TEPPING THROUGH SHADES OF PURPLE RAIN

Above: Hats off to seniors Sean O'Donnell and Dave McGourin who are sporting the exciting side of life on Hat and Tie Day during Spirit Week.

Right: Finding the time to do homework isn't always easy, but for junior Misty Weible, senior Leah Moro, sophomores Aimee Beaulaurier, DeLisa Reaid, and Deedee Herrera it's never a challenge.

This year's theme means many different things to us as a school. It reflects how people can look back on their experiences and discover different shades or aspects of life. These experiences each have a varying intensity in the memories they leave with a person as shades of purple within this book do. Moreover, the diversity of North Thurston High School creates unique personalities which are essential to the existence of a favorable community.

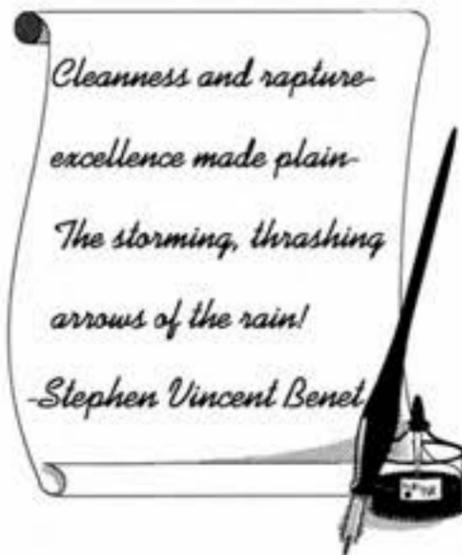

Since it rains often in Washington, we chose to use rain as a symbol of our lives. It represents stepping through reality, the good and the bad, pleasure and pain, happiness and sorrow. Even though the rain can sometimes be depressing, most of us don't realize the benefits that it brings to each of our lives. It's necessary for the growth and development of all life on earth.

"Whatever colors you have in your mind, I'll show them to you and you'll see them shine."

-Bob Dylan

We hope this book will remind you of events, memories, and feelings that you were a part of during the '93-'94 school year at North Thurston.

Cleanness and rapture-excellence made plain-

The storming, thrashing arrows of the rain!

-Stephen Vincent Benet

Above: Making fashion come alive, junior Kasie Jones irons a pair of shorts she has just finished making in clothing class.

Right: Hardwork? Yes. Many students, like senior Robert Paganini, spent a lot of hours after school perfecting their sport.

Below: Junior Deanne Peterson, a dance team member, runs into her mom who was escorting Deanne's sister at the Freshman Barbeque.

Above: Look at this, a short line at the pop machine—that's not something you see every day.

Different Shades of Life

What is student life? It's getting up early in the morning to come to school and going to Friday night football games! Sometimes it means getting pumped at a pep assembly or going to work. Some people enjoy skiing on weekends while others just like hanging out downtown. Student life is a variety of things to everyone. We asked a few students what they thought they would remember about life in high school in ten years, and here's what they had to say:

"I'll definitely remember all the attention from the girls."
-Jason Shilley, freshman

"How extremely hard it is to be a teenager. The feeling of being swamped."
-Aubree Deusen, junior

"Laughing and gabbing with all my friends until we lost control."
-Dyann Bentley, senior

Below: Junior Marty Lenoir puts his life on the line to save a pitchfork. He did this by welding it back together with a MIG welder.

Above: With a look of enthusiasm, the senior class shows their school spirit at a typical pep assembly for the varsity football game to be held that evening.

ummertime Fun

Ahhh the summer! When North Thurston High School got out last year, it was a free for all. Smiles and cheers came from all sides and summer had begun. Sunshine and the beaches? Not this rainy summer. We didn't see too many rays in the sky at the beginning but being with friends will always brighten a day.

Some people from North Thurston went to Europe to learn about different cultures. Whether you stayed at home with friends or did some traveling, we all know that summer was full of fun, relaxation, and for most of us, great memories that will never be forgotten.

Top: At senior Shannon Carlson's 17th birthday party she not only got balloons and a cake, but she also got a huge hug from senior Kira Wheeler.

Bottom: Sopping wet at the ocean front were seniors Jennifer Kydland and Deanna Godat during a summer tradition.

Below: On the streets of Paris, senior Steve Ellis shows his strength during a two week vacation in France. The picture was taken just before he ventured down to the metro station.

