented Timberline at it's best.

Catch it!... A member of the Marching Band shows off her baton skills. This was an added part to the show this year. Variety is what keeps the audience entertained.

Welcome!... Mr. Ceiger makes his routine announcement and introductions at the beginning of every assembly.

This one is for you!... During the Veteran's Day assembly, students are offered the chance to show their respect for veterans in our community.

Champs & Ghamps

Many were skeptical of the 2004-2005 Timberline football team. With almost a brand new offensive and defensive line the blazers were figured to be in the middle of the pack unlike the previous year. Seniors, Pat Pacheco,

GO BLAZERS...

A tradition of the Timberline Football team is to sing the fight song after every Blazer victory. Senior co-captain Dail Rodriguez leads the team in singing the song.

Run, hog moly, run...

Caleb Robinson lead blocks for Undray Bailey trying to get another Blazer first down. The line did a great job paving the way for the Blazer running backs.

Open field...

After receiving a pass Sophomore Robert Barnes Jr. finds an open field, in front of him. Barnes Jr. emerged as one to watch as the season progressed, and the coaches look for good things from him next season.

Huddle up!

Coach Mark Rubadue walks away from the huddle after firing up the Blazer "D." The Blazer rallied to hold their ground in the closing minutes against and get the victory against the Rams.

Hut, hut, hike!

Blazers d-line lines up against the Aberdeen Bobcats. The Blazer defense developed into a solid unit this season. They were able to force a number of turnovers and were crucial in the Pac 9 championship run.

Fumble

Junior Nick Adams crushes the River Ridge runningback to cause a fumble that the blazers recovered in Hawks territory. Adams proved to be a force on a very strong defensive line.

Glenda Schuster attentively waits for the ball so she can quickly pass it to a teammate and hopefully acquire another point in favor of the Blazers. Working together is a key factor in the game of volleyball.

Flyin' High...
Man that girl can jump! Donna Hewitt again makes a talented leap from the gym floor. Having the ability to jump and spike the ball is a much needed skill in the competitive sport of volleyball.

With An Open Palm...
Senior Stephanie Hughes serves the call with a look of determination in her eyes. She has all the confidence she will need to keep the ball in the air. She keeps her cool under the pressure of the intense game.

Puntol!
The group of girls get together for an enthusiastic high five to celebrate a well deserved point that consisted of several rallies. Team work is a key value for this team of determined ladies.

Spikin' It...
Junior Jamie Nelson skies to spike a ball against Black Hills. She played a pivotal role in the team's growth and maturity. Jamie will be returning next year again as an asset to the varsity team.

Set & Spike

Have you ever seen a volleyball team huddle together for a quick cheer between every point? The 2004 volleyball girls used short celebratory cheers such as; "punto", "booyah", "beat that", and "take that, you know." The girls had a bit of

"My warm up ritual is getting hit by other players, like Donna hits me in the arm and Olivia hits me in the face, then we win. It's painful but I get over it."

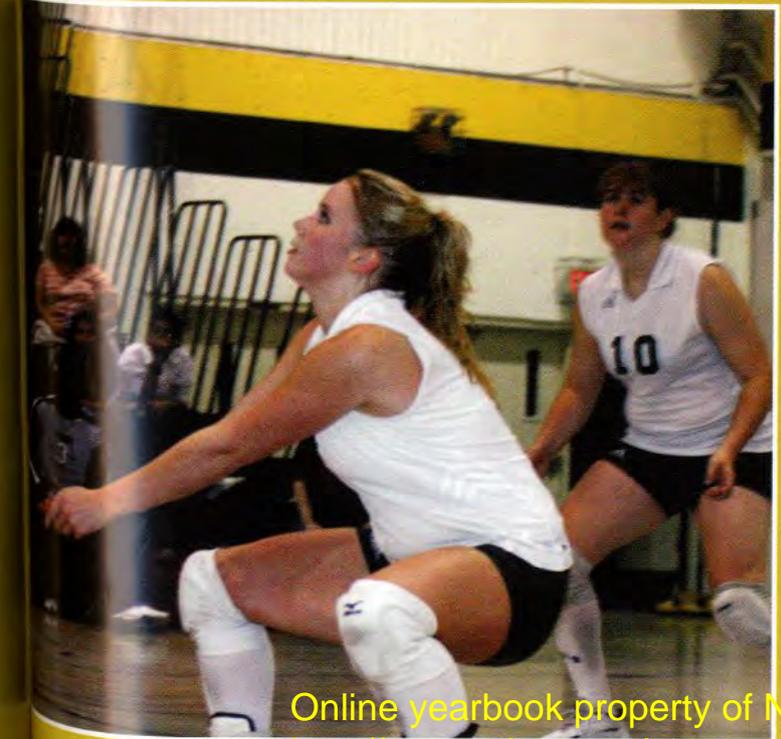

a rough start when it came to working together, but quickly developed into a team unit. Through team dinners, laughs, group cheers, and victories the girls became the true definition of the word team. "We have been more a team this year than in past years," said senior Donna

Hewitt, who has played 3 years at Timberline. Team maturity has also played a large role in the accomplishments of the girls this year. The several young additions to the team are well on their way to building a stronger program for the future. Using their cheers through every single game the volleyball team had an exciting season with a beginning record of 2-1. Smashing rivals like the Centralia Tigers and the Aberdeen Bobcats.

Service... Sophomore Glenda Shuster uses a jump serve against the opponents her team faces. A jump serve is a rare technique used in high school volleyball.

Ready And Waiting... Standing at the net with arms raised the two seniors Donna Hewitt and Naomi Bornemann watch for the call to be returned by the other team so they can chip the ball right back at them.

Getting Low... Junior Jennifer Ingram sits on it waiting for the ball to come down. A great pass is the first step for team success

Takin' one for the team... Sliding to her knees to get the ball, Naomi Bornemann risks getting injured and hopes to gain a victory for her team

Kick & Score

The Lady Blazers had only been together as a team for a grand total of 3 days. When they played our rivals the North Thurston Rams. The girls went out with

"We have such a strong team i am privileged to play with a great group of girls. I am proud of all the things we have accomplished this year. We all came together as a team and it all worked out. This was the best season I have ever had."
-Shaina Thompson

enthusiasm and determination hoping for the best. The first half was a very close game your Blazers were neck and neck with the rams. Using their teamwork the Lady blazers took the lead and kept it for the entire first half. Unfortunately the Rams scored and brought the score to a tie and it stayed that way for the rest of the game. "The girls were ecstatic to tie with the Rams it was a great accomplishment since they're our biggest rivals. It's the game that we want to play our hardest it the BIGGEST game in our season." It was a rebuilding year for your Lady Blazers "The team came together and we bonded says captaing Cayla Trakel. Many girls from last year have returned but their our so many new girls to join the team and try their skills here at Timberline.

Bring It In... Before the game the girls always form a huddle and share with the team their goals what they want to accomplish during the game it helps the girls strive for accomplishment.

Using Her Knee... Tiarra lessie makes an amazing stop. Being able to hit the ball with your body the right way takes alot of focus and coordination all key things in the game of soccer.

CAPTAINS FINAL SAY

Cayla Trakel

"The past 4 years have been awesome with the little girls. We have had so much energy and it's teamwork that really counts. A game cant start with out a good pop!!!"

"We have greatly improved and doubled our winning record. Hopefully we finish our season off with a bang. Good luck to the girls next year. Its been fun."

Allyson Szvamek

Oh She's A Baller... Alexandria Baller strikes the ball in attempt to pass it to a teammate in center field. Foot coordination is one thing you have to have in order to succeed in this port.

