The Story of Us

What is the story of us?

It is hours of homework and final exams.

It is Late Start Wednesday and Rams Road.

It is noisy school buses and first car jitters.

It is Friday night football and dancing all night.

It is cheering loudly and singing in the choir.

It is the seasonal plays and concert performances.

It is making new friends and building memories.

And most of all, it is each of us in our own unique ways.

A Dedication Story

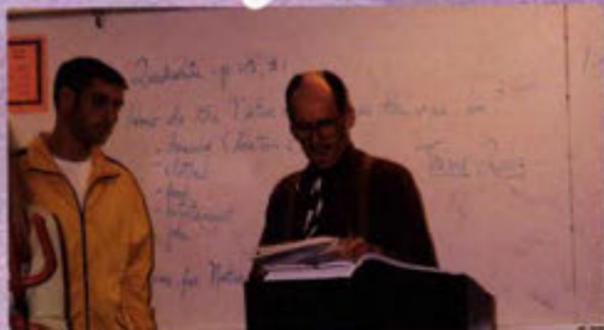

As you walk into the classroom, posters fill the walls and books fill the shelves. You find a desk but are soon asked to get up. The teacher starts placing you in a seating arrangement alphabetically by your last name. This is the first day of Mr. Lynn Morris's English class. For those who aren't familiar with Mr. Morris, he teaches advanced English 1-2 and American Literature.

In 1964, Lynn Morris, age 21, came to the United States from Canada. Since then he has done many things and touched many lives. Shortly after arriving in the US, Mr. Morris was drafted into the army. He finds it ironic that after coming from Canada he was drafted while Americans were going to Canada to avoid the draft.

Among Mr. Morris's many interests are Eighteenth and Nineteenth century British literature. He keeps in shape by playing racquetball and running. He also listens to all kinds of music and watches television.

Mr. Morris gives back to the community in many ways. He helps people with health problems for Coastal Community Services. He also helped at the Downtown Cleanup with Church of the Living Water. For a short time, he taught English in the Avian Refugee Center.

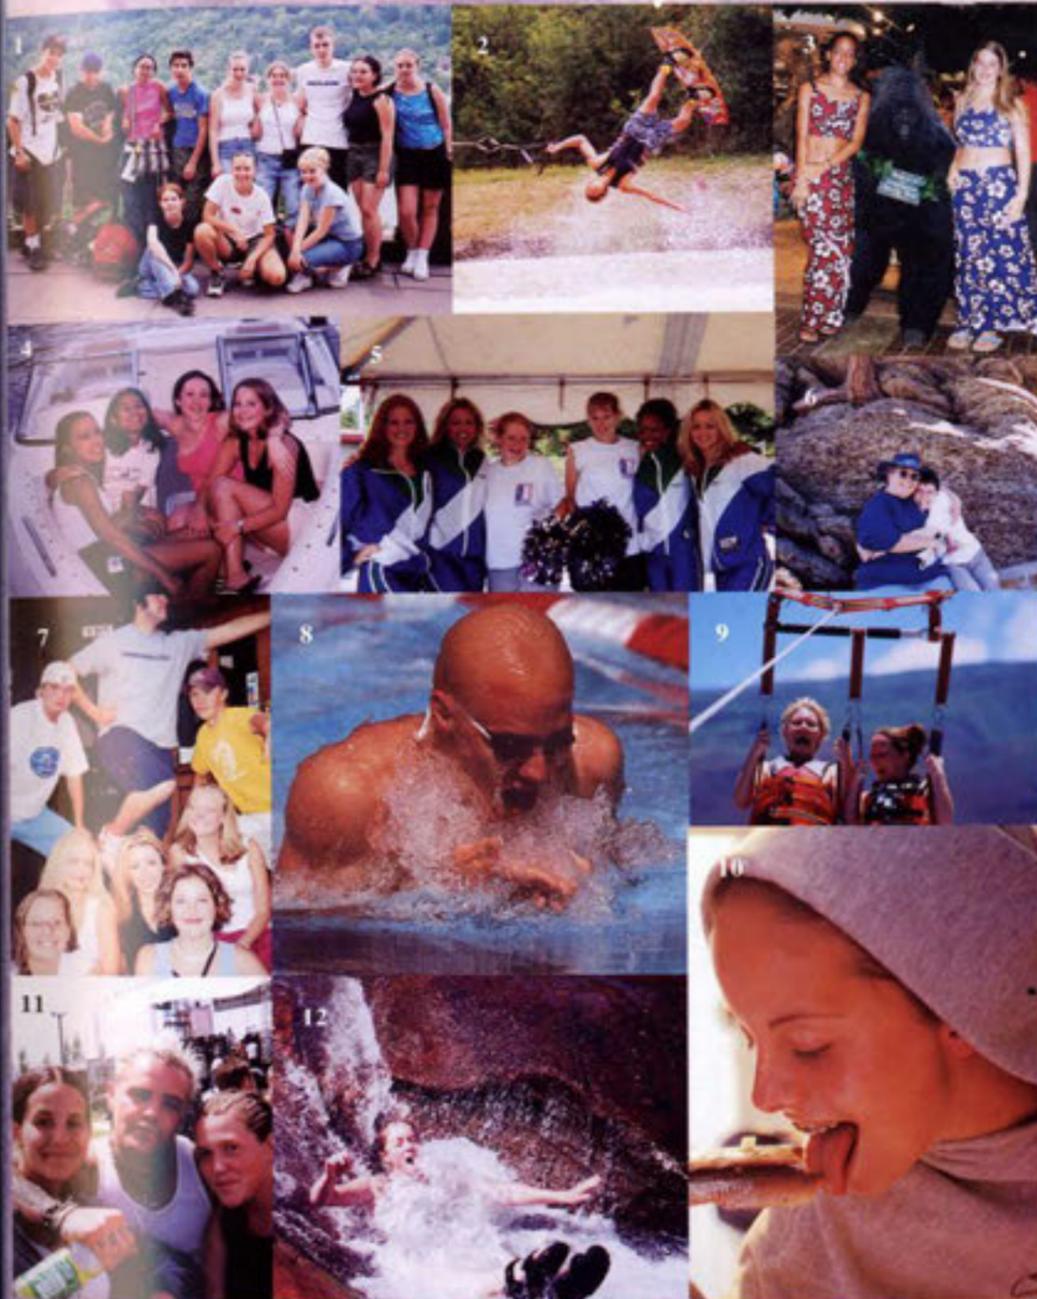

Mr. Morris became a teacher to make a difference and that is exactly what he has done.

Above: Mr. Morris gives a lecture on the American Revolution. The students enjoy the storytelling and lively discussion during these lecture days. Mr. Morris helps a student with his assignment. Below: The "Big Blue" Ladies' Dept. students express their affection for Mr. Morris through hand-drawn art projects.

Summer
The world is warm, the sun is shining,
it's a time of carefree days,
and days when that breeze is just what you need cooling in the breeze.

"A Moment in Summer"
Charlotte Salinas

A moment in summer
belongs to us
and one particular day goes
A moment in summer
belongs to other
and by the sky
and by the sea
A moment in summer
belongs to us.

1. Forgive Us: Thomas Ely, Tegan Boudet, Rachelle Nyquist, Pat Conolly, Betha Winters, Dawn Fox, Mike Howard, Alissa Davidson, Stacey Stewart, Gina Salares, Pam Stephens, and Kim Carlson visit Germany for German American Partnership Program.
2. Florida Doc: Jeff Olson catches some air at Lake Koppell in Toledo, WA during a tournament in water skiing. Jeff comments, "The water felt pretty nice, but it's a man-made lake so the water looked like chocolate milk."
3. Kicker King Kong: Kaitlin Thomas and Grace Ross pose with their new friend a Man. "We just thought it was going to be a fish and a shark," remarks the girls.
4. Birthday Blessing: Celebrating our Lake Water in Burlington, Hannah Jones, Charvly Nemat, Andrea Corneil, and Jordan Claves pose in a sunny best.

5. Cheer for the Cure: Nikki Mahallad and Ashley Hedges support finding the cure for cancer at the Cancer Walk at South Bend Stadium with the Sea Gals. Most of the cheerstaff and dance team, along with hundreds of other people came out for the event.
6. Cuddling up: Terry Stevens and her mom embrace at Mt. Rainier National Park.
7. Driving out: Zach Flake, Eric Zander, Brian Buchanan, Haley Beach, Emily Innes, Erin Shillars, Derby Mueller, and Kaitlin O'Rourke dress up for the first time as their vacation in Cannon Beach. Emily Innes said, "It was the best shakas food steak of the summer!"
8. Splash Splash: Captain of the swim team, Matt Owen spends time at the Senior Change Meet in Graceland, Oregon. He prepared for the meet by swimming four hours a day every day.
9. Flying High: Tiffani Gooding and Megan Reuter over our class. "We decided to paravault because it looked fun and it was something different to try," remarked Gooding.
10. Fishy: On a trip with her soccer team for a tournament in Holland, Alyssa Williams bravely mashes at some raw fish from a sashimi stand.
11. Star Crazy: Hanging with Skiffy of Craystone, Chandra Oritz and Nicky Cross enjoy the sights and sounds of Oostport.
12. Splash down: Debbie Kazy cascades down a natural water slide in Slide Rock in Sedona, Arizona. "I decided to go down the water slide because my boyfriend, Elliot March, used to live in Arizona and said I was really fun."

What is fashion to you?

Chana Duenas: "Fashion is an expression of your personality and individuality."

Ed Salerno: "Fashion is an $80 pair of GAP jeans."

Stephanie Banker: "I don't like fashion, but I like spending my dad's money."

Cool and Casual. Students Alan Andersen and Casey Smith are looking sharp on a cool November day.
70's Punk. In homage to 70's punk bands like the Ramones and Sex Pistols, Walker Stephens mixes band patches with Goodwill finds to form this eclectic style.

Culture Clash. Representing his personal style, Bj Soriano mixes clothing pieces from all parts of the world. He likes to be creative and original when buying clothes.

Short and Sweet. While shopping for skirts at Wet Seal, and accessorizing with necklaces and belts, Sarah Yansot especially enjoys dressing up for school and shopping whenever she gets a chance.

Rough and Tough. Miki Gelatssoff sports her sweats which have become a recurring style at school.

FASHION

FANATIC

Heidi Benton

Heidi Benton's interest in fashion began at an early age. She always watched her mom sew and had opinions on the clothes she wore. Heidi's focus on fashion really picked up when she got to high school. She's been a devoted member of the Fashion Club since freshman year and has participated in every style show. For the spring style show last year, Heidi was the clothing coordinator. This year, Heidi added to her outstanding resume by being selected to the Nordstrom Fashion Board. This is a group of senior girls from all over the region that have interests in fashion. They work on projects such as pricing, design, and trends for the company. Now that Heidi reigns over the Fashion Club as President, her next aspiration is to make her own prom gown. Added to all this, Miss Benton never fails to sport the newest trend!

"Having spirit is just having fun and being happy. It's not about trying to be the coolest or the most popular. It's just about having fun." - [Name]

"Spirit is a great way to show your school pride and have fun at the same time." - [Name]

"Spirit is important because it gets the underclassman involved and also gives everyone a great chuckle." - Alan Anderson

"Spirit is important because it gets the underclassman involved and also gives everyone a great chuckle." - Alan Anderson

"Spirit is important because you can have fun and be silly. It makes everyone happy and supportive." - Jan Richardson

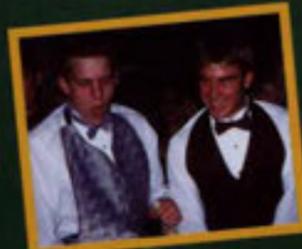

"Spirit is important because you can express your school and make people laugh at the same time." - [Name]

"Spirit is important because it gets everyone pumped up." - Yucky English

Hearts raced and laughter spread as the music started up on the dance floor. The beat of the music carried the dancers through the unforgettable twentieth night of October. The feeling of joy and triumph hung over the crowd as last night's game surges back to memory. Time was an unnoticed companion that brought the dance closer and closer to the end. As the dance came to a close and the dancers were getting ready to leave, they took a piece of the Treasured Night with them.

Homecoming '01

Treasured Night

A treasure map to an unforgettable Homecoming

"It was a lot of fun getting my hair and makeup done for the dance. It's so much easier than doing it yourself!"
- Melissa Hepburn

"It took me HOURS to get ready because my taxi was so nice and had tails!"
- Walker Stephens

"Homecoming was awesome because it is my Senior year and my girlfriend and I just had a lot of fun."
- Scott Kirby

"Dancing at Homecoming was a blast! It's always fun trying to get down when you're all fixed up, and you've got a nice dress on!"
- Miriam Pollard

"We were so excited to be going to Homecoming. We had been anticipating it for weeks, we couldn't wait to get there!"
- Terry Stevens

"Dinner was cool because it was just Sophomores and we had a great time together."
- Catin Gagnon

FACING THE OPPONENT- The offensive line gears up to rush the ball down the field and score another amazing touchdown to the dismay of the helpless Hawks.

SPIRIT- The most spirited crowd seen in years, the fans came pumped up and decked out from head-to-toe in purple and white to cheer on the home team.

GLADIATOR- Dran McBen McCarty leads the band half-time to a "Roman" tune.

DOWN THE LINE- Standing on the sidelines, the football players eagerly wait the end of the game so they can claim the honor of winning one more Homecoming game.

Cheers rang out in the bleachers and excitement rose as the big game began on October 19th. Supporting the football team were classmates decked out in purple and white. With the encouragement of the crowd, our football players didn't let us down. Our team defeated River Ridge with an amazing score of 51-13. Evan Zander and Shane Sullivan scored two touchdowns each to bring a spectacular victory home.

What was your favorite part about the Homecoming game?

"Watching the fans go CRAZY when we'd kick another one in the end-zone."
- Billy Miller

"WINNING!!"
- Bernie Harriage

"When we took our first lead, and I knew the game was over."
- Shane Sullivan

"The moment I realized we were just going to squish River Ridge."
- Marc Luedt

Where Are the Trees???