Just strike a pose! Seniors Shantal Pantohan and Becky Ohnemus show their stuff in a Paris subway station. Over the summer they got to spend two weeks in France with sixteen other students from NTHS. Along with visiting monuments and museums, they also spent five days with a host family in a small town called Reigner.

The Spanish class had a group venture through Mexico visiting Mexico City, Taxco, and Acapulco. Senior Michelle Lassley, graduate Mike Heath, and senior Wendi Hochhalter enjoy the sights.

"This summer I worked a lot with my dad. I went water skiing and jet skiing on Long Lake, and I went camping at Mt. Rainier in August. I also went swimming."
-Jeff Carlson, sophomore

"I went to Mexico where I went parasailing and snorkeling. I also got a lot of sleep. It was fun to be in the same school as my sister again."
-Aram Wheeler, freshman

ore Summer Fun

Summer will always be a time of freedom and rest from the hectic school year. That's why students are in such a hurry to break into the summer. North Thurston students seem to go crazy on the last day of school. Some students from North Thurston worked part time jobs, played sports, went on vacation, watched a lot of television, and best of all, went to parties! No matter what you do, remember to catch up on all the sleep you lost during the year and have fun!

esponsibilities

Many students at North Thurston High School experience what it is like to have a job. Some of the reasons for getting a job are the need for more money, paying for a car, or even supporting a family. The positions for jobs vary from fast food to volunteer work. For many people, finding a job can be a hassle. People have to find a place that is hiring, take a drug test, fill out an application, and complete many forms for the government. As the years pass on, more and more people are trying to find the job that they want.

Finding time to sort out the callers at the customer service booth in South Sound Mall, senior Tim Aquino looks bewildered.

Serving up humor in fast food, seniors Brian Salva and Richard Grondahl make sure that your food is hot and ready to go.

ore to Life than School

Not everybody is interested in just school activities. There's a wide variety of hobbies that the students of North Thurston take part in. There's horseback riding, beauty pageants, dancing, bungee jumping, windsurfing, and skiing to name a few. Having hobbies make life enjoyable. The different hobbies at this school create a more diverse student body. Uniqueness and fun have always been a theme here. What role do hobbies have in your life?

"Hobbies are what I am, you know."

-Chris Ellsworth, senior

"They keep a person busy and your mind open to other things."

P

urple, White, and things we like

The students of North Thurston have many differences. We are different in what we wear, what kinds of music we listen to, what T.V. shows we watch, and many other popular things. Clothing and hairstyle fashions change from person to person every year. More and more trends are brought back from previous generations. These will change in the future, too. Let's look at what's in for 1994!

TOP 5 MUSIC GROUPS

4. Boys II Men
3. Garth Brooks
2. Pearl Jam

The top five music groups at North Thurston High School vary in types of music and groups. These results were taken from a school wide survey.

TOP 5 SITCOMS

5. Beavis and Butthead
4. In Living Color
3. Home Improvement
2. Martin
1. Saved By the Bell

You know what? Students at North Thurston don't really watch a lot of television. Surprising, huh?

Above: In class after their work is done, junior Ed Zielinski and senior D.J. Cooling enjoy a few minutes of television before class gets over.

Fashion is an important statement in today's society. North Thurston High School is especially diverse in this area, as you can see from the picture below. Every student has their own individual style, including clothing and hairstyles. Some people only add outrageous accessories to their everyday "jeans and a tee-shirt" outfit to spark up their attire. Others go all out and wear dressy, but casual outfits. These students have decided to show off their favorite outfits. Front row- Huong Nguyen, Dee Dee Herrera. Second row- Michelle Blake, Tiffany Carter, Tiffany Aalbers,

Far Left: Here is junior Brett Copeland and two of his three ferrets. Not exactly your ideal pet, is it? The white one is the mother and her name is Friskey, the other isn't named yet.

Diversity Rules

Diversity, leadership, and spirit defined the attitude of our ASB officers. President Alfredo Foster was busy throughout the year with activities and programs. Kimberly Hussey, our ASB Vice President, took responsibility in setting up most of our school assemblies and dances. North Thurston's ASB Secretary Tony Kim attended Student Senate meetings and recorded the different events. Corresponding Secretary Tonya Larson kept our inter-high school policy intact by travelling to different high schools throughout the year. ASB Treasurers Nicole Brennan, Leah Moro, Kristin Rolland, and Brian Sisco handled all of the money and funds that circulated throughout our school. ASB Historian Chris Sutton collected information for the North Thurston scrap book that will be presented to students in future class reunions. Each student represented the school with pride and kept up the Ram Spirit.