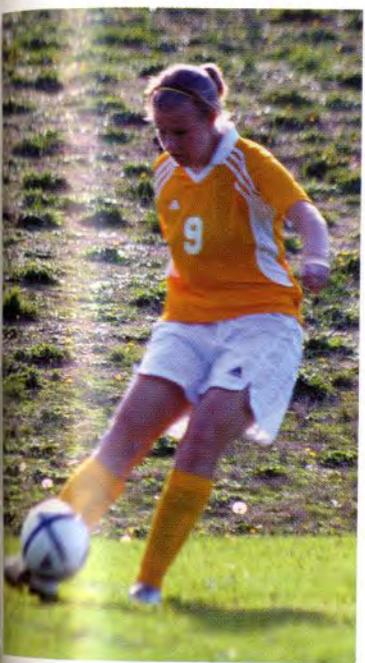

Swooping In... Lindsay Millar snatches the ball from the opposing team. Conditioning during practice helps the players stay in shape. This is essential to be able to make plays like this.

Clearing The Ball...
Coaly Emilee Eilefson makes a great save against the hawks. She looks down field as and tries to find a teammate clear it to. It takes alot of hand eye concentration to defend a goal.

Going For The Goal...
Tiarra lessie gets the ball and has a clear fieldin front of her. She makes a quick dash towards the goal. This sport is may be difficult but if your in the right place at the right time its a piece of cake..

Foot Coordination...
It takes alot of foot coordination to play such a hard sport. But Heather Jacobson pulls it off very nicely as she swoops saves the blazers from geting scored on.

Kick It Hard...
Allyson Szramek winds up as she strikes the ball with great force and kicks it down field to a player. She clears it from the Blazers territory and is successful and accurate.

It Takes Two...
Freshman Nicole Carey and Sophmore Anna Warner start warming up by doing some passing drills. It is a before game routine preperation is key in a game.

Using Her Head...

Larry Kinread and Ryan Pantier practice before a match at Capital City Golf Course. Since they play in pairs the rest of the team must wait until the first double.

In the Zone...
Matthew Gagnon prepares himself psychologically by concentrating on the task at hand and by tying his shoe. The players must have their minds clear in order to play to the best of their abilities.

Drive it to the Hole...
Larry Kinread, Scott Gagnon, and Dustin Moore practice their drives before a match. Long distance shots make all the difference in your game.

Eye on the Ball...
Junior, Spenser Parsley, starts to swing at his ball. Keeping your eye on the ball is a useful tool to a great shot.

Drive & Putt

A game of patience and grueling walks through the great greens, the long treks across fairways and the struggle to get out of treacherous sand traps. This year the Timberline boys golf team really went the distance and showed everyone that golf was a challenge just as much as

"My most painful experience while I was golfing was when I was with two of my friends and one of them teed off and the ball came right for me. His first ball hit me and then the next ball hit my other partner."

Zach Robertson, and Jeff Curtiss all went to league this year with Zach Robertson going the distance and placing. Larry Kinread was a backup man for the team in case someone was not able to make it. "The team's strongest area in this sport would have to anything else. Zach Robertson, who has been playing golf for the past five and a half years, says the Timberline golf team has done well this year and also has five or six varsity players going to league. Spencer Parsley, Matt Gagnon, Scott Gagnon, be our drives and approach shots. If we were to work in that area we could send quite a few players to league." The freshman, sophomores and juniors who will be returning next year are eager to improve their game.

Put Some Power on it... Larry Kinread readies to drive ball down the fairway. Putting power behind your tee-off is extremely crucial.

Hmmm... What now?... Ryan Pantier ponders his next shot. Over and under putting can accumulate points and can alter the outcome of the game.

Putting right... Senior, Zach Robinson practices the fine art of putting. It is all about form and concentration. Of course putting the right direction helps too.

Ready, Set, Drive... Scott Gagnon, Ryan Pantier, Andrew Bonser, Kyle Reynolds, and Zach Robertson practice their swing at the driving range.

Wet & Wild

It was an awesome season for the 2004-2005 Girls Swim Team. Swimming is a more complicated and arduous sport than many people like to think; practices 6 days a week after school and early Saturday mornings. Practices are long and hard, constantly swimming laps and doing swim related routines. All this work because of the competitiveness of the sport. A number of the goals set during the season were met, Lehnna Keshishian, a captain, commented, "Melissa [Jones], a freshman, finally' made districts." This was Keshishian's proudest moment, Jones made districts competing in the 100 backstroke. Twelve others went off to districts. The 2004-2005 Girls Swim Team had a great deal of

"I learned that [as a captain] you have to compromise with your teammates and make the final choice that is BEST for the entire team" heart and determination, much related to their coach's inspiration and challenges. "Coach Meyer said we wouldn't win against North Thurston [but] we crushed them!" Keshishian said.

BANG!
Two of the Timberline swim team girls are lined up and ready to start the race. They squat patiently waiting for the buzzer to sound so they can push off and start the race.

All Wet...
Jessica Jegelski, a senior captain, is in the water, practicing her breast stroke before the meet even begins. It is always good to get in a little practice before a meet so the muscles are relaxed and ready for the race.

Ready, Set, Go!

Junior Inga Carlson gets a quick pep talk from her supportive dad right before her race. Family support is a big part of success in sports.

Swimmers, although constantly in the water, are not fish and still need to breathe. Here Inga Carlson takes her breath.

Just Chillin'...
Tiffany Spain, Bethany Velez-Kraft, and leannette Garcia chill out in nets before practice and their meet. Relaxing and hanging with friends is a good technique to make your swim better because the stress is not there.

Stepping Into The Volley...

Daniel Caldwell, a sophomore, aggressively steps into the volley instead of swinging the racquet, an important concept for good tennis players.

Keeping Your Eye On The Ball...

Junior Joshua Dilley follows the trajectory of the ball. One important theory is that if your racquet face is pointing up the ball goes skyward allowing for a great lob to come into play.

Winning A Point...

Senior, Dannie Smith adds a point to his score. High school tennis requires the athlete to keep track of their own score. If they lose track of their points it is to their own loss.

Lucas Michaud, a freshman, has extraordinary forehand grip as he forcefully gets the ball back into play. That is one more point for the blazers!

Serve & Volley

Tennis may seem like a simple sport which only needs a tennis racquet and a bright yellow ball. Do not be mistaken about how easy it looks, it takes a lot of strategy and patience. This year's boys' tennis team is going through a rebuilding stage. Mrs. Weston states that "There are a lot of new players this year and we had to work on the basic techniques of tennis." The team was not as successful as everyone would have hoped, but the athletes had a lot of fun learning the game and practicing with each other. Even though the team was not successful this year, Senior Paul Wood had a great season with an 11-2 record. Wood states that during practice "the squad likes to peg each other with tennis balls during their free time." The boys' tennis team is coached by Timberline's own Diane Weston and is assisted by Fred Fischer. This year's captains include seniors Paul Wood, Michael Caldwell, and Dannie Smith.

Way To Work Your Backhand...
Michael Caldwell, a senior, has been playing high school tennis for four years. He has great positioning for his one-handed backhand ground strokes.

Drop Shots...
Lucus Michaud attentively waits for the ball preparing to smash it at the net. As you can tell by the face of his racket Michaud is going to hit a winner.

Keeping The Ball in Play...
Paul Wood, a senior, races across the tennis court desperately trying to get the ball back into play. As you can tell by his face Paul might need a few more inches to get to the ball.

Getting ready for their match...
Joshua Dille and Dannie Smith warm up for the start of their matches. Getting warmed up for matches is important, and also gets everyone pumped up for the game.

Pace & Endurance

The 2004-05 cross country team ran off to a strong fall season behind the coaching of new coaches Linda Hayek and Stephanie Kun after the retirement of long time coach Bob Atwell. The new coaches were not inexperienced by any means. Coach Hayek is a long timerunner and has been an experienced assistant coach behind the coaching of Atwell for years. Coach Kun is experienced track coach and has been perfecting running styles for a while. The team was also looking for upperclassmen to step up and as lead runners, and set the path the Blazers. Senior Kyounghui Miller and Junior

Ryan Redman stepped to the challenge. The senior leadership of Kyounghui really played a big role for the girls' team. The girls' team never had enough runners to have a complete team, but that would not stop the girls from always placing in the top three at almost every race. The boys' team was big in numbers and had a good runner named Ryan setting the pace for the Blazers every race. With the pace being set by Ryan the boys team was able to achieve many of the goals many setting new personal records. Overall the 04-05 cross-country team had a strong season.