This fall when students walked out of the front doors of NTHS, they noticed something missing. The trees that used to create a border between our school and Bally's were cut down to pave the way for a Lowe's Hardware store. Several students were opposed to this project for various reasons. Some felt the claws of commercialism closing in on them and others simply missed the mighty firs due to their connection to the outdoors. Two sophomore students left so strongly about the issue, that they even arranged and carried out a protest against the foliage removal. Unfortunately, the trees and the students lost the battle, as the protest ended in the students' arrest and the loss of the green curtain forever.

NEW ADDITIONS

There are many new additions to our school each year, but the 2001 - 2002 school year has been especially eventful. Not only do we have a new, all girls, sports team, but we also have a lot less trees around our campus, & a group of kids to help freshmen out on their first intimidating days of high school. There is also a whole group of new teachers to add to our faculty list. The district has even gone so far as to change their name! We are now officially "North Thurston Public Schools", as opposed to the old name "North Thurston School District". School also starts at a new time this year, 8:00am, and we get dismissed at 2:30pm, instead of 2pm.

Link Crew is a group of upper-classmen teamed together by Ms. Sabatino and Ms. Smith to help freshmen find their classes on the first day. The Crew is also there to be mentors and guide/ninth-graders along the way for the rest of the year. This crew was created to aid in the process of making high school a little less intimidating.

GIRLS BOWLING

This year, there is a new sport for the girls, and it's BOWL-O-RIFIC! This new addition to the sports roster should prove to be quite popular and exciting among the girls of North Thurston. Coached by Ed Pablo, this year's bowling team is sure to be the best that they can be!

TRAGEDY HITS AMERICA!

On September 11th, 2001, one of the greatest tragedies in the history of our country occurred. Terrorists hijacked four American commercial flights. Two of the planes were driven directly into the World Trade towers in New York City. Another was driven into the Pentagon in Washington D.C. And the last plane crashed in a rural area of Pennsylvania. This tragedy touched our entire country, even those who didn't have any connection to the victims. Here is how it touched us...

There is an ancient Asian tradition that if one makes 1,000 origami cranes for a person or group in distress, then the receivers of the cranes will then be returned to peace and serenity. Ms. Rowell and her classes have taken it upon themselves to make 1,000 cranes for the city of New York in their time of need in hopes that it will raise spirits and give the people courage.

Some teachers in our school had their students write poems in wake of the tragedy. Some students were very moved and displayed their feelings in their poetry.

America Under Attack
People dying
Buildings falling
All because of terrorist attacks
The terrorists deserve a smack
America under attack
It is the worst day in history
And it will always be my history
It will be a day I never forget
And it was all because of a hijacked jet
Now everyone's crying
Why did all these innocent people have to die?
Why?
-Janae Berry

As the Towers Fell
I saw innocents die
And loved ones ask why?
... as the towers fell
I saw hostile army fleets
And hatred dance in the streets
... as the towers fell
I saw our nation unified
As our brothers and sisters died
... as the towers fell
I saw honor, I saw grace
I saw sacrifice's loving face
... as the towers fell
As the towers fell ...
So too, did my heart.
As a part of us is under stone
We aren't left to stand alone
So believe "In God we trust"
And continue sifting through the dust
For underneath it all will be
A stronger sense of unity
May God bless the families and Friends of those lost in this tragedy
-Niki and Kim Galaktinoff

Hands Held Tight
For many years, America has overcome many a hardship,
Some which so quickly caused hearts to rip,
Tragedy strikes us once again,
Terrorists attacked - killing our women and men,
With such impact our country was torn,
Leaving family and friends - the whole world to mourn,
Our loved ones to be remembered,
Will surely leave our hearts dismembered,

A moment of silence to honor and respect,
Never a day we'd like to reflect;
Our hearts go out to those who were slain,
Lying under the rubble and dust which fell like rain;
Our thoughts and prayers have gone out each night,
Since that horrible day that caused us a fright;
Innocent people went to work,
Not knowing that parrel war in the back;
Our nation will get through this - hands held tight,
America the beautiful as one unite!
-Brittney Burbridge

To All
This is to those who seek to find an answer during this horrible time.
To those who have or were lost during this tragedy, that may lead to World War Three.
Who's the one who caused this damage?
If we pull together we can all manage.
Pray for those who were caught, in the midst that someone brought.
The World Trade Center, the Pentagon, buildings that were there, but now are gone.
People inside, people around
when the buildings fell to the ground.
Thanks to those who have spent their time searching for the victims of this crime.
Stand tall our country will so that someday we may rebuild.
Unite us under one roof today.
This is what I will pray.
Let us survive, let us continue,
Let us find this good within you.
-Marilee Earliff

Olympia's Candlelight Vigils-There were many candlelight vigils arranged for the victims of the tragedies. These were meant to show the sympathy, unity, and courage of our country.

ARTSWALK

It's not unusual...
Jason Kilgore and Ed Salerno are taking in the festive spirit of downtown's Artswalk, while enjoying the musical talents of a street performer singing Tom Jones' Greatest Hits.

A Warm Embrace...
Sophomore Shelly Ivey, and Junior Mike Anderson are snuggling together near the fountain downtown.

Artswalk is one of those occasions that not only enriches life, but brings our community together. All of the art was a wonderful addition to this event, but there is a lot more to Artswalk. Everyone comes together to celebrate in one night of festivities. Childrens books, sculptures, paintings, and other forms of art are displayed downtown. It's a day of celebrating the cultural differences of Olympia's young and old.

Lighting up the night...
Heritage Park's fountain is lit up during Artswalk in remembrance of those who died on September 11th.

What is your favorite part of Artswalk?

"Sometimes people think that only artists like art. They discover that art isn't just for artists at Artswalk." - Mrs. Parks

Carleigh Lorenz says that her favorite thing about Artswalk is "Volunteering at the Information Lost Children booth, and seeing my aunt and uncle display their art."

Senior Gina Salerno states, "I like Artswalk because it is a way for our community to come together in the streets of Olympia and celebrate our culture."

"I enjoy the different kinds of art that inspires me." - Shelly Ivey

CONCEALED SKILLS

THE HIDDEN TALENTS WITHIN US

Dancing Diva...
Last May, Senior Katie Knudson entered the Pacific North West Teen Square Dance Festival's round dance competition and took home the first place trophy! Katie has been dancing for six years now, and she says, "It's a lot of fun, and it's not as corny as it sounds."

Balancing Act...

For twelve years, Junior Kin Bernath has been juggling school work and gymnastics with a flair. For four hours a day, five days a week, he's in the gym keeping limber. Kin has been placed fifth in the nation on the floor exercise, his favorite event. His hard work has carried over out side the gym as well. He told us, "It taught me discipline, persistence, and setting goals."

Pick a Book...
Sophomore Walker Stephens knows it's all just a bunch of hoaxa pocus, but don't tell that to his audience. He has been performing magic tricks for over a year. So how did he pick up this strange talent? "My hand was out of town and I had to fill the set. So I read a magic book and performed instead."

Be it juggling or gymnastics, technologically savvy or a master wordsmith, our school is full of people whose talents normally go unnoticed. A talent can be anything and they can really help define who we are. Some are traditionally pulled off, others down-right bizarre, but whether odd or ordinary, the talents abound around us.

Whacky Writing...

Seniors Tiffany Bradford and Sarah Nichols' attempt to kill some time last year has evolved into a hilarious epic novel. "We were just passing notes idly in class and it just kind of... happened," Sarah said of it's creation. The easy Eirman Adventure, full of humor and fun, will soon have a sequel. Bradford offers this bit of advice, "Beware the low flying waffle irons and any renegade bologna and cheese sandwiches!"

Playing Around...

With the click of a mouse, you can be immersed into Kyle Olson's MMORPG: Massively Multiplayer Online Role Playing Game. This computer savvy junior is a member of a world wide team working on the X Game Project, creating a game anyone with internet access can play. "It will be a groundbreaking game, anybody will be able to download it for free or by it on CD for the cost of shipping," Kyle tells us. The X Game Project team is hoping to release it to the public mid to late 2001.

If you could have any talent, what would it be and why?

"Singing, because I'm tired of people telling me to 'Shut up!' - Jamie Mena

"The most skilled pilot in the world, because aviation has many challenging aspects that are very difficult to master." - Jacob Libby

"Being able to play second base like Brett Boone on the Seattle Mariners, on a major league baseball team." - Ashley Bradford

"I'd like to get along with people and be able to communicate effectively." - Scott Anderson

MY

MY SCRAPBOOK

Throughout our lives we experience moments that we never want to forget, whether the moment is festive, humorous, or a moment of sorrow so great we well up with tears at the mere memory. More often than not these cherished moments are forgotten and missed after years of aging. This is your opportunity to put your valuable memories in a place that is easy to look back on. This page is dedicated to you and the memories you will treasure in the years to come.

Over Hill, Over Dale

Ansel Jardine, one of our sophomores, spends his time tromping around the wilderness for Thurston County's Search and Rescue Service. From September to March, the Search and Rescue volunteers must accumulate one hundred hours of training that include first aid, CPR, and wilderness survival. Jardine has been involved in Search and Rescue for two years. He thought it would be a good way to help people. His most prominent memory is "When Luke Saylor broke his leg by falling off a log at training. He cried for help for half an hour."

Lolly Pop, Lolly Pop!

Whisking around floor seven of St. Peter's Hospital is Amy Olson, a member of the Junior Volunteer Staff who devotes their free time to working at the hospital. Olsen is one of eight students from our school that chose to take up the position of Junior Volunteer, formerly known as Candy Strippers. Olson had always wanted to work at the hospital, following in the footsteps of both her mother and sister, former Candy Strippers themselves. Her favorite part about working in the Surgery Ward is that "you get to see how the hospital really functions." This is truly a unique experience that more young adults are partaking in each year.

HELPING HANDS

Whistle While

In our school we have many students that choose a non-profit path to lending a hand. Volunteer work is more common in the younger generation than most would believe, and it has gone far beyond bringing in canned foods or old clothes on collection days. We have been known to do such noble things as donate blood in great times of need, give food and toys to animal shelters, and adopt families and help them to celebrate the holidays when they have little themselves.

Who Pat the Cookies In the Cookie Jar?

We've all had our moments when we've snuck a cookie or two from Mom's cookie jar. Well, Senior Jason Norman put a little something back.

In mid-November, our school put on a Turkey Drive where students and teachers donated money in cans around the school to benefit the Washington Food Bank. As a bonus, each can represented a teacher and at the end of the Drive the teacher with the most money donated to his or her can was obligated to wear a turkey costume for one day. The teachers in the running this year were Mr. Basset, Mrs. Smith, Ms. Sabatino, and Mr. Ratcliff. Mrs. Smith won by a long shot thanks to a whopping ninety-four dollars, donated by Norman, bringing Mrs. Smith's total to over one hundred dollars.

WORKING HANDS

You Work

On the other side of the spectrum, we have all heard our friends rant and rave about their everyday after school jobs, such as burger-flipping and shelf-stocking. These jobs, although sometimes difficult, are considered the norm for the teenage population. But out there are those students who have jobs that are much more than the stereotypical, and are done in far more unique atmospheres.

Workin' Hard With the Money

Senior Sarah Himlie works for Custom Incorporated, a business that, though few have heard of it, does a really important job. Himlie encodes checks sent in by credit unions and she also processes the amounts to make sure none of the money is missing. She first got into Custom Inc. through a neighbor who works there as well.

Her favorite part of working there is, "the people I work with," she states. "The atmosphere is so laid back."

Sunny Days...

Her working hands stained with finger paints and the laughter of children resounding in her ears, senior Emily Iverson has a job that leaves a smile on her face and a happy heart. Iverson has worked at the Hands-On Children's Museum for about five months. Her jobs include guest services, hosting birthday parties, selling educational toys to visitors, and her favorite, playing with the children. Iverson also participates in community events and starred as Ms. Frizzle in the Santa Parade. In addition to working after school, Iverson conducts arts and crafts during the Hands-On Children's Museum's day camp in the summer. "My favorite part of working at the museum is watching the kids interact with their families," she comments.

Meow, Meow, Meow, Meow....

Facing obstacles of puppy puddles and kitty claws, we can find no better challenger than senior Lynnette Millar. Millar has been employed at the TLC Veterinary Clinic for four years. At this family owned and operated business, she does everything from feeding and cleaning the pets to assisting the doctors in surgery. Millar has been surrounded by animals all her life so she feels right at home in the clinic alongside her mom and dad. Millar especially enjoys the puppies and kittens birthed at the clinic, even though they can be a handful sometimes. "Seeing the pets I helped deliver come back over the years really makes everything worth while," she says.

Of all the books you've read in your life, which one has influenced you the most?

"A book that really influenced me was called Slam by Walter Dean Meyers. It was about a young man in high school who played basketball and overcomes many obstacles. In a way, his character has the same traits as me."
-Robert Green-

"All Quiet on the Western Front. I think this book was influential because it reveals the hardships of war."
-Kyle Olsen-

"Christy by Catherine Marshall because the main character was determined and showed me that hard work really pays off and all you have to do is stick to your beliefs."
-Heidi Nichols-

"Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban. All of the Harry Potter series are great books, and they inspired me to further read since I hate to read. These books allowed me to be more open-minded about reading."

All "four" one, and one "four" all.

Desiree Pierpoint, Cory Burger, and Nicole Sewell gather around Alex Walstead, who brings the four together.

Passing period bliss. Mallari Jurgens dances with joy because she finally receives a break from her English class.

In the moment. Richie Slavin takes a moment to reflect upon a satisfying lunch, while on his way to class.

Friends are forever. Showing their pearly whites, Renae Kyle, Katrina Cooper, and Celine Gorski come together to show off their camaraderie.

Study Break. Taking a break from school work, Jennifer Bergener and Tara Kessel catch up on what's going on.

Freshmen Power

What has been your biggest transition into high school?