P

urple Pride

Spirit week '93 definitely proved that the Spirit of the Ram was at full force this year. Most of the school participated in all of the activities. These events included powderpuff football, in which the senior girls dominated over the juniors.

Each day of Spirit Week showcased a different theme. Monday was Pajama Day in which NT students could go to school straight from their beds. The horrendous Clash Day destroyed the laws of fashion tradition. Hat and Tie Day was more laid back than the other days. There was a large turnout for Costume Day in which students dressed up for Halloween. The last, but most important day, was Purple and White Day and Toga Day for seniors. Almost the entire senior class dressed in their respective togas.

The Homecoming pep assembly was genuinely exciting. The highlight was the almost warrior-like exhibition by the North Thurston football team and coach Rocky Patchin. The pep assembly provided an exciting end to Spirit Week '93.

Above: Junior Megen Holmquist and sophomore Sean Pugh not only show spirit but also style during Hat and Tie Spirit Day '93.

Above: Staff members Sally Jones, Tanna Lambert, Jill Jaukens, Delores Carbah, Delores Moench and Linda Dicus reveal their scary sides on Costume Spirit Day. Not only did students participate in the Spirit Week activities, but most of the teachers did also. School spirit isn't always shown by just students, it's school wide.

Bottom: Senior wide receiver Vernel Willingham (No. 25) is catching one of his many passes throughout the season. Vernel and many of his teammates helped the North Thurston Rams go on to beat the Stadium Tigers on that foggy Homecoming night.

e came. We rammed.
We prevailed.

On a foggy Friday night in October, the North Thurston Rams were pitted against the Stadium Tigers. Coming into the contest, the Rams had the local newspaper predicting them to win. After the Rams first touchdown, they never looked back.

As the fog rolled in, we started to lose sight of the teams and many faithful fans were seen shivering happily. The Rams, however, didn't wander from the path of victory. At the finish of the contest, the Rams glowed through the fog while Stadium was still lost within.

During the half-time show, the Alumni Cheerleaders came and performed for us. We also had a parade showing us the Homecoming Court; but that wasn't all, we also had the band flag team perform for us.

It was a very impressive victory with the Rams prevailing by a score of 41-14. A great effort was put out by all. Homecoming was made happy and memorable because of the victory.

Above: Enjoying their ride into the Mystic night on the senior float are senior Escort Sean Meyer and Princess Kimberly Hussey. They are accompanied by King Derreck Dalebout and Queen Sarah Libby.

M

ystic Evening

What is Homecoming anyway? Some people argue that it's just a dance, and others say that it's the most incredible event of a lifetime. Homecoming this year was a little different. The leadership class created the theme "In the Mystic Night." People from the dance said that the dance was nice, but they didn't like having it upstairs because it was hot and crowded. Overall people thought Homecoming was a blast! Here's what some people said about Homecoming:

"The dance was pretty fun, and the upper gym was a lot nicer than the commons..."

-Madonna Oatfield, junior

"I thought the dance was fun! I probably won't have enough money to go to another one."

-Dan Timmons, sophomore

"I felt like the dance was separated with dancing upstairs and having tables downstairs. I did, however, like the backdrop for the pictures, and everyone looked really nice."

-Kristen Eschels, senior

Seniors Derreck Dalebout and Sarah Libby enjoy their reign as they were pronounced King and Queen for the 1993 Homecoming Court. Derreck replied, "I had a great time at Homecoming, and I really liked being the King during the most fun year of my life."

Senior Matt Acker with his date, Kira Wheeler, remember all of the great times while leaving the commons at their last Homecoming. Senior Cameron Christie anxiously waits for his date, senior Melissa Curtis, as he says goodbye to that Mystic Night.

Stepping Through Their Last Year

Finally! It's your senior year. The class of 1994 only has graduation to look forward to now. Here are some thoughts from this year's seniors:

"High school teaches you reality, growing up, and a sense of who your true friends are."

-Kainoa Lopez, senior

"This school holds memories and we'll miss the school and everyone in it when we leave."

A dedication to the Class of '94!