The wind in my hair... Sophomore Jeff Grebbs feels the wind in his hair as he stays ahead of other schools in competition to get a top spot. Jeff is an important part of the team because of his heart.

Top Dogg... Junior Ryan Redman speeds past the camera as he races to the finish line for another top place finish. His hopes for the next season is not only for himself but for the team. Ryan's dedication makes him a good leader.

Eye of the tiger... Junior Jessica Vargas keeps focused on her race as she keeps the pace. Her Determination and consistency leads to promising results.

Senior power...
Kyounghui Miller was the girls top runner for the 2004-2005 season. Kyounghui has been part of the cross country for the past four years. The determination is visible in her eyes every race that she has competed in.

Almost there...
Jacob Loquvam, sophomore, stays focused while running the last couple of meters left in his race. He only looks ahead anticipating the finish line that is just around the corner. Joshua did well this year meeting his goals.

Keeping the pace...
Senior Todd Carlson and Sophomore John Perrine stay close together during a race. Keeping a steady pace helps the runners work together to form a pack and muscle

Ahead of the pack...
Timberline Junior Joshua Bowen blazes out in front of his opponents as he runs in hopes for a top place finish. This is Joshua's third year on the team. Every season he improves his times Determination...

Sophomore Daniel Gonzalez shows his will-power keeping his mind on the race. Gonzalez is a promising runner for the cross country team. The long run is tiring but he is still determined to win.

Homestretch...
Senior Devin Geiger puts the pedal to the medal as he passes up another wolf at a home meet. The homestretch is the most difficult part of the race because you know its almost over its just the matter of getting there.

Spave & Strike

Senior Jenny Whitfield says "she likes to bowl because it is a very fun sport." Many may think that the girls on the bowling team just sit around and wait for their turn to throw a bowling ball down the alley and hope to hit a couple of pins. For the 2004-2005 girls' bowling team it is the total opposite. Bowling is not only played with your body, but also your mind. Physically it may be seen as an easy sport, but mentally it takes a lot of concentration. Knowing what techniques to use, making sure your form is good, and trying to aim for that strike are all the things going through a bowlers mind. This years' season started off with many new faces as well as many returnees. With the help of Coach Wilson and Coach Dusty Rhodes the rookies were able to learn how to play the game and the returnees worked on

Ups & Downs

Basketball is a game which takes a lot of hard work and endurance from every single player on the squad. This 2004-2005 boys' basketball team showed a lot of these attributes on and off the basketball court. For many of the players it was their first time experiencing the aggressiveness of playing on a varsity team. The group of boys ranged from freshman to seniors, which gave the team a lot of diversity. This year, their goal was not so much making it to state once again, but playing better as team. Not only have the boys' become friends on the court, but off the court too.

The coaching staff has also witnessed a change as well. This year Christopher Spivey, a former student

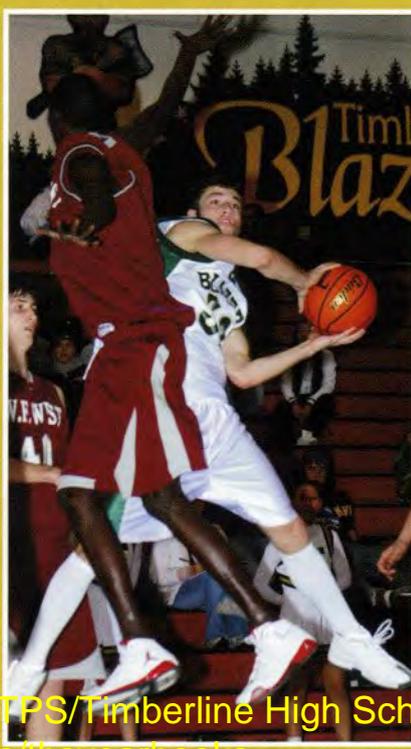

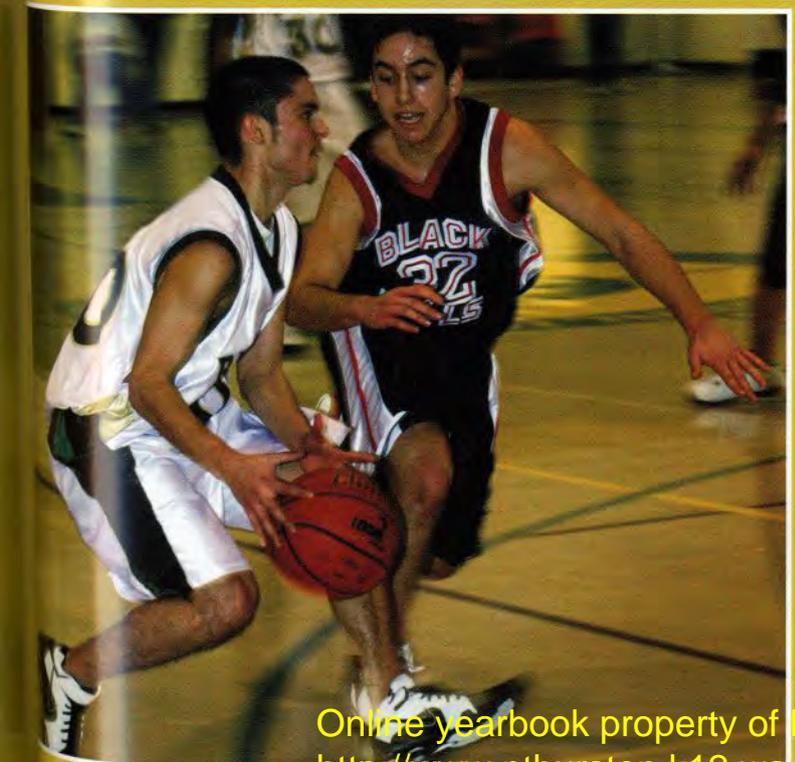

"I am excited to be back at Timberline. I am a Blazer, I played on this floor, in this gym and that is an important connection between myself and the players."

at Timberline High School and member of the Timberline Hall of Fame, became the new head coach for the boys' varsity team. Having a new coach made the boys have to adjust to a new coaching style that is promising for many seasons to come.

Undercut...
Hawk defenders look on as senior Aaron Edwards fall back after being undercut during a layup. The ball went in but no foul was called.

Team Huddle...
During a time out the Blazers' strategize to take down their opponents. Time outs also give players an opportunity to get a breath during a break from the action.

Beat you to the spot...
Senior Tyler Wingenbach sets to shoot after driving past a Black Hills defender. Quick moves and balance are important when playing basketball.

Wow long arms...
Senior Paul Wood tries to maneuver around his defenders to get a better look at the basket. Such adjustments must be made in order to be successful.

Zig & Zag

With a new crew and a lot of talent, the Timberline Lady Blazers make their way toward success. The surprisingly young team made efforts to

"There have been a lot of changes over the years because of new coaches and transfers, but it varies every year. New coaches and players change which makes everybody change"
- Christin Everson

prove that they could achieve success with some motivation and determination. The lady Blazers have improved greatly in both defense and offense. Head Coach Steve Jagelski hopes to see that the girls will prove not only to him but their rivalries as well that they have what it takes to be all that they can be. This year's team consisted of all grades: Senior to Freshmen. Being the only Freshmen on the team, Nikki Carey, added a distinctive talent and youth to the growing team.

Although the Lady Blazers did not reach their goal as a team this year, many feel that continued preparations the future will be better. Captain Christin Everson hopes that after she leaves that everything will finally be in place for a promising and growing team.

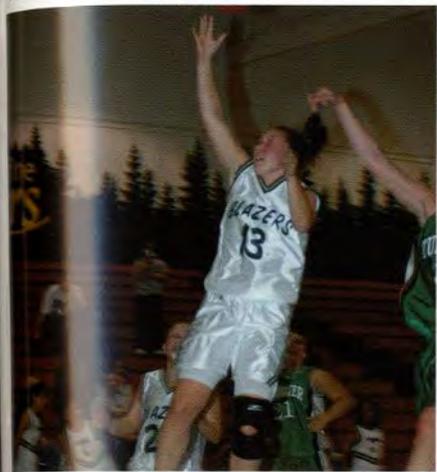

From downtown...