The biggest transition from middle school to high school would be that the expectations are HIGHER, and there is MORE pressure on you as a student.
-Jessica Wright

All the homework is AMAZING! I have never had this much in my life, it's like project after project, homework after homework!
-Hillary Lunbeck

The biggest change for me is the Math, it's harder, and you CAN'T turn in late work!
-Jeanna Anenson

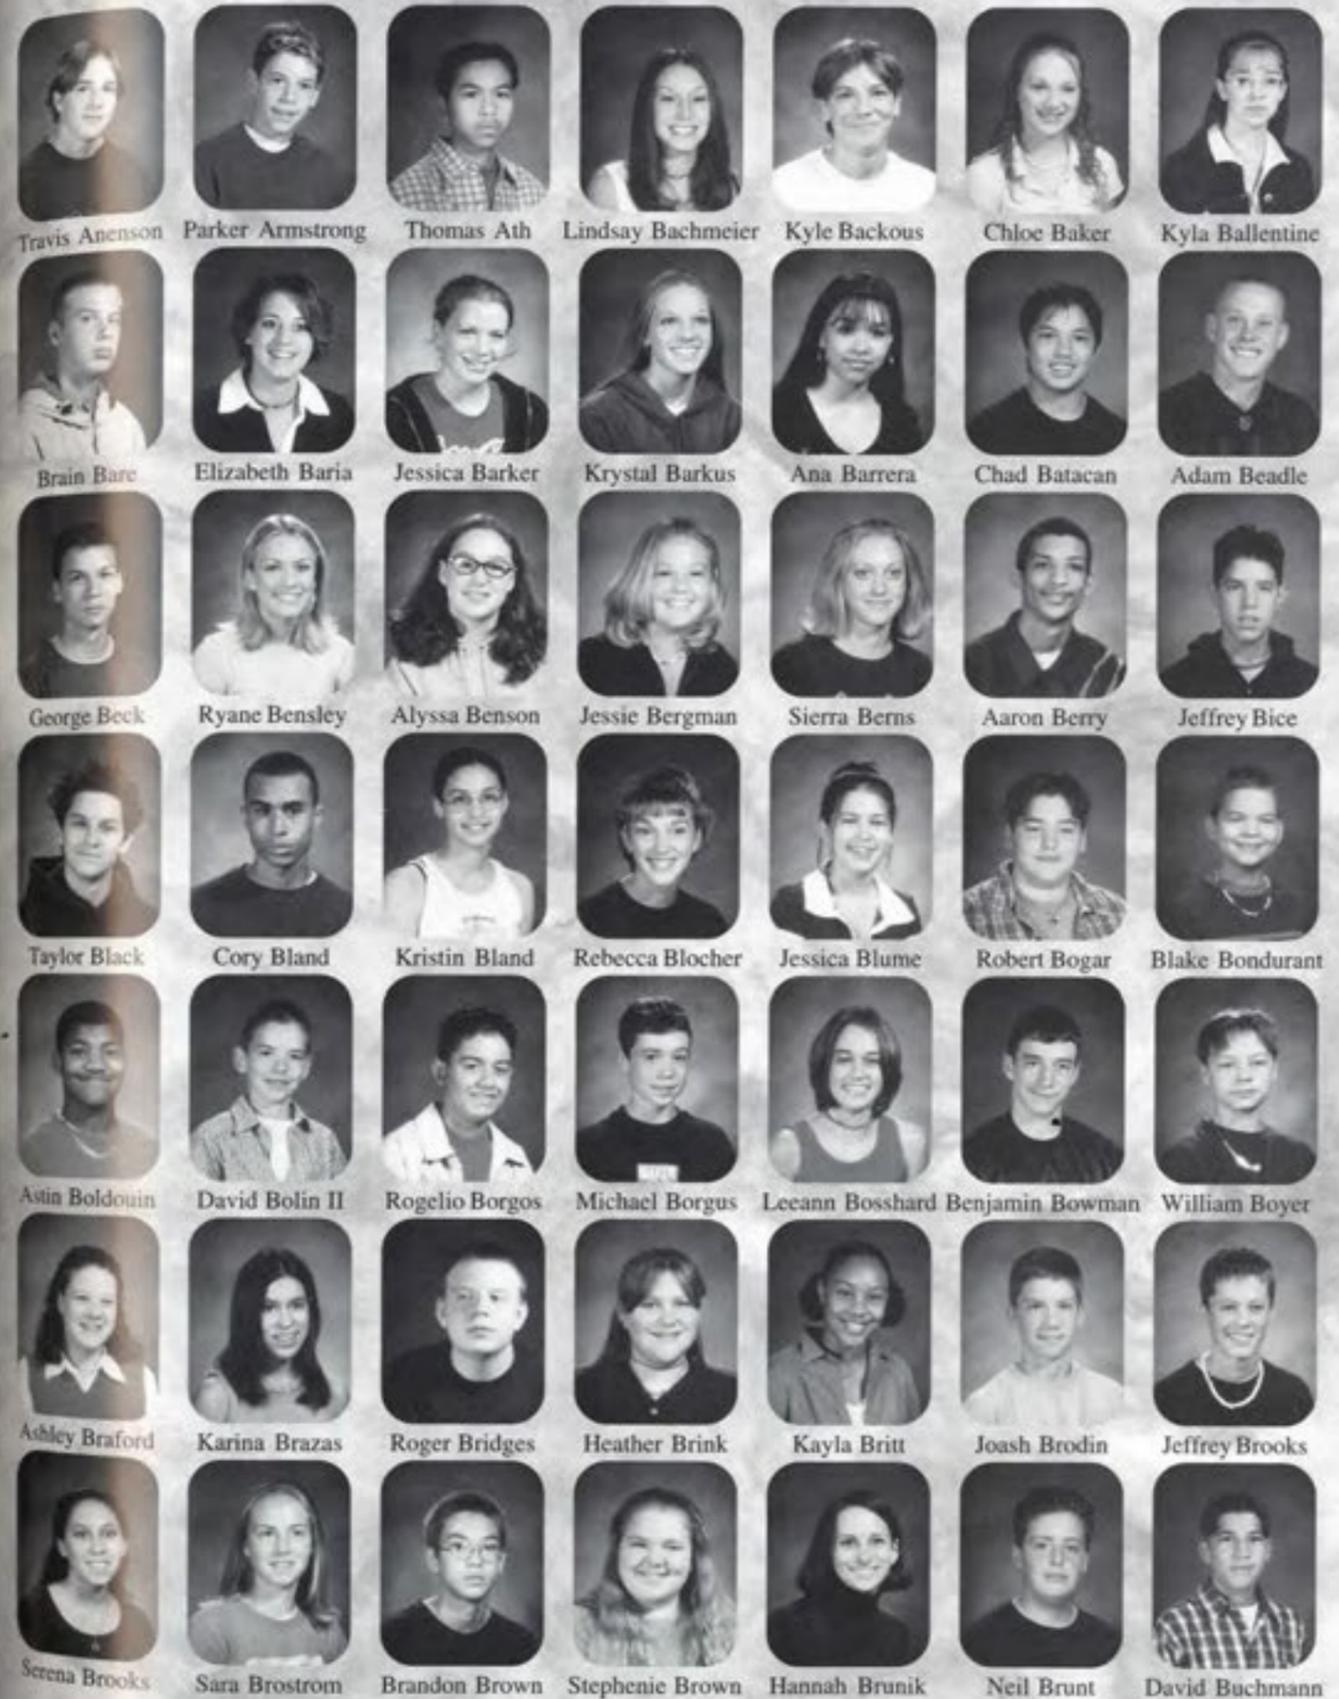

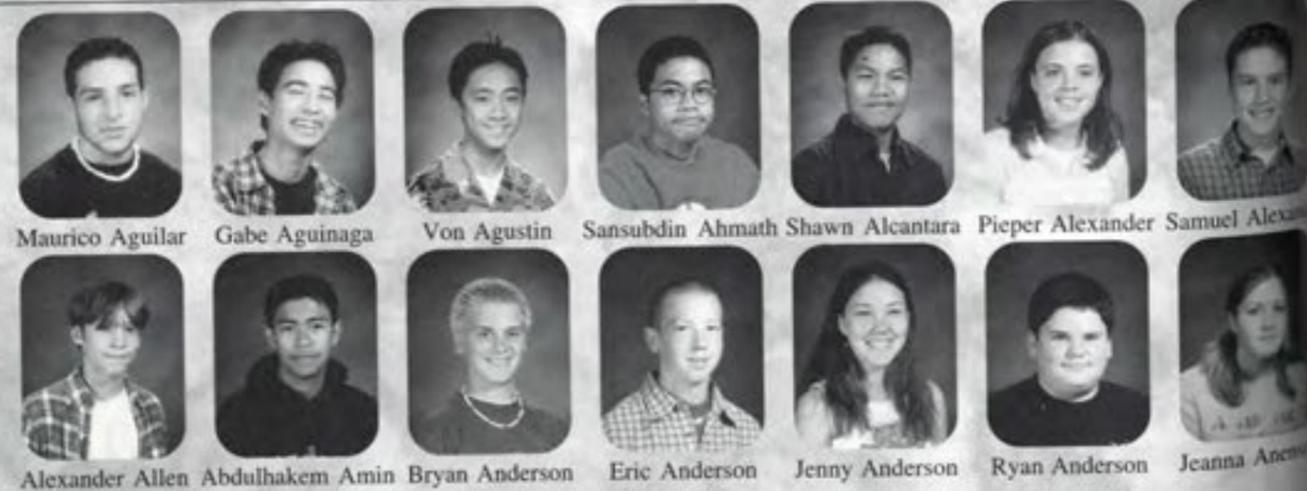

The biggest transition from middle school to high school is less FREETIME!
-Karen Survis

The biggest change for me was the responsibility you have and how the teachers treat you like adults and not kids.
-Terrence Renwick

I think it would be starting a high school in a NEW place. Most people get to start school with their friends, which makes it easier and didn't.

Behind the Blackboard

In the great scramble to get away from school, questionable grades, and academic responsibilities, we often forget about those who stay behind. Those teachers and staff members who we run so quickly from stay until the late hours after school just for us. They clean the trash we so carelessly forget to pick up and grade the papers we stay up late to finish. They do more than just lecture, assign homework, and send us to detention. Our teachers work together to make our educational experience at this school memorable. From custodians to counselors, our staff helps us become smarter and better people.

But what about those members of the faculty who do more than tutor us or overlook our progress? What of those who go beyond what teachers call the norm and others call the extreme? This page recognizes only a few who go beyond the normal call of duty. This is to those teachers whose great feats are done in silence.

To the musically inclined...

Mr. Johnson is a much admired teacher and friend to many students. He has been our school's band director for six years and has not only advanced our school's marching band to a competitive level, but has left an impression upon many students who often come back after graduation to visit. In addition to directing our school's four bands, he provides countless fundraising opportunities for his students so they can go where they need to go and partake in the opportunities that bring them together. He is definitely considered the dad in the "band family" and is often looked to for advice on life and all of its monumental possibilities.

To the language learner...

Mrs. Kiolet, also known as "Tran", has done many things to advance our school's international relationships. She founded G.A.P., German-American Partnership, ten years ago at this school. This program allows students from our school and our sister school in Kirchhain, Germany to visit each other on opposite years.

"Tran" is a favorite among many students because of her friendly personality and her sense of humor. She builds lasting relationships with students and they always feel welcome in her room even when not enrolled in her class.

Q. Which staff member will you most likely remember ten years from now?

A.
"I'd remember Ms. Larson because she's eccentrically funny and has known me since birth."
- Cameron Bell, Junior

Q. Which staff member has guided you the most throughout your highschool career?

A.
"I'd have to say Mr. Sloan because he knows a lot about life."
- Melissa Kayler, Senior

To the environmentally friendly...

Deeply involved in the environment, Ms. Sabatino has been encouraging her students to also lend a hand outside school. For seven years, Sabatino has taught us to respect the wilderness and how to care for the world around us. In the past, she's taken students to help regravell salmon spawning stream beds and to replant trees. Sabitino says that her favorite project is replanting trees because she loves how the students come to realize how important their efforts are to the future of our planet.

Q. Who has been the most valuable in your learning experience at this school?

A.
"[Liz Kroscher] encourages me to leave and keep up in class, and she makes people laugh."
- Carolyn Paroley, Senior

Q. What teacher aided you significantly in the development of your dreams?

A.
"Mrs. Dittrich because she helped me express my creativity."
- Kelly Clenses, Junior

Tales Turn Into Traditions

Curious Customs

"We get together during Chinese New Year to celebrate the holiday. We eat a lot of sweets and meat. Our parents and friends give us red packages of money called li xi." -- Giang Ong (9)

"One of our traditions is that everybody in our family gets together. We sit on the floor around in a circle and pray for our ancestor. We have food to pass around, and each member of the family takes a piece of food and puts it in a wrapper, praying to send it to our ancestor." -- Tina Troeuy (10)

"Our family tradition is to play cards. Whoever loses has to drink water until their stomach is full and they can't play anymore. Whoever is last gets a prize." -- Heng Hak (10)

"Every Sunday my whole family gets together at my parents' house for a family dinner. We have our family dinners because my three older sisters moved out, and it is a good way to keep our family close." -- Shelli Clark (10)

Families are a significant part of life. Traditions bring people together and strengthen bonds. Family traditions range from holidays to trips to common occurrences. All these things, in the end, make a family a family.

A Name I Call Myself

Names are a part of who we are. They sum us up in one word. Even though some people have the same name, it becomes unique. Unique names are rare though. Here are a few of those truly unique names.

"I was named after my dad who was named after a Korean laundromat in Louisiana." --Keanika Lunda

"My parents chose my name. It doesn't have a special meaning that I know of. It's unique in Cambodia too." --Nasait Ahmath

"My mom named me after a novel called, SharaLee Rose. It doesn't have any specific meaning though." --SharaLee Power

"My mom got my name from one of her friends daughter's. My name means, 'Terry' in Hawaiian, it's pronounced 'Kaheely.' --Keely Tafoya

"My name is unique here in the U.S., but in Iran it isn't as uncommon. My name is Persian, and it means 'dew drop, or rain.'" --Jhaleh Akhavan

"My mom gave me the name after her brother's really good friend and it means 'two moons.' I got my middle name from my dad's dad, which is Habib." --Kamran Rahman

"My parents came up with my name, but it doesn't mean anything. Everyone gets excited because they're the first five letters in the alphabet." --Abcde Hoopii

"My name doesn't mean anything, but I was named after my grandfather. Both of my parents wanted me to have his name." --Virgilio Cintron

From birth, Kitty Mouskawitz Club, and your first day of school
To chicken pox, Mr. Whittle's bat box, and "6th Graders Rule!"