*Remember when we first entered high school doors.
That one big step from junior to senior high.
The first pep assembly and the sounds of cheers and roars.
Watching Timberline get hit in the face with a pie.*

*Day by day we made new friends.
No matter who they are we got along.
Still making new friends; old friendships never end.
There are times where we just made friends to belong.*

*Sophomore and junior days, oh what years gone by.
We begin to notice that time does fly away.
Remembering the Homecomings, Tolos, and May dances with black tie.
The time we've shared day by day.*

*Finally comes our Senior year, and thoughts of future plans.
In 20 years will our lives be serious or a joke?
Will we be millionaires lying on the ocean sands?
Or will we be watching t.v. having chips with a coke?*

*Only we can decide what our futures are.
Who knows what will happen behind that specific door.
We might be on our way to become a star.
The choice is ours to make, for we are the Class of '94!*

VRGOM!

What did everyone want for their birthday while in high school? What did everyone spend all their hours after school working for? The answer: a car. Most people didn't care what their car would look like, they just wanted one. The student parking lot was always full of new and used cars. Somehow all of the seniors we asked what their dream car was, managed to have an answer. The most common ones were: Firebirds, Infinities, Lamborghinis, Mercedes, Convertibles, Porsches, MGBs, Jaguars, and Nissan 300ZXs. Some interesting answers were: Pintos, Big Foot, and Blue Chevy with lights.

SEE YA!

Matt Columbo, Shelly DeBoer, Casey Fuller, Kainoa Lopez, and Gary Holmes stroll out to the parking lot after a long day at school.

The best part of a school day, for most seniors, came at the end of the day. It was a time to hang out with friends, play sports, or for a lot of people, to just go home and sleep until the next day comes.

orever Young

It seems like only yesterday when it was our first day of kindergarten. Everything seemed so new. Now we are on our way to bigger and better things. Remember the slumber parties, the dances, the jokes, the football games, first kisses, and "puppy love?" Looking back on all the times we shared together might make you laugh or even make you cry, but the memories will be with us as long as we stay young forever.

Top: Drew Krauss and David McGourin strike a pose on an A Hall field trip in 8th grade.

Bottom: Little Tonya Larson and Tally Gitcho wear their big girl Burger King crowns at Ocean Shores at age seven.

Top: Four year old Chris Sutton is looking stylish in his Mickey Mouse costume.

Bottom: Robert Brake shows off his baseball talents to Mike Marstrom on the bus ride home in 8th grade.

Does anybody know who won the Civil War? Taking a drink from his pop, junior Jeff Keys gets called on unexpectedly by Mr. Peppard in U.S. History class and looks for a friend to help him answer the question.

Conversing amongst themselves, these juniors quickly eat their lunch. Many of the juniors liked the submarine sandwich bar, but the lines were often very long.

Showing how hard they can study, the juniors in Mr. Restoule's second period U.S. history class relax when the teacher is not looking.

Yesterday...

When we were younger, we had different expectations of life, different habits, and even different friends. Now that we are older, we start looking into the future and becoming the adults we are going to be...

Top: Glenn Bentley and his sister, senior Dyann, have fun in the mud at Tolmie State Park.

Above: Mathew McIntyre, Nate Finden, Adam Cramer and Carrie Johnson are on the bus going home from the Pacific Science Center.

Lightest Shade of Purple

Some freshmen around North Thurston were asked how they thought their year was:

"It's fun. I'm havin' a blast."
-James Faatoafe

"I like it. It's awesome."
-Michelle Blaisdell

"I wish I was a senior; it's boring as a freshman, too boring."
-Charles Atkin

"It's fun, I've met a lot of new people, and I like it better here, better than my old school."
-Lisa Filla

Vice President: Lindsay Mitchelson

Secretary: Joanne Jerabek

Treasurer: Sadie Ubias

Homecoming Representative: Kora Hussey

Cheerleader: Unruan Stallings

Class Advisor: Mr. Gregorich

Top: Freshmen Cara Gibson and Jeri Beebe, unlike most, find the time to talk about "things" in the hall.

Bottom: Awaiting lunch, freshman Brandy Freo looks just a little bit bored. Many freshmen were known for hanging out in the commons.

Above: Like many North Thurston students, freshman Paul Anderson quenches his thirst with a pop from the pop machines. NT students were upset this year to find that the price on pop had gone up from fifty cents to fifty five.