Christin Everson makes her shot count as she lets the ball fly from her toward the waiting net. Her shooting form and balance made for a good shooting percentage.

Cain way, coming through... Sara Carey makes her way to the basket as a defender hopes to stop the running machine. Good skills help each player on the team out beat their opponent by speed and determination.

lail break... Breaking free from the crowded key, Stephanie Miller looks for the open area for the ball to be thrown her way.

Keep it up...
Tamara Crooks gives some encouraging words to her fellow player, Nikki Carey, as she heads to the bench to rest. The encouragement from others helps motivate the player to look for another opportunity next time.

A little extra boost...
Sara Carey attempts a lay-in while teammate Stephine Miller gives her the extra advantage she needs to reach for the stars.

Reach for it...
Sara Carey makes the last bit of effort to make her basket count, while Christin Everson provides support for a possible rebound. A fellow teammate should be near by when a shot attempt is made.

A possible steal...
Amari Washington waits for the time to strike for the ball as her opponent tries to keep up. Taking the risk of stealing the ball without getting fouled is a big advantage for the offense and a huge advantage in points as well.

Miss it...
With their hands in the air, Tamara Crooks and Nicole Matthews distract their opponent to prevent them from making a free throw shot. The more distraction they make, the less concentration the opponent has to offer.

Get Up And Goll...

Junior Co-Captain Jarred Riffe peels his opponents hands to get his escape. His next move is to go for a take down and eventually a pin.

Mean Green...

Senior Justice Green throws his man down hard in a head and arm. Green pulls his frustration and emotions together and proves a fierce competitor.

Leap Frog...

Junior John Linder leaps over Freshman Abraham Clark in a drill designed to develop speed and agility on the mat. Speed is a key element during a match.

Boys Will Be Boys...

During a practice Senior Michael Nereim and Junior Arthur Harper hoarse around with high hopes not to get caught by Senior Birbeck.

Getting Your Man...

Senior Michael Nereim uses all his strength to suck back his tumwater rival for a pin. Getting your challenger on his back is hard work but pays off when victory is achieved.

Takedown For 2...

Freshman Conner Adams puts his opponent in a front head lock and gets ready to swing around behind him to collect his 2 points for a takedown by showing he has control.

“Blazer Wrestling, Where Champions Are Made” this was the theme of the 2004-2005 Timberline Wrestling team. It represents the self discipline earned, maintained, and mastered by every individual. With several young members new to the team, matches were a bit of struggle for the Blazers. However, there was a lot of progress made throughout the season through individual skill growth and achievements. With older and more experienced wrestlers to set an example for the young wrestlers like, Freshman Conner Adams, Timberline’s wrestling team has a promising future ahead of them and an opportunity to achieve the team goal of sending more and more wrestlers to the State Competition every year.

“The best part of wrestling is that you lose weight and get in really good shape for other sports”
-Junior David Pinell

All Wrapped Up...
Junior Kevin Deleon sets an example for his younger brother, Michael Vo, by putting his opponent in a tilt. The tilt is a very popular move among wrestlers.

Breakin’ Down...
Senior Co-Captain Dail Rodriguez works hard to break the Black Hills wrestler down from his base, and continue to not let his opponent gain any points at all.

What is your all time favorite wrestling moment?

The boys baseball team went into this year with only two returning varsity players. They did the usual Sunday practices and poinsettia sales as a fund-raiser for the 2005 season. The money bought the team new supplies to accent their skills. The boys feel that they will do well this season but know that they will have a tough year.

Many of the new varsity players believe that this season has been along time coming since last years team was a senior packed team. The now turned seniors are excited to show what they got since they have been in the background the last three years. Some players even think they can make it to state if they work hard.

How do you think the new baseball team will do this year?

"We will be good and able to hang with the other teams."

Run & Slide

The Blazer Fast Pitch team has gone through new changes and battles with old habits that they hope to overcome within the season. The team focuses on one goal every year and that is to make state champs. Some players look towards just playing as a team and not as individuals. This year's team contains more of the younger players than it does of the older players. However, it gives the team something to work on later next season. The new Head Coach, Ken Carey, shows how each player's skills and attitude affect the team as a whole. His motto, "Sorrys don't make outs", makes each of the girls focus on the play ahead then what was done the last play. He believes each girl makes a difference to the team and that is what they need for this season. The team hopes to accomplish a lot of their goals this year and possibly look for that golden moment to compete in state. As for now they work as a team and strive for the main achievement as coming together as one.

"All we need to do to improve on is focus on our skills and play as a team. The more we play as one the better we have at getting to our goals."
 --Senior Michelle Berry

Daily Routine...
 Before every practice or game, the players get together and do some warm ups for the work ahead. Keeping their arms warm gives them a better chance of making fast plays.

Follow through...
 Sara Carey uses every muscle to give the ball the fast motion it needs to get ahead of the runner. Her follow through ensures that it goes straight and not in an arch.

Full power...
 Jamie Nelson give it everything she has to propel the ball straight out of the field.

Practice makes perfect...
 Every player takes their time and waits for their perfect pitch. Using timing and patience makes the hit more alive and unstoppable.

Track & Field

When someone says the phrase "Track & Field, the first thing that comes to mind is "running". But in reality athletes compete in events such as javelin, discus, long jump, triple jump and high jump. This sport requires large amounts of training, endurance, and dedication.

"I have done track for 3 years and what keeps me coming back is the sport and the people, and coaches its a great environment to be in and I like competing and winning medals along the way."

coach change, many athletes doubted the enthusiasm this year. But I can happily say that the track team is very pleased with the new coaches and the coaches are very pleased with the amount of athletes that turned out this year. This year the team set goals before the season and talked about the plan on how to achieve them. They

On Your Marks Get Set GO...

Sophomore Glenda Schuster and Junior Aerial Vellejo bust out of their blocks and sprint towards the finish line both pushing each other to do their very best and cheering each other on from start to finish.

Jumping to reach her goal...

Runners Take Your Marks...

Sophomores Omni Gipson and Tiarra Iessie practice in their blocks. It takes a lot of practice to master the technique of blocks both girls use their last season skills to better themselves!!!

It takes two...

Senior Jonathan Stuart prepares to start his practice run. Sophomore Cody King puts all of his weight onto the blocks so that they don't move when Snoop pushes off with team work!!!

It's all about the blocks... This is Freshman Susan McLean first year of track ever. She is getting use to the swing of things and is fitting right in she learns a lot from returnees and is loving the new experience of high school track.

He's Got Jumps... Senior Steven Bacon has ran for the Timberline Track Team for all 4 years! What keeps him coming back? He says "It's the sport and his fellow team mates, and coaches, they keep me motivated."

Givin It All You Got... Sophomore Robert Barnes trains his body to keep his arms strait and head up during his sprint practice. Coaches push athletes for perfect 90 degree angle arms. Track is all about the technique says Robert.

Up and Over... Senior Maurice Claggion extends his back left arm. It is one of the great techniques that helps you clear the bar it adds the extra push and weight lift up that you need to clear the bar successfully.

Roster Not Available

Just a little bit further...

Lance Marzwick lunges for the ball in an attempted kick for a point. The goalies play a big role in stopping the opposing team from scoring.

Don't lose it...

Michael Millar and Benjamin Clark battle each other for the ball. The ability to steal the ball from the other team can mean the difference between winning and losing.

Which way is he going?

James Santos watches Ryan Bowe as he jukes the ball back and forth. While being able to control the ball is important, getting around the defender is a very good skill to have.

Keep Going!!

Coach Hayes encourages Josh Bowen to keep going. Drilling during practice keeps the players at their peak performance and ready for anything.