From becoming a teen
Surviving the middle school scene
To playing at Cushman in the summer
And vacations ending, what a bummer!

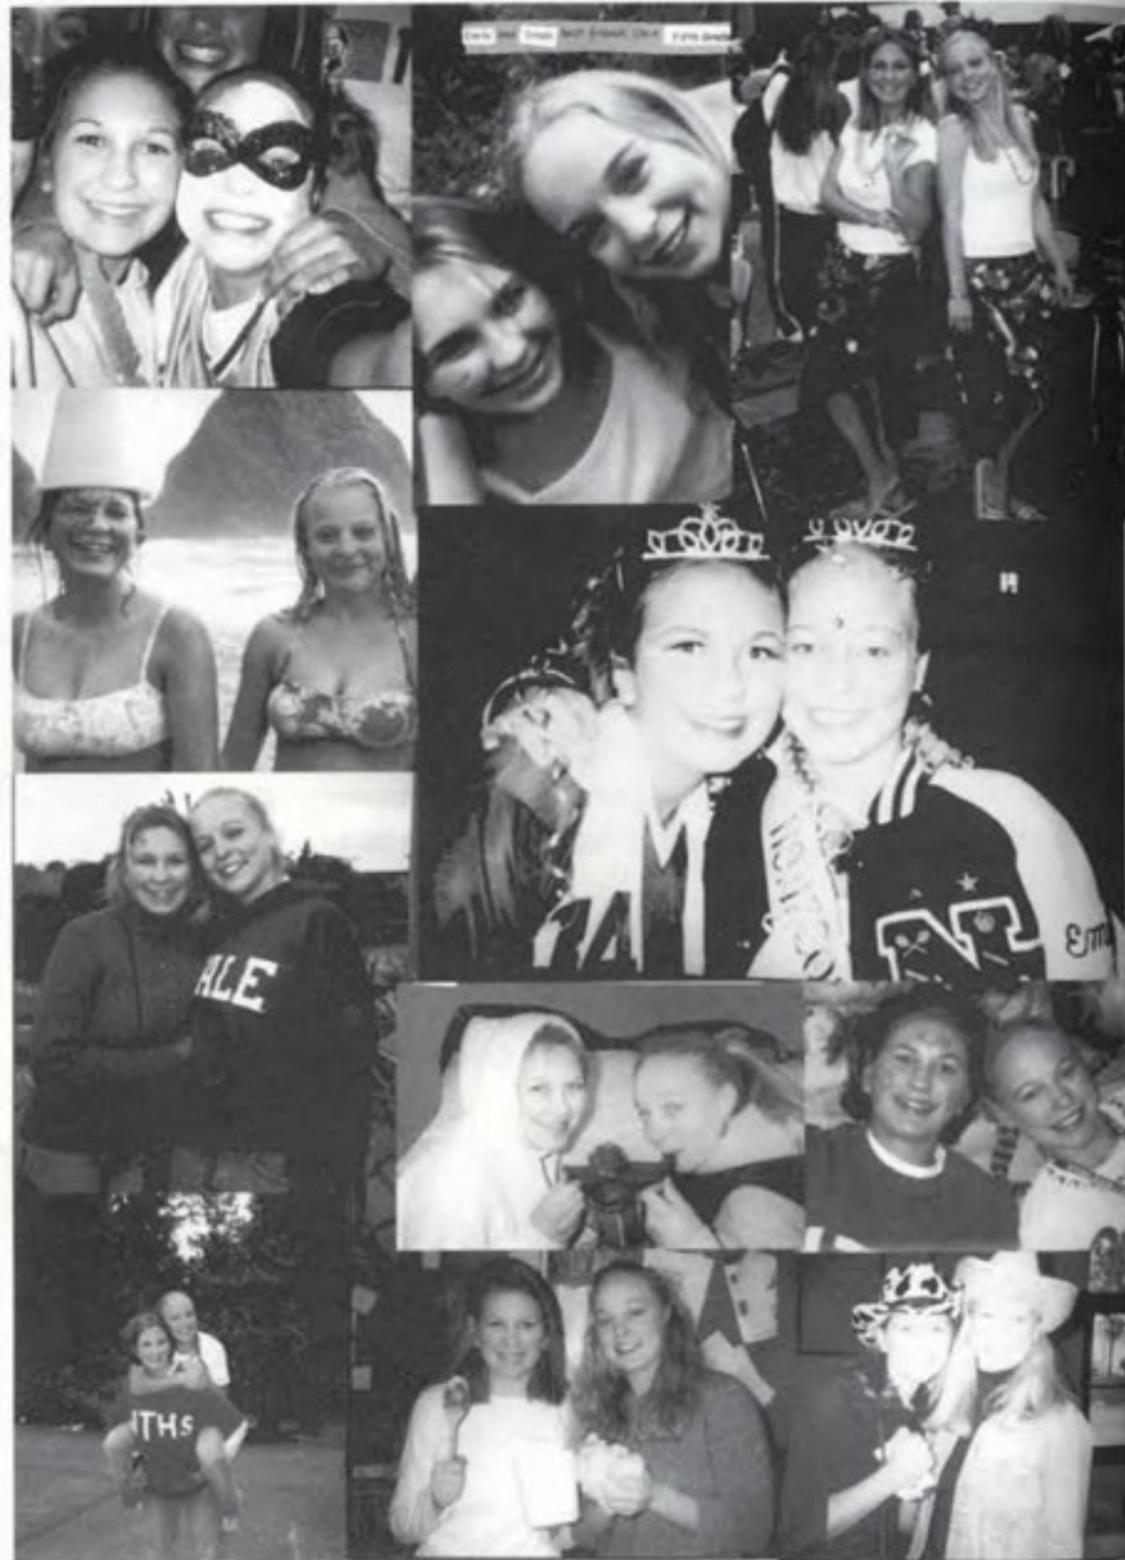

From fun sports and great friends, that whole "freshman" start
To senior memories that will forever tug at your heart.

From all of this.....to the tear down my cheek
So overcome with pride I'm unable to speak.
Now that you're grown, know now and hereafter
That you've brightened our lives with your joyous love and sweet laughter.

We are family! Love,

ADAM JOHN
WILLIAMS

From the day you were born, it was love at first sight for me. I knew I had been given a gift. I have watched you grow and enjoyed every moment. From your first step to your first day behind the wheel, I have had the privilege of being by your side. Through the years of wrestling, soccer, and golf, you have always made me so proud. Through good times and bad you have never failed those you care about. You are an athlete, a hunter, a fisherman, but more than that Adam, you are a loving son, wonderful brother, beloved grandson; you are a true and loyal friend. You have a kind heart, and a gentle nature. Your sense of humor has made you many friends, but it will be your sense of right and wrong that will give you a full and satisfying life. High school graduation is the first step into that life. No matter how far from home your dreams may lead you. You are right here in my heart.

I love you Adam.
MOM

GINA SALERNO:

I am so proud of you! You've got intelligence, wit, a kind and generous heart, and a vibrant spirit. Go out into the world and create your dreams.

Love Always,
Mom

For Marissa

Somewhere Out There

Somewhere out there beneath the pale moonlight
Someone's thinking of me and loving me tonight

Somewhere out there someone's saying a prayer
That we'll find one another in that big somewhere out there

And even though I know how very far apart we are
It helps to think we might be wishing on the same bright star

And when the night wind starts to sing a lonesome lullaby
It helps to think we're sleeping underneath the same big sky

Somewhere out there if love can see us through
Then we'll be together somewhere out there
Out where dreams come true

Love,
Mom, Dad, and

When you first came into my life I didn't know what to do with you.
 Now that you're a part of my life I don't know what I would do without you.
 When I was young you were always the girl that I fought with.
 And now you are the one girl who I would fight for.
 We learned what it was all about to be sisters.
 Now I know that I will never have to be alone.
 You always seemed to be in the way.
 Now I know you were just showing me the way.
 We were great kids that shared our childhood together.
 And now that we are strong women I know we will spend our lives together.
 Then and now you have been my best friend.
 In time things change, but the love and friendship I have for you will always be here.
 Good Luck in the future kiddo.....
 Love Always, Jayme

Jennifer - It doesn't seem that long ago that you were starting your first day of school, scared but excited. Now as you begin your life outside of these hallways and classrooms we know that you have the confidence to carry with you everything that you have learned. You have grown to be a wonderful young lady and we are so very proud of you and know that what ever you decide to do in life you will succeed. Carry with you always your gentle spirit, kind heart and ability to be a friend to all that know you. We know it is difficult to leave behind these years, but remember they are within you forever, for they are what has help you to become the beautiful person you are.
 WE LOVE YOU, Mom and Dad

WOW! Graduation from high school!

It seems like just the other day you were a little boy, playing in the woods or in the lake;

Now you're off to college to pursue your dreams;

We know they will all come true being the superhero that you are!

We are very proud of you and are lucky to have you for our son.

You are a wonderful young man, son, grandson, brother, and boyfriend;

Congratulations Ryan!

 We watched you come and go
 Over and over again
 You're so active
 You have such a great charm
 A penetrating gaze
 A reassuring smile
 A wide heart
 As you graduate from high school
 We wish you great growth and happiness
 We are very proud of who you are and
 What you do...

Brandy:

Our special little girl, a spark in our life, not every family has the blessing to have a little one come live with them and keep us on our toes. So many cute little things she said and did, bring tears to my eyes. I asked her to come and let me fix her hair. She replied, "not now Grandma, cus I am holding a handfull of sunshine!" I went to see what she meant and found her standing at the end of the kitchen table with her little hands cupped and the sun shinning so bright right into them. She said, "see Grandma!"

I Love You Brandy
Grandma

Brandy, the enjoyable little girl who lived with us during her mom's military years, has grown into a beautiful young lady. Many memories of her time with us are recalled and will live in our hearts for many years to come. She will always be my little dollie.

Brandy

Papa
Brandy,

I am so proud of you! You put a twinkle of sheer happiness in my life! Your voice puts a smile on my face. I am so blessed to be first and foremost your friend, and secondly your adopted godmother. I have enjoyed every moment of watching you grow from a fiesty young tomboy to a fiesty, beautiful, smart young lady. I will always cherish our many nights when it was just the two of us... laughing, telling secrets, and watching movies. My love for you will follow you wherever you go. I HAVE always been there for you and I always WILL be there for you. I have complete confidence in your decisions and your ability to use that strong will of yours for good things. Remember to always take God with you, enjoy life, and avoid negativity (it corrupts the soul). Be patient with others, but most importantly with yourself. I will never forget the wonderful (huge) banner you made for my office that says, "Wendy, BE HAPPY!"

I Love You Little One, God Bless you always,

Wendy

Brandy:

You are and always will be my shinning star. Your love of life, your belief in yourself and your ability to strive for your dreams make me so proud. You are and always will be my #1. May your road ahead be filled with great adventure and many successes.

Patricia Janece (P.J.) Barret Dear P.J.,

In the grand scheme of human existence, children are created for the "furthurance" and continuation of the species.

Reflection upon your life hereto foreshows it to be quite self-evident that your "lot in life" is going to be heavily weighted towards the goal of "furthurance" of your species.

Your dogged, tireless teachings to your peers and juniors against these factors and options in life which are well known to be universally deleterious to an individual having a "good life," are a source of extreme pride to us and are inspiration to others to continue the battle for a "furthurance" verses mere continuation.

We believe the awards and accolades bestowed upon you hereto fore are representative of merely the "tip of the iceberg" of a coming lifetime of service, dedication, and recognition of your battle for "furthurance" of society.

Your birth sequencing and factors beyond our control caused you to have to "grow up" faster than we would have liked. Your "rising to the occasion" and selfless dedication to protection of family is a source of constant pride to and appreciation from us, your family.

Somehow, when you were born, we knew you would turn out to be someone who is very special. You have definitely not let us down on that.

We love you dearly and pray that your life after graduation is as fruitful and brings you as much pride as you have brought to us these first 18 years.

With much love, respect and admiration,
The Barret family

Kellen,

Just yesterday you graduated from kindergarten. How quickly time has passed. You have made each day filled with sunshine. You have been a blessing--filling the years not only with lots of soccer and activities, but also with happiness and joy! We are proud of you!

Mom, Dad, and Marci

Selena,

I gave you my middle name and you have been the center of our lives ever since. You have overcome so many hardships and heart aches and have become a strong young woman instead of letting them make you weak. Our hope for your future is to continue to grow strong and secure in yourself. We could never love you more and will never love you less. Letting you go to grow is like letting go of your heart. Continue to take care of yourself for "YOU ARE OUR HEART".

Love always!!!!

Dear Terry,

One day when you were about six, we were leaving on a trip, you looked up with a big toothless smile and said, "Come on Mommy, lets go make some memories." Life certainly is about memories. May your adult life bring you the same kind of wonderful and lovely memories that your childhood brought us, your extended family, and close friends. We love you very much and are ever so proud of you.

Alan,
You have truly become a man not just physically, but in heart and soul as well. In the past 18 years we have watched you become stronger and more independent, while at the same time you have exhibited love and respect not for us alone, but for those around

you. We love you unconditionally and are so very proud to have you as our son. You will go far in life because success is a byproduct of who you are, not what you do.

We Love You,
Mom and Dad

Dear Bridgette,

How do I capture all these years of watching you grow into such a beautiful young woman in such a small space??

I am so proud of who you are, how you've grown, and how you've allowed yourself to change when you saw the need to. I've loved watching you go through all your interesting phases, but through it all always being such a good and kind person.

Thank you so much for allowing me to really know you and your friends, your disappointments and triumphs, your hopes and dreams. To hear your laughter and to wipe away your tears. All of these things and so much more have brought such joy to me. I look forward to this next chapter in your life and now you will do great things with your future.

Who could have thought that the birth of a baby boy on Friday the 13th could bring so much luck to our lives? You have filled our hearts with an abundance of love and pride. We have watched you grow into a wonderful young man with a special gift for touching people's hearts. You can lighten a room with your smile, sense of humor, and personable spirit. We wish you all the happiness in the world. As we watch you pursue your dreams and goals, we send with you our love and confidence that you will make this world a better place. Always know that we will be there for you.

Love Always,
Mom & Dad

Dear Carolynn,
From Georgia peach country to Maryland and D.C.'s Kendall School and an Army Magazine centerfold at age two! To California earthquakes, rodeos, and a T.V. ad to Alabama and learning to bowl to Texas country music and picnics at the ranch to Washington and growing up, driving! You have touched the hearts of so many but none more than ours! We are very proud of you! Strive for your dreams and follow your heart!

Love,
Mom and Dad

"And when you get the choice...I hope you dance."

Heather -

You've brought us so much joy and so little sorrow. We hope that life brings you the same. We are so proud of all you've done and all you've become.

Congratulations and much love,
Mom, Dad, and Tim

Oh, how fast the years have passed. We are so proud of you, Erin. Whether you are at home or half way around the world, don't forget . . . "Work like you don't need the money, love like you've never been hurt and dance like you do when no one is watching."

We love you!
Mom, Dad, Sarah, and A.J.

Adam,

Once a hot rodder always a hot rodder. Congratulations, we are so proud of you. The years have just flown by. Now you've grown up to be a strong, loving, and caring young man. May all your dreams come true.

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Ang

GO JOLT MAN!

Love and pride,
Mom, Dad, and John

Coley,

Our first born. The beginning of our circle. We are so proud of the man you have become, we can't wait to see the man you will be. Your laughter makes us smile and your grin reminds us how mischievous you are! Remember laughter makes the world go round.

With all of our love,
Mom, Dad, & Amie

M o n i q u e ,

You are the light of my life. Around every corner you are a surprise, with joy and laughter. Life has given us some challenges the courage we have chosen brings us together as Mother and Child. Faith, Hope, Love, and the greatest of these is Love. And that is where the journey begins. Remember the Lord is always with you.

Love,
Mom

Ben,

When you were born God blessed us with a wonderful gift-- you for a son. It has been such joy to watch you grow from your small beginning into the tall and incredible young man that you are. You give so much love to those around you. Our lives are richer and we are smarter because of you.

May you always keep God as the center of your life and may all your dreams come true.

We love you and are very proud of you,
Mom and Dad

"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me."

STACY

A curly blond haired cherub,
Who was stubborn as could be,
Has grown to be a beauty,
As all can plainly see.
You are so very creative, it's amazing everytime,
The things you have come up with,
Are really one of a kind.
We pray you take that talent, and put it to good use,
It's something you've been blessed with, a gift to not abuse.
Your Mom and Dad are proud of you,
We love you very much,
We wish you all the best in life,
Health, happiness and such.
So on your journeys far and near,
Good decisions are a must,
Based on faith of God's great love, you can surely trust.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Kristin & Stephanie,

We want you to know just how proud we are of you, and how much you mean to us. As parents we have watched you grow into bright, beautiful young women, who have become everything we could have dreamed for our daughters. Your life as dedicated, hard working, student athletes, who do the right things while loving and respecting your family and friends, stands as a shining example for others.

Congratulations on four great years at North Thurston.

Chassidy Renee Naputi

When Chassidy was born my whole family was ecstatic because I had a bouncing healthy baby girl. My family and I went to Guam when Chassidy was only eight months old, learning how to crawl, walk, you name it. That was when I first noticed Chassidy's persistence, when she wanted to do something. That was it, her mind was made up and there was no stopping her.

Once she finally learned to walk at ten months Chassidy just kept on going. Her mind, body and energy just really about wiped me out. Her newly developed energy amazed me, that this little girl had so much drive and determination at such a young age.

In any event as she was growing up her persistency continued. She wanted to participate in almost every school activity they had. Again her drive and determination to succeed and to be a part of something was outstanding. If there was a debate on an issue that she was interested in, that was where you would see this little girl's vibrant willingness to get her opponents to see her point of view.

Chassidy made a big impact on our lives by being herself. Aside from her mean strike to doing what's right, her other side is most compelling to being such a warm-hearted, fun-loving daughter and friend. Her compassionate side is what is most rewarding for me because that is when we both can be a mother daughter sharing our thoughts and views.

Chassidy will soon be graduating from high school and will be moving on to bigger and brighter things. Her decision to become a lawyer will indeed be beneficial not just for her but for the people that she helps. She brings a new meaning to hope, fairness, and what is right is today's world. We wish her the very best in her endeavors and may she continue to share her compassion for human kind, and continue to assist all those in need.

RUMORS!

It was Charlie and Myra Brock's tenth wedding anniversary party. The first guests, Ken and Chris Gorman, arrived to the sound of gunshots. After some quick investigating, they found Charlie in his bedroom with a bullet hole through his earlobe. Myra was nowhere to be found. Ken and Chris didn't know the whole story, but they thought that since Charlie was deputy mayor of New York City, they better hide the facts from the other guests to avoid any scandal. As each new guest arrived at the party, they become tangled in aridiculous mess of cover-ups, false rumors, and hysterical accusations. The party came to a dramatic climax when the police arrived, and party guest Lenny Ganz was forced to pose as Charlie and create a story that explained the mysterious events of the night.

No Strings Attached

Music and the murmur of conversation echo around the orchestra room early each morning. The members of North Thurston's less recognized music program meet before, during, and sometimes after school hours to add those last touches to well known pieces by long gone composers. Their musical repertoire, however, isn't limited to the composers of old. These young musicians have played everything from Beethoven Concertos to the Pink Panther theme! They keep some of the oldest, and newest music alive.

"And This One Time In Band..."

Pillars of Strength. The band confidently marches onto the "battle field" at the Everett Marching Competition in October. They may have lost the battle but they definitely put fear into the hearts of their competitors.

Funny Flutes. Tamara Carley and Katie Klaniecki prepare for another day of symphonic band. Both girls enjoy playing the flute and hanging out with their fellow band members.

Our marching band, which consists of over one hundred band students, was able to have some wonderful successes in their competitions this past year. They received an all time high score of 72.3 for their Gladiator show during the Auburn Marching Competition in November. This achievement came after long practices and Saturdays marching in the rain. Some band members have the honor of becoming part of the All State band. The pep band graces us with their musical talents during all of the football and basketball games while the jazz band gets the beat moving a bit more with volunteer work.

WHEN THE BAND

COMES IN MARCHING

A Day In the Life of A Band Member

Dear Journal,
Today I had to get up at 7 AM. After freezing our butts off at the late night, we went out on the field. The fog was so thick that I couldn't see the other side. It was so cold that everyone had gloves on or very pink fingers. And so many of us were excited we just came in our pajamas or sweats. Around 9 AM we all decided to wake up and get down to business. By lunchtime we were worn out and needed some enrichment. Once we got back from lunch the sun had finally decided to come out and we all were beaming. And all of the flyers that we wore for the cold came off. Then we went over the competition routine over and over again, stopping only once and a while to fix things. By the end of the day we were dead on our feet and ready to go home. But with the work that we put in that day, our show will be so much better.

Hannah Todd, Senior

Jazzin' Up the Show. Our talented jazz band plays for our enjoyment during intermission at the Adopt-a-Project/Adopt-a-Family assembly.

We Are Family. Louise Douglas, Hannah Todd, and Becca Todd group together for a "family photo" before joining the rest of their "relatives" to perform at a football game.

Going Solo. Ryan Tucker performs a solo during one of the many volunteer performance the jazz band puts on. This one was held at a member's Methodist church.

Going in Style. Sam and David Olson show their school appreciation by appearing for one of the many home football games in their snazzy new uniforms to support our team through their music.

Leaders of the Pack. Drum majors Todd Mosebar, Ben McCarty, and Dan Zertuche prepare to lead the band into "battle" during one of the fall marching competitions.

"I'm So Pretty." Ben McCarty, drum major, happily dances after the marching band recieved a 72.3 at the Auburn Marching Competition.

And the Beat Goes On. Matt Gibeau, Kriss Sarton, Triston Ringer, Jeffery Gamez, Kin Bernath, Chris D'Abreau, Nick McCarty, Micheal Polson, and Brittini Cleaves, members of the drum line, warm up and calm their nerves before the Everett Marching Competition.

Lean On Me. Friends Colleen Brunell and Meg Grabler support each other during one of the many three hour after school marching practices.

A Day In the Life of A Band Member

Dear Journal,
It's Friday once again and thank God it is. This week I was really busy with band, football, and homework. Tuesday I had a playing test during concert band and I completely forgot my part. It's not that I don't have it memorized; it's just getting up in front of people bothers me, even with my fellow French horn players. Wednesday was really hectic because not only did I have marching practice but I also had football practice. Not a good combination considering how much homework I had. I really enjoy band but between school, sports, after school practice, and at-home practice, it becomes slightly stressful. But it's all worth it when we're in the field and we perform then afterwards the crowd is just roaring with applause.

HER STORY

GIRLS BOWLING

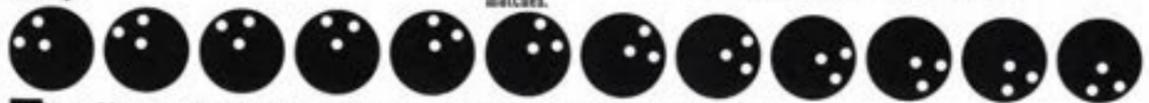

Ready, Set, Go! Renae, Anna, and Lauren stand on the approach, throwing some final balls in the nearly deserted Westside Lanes as practice goes on into the evening.

Beacon of Pride. The Lady Rams' bowling pin, decorated by Megan Libby, stands tall at the matches.

On the Road Again! Team members Brittaney, Renae, Tara, Lauren, Megan, Jackie, Meriyoma, and Leslie crowd into the back of the bus, getting set for yet another trip up to Paradise Lanes in Spanaway Lake.

The sudden sound of ten pins hitting the lane echoes throughout Westside Lanes Bowling Alley as the newest group of Lady Rams step up on the approach. This winter, Girl's bowling was offered to the gals of our school, and was greeted with grand enthusiasm. The members of the team meet three to four times a week at Westside, their home lanes. They work on strikes, the all important spare, and those tricky split shots that catch everyone off guard. But above all, they're there to have fun.

"My favorite part of bowling is watching peoples' faces as I walk off the approach after I throw my ball." Rebecca Uzareta

"I get to meet girls from all the other classes as I get to know them better." Kyla Ballentine

Fun and Games. Not all the girl's time is spent in strict practice. Megan Libby takes a break to Granny Bowl a frame or two at Westside Lanes.

VARSITY: Playing on Top

With a new coaching staff and a new attitude, the 2001-2002 North Thurston Girls Basketball team improved throughout the year. While the successes did not always show up in the win column the team stayed together and worked hard throughout the season. The girls worked especially hard on shooting, rebounding, and getting up and down the court. Along with seven returning varsity members, the team gained three players from JV. The greatest attribute to the team is that every girl gave it her all and never gave up.

Cheerleaders DON'T only exist on the sidelines and at Pep Assemblies. This year the cheerleaders kept themselves busy in the off season by having many commitments during the summer. Such as working in the concession stands at Safeco Field, marching in the annual Lakefair Parade, and in the annual Santa Parade of Downtown Olympia. They've placed SECOND at the annual Cheer and Dance competition and will continue competing in many more local cheer competitions. They are involved in many fundraisers such as car washes held at Dairy Queen, Top Foods, Albertsons, and Cut Rate. They've continued their annual Garage Sale at Mountain View Elementary, and they've also participated in the annual Cancer Run, held here at North Thurston. Not only are they the cheerleaders for the Rams, they're also the cheerleaders for the Firemen at the annual Fire & Ice Basketball Game, where the Policemen challenge the Firemen. So, the next time you see a cheerleader, remember all the skill, time & commitment it takes to be one!

The other FOOTBALL

The girls' varsity team had a great season, despite graduating six seniors last year. We qualified for districts, but lost a tough game to Ft. Vancouver. We had a lot of young players with different skill levels, but the team played with enthusiasm and heart. Congratulations girls and good luck next year.

All Geared Up!

It doesn't just take talent to play soccer, it also takes the right GEAR!

(Modeled by Nicky Engle)

To look the part of a Thurston soccer player you must sport the purple and white jersey.

You'll also need the bright purple shorts complete with the Thurston logo.

In order to brave the cold weather tall socks are all too necessary.

In case you take a beating you'll need shin guards.

Step-by-Step: Tiffany does a little dancing and fakes out her opponents.

Up Up and Away: Goalie Beth Wolfstein punts the ball as far as possible to help the team gain an advantage.

Concentration: Karen Survis contemplates her move before passing the ball off to her teammates.

Out of this world: Erin Terhune skyrockets the ball into the air over the heads of all her competitors.

The J.V. girls soccer season was a good one, with many goals scored by Katie Fierst, Julie Sorensen, and Kelsey Marmion. Beth Wolfstein also had a lot of saves in goal for the J.V. Rams. The captains Nicky Engle and Julie Sorensen led their team through many tough, but hard fought games.

Juggling their Time

AQUA WOMEN. At home in the water, our team swims together to relieve stress, have fun, achieve the goals they come into the season with and support each other through trying and emotional times.

WALKING ON...AIR? Amy Maples is caught in mid-air doing a fantastic pencil dive. Amy made it all the way to state this year because of her incredible speed in relay.

What was Your Worst Moment During the Swimming Season?

"My worst moment was in the 100 breast-stroke I was really sick and I kept messing up my turns and I didn't beat my best time at that meet."
-Darby Moeller

"My worst moment was when I hurt my back and I couldn't dive anymore."
-Erin Offord

"I had just finished the 500 when Sylvia walked up to me and told me that I was in her 400 relay. I was so tired from the 500 and I had to swim four more laps. I could barely move."
-Elizabeth Chanza

WILD THING. An indistinct Erin Offord does an awesome roll off the diving board. Although she didn't make districts in diving due to a concussion, Erin did go to districts in the 50 freestyle swim.