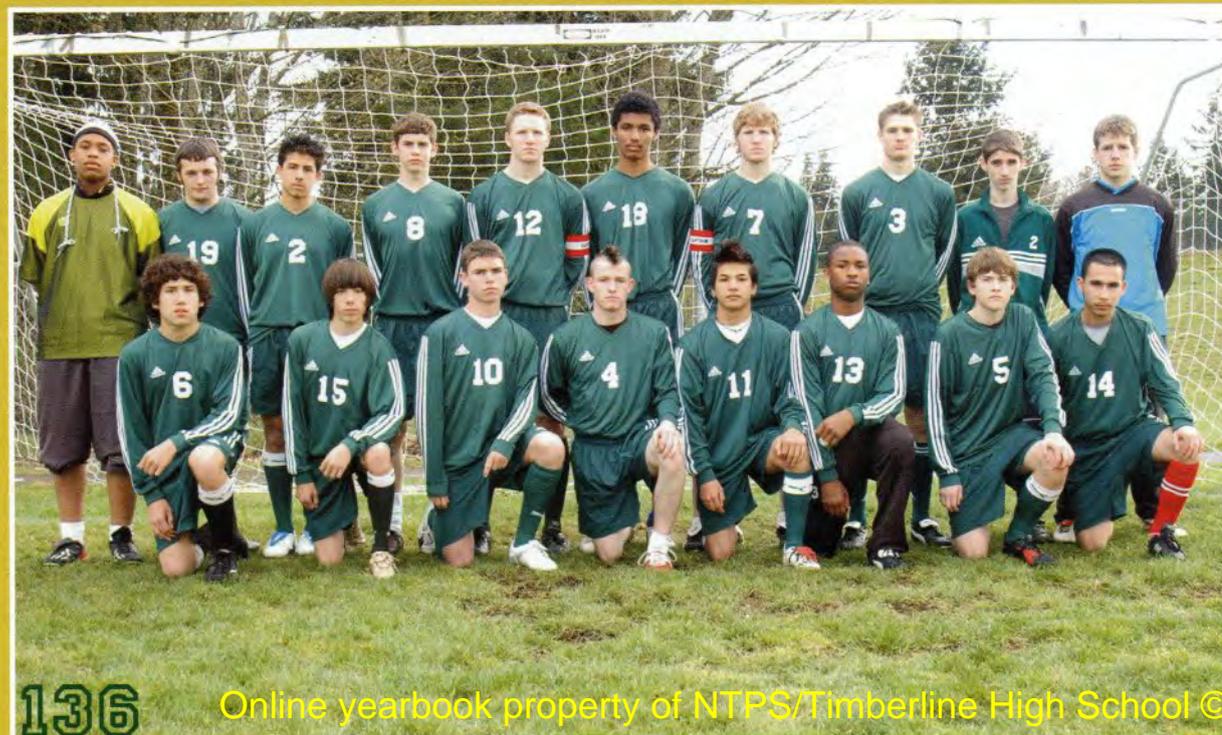

Only a few more laps...

Jeffery Grebbs leads a pack of soccer players in the warm up laps at the beginning of practice. Warming up helps to get your blood moving and gets your breathing elevated for maximum performance.

Ahh...Help I'm Stuck!!!

James Santos messes around during a practice after school. Doing this helps to throw in a few jokes so everyone can relax while preparing for a game.

Kick & Score

As the warriors of the hardest fought battle entered the misty field, the smells of the fresh cut grass, that left last year. Returning captains Benjamin and Zachariah Clark were very optimistic

Face to Face with Benjamin and Zachariah Clark

“What is Your Outlook on this Years Soccer Team?”

Ben: We have the talent, we have the teamwork, we just need to get tough and luck. It will be awesome.

Zach: We have a younger team but also a lot of talent. So this year we will be a team to watch.

about the season. Both agreed that the team acquired a lot of talent this year despite the fact that it has past victories and most importantly the teamwork that was involved in their success surrounded their adrenaline filled bodies. This year was a very challenging year for the boys soccer team here at Timberline. With many of the varsity gone due to graduation the team was faced with the challenge of filling the shoes of the many good players many new players on all of the teams. “We have the talent, we have teamwork, we just need to get tough,” said Benjamin Clark during a pre season interview. With a new coach the players will have to work harder to please the coaches in both games and practices.

Fight for the ball... Larry Richardson wrestles with Zach Clark for the ball. Perfecting this skill at practices help to hone in on areas that a player is weak at and can help them perfect it.

Run, Forests...Run The Timberline soccer team sprints down the field at an afternoon practice. Running in very high speeds help to keep muscles loose and ready to go.

COACHES CORNER

Q: What was your most heartfelt experience while coaching?

A: “At the last game of last season, we came up short of making it to the post-season and watching them work so hard just got me right there.”

Q: Why did you choose to take on a position such as this?

A: “I started coaching right after high school by volunteering at T-Line during college. After that I coached at another school until the opportunity arose to come back and coach here at the place where i spent four years playing. This program means so much to me.”

Q: Why did you want to take on a position such as this one?

A: “It was an opportunity to be involved with the school community and students outside of the classroom, and give back the experiences I had with some of my teachers and coaches.

Q: How long have you been coaching here at Timberline?

A: “This is my tenth season with the boys’, and sixth season with the girls.

Q: How Long Have You Been Coaching Soccer?

A: “This is my 10th season with the boys and the 6th with the girls.

Game Set & Match

Your Girls Tennis team has a lot more on their minds than just going out to practice and having a fun time. Just like senior team captain Cassandra Simmons said "I hope and believe that we will have a winning season this year." These high hopes and motivation have been brought along by the new team coach, David Morrill. Coach Morrill has become coach of the girls tennis team this spring because he said he has a "big passion for coaching such a big group of girls with so much potential." But he is not the only one that is excited about become coach of the girls tennis team. The other senior team captain Katie McCulluch was also eager about his official arrival she said "I'm just glad to see he has so much passion and energy for tennis. I can't wait to get deep into the season." So the motivations of the new team will follow the plan of Coach Morrill of "being competitive year after year and continuously placing in the top of the Pac-9." The team believes that they can clinch the Pac-9 this season.

"I have set some big goals for myself this year. I hope and plan on having a successful senior season and making it to state and kicking... Year"
-Brenda Consalves

Way to coach.

The new and talented girls tennis team is led by the gifted coach David Morrill. Coach Morrill is leading a hitting drill with the girls by hitting from corner to corner.

Swing high to low...

Sophomore Katrina Tabil runs in on a ball at a practice. She makes it to the ball in time and swings with a perfect height to low back hand.

Must stay focused... Junior Jessica Vargas stays focused on a hard hit ball coming back to her forehand. On a tough practice for girls tennis.

Forehand Volley... Senior Brenda Consalves steps across her body reaching for a high hit ball. She was on her way to the net trying to get in the extra practice to reach her goals.

Watch the ball...
Senior Vanessa Iose works hard at practice trying to perfect her forehand swing to get ready for the regular season. Vanessa is an experienced player and works hard to help the team and all the other players.

Nice follow through...
Junior Ashley Hall follows through with her forehand and counts the rally as they play around the world at tennis practice. The girls tennis team set a high goal for their consecutive hits because they always push themselves for excellence.

Use that back hand...
Junior Jenn Jackson sets up to unload with another cross court backhand. I mean look at that foot work that takes a lot of hard work and practice. See tennis is a lot more than just fun and games.

Keep your head low...
Senior Dianne Musa keeps her head low and her eyes on the ball as she approaches the ball and gets in front of it. She gets her feet balanced before she makes contact with the ball.

Must...make it...just a little...farther...
Senior and team captain, Katie McCulluch, makes a stretch of hope to a low hit ball to keep her opponent at love. We will never really know if Katie made it or not.

Staying dry...

Annie Iensen dons a gold poncho as it begins to rain. The crowd thought that it was very cool that they could stay dry in a green and gold fashion.