LIFE SAVERS. Team captain Amy Olsen and team member Darby Moeller are goofing off after one of the sometimes stressful swim meets. Both of these "life savers" made districts and supported all of their teammates throughout the season.

2nd Row: Farrah Rinehart, Emily Rers, Coach Barclift, Amy Maples, Elizabeth Chanza, Janae Parman, Silvia Lunt
3rd Row: Hannah Brunwick, Andrea Gallup, Chardonay Knight, Kim Owens
4th Row: Andrea Snobl, Melissa DeVol, Leah Terhune, Christina Vancamp, Jennifer Stretch

SPLISH SPLASH. Stacey Stewart paddles backward during one of the many swim meets. Because of her unbeatable backstroke, Stacey made districts this year.

BOBBIN' ALONG. Friends Darby Moeller and Andrea Snobl skate through the water together during a short break during a meet. Darby went to districts this year in 100 breast stroke and Andrea went both to districts and state.

ROCKIN' THE BOAT. Proud, joyous, and slightly relieved, Melissa DeVol, Christina Vancamp, Amy Olsen, and Andrea Snobl are ready to celebrate and relax after they all won at the state swimming championship.

Our lady Rams swim team definitely made waves this year when all of the team made districts and a good number of them made state. Through tough times, disappointments, and suspenseful victories, these young women support each other and create strong bonds throughout the swimming seasons. Our team deserves much applause for their dedication and outstanding accomplishments.

The 2001 Cross Country team did not have a full team so we were unable to score at any of our meets. However, we always had runners in the top 10 at every race and every team member saw a dramatic improvement in their race times. Katie Kvaternik finished 13th at Districts which sent her to the state meet in Yakima.

-Mrs. Perry

"The most improved members of the team are Nicole Wingate and Nate Sladek. Nicole is also the most inspirational." - Mrs. Perry

Through the woods! Out amongst the trees, Nate Sladek pushes himself to finish.

Taking a break! Kelley Thompson, Lindsay Burgener, Katie Kvaternik, and Nicole Wingate rest together as a team after a tiring meet.

You can do it! Looking a little tired, Lindsay Burgener comes around the corner.

What's the toughest thing about cross country?

"Running the last mile of the race."
-Kelley Thompson

How do you get yourself psyched up?

"I sing to myself, 'Nice Guys Finish Last' by Green Day."
-C.J. Evans

Up the hill! Alton Alexander practices running up the Thurston Hill.

Almost there! Katie Kvaternik crosses the bridge in the lead!

SPEEDO BANDITOS

Bringing Home The Gold. Seniors Nathan Bowman and David Olson parade their glory after the team placed fourth in districts. Both Nathan and David went on to conquer state this year.

Muscle Men. Watch out ladies! A few members of our team set hearts a-flutter as they show off their impressive muscular attributes brought on by many laps around the pool and aid in the defeat of their opponents

Monster Bash. Senior swimmers David Olson, Colin Montgomery, Jonas Norling, Dion Jardine, and Nathan Bowman dress up for an unofficial pre-season Halloween team spirit day. These undercover Banditos are comrades in crime both in and out of the regular season and are notorious for their sense of humor and outstanding swimming abilities.

Locker room Mayhem. Our Speedo Banditos sprawl, sit, and just laze about after coming out victorious at one of their many meets.

Lords of the Pool. Nathan Bowman, Ryan Egolf and David Olson stand aside in a slightly amused and confused manner as Matt Oram does his Michael Flatley impression.

Shower Power. An assortment of swimmers cram into the showers after practice, aggressively displaying their lack of fear of their future opponents in the upcoming meets.

Our Speedo Bandito swim team captured many victories this year. From winning over half their meets to placing fourth at districts and eleventh at state, our team struck fear into hearts of competitors. This year Nathan Bowman, Matt Oram, David Olson, and Ryan Egolf made it to state. The people to be watching out for next year are Jeff Krier, Alex Walsted, Tori Kiekhaefer, and Andy Lingley on freestyle, butterfly, breaststroke, and backstroke. You may have noticed our team by their bleached hair and the outrageous costumes they donned on Halloween. No one could miss these Banditos in or out of the pool. We congratulate them on their astounding triumphs and wish them the best of luck for next year.

This year's team turned many heads during their exciting season. Their growing number of victories noticeably exceeded last years. Achievement this year includes Brian Chat, David Roberts, Chris Keeney, Brandon Shetlin and Ryan Woodson making it to the regional competition. To get there they placed first through fifth in the sub regionals. We congratulate them on their improvements and victories. We also hope they achieve their goals of taking first next year at tournament.

Serving Up Aces

Over the fence? Reid Psaltis follows through on an intense serve that gets points.

Ready position! Ben Alexander and Logan Schaetzel-Hill wait for a serve at the beginning of practice.

Going forward! Alex Walstead runs up, getting ready to hit a cross-court winner.

Making 'em pay! Jonas Norling returns a strong serve at a cold October practice.

Winning the league, this year's tennis team had a fantastic season. The league score was 12-0. The team sent two doubles teams and two singles to districts, and also sent Jon Brodin to state.

Congratulations, guys!

Reach to the sky! Sam Green, motivated to score, jumps off the court to do an overhead.

Where's the racket? Andy Lingley is returning a serve so fast, you can barely see his racket.

Chat it up! Jonas Norling and Sam Green discuss tennis strategies while waiting for practice to start.

Working for the point! Kentaro Sakaido is expertly following through on an overhead.

Approaching the net! Ethan Whitesel-Jones lobs the ball back to his opponent.

Over the fence! Someone's going to have to go after that one!

Team: Jon Brodin, Alex Walstead, Colin Montgomery, Andy Lingley, Brett Feero, Ethan Whitesel-Jones, Sean Bolin, Logan Schaetzel-Hill, Ben Alexander, Jay Sim, Joash Brodin, Reid Psaltis, Hien Duong, Dylan Montgomery, Kim L. What practice technique helps you most in a match?

"Playing doubles with approach, it's a 'drill game.'
- Reid Psaltis

What is your strongest swing and how did you develop it?

"My forehand. I developed it through a lot of practice."
- Logan Schaetzel-Hill

Varsity Football

Takin' Them Down: The Rams attack with such strength and speed that the opposing team has no chance of winning.

Dog Pile: The Ref goes to see if the ball has made it past the yard line to clarify if the Rams have made a first down.

Nothing but Now: As defense changes to offense the Rams are only concentrating on the game.

Rough Play: Brent Murphy not only tackles his opponent, but he smears him in the ground too!

Like the Wind: There goes Alex Pittlekau running out of the grasp of the opposing team.

Waiting for the glory: The Rams edge the oncoming Hawks to take the ball for a down.

Three to One: Three of the Rams take down a defenseless opponent in the last seconds of the game to secure their win.

A Little Help Please?: As a Ram lineman gets taken down his teammates help out with the rest of Black Hills.

1,2,3 RAMS: The Frosh boys huddle before the game and get psyched to beat their enemies.

A Little R&R: The J.V. football team focuses and relaxes on the ride to a tough game.

Intense pressure, that is what the Ram football team felt at the beginning of this season. There was the pressure to perform and live up to their reputation after last season's finish. After placing third in state at last years' competition, the football team was fired up to do their best. However most of the starting line up had graduated and the Rams had to work with a building team. Their perseverance, hard work, and improvement showed from the first game to the very last. Captain Evan Zander said, "Because we only had 5 returning starters, we had a lot of inexperienced players in important positions. They showed a lot of improvement over the season. As a senior captain it was fun to see young players step up and make big plays".

Talk about the air up there! Chris Reichert goes for a 3-pointer during the winning game against Liberty.

All of our boys basketball teams did an outstanding job this year. All of their hard work and efforts were greatly appreciated throughout the many games and practices they had through the season. The Varsity team did a stellar job. They had many close calls and many victories, almost making districts. J.V. also did an amazing job. They put their awesome basketball skills to the test. Along with the other teams, C-team demonstrated their abilities which helped lead them to many wins. The wonderful Freshman team may be the youngest, but they still possess quality techniques which helped them secure several wins.

Brianna Zink, will Ryan Zink my vocal chords and my driving skills. Also to Miriam Pollard the ability to go to McDonalds whenever she pleases! And to jump on the trampaline in the rain.

JUNGLE

This winter, Sadies was a surprising adventure. Although the theme was "Jungle Paradise," nobody was thinking palm trees on Jan. 26, 2002! It was more a "winter wonderland" that forced Sadies to get cancelled & rescheduled for Feb. 8, 2002.

JANUARY 26, 2002

Jason and Makaila Phillips

A Freshman Clan

Micah Starks and Jackie

C.J. Merten and Rachel Cramer

Kaylyn Howell and Richie Slavin

Ann Jensen and Colin Montgomery

Home Away From Home. Isadora Pestana brings a little of the Brazilian Amazon to North Thurston's Sadies and shares it with Kylan Hughes and Aaron Belton.

Me Tarzan, You Jane. Seniors, Michelle Lipsker & Andrew

Petre took a wrong turn during their elephant ride to the tree house and ended up at Sadies!

Cory Thompson and Michele Winegar have a laugh as they boogie down!

I Do. Marriage is never something to be taken lightly...unless you are seniors Dinah Stephens and Evan Zander with Marryn' Sam saying your vows!

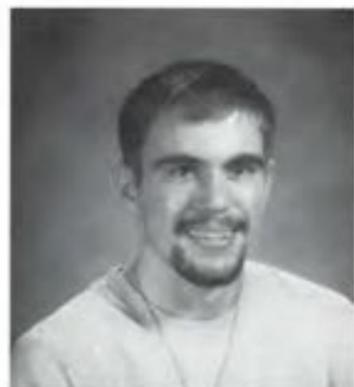

All Dolled Up. On their way to the dance, Jhaleh Akhavan and T.J. King get matching hair and accessories along with their rockin' shirts.

PARADISE

FEBRUARY 9, 2002

Once the dance was under way, the chilly outside was completely forgotten by the steamy jungle inside. Marryn' Sam brought many "animals" together with a beautiful marriage & ring for only $1.00 while others bared their teeth & growled for the camera!

HOW DID YOU CHOOSE YOUR SADIES OUT FITS?

"We randomly went through every shirt until Steph picked one. We were very indecisive!"
-Ben McCarty

"I picked out our outfits because I wear the pants!"
-Sam Dennis

CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF '02!

ONCE UPON A TIME...

Pretty, pretty dancing. Starting at a young age Stephanie Panlette, Kim Anderson, and Christy Caldwell demonstrate their marvelous dancing abilities while flaunting their beautiful tutu's.

Graduation day. With only 12 more years until high school graduation, Keleen Conway and Sarah Himbe display their long lasting friendship.

Ready for the big leagues. Always willing to take a picture, Dustin Doughty and Evan Zander take time out of their long, hard game to happily pose for their fans.

I got you babe. A quick flashback to the 70's Megan Libby and Haley Beach claim to be some of the biggest stars, Sonny and Cher.

Before North Thurston

Sun in your eyes? Taking a brief break from the game, Kellen Manke shows us his wonderful facial expressions.

Onward and upward. Dinah Stevens finds comfort on Erin's Shoulders as they continue the yearly tradition of signing yearbooks.

Too hot to handle. Deciding it was getting a little too warm, Jamie Decicio and Kayla Galaktianoff grabbed their shades and sarongs and whipped them on.

A Bug's Life. With too much spare time, Zack Frike displays his best impression of a bug.

Sparkling White. Stacy Mendelson and Eddie Smith are showing everyone that all you need to give is a hug to make someone smile.

Where's Waldo? Interrupting their vigorous search, Darby Moeller and Shane Whisler double take to make sure the camera man wasn't the real thing.

Can you believe it? Look at how Emily Coss and Christine Christensen have turned into smart and diligent students here at North Thurston.

Now and THEN. Not only did Brent Murphy and Brian Burmester act like tough guys back then, but you should check them out now.

SLIDIN' ON IN

Our varsity team completed an undefeated regular season at 18-0. We were the number one seed into the district play-offs. Our JV team finished their season 14-1-2 and our Frosh team was 14-2.

"Winning because there's no point to play not to win."
-Brandon Traynor, 10

How does baseball inspire you?

"Winning games with my best friends."
-Drew Nast, 10

"My biggest inspiration in baseball is to do my best. Just remember to give 110% and if you can give more, then do it."
-Galen Andrews, 10

"My biggest perk in baseball is getting to hang out with a future Hall of Famer whose initials are B.T."
-Andrew Wilson, 10

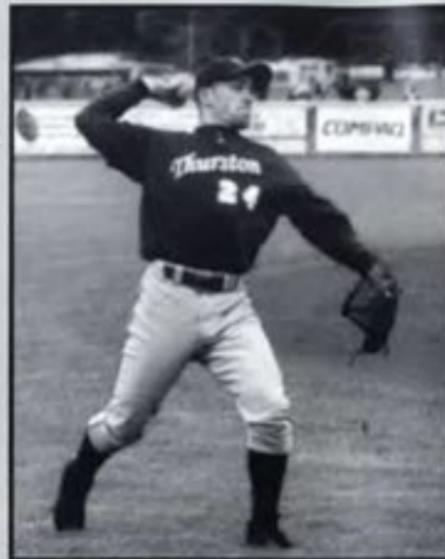

"My biggest perk for baseball is hanging out with the boys."
-Joel Nelson, 10

"My biggest perk in baseball is learning new techniques from the more skilled players, like A.W."
-Mike Polson, 10

What's the biggest perk being in baseball?

Faster!
Alex Pittelkau throws the ball into home hoping that he'll get it there in time.

n' FIELD

Did the season start out as you thought it would?

"No, the season didn't start the way I thought it would because I was sick at the beginning of it."
-Dezmon Cole, 11

"No, I thought I'd do bad at the first few meets, but I did pretty well."
-Kimberly Robin, 11

"No, the season started out very well for the team and I was surprised and really happy!"
-Katie Kvaternik, 10

So far, what has been the best meet?

"The best meet for me so far was the meet at Tumwater against Tumwater and Aberdeen because it was sunny and I tried pole vaulting."
-Jack Imperial, 10

"The home meet against T-line and River Ridge because they're our biggest rivals and I love to see their faces when we beat them."
-Julie Sorensen

"The meet that I beat Andrew Bailey in the 200 meter and 4x400...that was almost every meet, but the Tumwater meet was the best."

Getting Started. Ashley patiently plans out the precise swing that would send her ball near the putting green.

Fluid Motion. Katrina gets into a comfortable stance that would allow her to follow through with her swing.

The 2002 girls golf team comprised of eight members, put up with rain, wind and snow to start off their season. On the competition platform they showed exceptional qualities of teamwork and perseverance. Some of their matches had to be cancelled due to the unexpected weather but that never weakened their spirits and love of the game. When there was an interrupted game each player gave it her all to bring the team closer to championships.

Ashley Holman, Katrina Cooper, Kelly Thompson, Shannon Zech, Kim Anderson, Tamara Carley, and Shawna Howe

Five years from now, what will you remember about the golf team?

"HeeHee, Tamara and Mr. Brown knows...my famous 'moose call and oh yeah Kelly and Shannon 'Hermie.'"

-Niki Galaktianoff

"I will remember the in 2 putt practice, the singing, changing in cars, the mouse calls and my first par."

-Shawna Howe

"I will always remember the fun times and laughs especially with our pond at Vicwood with 'ca-pay.'"

-Katrina Cooper

"I'll always remember that first hole at Vicwood with 'Apjay' and Jupiter's 7880th time around Earth on the 9th hole."

-Ashley Holman

Approaching the Net

With several seniors gone this year and many freshmen joining the team, girls tennis received an entirely new and enthusiastic line-up, in addition to a new coach, Fred Reed. Although the team's record varied from last years, the Lady Rams still combined their persistence and high energy to play hard and win matches! The Lady Rams also want to thank the students and parents who came to watch and support them on the courts this year. Coach Reed, assistant coach Candy O'Rear, and varsity players plan to make everyone at NTHS proud when the sub-district tournament comes up in May. At the end of the year, the team will be sad to see seniors Michelle Nguyen and Katie O'Rear step down from their first and second singles' positions, but they wish both girls good luck for the future. Copy provided by Annie Ly

A Lesson to Remember. Coach Reed gives some pointers to the JV girls that will help them with power and accuracy.

Serves Up. Meagan Rendon starts the game with an accurate serve that would make it impossible for her opponent to hit back.

Checking In. Kim, Elise, Chialiu, Ashley, Celine, Sabrina, Rachael, and Sharda surround assistant coach, Candy, to make sure they are not marked as missing.

Right Back at You. Caitlin has only a few seconds to plan the exact angle at which to hit the ball.

What skills do you think are essential for playing tennis?

"Keep your eye on the ball and always have a bright and shining attitude!"
-Celine Gorski

"Control your swing and stay focused."
-Krystal Barkus and Tessa Johnson

"Hitting the ball on the court."
-Kelsey Marmion

Are You Ready for This? Chau stands in the ready position to prepare herself for the game.

A Job Well Done. Annie gives Nouth a thumbs up after they successfully scored a victory over the opposing team.

On Your Mark. Emily waits for her partner to serve and start the game.

Let's Begin. Coach Reed instructs Ashley how to serve the ball into the required serving square.

Three Heads Are Better Than One. Michelle plus Annie equals Chau But, the invincible varsity trio.

We've Got Contact. Katie runs up to the ball to hit it back at her opponent.

It's Only a Game. Michelle shows what she's got returning a ball with optimum force.

Coach Reed of the 2002 girls' tennis team

Give it Your All. Nouth runs up to the ball and maneuvers it straight back at her competitor.

Lovin' the Game

"We had a couple new people, but we came together as a team and had a lot of fun." "Together we can!"

From Captains Stephanie Lemon, Pam Stephens, and Jennifer Deyette

The 2002 North Thurston softball team was a close-knit group that was led by Seniors Jennifer Deyette, Pam Stephens, and Stephanie Lemon. Pam Stephens continued right where she left off last season leading the team in many offensive categories including batting average. Jennifer Deyette is a four-year starter that has started every game of her high school career as catcher for the varsity; this is quite an accomplishment as catcher, for it is a very demanding position. Sophomore ace pitcher Catie Gagnon has continued to pitch well, and seems to have improved over the last season where she was selected the second team all league pitcher. Through the many ups and downs of the season the 2002 fastpitch team stuck together and focused on having fun and progressing. Both Coach Myers and Coach Gentry were very impressed with how well the girls united. While the seniors will be missed, the coaches are looking forward to next season with a good nucleus of players returning.

Strike them out! Catie Gagnon pitches another one for varsity while on their way to a victory.

What do you do to get pumped up for a game?

"During warm-ups we talk about our goals and how bad we want to beat the other team."
Tara Fouts

"Our coach, Mr. Benson, helps us get pumped up, is very helpful and is like one of the kids."
Sarah Gronewald

Tropical

Walking through the doors of North Thurston on Tolo night, the atmosphere changes from a frigid evening to a tropical milieu. Pictures were done by Josie, with a glimmering paradise setting. The D.J. played everything from the birthday song to rap to the electric slide to country and oldies.

Aloha NTHS! Kassi Mallotte and Jeff Hunt look great, dressing for the tropical theme of the dance.

Are we having fun yet? Bryce Warning, Stacey Mendelson, Brianna Zink, and Heather Birge express their exotic side.

Night

Hugs are free! Friends Carolyn McCarthy and Pat McBride take a break from dancing to share a friendly hug.

Along with suns and palm trees, observed at the dance were Hawaiian halter dresses, flip-flops, and knee-high boots. Concluding the affair were non-traditional party favors: lei's, cocktail umbrellas, and beach balls.

Hey ladies! Mike Anderson does a groovy dance that attracts the attention of all the girls.

1. Susan Deuell and Shawn Boehm. 2. Bradley Layaoen and friends. 3. Jamie Lee and Alex Walstead. 4. Krystal Culver and friend. 5. Hannah Todd and date, Stephanie Foglia, and Forest Baker. 6. Shelby Fia, Josh Woolf, and Monique Maxwell.

THE ACTORS:

THE PLOT:
Picnic is a dramatic play that paints a picture of a small town Kansas family and the world they live in. Each character participates in the struggle for happiness and their own personal identity. The problems they face are difficult issues that change their lives through the course of the play. The characters wrestle with themselves and learn their lessons from life, and in doing so they teach us all something about ourselves.

Left: Shelly Ivey and Kim Owens have a discussion as mother and daughter.
Right: Colin Montgomery and Nate Kirkwood try to remember their lines.

RIGHT: Mike Hill and Hanna Kitterman's characters Howard and Rosemary ponder what it will be like to be married.

THE CAST AND CREW:

Congratulations to Seniors Kim Owens, Nate Kirkwood, Pat Connolly, Bridgette Valdez, Gina Salerno, and Colin Montgomery for their last production with NTHS!

SPRING BREAK...

...came this year as a welcomed vacation away from the rigor of the spring semester. Although the weather didn't compare to vacation hot-spots, most students were able to find their own retreats from the anxieties of the average school week. Some went near the equator and ventured down to Mexico, others stayed closer to home and took trips to Oregon and California, but the majority of students stayed home. Despite the less than tropical weather, Spring Break provided a much needed and fun respite from everyday life.

Believe it or Not. Shayne and Lauren Myer travel down to Newport, Oregon to visit the Ripley's Believe it or Not Museum to experience the strange, but true.

Where's the Sun? Xela Robert's and Kassi Mallotte wanted the sun, but ended up braving the cold and windy weather in Westport Beach.

Girls Night Out. The Junior girls took time away from any Y-chromosomes and bonded with each other over the famous Red Robin sundae.

Don't Fall In! Ashley Hoyle and Brandt Hollingshead risk their lives just to pose for a picture at Spokane Falls.

A Fantastic Time. Amanda VanOrsdol meets fear head on while riding the Scrambler at the Funtastic Carnival at the South Sound Mall.

Down in the Dunes. Just about to set up their tents for the night, these seniors take a snapshot before they unload the gear.

Shake Your Groove Thang. Seniors Heather Barnes, Kim Owens, and Emily Reus take control of Coyote Ugly in Cabo San Lucas, Mexico.

The Big Apple. Visiting her dad in New York, sophomore Lindsey Balder stands on 42nd Street in Time Square.

MOVING on UP

Congratulations to all of the NTHS staff retiring in the 2001-2002 school year! You will be missed and best of luck in the future.

Nancy Beaulieu has been a staff member at North Thurston for 20+ years as our office professional in the counseling center. She thinks she will miss the students and staff the most and her favorite memories are all the notes that she receives from thankful students. Ms. Beaulieu plans to relax, learn to play golf, and pursue a new small business career.

"Nancy is always ready to listen to a good story or tell one of her own. Over the years, she has fielded any number of 'amazing, but true' stories!"
-The Counselors

Bill Bassett has been an English teacher at North Thurston for 28 years and also taught drama for a few years. He also taught at Timberline for two years. Bassett plans to travel, and maybe eventually work part time after his retirement. He thinks the daily interaction with students and staff will be missed. His favorite quote is, "There are ___ more days until ___ break" which is continually on his white board!

"Mr. Bassett introduced me to the love of Mr. Bean and it's a shame the underclassmen will never get to understand."
-Ryan Egolf

Julia Collins has been teaching English as a Second Language for seventeen years at NTHS. She plans to travel all over the world after retirement and enjoy each day. She will miss her ESL students a great deal and will always remember watching them at graduation.

"Frau Kiolet has done much more than teach me about Germany. She took me there. Frau's influence has changed my life. I can never thank her enough."
-Gina Salerno

Jim Cummins has been a science teacher at NTHS for 25 years and has been teaching for 30. He plans to retire in style to his beach home and will miss the kids because they keep him young. Mr. Cummins will never forget the faculty parties, especially a former principal doing the "alligator" while lying on the floor!!

"Mr. Cummins is extremely intelligent, has great lectures, and works well with students. His class is always hands on."
-Daniel Lenard

Lauren Kiolet has taught German, Russian, Spanish, and typing class over a span of 30 years at North Thurston. She will miss the students the most, but will definitely not miss the numerous evacuation drills on cold, windy days.

Every year we hold elections where very special people compete for the various positions of class officers. Although we notice the creative posters during election time, do we really know what a class historian or secretary does? From our President to Historian, these few students strive to make our student life easier, our memories clear and keep a sense of unity constant among fellow classmates. We thank them for their accomplishments this year.

Class of 2003

 Jennie Beatey, Homecoming Representative
 Ronna Reed, Class Advisor

Outgoing

If you thought that our homecoming representatives simply add in their two bits for just one dance, then you would be wrong. Not only do they represent their entire class in the decision for the homecoming theme, but they have to represent their class' wants. They also give ideas for many other dances that our school has, including Prom. They attend all the meetings held and give their much valued opinions.

We've all heard of the stereotypical cheerleader: giggly, bouncy, and rapid, although those kind are few and far between at this school. But what does a class cheerleader do? Is it required for them to be on the cheerleading squad? Not necessarily. It is the job of the class cheerleader to raise our spirits and help us achieve a higher amusement factor during pep assemblies. They attend student council meetings and strive to make our time at this school as boredom-free as possible.

Brianna Zink was elected the Funniest of the class officers.

Brian Burmester was elected the Most Inspirational.

In honor of the class elections, we held our own. The choices were Funniest, Most Outgoing, Most Inspirational, and Most Responsible. The ballots were given to all of the class officers and these were the results:

Marissa Jones's great achievements won her the Most Responsible.

Heather Birge's great people skills gained her the title Most Outgoing.

Up, Up, and Away. It's a bird! It's a plane! No, it's Tony Archibeque performing a Superman in Beaverton. "When I learn a new trick or land something new, it's better than anything," he comments.

On the Edge. At Crystal Mountain in the North Back country, Logan Schatzel Hill does what he loves best. "I like skiing because of the adrenaline rush, freedom, and jumping off of big things."

Airborne. Sophomore John Purcell flies sky high doing a 180 degree safety in Montana. He enjoys skating because of the difference from other sports and how it's unique in its own way.

Over the Rainbow Rail.

Ben Laws executes a 50-50 railslide at Stevens Pass. Ben believes that "The hardest part about snowboarding is style. If you don't have it, you're garbage."

Walking on Sunshine. Although Michael Borgus doesn't compete, he obviously is high on his sport. Mike has been skating as a hobby for one year and plans on continuing in years to come.

Going Out

Start Your Engines! Adam Graham and Richard Sheen begin an exciting race at Seattle International Raceway. Adam had never raced before but was able to pull through with a glorious win.

Championship Fever. Jamie Hena and her companion, Little Bit Rusty, take a break after a long day at the Western Equestrian. In 2001, Jamie received the Thurston County Senior Overall High Point Buckle. She says that she rides "because it is a lot of fun. It can be really relaxing."

From skiing to horse riding to skate boarding to snowboarding, there are many different sports that people participate in outside of school. Some join these sports for the adrenaline rush while others join for the sheer pleasure of the outdoors. These athletes spend hours perfecting their techniques and learning new moves. They take great joy in their accomplishments and inspiration from their failures. These few people who display bravery and daring are here being recognized for their amazing talents.

Horse Sense. Laneise Dyjack shows horses at a world level for the American Faint Horse Association. Laneise says that "the best part of showing horses is the goals and achievements one can make. My ultimate goal is to be a world champion."

Nature Walk. Our outdoor/science club, show their lust for adventure as they travel by snowshoe to Nisqually Glacier Overlook in order to acquire knowledge about sub alpine life.

Rockin' the Local Scene!

Interview with Carrie Brownstein of the widely known band Sleater-Kinney!

Why support NTHS bands?