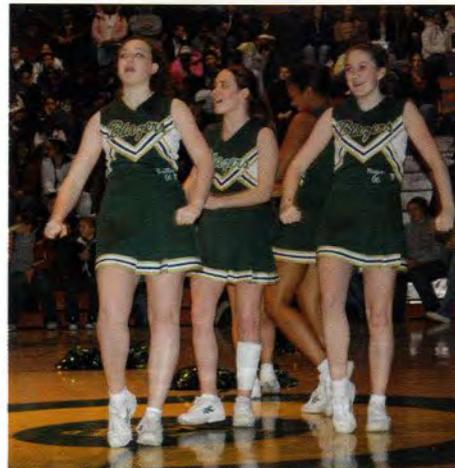

Lets Hear It!!!

Ali Felchlin pumps up the crowd at a pep assembly before a big game. Trying to encourage the crowd to participate in school activities is a big job but they seem to handle it well.

Blazer Power...

Brittney Kirby, Tara Weaver, and Megan Blakely show their muscles after a chant. The squad has many cheers and chants to get their audience excited.

Now you say...

A section of cheerleaders perform at another pep assembly on a Friday afternoon. Pep assemblies are good to hold so that it gets student and sports players excited for the upcoming game.

Flying High...

Samantha Heredia and Ntasha Anders start to fall after a liberty extension. Being smaller can be an advantage because it makes you easier to lift in to the air.

Havin fun...

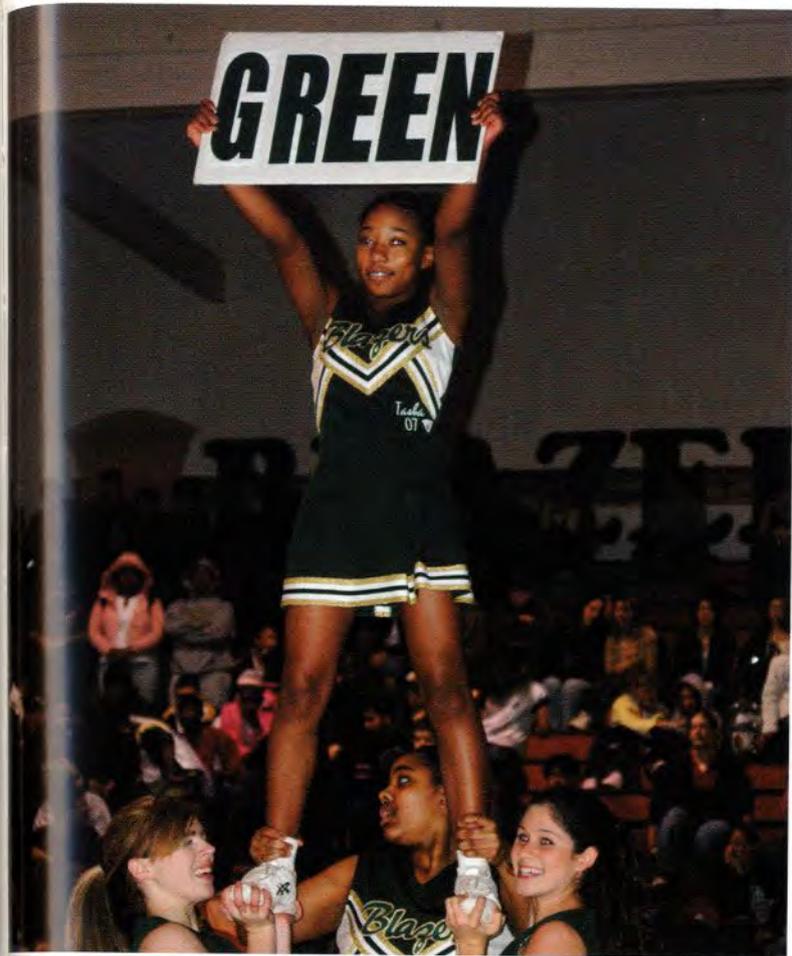

Curtrena Meyers laughs as she cheers at a JV basketball game. Cheerleading is a fun sport that gets everyone in a good mood for the event.

Yell & Gheer

Whether cheering in the rain for that final touchdown or getting the crowd pumped up in the final seconds of the biggest basketball game of the season, cheerleaders play an enormous role in school spirit. Practicing three days after school every week help to perfect their cheers and routines. Performing at football and basketball games and even public gatherings like Lakefair and the Lacey Fun Fair Parade every year. Before the new season starts they usually attend a cheer camp down in Vancouver, Washington and practice new routines and compete for trophies and bragging rights. They are also very active in school activities. Hosting a cheer clinic every year and the Sadie Hawkins dance in December, they choose a special theme and dress the commons up in that theme.

WE CUT DOWN THE COMPETITION... THE BLAZER MAN IS A BIG PART OF THE CHEER SQUAD. HE HELPS TO ADD SOME COMEDY TO THE GAME

Keep her up... Ntasha Anders holds up a sign during a chant. Performing stunts can be very difficult but practicing after school helps improve their skills.

Singin in the rain... At an early season football game ponchos were needed to keep the cheer squad dry. Even though it was a soggy night every one still had fun.

The Dance Team tryouts occurred in the spring of 2004. With the new team they were faced with many new challenges. The search was on for a new coach and the girls were anxious to find out who will lead them for the season. After many interviews

"I have learned a lot from this year. Getting to know different girls and working together with them. I have also learned to become a stronger performer and team member."

Jessica Boad, a former Timberline student, was chosen to guide the girls. As Jessica's first duty she asked the girls what they wanted for the following year. They asked for discipline, to be more united, and to win a competition. With Jessica's help they did achieve all of these goals and much more. During camp the girls really hit it off, doing group bonding activities and spending four days with each other. They improved their strength, endurance, and performance by working out in the weight room and practicing at Bally's.

The Dance Team won 1st place at the Capital Lakefair Grand Parade Dance Competition, during the summer. During the fall the team had 2nd tryouts. The new members joined the old and they worked together and learned from each other to show their moves and grooves.

Gettin' down...

Sophomore Ashanta Hollis shows off her moves on the ground during a pep assembly. She was one of the new members that made the team during fall tryouts.

So numb...

Junior Lani Adams and sophomore Brittany Flowers slide across the floor during their jazz routine, Numb. This was an exciting new dance style the team performed.

Roxanne Sprinkle

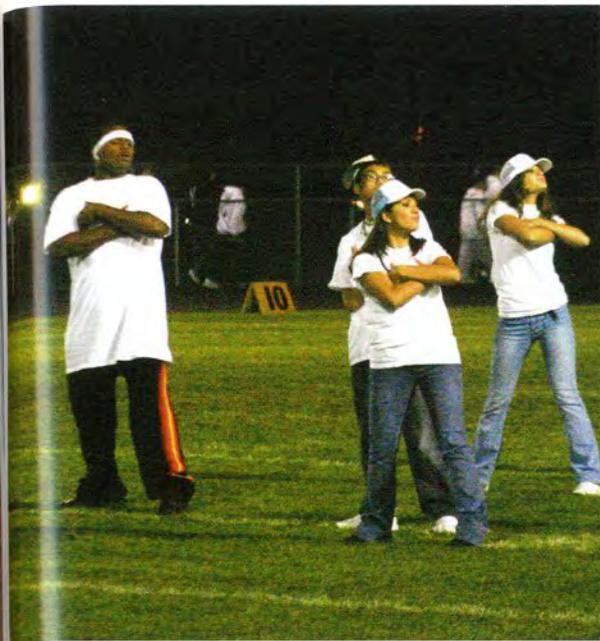

What was the most memorable part of the season?

I enjoyed going to competition and watching the other teams perform. Also learning and creating new routines.
-Ashlee Bellamy

The most memorable part of this season was going to camp and doing team bonding activities. It was also exciting creating my hip hop routine and seeing it performed during the homecoming assembly.

Golf is a very interesting sport. A sport the Timberline High School Girls Golf team played very well in a very professional manner filled with decorum and pride. It takes patience to play the sport of golf. As many may know the sport of golf skill involved in playing the game of golf. Its not just hitting the small white ball and yelling "fore". There is a certain style, technique if you will, that allows the ball to fly.