How often is it heard in the morning announcements that you should go out and support your local bands? They may not be a school sponsored program, but they still deserve recognition. That's why the NTHS yearbook staff has decided to do just that this year!

Two heads are better than one... so just imagine how great it must be to have three or even four creative minds coming together to form an imaginative work of art! Playing music with other people can be a grueling test of endurance, especially if you're the ones writing the music, not to mention performing live.

More and more bands are arising in the high school community everyday, and also more and more people are coming out to support them at their shows. We encourage everyone to support our students' bands... but most of all, we encourage our students to keep making music and to keep rockin' the local scene!

NTHS: Who were some of your main influences growing up?
Carrie Brownstein: Musically, I would say the Ramones, The B-52's, The Jam, Patti Smith, & The Replacements. Those were the bands I discovered my sophomore year of high school and they changed my life.

NTHS: How old were you when Sleater-Kinney was first formed?

CB: I was 20 years old.

NTHS: Was it your first band?

CB: No, I was in a band in high school (with a horrible name that I won't mention). I was also in a band called Excuse 17 when I first moved to Olympia.

NTHS: Where was Sleater-Kinney's first gig?

CB: It was in Sydney, Australia.

NTHS: What would you say has had a larger impact on your life, music or school?

CB: Both. School was always important to me, especially college. It was a time to engage with other people on an intellectual level and to have the opportunity to explore a variety of subjects while being in a space that allowed me to discuss my ideas and discoveries w/ other people.

Music on the other hand was important because it brought me out of my shell. It was very cathartic for me and it allowed me to connect w/ people on a more visceral level... Being creative is a really crucial aspect of our lives. It's important to honor that side of yourself as much as you do the academic side.

NTHS: How do you feel about your band's growth since it first started?

CB: I am very proud of the success we have had. We have worked very hard over the years and we have managed to accomplish things on our own terms...

NTHS: What advice can you give to young bands just starting out?

CB: Playing in a band takes a lot of work and discipline. There are many aspects of it that are purely fun but it always requires tenacity and dedication. Don't change what you do to please others or you'll most likely regret it. Take risks, and have honesty and integrity in your songs. Also, remember not to measure success by money or fame; it's better to measure it by how happy you are about what you're doing. Stay true to yourself. Good luck!

Special thanks to Maggie Vail @ Kill Rock Stars Records!

Q: How did you come up with your band name?

"Eric thought a band had the word 'tentacles' in their name and said it was cool, but he just read the name wrong. So we used that in our name along with TV, the most important thing in life."

-A.J. Allen
TV Tentacles

"A voice spoke to us through the heavens saying that our name shall be Irritant and that we shall spread the Good News."

-Steve Donovan
Irritant

"It took us all night to come up with it. We used a thesaurus and a couple gallons off coffee to help us. We plan on changing it soon."

-Jason Kilgore
Minor Upshot

Our Bands...

Thanks to all the bands for making this page possible. Everyone keep an eye out for these bands this summer!

The yearbook staff would also like to recognize This Machine, even though they were not featured on this page.

Sophomore Jason Kilgore (drums) and his band, Minor Upshot. Zack Pattin of Olympia HS plays guitar and Dan Schales of South Sound HS plays bass.

Shown is a crowd rocking their faces off to the wacky tunes of the TV Tentacles. Eric Nishioka plays guitar, AJ Allen plays drums, & Pete Gibney of Chinook plays the bass guitar.

Q: Where do you see your band in five years?

"Nowhere. We'll be in separate bands because we will become too good and the government will relocate us."
-Dion Jardine
Irritant

"I see us up on stage singing for millions of people and working hard for what we love."
-Toni Morrow
No Myseri

"In five years we'll be playing at weddings and children's birthday parties."
-Javier Evans

Art From the Heart

"I can express myself in another way besides punching the wall or doing something to hurt someone." ~Jazaad Feroze

"Being able to put my imagination on paper for others to see." ~ Jenn Gosk

"I'm able to show a lot of things that words simply couldn't describe. The language of art is limitless in what it can say." ~ Katie Day

"That you can draw something that you like, or something that inspires you." ~Mary Santiago

"Art is about being able to express your dreams, possible or impossible." ~ Sarah Mellgren

Everyone expresses themselves in various ways, whether it's through drawing, pottery, bead work, or music. This page shows just a few precious works by very talented artists at our school. These artists' works touch our souls in ways we could never have imagined. They make us laugh, cry, and think of ways we could make this world a better place. Their works are mere paragraphs in their life stories and we appreciate them sharing these intimate pieces of themselves with us.

What is your favorite part about being an artist?

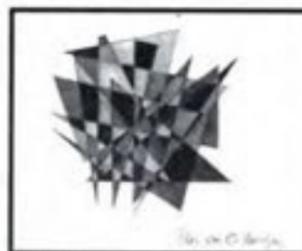

"I love to portray my feelings through what I draw." ~Kim Shulla

Ms. Vanderhoof's beginning Color and Design students created these colorful murals on real hard-boiled eggs.

"I love art because it's an easy and creative way to express yourself." ~Haneen Ahmad

"My favorite part about being an artist is that my art doesn't have to be perfect in order to make me feel good about myself." ~ Clarissa Handy

"It is satisfying to see something you have created come out looking so good." ~ Kim Shish

Just Our Style

Workin' Duds. Jessie Clarke and Aaron Brown pose for the crowd in their new sturdy work clothing.

Ms. Nagel leads everyone on as the Fashion Advisor with her cheerful smile.

Casual is the Key. Genevieve Lowe shows us that you don't have to be fancy, just comfortable as Tyler Johnson poses on her other side with his stylin' shades.

Clothing and Design is more than a class and a club for the fashionably inclined. This year alone they've donated hats and scarves to the Adopt-A-Project, held a book drive for children, and created various costumes for the community. They also created their own clothing. Anything from prom dresses to pajama pants strolled down the catwalk on the bodies of both the designers and ready volunteers during the annual Fashion Show. These talented creators have an art of their own that really adds to the diversity of our school.

Fun Fashion. Ryane Bensley grins as she turns to head off stage while Tessa Johnson looks on.

Pagent Princess. Stephanie Lemon twirls by the hand of Eric Guyette as they show off their elegant wear.

Sublime Design

The Submerge design of the group was created by Katie Onstott and hangs proudly over their work station.

This year, Katie Onstott, Rebecca Unzueta, Brandi Cunniff, Charity Moses, and Tracy Teschner have embarked on a whole new designing adventure. They call themselves Sublime Design. The five former fashion students spend their fourth period designing a formal dress using Mr. Kaufman's computers and a computer program called Dress Shop. The girls have been at the project since March. Teschner, who will be wearing the dress, said that they've all really enjoyed the challenge. "The hardest part," Unzueta related, "was getting the program to do what we wanted."

In the Spot Light. Devin West takes the catwalk in a dashing suit while Rebekah Reber stands in the spot light, showing everyone her shining style.

Night on the Town. Brandy Nachatilo's smile is as sparkling as her sleek short-cut dress. She looks ready to hit all the fashionable night clubs.

Piecing It Together

Excuse me, are you working? Emily pretends to be editing her page, but instead takes a break and gets into a magazine.

Dishing it out: Tu lectures the class on what needs to be done in order to make the pending deadline.

Time Crunch: Carleigh and Carolyn stress out trying to get all their work done on the deadline day.

How do they do that??

Every page in the yearbook is designed and put together by students, but what does it take to go from the drawing board to the yearbook?

1. Drawing it out: Gina and Jason sketch their beginning designs for their layout on a grid sheet.

2. Entering it in: Terry takes the design from her grid sheet and recreates it on the computer.

3. Photo Shoot: Clarissa tries to focus in on the action and take a prize winning picture for her page.

4. Sending it in: Aja labels all her pictures and the envelope to send her page off to Jostens.

5. Checking things over: Ms. Winiacki looks over the pages that have come back for correction, a.k.a. proofs, to see if there were any mistakes overlooked.

Gina Salerno is another driving force behind our computer work. She enters, revises, and prints the pages to aid us all in our progress. She is always taking on extra assignments to speed things along.

Terry Stephens and Carleigh Lorenz review all of the copy on each page and make revisions. We are lucky to have them because they have great ideas when the rest of us have writers block.

Tu Ong has played a major role in the creation of the book this year. She enters the layouts into the computer, and has logged countless hours of outside work. Tu is always willing to help out with a smile.

"Yearbook is a fun creative outlet for me. I get to make something that people care about and look forward to at the end of the year."
-Emily Iverson and Lynsey Bennet

Miel Bernath and Jason Kilgore have the job of the book photographers. They devote their time to taking pictures of sports, plays, and scatter stories. Miel and Jason also help design the pages of the book.

Chassidy Naputi & Darby Moeller share the title of editor. They lead the group, making sure everyone is on task and everything is running smoothly. The yearbook wouldn't survive without these two wonderful girls!

"What I enjoy most about yearbook is the creativity it requires and the different people who love what they do."
-Clarissa Handy and Lynnette Millar

Aja Dale works with the business side of yearbook. She deals with all the money that goes into and out of the yearbook, but that's not all! She still helps create layouts and write copy.

"Yearbook is always a new adventure every year. I especially enjoy working with the incredibly creative and diverse staff members."
-Ms. Winiacki yearbook advisor for 4 years.

"Yearbook is really tough and a lot of work, but in the end it's all worthwhile."
-Carolyn McCarthy

What Do You Enjoy The Most About America?

Ramis Djailibaev, Kyrgyzstan
 "I've discovered American people are great people who are always ready to help you in any situation...It was a good experience for me which I'll remember my whole life."

Our school has always been known for its diversity and this year is no exception. Aside from our regularly enrolled students, we have many students who are in the Foreign Exchange Program. This year, we have students from Sweden, Switzerland, Kyrgyzstan, Mexico, Thailand, Japan, and Brazil. The program is similar to the GAPP except the students are enrolled in our school for the entire year and participate in all in all school activities. This is not only an experience for them but for us as well, for while they learn new aspects of our culture they in turn teach us important areas of theirs.

Isadora Pestana - Brazil
 "Talking to this large amount of teens with different backgrounds, characteristics and opinions makes me feel this amazing cultural mix in the USA, just like we have in Brazil!"

Kentaro Sakaida - Japan
 "I feel that I am really free. I can choose my classes and students can drive to school if they have a license."

Lucia Gonzales - Mexico
 "Here at HG I have learned or done stuff that I had never thought of doing, like modeling at the fashion show, being on the bowling team, driving a tractor, and chain sawing in Mr. Sloan's class...It's just an experience that I will never forget!!"

In disguise.
 Isadora Pestana and her Brazilian friend Ju see the sights and party on in the Aladin casino in Las Vegas during spring break.

Jonas Sjöholm-Norling, Sweden.
 Andrea Snobl, Switzerland
 Ramis Djailibaev, Kyrgyzstan.
 Lucia Gonzales, Mexico
 Sivast Siriyasthana, Thailand.
 Chiaya Isogai, Japan
 Kentaro Sakaida, Japan
 Koichiro Nakamura, Japan
 Isadora Pestana, Brazil

Just chillin'.
 Lucia Gonzales and her friends get close as they see the sights in Seattle at the Spagetti Factory.

Party on. Dayo Anderson, Jacob Heitzman, Gina Salerno, Mike Anderson, Philipp Vestweber, Deborah Kirsch, Katherin Keil, and Genna Schafer break the language barrier during one of the many celebrations held in honor of the visiting Germans.

Teacher act.
 Dr. Rokouski, Frau Kiolet, and Frau Heinrichsen use the power of song to bring their students together.

Fond farewells. Our guests and their hosts sing their goodbyes on their last day together at our school and country.

GAPP. No, we aren't talking about clothes, we're talking about the German-American Partnership Program.

This program enables students from North Thurston and Kirchheim in Germany to visit each other's schools and countries annually. The program helps students understand each other's cultures. Frau Kiolet founded the program in 1992 and hopes it will continue for many years to come. GAPP students build lasting relationships between students in addition to its other educational properties.

High Spirits.
 Everyone lifts their spirits as Dominic Zakreis and David Mulkey show off their strength by lifting Erin Carlson above everyone's heads.

On a high note.
 Gina Salerno, Jenna Schafer, and Belinda Winters, say their goodbyes and imprint on their memories this joyful experience.

Traveling fun.
 GAPP students from our school visited Germany in July 2001 to become more familiar with the culture they've become so fascinated with in America.

Mall crawling.
 Former North Thurston student Laura Fox and student Gina Salerno show new comer Eike Dippel the vast cultural importance of the all-American mall.

The End of the Story Q1A5...

This year we have been through more than possibly any year before. We've had many firsts, many partings, and some things have just stayed the same. We have taken the joyous times with the sorrowful, the victories with the defeats, and the gains with the losses. And we've dealt with it all together. This short time in our lives, our high school years, gives us a brief glimpse at what life has to offer: beginnings, middles, and ends.

For all of us, the beginning of this year was filled with sorrow. We will all look back upon that infamous day of September eleventh and mourn the loss of the victims. We will hold on to those memories and pass them all on to the next generation, sharing with the youth of tomorrow the day of fear, triumph, defeat and victory.

This year may have begun with tears but we moved on to happier moments and are stronger from the experience. In the Winter/early Spring time of this year our school once again strove to aid others through charities and community services with perhaps more vigor than in years before. We've strived to aid others in need when we were still recovering from the shock and horror we felt in the beginning. We rose to new challenges, including the athletic type, and conquered our fears. Whether in victory or defeat we moved on from the midpoint of our year with heads held high and we wait to see what other obstacles await to be overcome.

And now it is the end. Not the end of our tale, but only a mere chapter. We are off to summer vacation or off to college filled with feelings of both anxiety and excitement. We will continue with our lives and look back upon our high school with a small laugh and perhaps a wistful sigh at how immature and naïve we once were. We will follow different paths, different story lines, to whatever future we can dream of. But for a small period of time our paths and stories were connected through this school, this experience. We can be secure in the knowledge that so many people have the same sweet and bitter memories we do. So even though this may be the end of this brief period of time, it will never truly be goodbye.

To better memories, to beginnings, middles, and ends. We wish you all the best for next year.