Coach Jordan, one with the game of golf, instructs these lovely lady Timberline High School golfers with skill and expertise of long time golf coach and the team has confidence in his word.

These lovely lady golfers knew exactly what they is played on a course with 18 holes. The scoring system is as follows: the man or - in this case - woman with the lowest score comes out to be the winner. There is a lot of were doing. The Timberline High School lady golfers succeeded more than they failed in any and every aspect of the game.

Patience... Stephanie Cleveland, Sophomore, waits for the right moment to swing and hit the little white ball that lies before her.

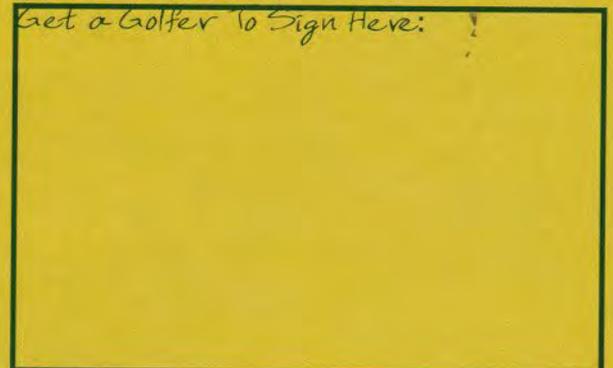

Wow... Annamarie Hiott, Junior, also in band hits the ball with correct technique and style which makes it go farther than it would without technique.

Tape & Ice

STUDENT TRAINERS TO THE RESCUE! These girls are the ones who come running to bandage, tape, and ice your injury. They have spent many hours in the training room after school helping athletes that are practicing. The student Trainers have gone through hours and hours of classes over the summer to learn the skills that it takes to be a student trainer. The trainers also travel with the team. They are always on the sidelines at any sporting event ready to assist and injury. These girls learned how to properly tape injuries, first aid, CPR, and other various skills. "I want to be a doctor, it helps me get a head start toward my future goal." says Jennelle Jackson. Being a student trainer is definitely a full time job.

"The worst part about being a student trainer is... standing out in the pouring rain during the football games and looking up at the crowd all warm with their hot chocolates."

Strummin on the old banjo... Trainer Bill Giffin serenades the student trainers while they tape up the athletes before their practices. Before his "EMS" days he was a former band player!!!

Clean Up On Mat 5... Junior student trainer Jennelle Jackson wears latex gloves as she cleans up a blood spill on a wrestling mat. It is very important to wear these gloves during any contact with bodily fluids.

Tape does the body good... Student trainer Cassie Houseman is taping up an athletes blisters. These trainers provide the athletes with comfort and help them perform better during their games and meets.

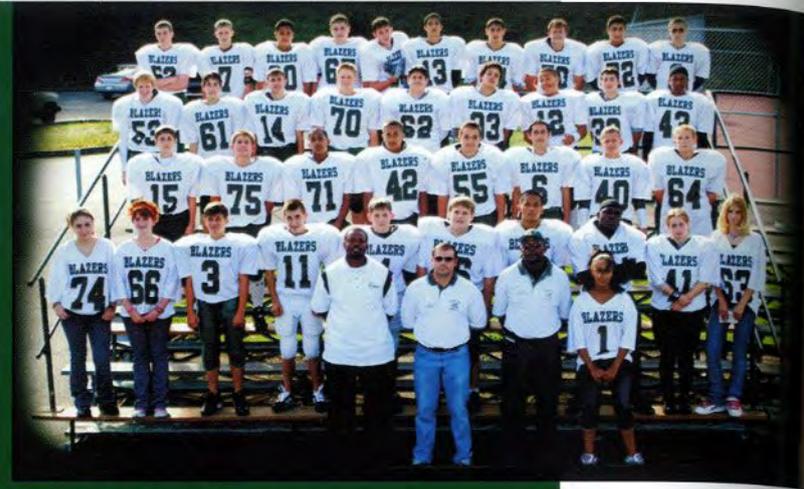

Its all about the support... Hollie Tillinghast is taping up an athlete for his big game. It is a must to tape the ankle right it helps the athlete perform better and keeps them from rolling their ankle.

Forever

School has finally come to an end. Reflecting on the year some seniors may have thought to themselves "Man I remember sitting on the freshman side screaming from the top of my lungs" while for others it was "Dang I can't wait till I get out of this place." For the freshmen some thought to themselves "Look at the seniors they think they are the coolest people in this place" as for others they were just figuring out when to cheer. Even though there was a large division between classes, your soul purpose was the same... showing your BLAZER PRIDE. From cheering at games to class competitions, you The Blazers, know how to show your school spirit. For many teens high school can be a complicated place, a place where you have to be

Brave

BRAVE enough to survive and BOLD enough to stand out. At times the challenge of getting out of high school alive may have seemed difficult, but for the most part the memories made in high school will make such a large impact on your life that you won't realize it till the you start to walk down the isle for graduation. So for those of you who are leaving remember that Timberline has helped shape you into the person that you have become today, and for those of you who will still be here keep this thought in mind When high school gets tuff keep your head up high and like a true blazer, remain Forever BRAVE & BOLD!

& BOLD

WOW... REALLY?
You serious?
For Reals?
That's nice...
I don't want to know!
What?!... Yeal... Okay!...

These have become my catch phrases for the year. Some days the staff would just make me want to go hide in a corner. It was a challenge this year to produce the first all color book. The staff took on the challenge and made it happen. Congratulations to them and to THS for being the first in the District to have an all color book. There you have it Blazers leading the way again.

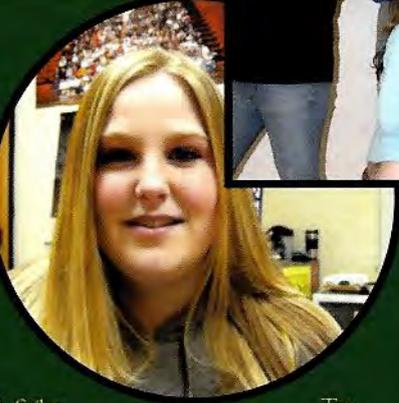

Most people don't know what it takes to put a yearbook together; to be honest I was some what clueless—until this year that is. Now that I know the life of a stressed out work-a-holic I want to take a moment to give a few shout outs to those whom this wouldn't be possible without. First, I want to say thank you to Mr. Jason "Bushka" Bush. Although, you made me show up at the crack-of-dawn to finish up last minute details; you always seemed to make up for it with apple juice or some kind of sweets in your drawer. Also, to the janitor lady, even when I was sitting here at 7:00 p.m. you never kicked me out and you always made me feel better by telling me about your weekend. Finally, Jennifer Jackson, WOW you are a life saver!! You weren't even an editor and you still came through for the whole class. I admire the fact you ALWAYS fixed the pages even though you had no idea what you were doing. Lastly, I just want to leave this final yearbook with a final... BAM!

Juli Curtiss
Senior Section

The 2004-2005 yearbook is finally here! My role this year was as a co-editor for the Timberline Annual. I could probably talk about how great the year was, and how well the staff did, but I'd rather not bore you. As a senior, I'm leaving Timberline and going into the big world, or so they call it. All I can do now is leave you with some advice, take it or leave it. Just remember to live a little, jump in a puddle every once in a while. Buy a pet, name it Spike, doing new things and eating new and unfamiliar foods, it won't kill you. Invent something totally ridiculous, but useful. Learn to laugh at yourself. Smile more, take more pictures; document your life. Put your shopping carts away, don't be careless. Don't pick your nose in public. Never wear white socks with black pants. Give a compliment to someone every day; meet new people when you get the chance. Don't make fun of other whose only mistake was not being "as cool as you". Don't be conceited. Spin around until you're dizzy, or simply climb a tree, act like a child again, but don't act childish. Turn your cell phones off in class. Learn to do your math without a calculator, put some effort into your work. Quit asking how much something is worth, or if you'll get extra credit if you do it. The value of your work shouldn't depend on the percentage of your grade it will impact. Volunteer, but do it for yourself, don't just do it because you have to. Always remember to be yourself, think a little more, and apply yourself to school and to life. Bring your Timberline spirit with you everywhere; I know you all have a little green and gold inside of you.

Kristel Paet
Sports Editor

I know that I should be giving you advice or talking about how the yearbook went this year, but instead of boring you with nonsense, I think I'll just tell you some funny moments that happened over the past year or so. It all started with the disappointment of riding on the short bus all the way to Yearbook camp in Ellensburg at 5 o'clock A.M. With all the great new people we met, seeing Susana Carrillo run through the fountain, and others sleeping in and not making it to class the next morning; we all knew that it was going to be a year with lots of laughs and good times. Other great memories that happened in yearbook consisted of hitting each other with blow-up swords, yearbook smack-downs, watching Blue Collar Comedy, writing messages to each other on the window, fighting over pizza, shining Mr. Bush's head, and just all out having FUN! All I have to say now is... I can only hope that next year will be as fun as all the other years that I have spent in the ANNUAL class and I'll see you next year.

Over & Outs

You're off to great places!
 Today is your day! Your mountain is waiting. So...get on your way!!!

Herzlichen Glueckwunsch Saskia

Mausi, you and your sister are our most precious gifts. When choosing your name, we hoped you would grow into a strong, caring woman of faith. You have done that and so much more.

Saskia, you are an extraordinary person. Everyone seems startled by your outward beauty but it pales in comparison to your inner beauty: your spirit, your passion, your faith, your kindness, your dedication, your intellect and your multi-cultural sensibility.

Sassy Sassi, you are a gifted artist, a great athlete, a dedicated student and a natural leader and communicator. You have accomplished much in four years: winning the District championship with your sister and your team, setting school records, swimming at State, serving on ASB, getting your AA and, most importantly, always finding time to help others. You have worked so hard and given so much of yourself, we couldn't be any prouder. You inspire all of us.

Lieber Schatz, wir sind sehr stolz auf Dich und wuen-schen Dir viel Erfolg und alles Gute fuer die Zukunft. Moege Gott Dich immer beschuetzen.

Alles Liebe, Mama, Papa, Danika, Oma und Opa

I don't know what your destiny will be, but one thing I know: the only ones among you who will be really happy are those who have sought and found how to serve... Albert Schweitzer

BUILD US A DAUGHTER

Build us a daughter who will be strong enough to know when she is weak, and brave enough to face herself when she is afraid; one who will be proud and unbending in honest defeat, but humble and gentle in victory.

Build us a daughter whose wishes will not supplant her actions, a daughter who will know Thee - and know that to know herself is the foundation stone of knowledge.

Lead her, we pray, not in the path of ease and comfort, but in the stress and spur of difficulties and challenge. Here let her learn to stand up in the storm; here let her learn compassion for those who fall.

Build us a daughter whose heart will be clear, whose goals will be high...a daughter who masters herself before she seeks to master others. One who will learn to laugh, yet never forget how to weep; One who will reach into the future, yet never forget the past.

And after all these things are hers, add, we pray, enough sense of humor that she may always be serious, yet never take herself too seriously.

Give her humility so that she may always remember the simplicity of true greatness, the open mind of true wisdom, the meekness of true strength.

Then we, her parents, may dare to whisper, "We have not lived in vain."

Lindsey:

Fantastic Job !!!! CONGRATULATIONS!!!

You should be very proud. We, of course, are very proud of you and your accomplishments. We are truly blessed; our prayers have been answered. God has 'built' us a daughter of whom we are so full of pride.

As you begin the your next step in the journey called Life, remember that what truly matters is your character not your reputation, because your character is who you Know you are; your reputation is what others Think you are.

Happy Graduation!!! We love you so much,

Mom, Dad & Mike

The pictures I chose lead straight to my heart. The many wonderful moments caught on film will always be a treasure for my eyes but all the joy and love you have created are stored in my heart. The child in the middle who followed her older brother Shane everywhere, to the protective older sister of Lyndsey, to the adored first granddaughter and niece, to the caring cousin, you have brought much love and happiness to us all.

Your fun loving personality and ability to remember movie lines keeps our family in laughter. Your love and compassion for all living beings are truly one of your many gifts. Your artistic ability shines through the pictures you take or those you draw. Your courage and spirit has allowed you to accomplish many things. Your determination and loyalty to do what's right and your no nonsense approach to everything that comes your way, will take you far in this world.

May you always remember how much you are loved and admired for being you. Always be true to yourself and success will find you. Live life to its fullest and remember each day is a gift, always make the best of it!

Love Always,

Jonathan Stewart State Career Yardage Record Holder

Game ball ...
Yelm High School presented Jonathan with a game ball after he broke the all time state record on their field early in the 2004 season. The recognition continued beyond this game, as Jonathan was in a number of publications including Sports Illustrated's Faces in the Crowd.

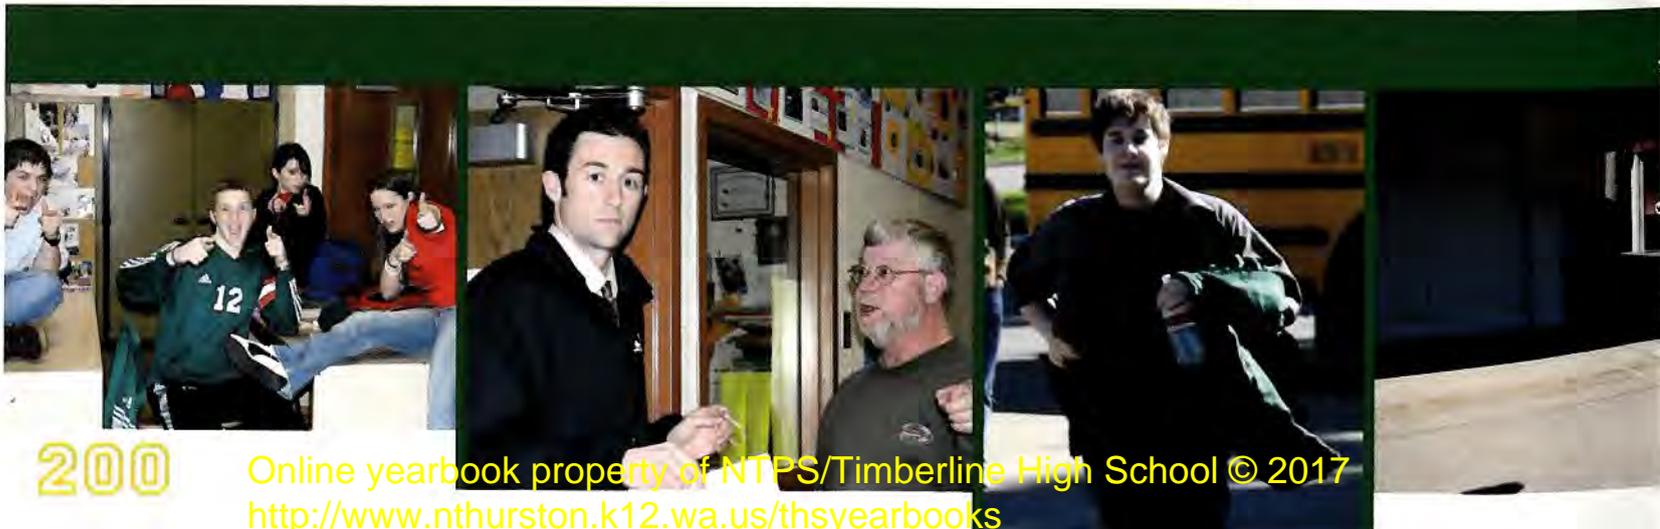

Proud mamma ...
On the field after the record breaking performance Jonathan takes a moment to share a laugh with his mother Lora Faison. The joy continued as Mother and son shared time together in San Antonio prior to the High School All-American game in January of 2005.

Picture please ...
Throughout the 2004 season there was constant media attention given to Jonathan's record breaking season. As the season progressed the Timberline football team was featured in many news articles as well on King 5's High School Sports Blitz.