Above: Freshman Mark Acker may look like he is coming from Mr. Hawkins' office, but actually he was just caught messing around in the commons.

Top: After school, freshmen Joniece Jackson and April Wilson are showing how they're "cool like that."

Bottom: In the middle of practicing to defeat Mt. Tahoma, freshman Tag Watson throws the camera a surprised look.

Q: Do you wish that Wile E. Coyote would catch that darn roadrunner?

This is what the students of NTHS said:

"Yes, and when he does, he should impale him on a skewer; eat him raw like a ka-bob. It's really not as disgusting as it sounds. I hear roadrunners taste just like chicken. Well, did you expect me to take a bleeding heart, liberal stand-point and say all living creatures should be kept alive. It's a cartoon for goodness sake."

M Yearbook T MAKING THINGS H HAPPEN

Have you ever wondered what the annual staff does? Not only does the annual staff distribute your 1994 yearbook, but they also sell them, ship and design the pages, and create the cover and theme.

The annual class was divided into six separate groups: Editorial, Technical, Page Design, Photography, Marketing, and Advertising. The Editorial Staff consisted of Mandy Ayers and Shannon Carlson. Mr. Thomas Bennett, in his first year as advisor, learned the productions of the annual while working closely with the editors. The Tech Team was a vital part of the production. They created the format of the copy and were responsible for the typing of copy, captions, and also, headlines. Page Design was also very important; they made the book!

Photographers were the heart of this operation. They not only took the pictures you see within but also dealt with the tempers of those waiting impatiently for photos. Marketing was in charge of selling annuals and making signs. The advertising committee was in charge of selling the senior baby ads, sponsor ads, and company ads.

Below: Erika Laymance found out that her picture wasn't going to be as large as she wanted it, so she glares at her Editor, Mandy Ayers, behind the camera.

Huh? Yet another photographer, Chris Sutton, is caught with the surprise of being in front of the camera.

W Journalism H WHAT'S HOT

Journalism was sizzling hot with new ideas. The Journalism staff put a great deal of effort in making the Rampage. The students worked hard completing articles and meeting deadlines.

The Rampage made two important goals. Instead of putting four big issues out, the staff decided to produce smaller issues between the big newspapers. This would cover more school issues and put in more features for the student body. Second, they tried to include more of a variety of students. In past years, the paper consisted of articles on the same people in every issue. The staff is working very hard to solve this problem. North Thurston's newspaper was headed by Advisor Mr. Mark Benson, Editor Shannon Carlson, Assistant Editors Shelley DeBoer and Joanna Leuschen, and Business Manager Jessica McCarty. These individuals worked hard together to get the Rampage out on time.

IN WITH Broadcast Journalism THE NEW

Broadcast Journalism has made many new changes and has had new ideas this year. Throughout the year, they have tried to involve the students at North Thurston High School in activities and events occurring on campus. In past years, they have had shows on TCTV, channel 3, which has changed due to a new advisor, new students, and new equipment. The class has also changed from an English/Journalism class to an occupational - vocational class. The focus is more on technology and job entry level than on journalism.

The students are all required to rotate the jobs such as running a camera, directing, script, and editing. They learned all aspects of video and related media to become successful communicators.

"It is my hope that students exiting this course become "aware" consumers and producers of media."

S Running Start F STEPPING FORWARD

Running Start is a program for juniors and seniors to attend South Puget Sound Community College for college and high school credits.

The program gives the students a opportunity to take college classes early, so that they can have a "running start" toward their college careers. Some of the classes include math, science, English, and history. The students enjoyed participating in the program and knowing the teachers in class.

"Running Start is a great program. I think anyone and everyone is capable of doing Running Start. It helps you decide if college is what you want and what direction in life you want to go. It's a good opportunity to get you going in life."

-Deanne Peterson, junior

L Teaching Academy H LENDING A HELPING HAND

Teaching Academy is a program that gives seniors an opportunity to conquer their fear of teaching in front of a class.

The program is taught by Ms. Kathy O'Kelly. It is for seniors to get ready to teach in their future careers as teachers. The class has given many students a great learning experience and improved their skills to be successful in the future.

R New Market R W EADY FOR THE EAL WORLD

Discovery is the key word to the students of New Market Vocational Skills Center. The students have discovered a new way to learn and a way to get a step ahead in the real world. The teachers have a new focus, uncommon to the ways of a regular high school.

Hands-on experience creates job skills, leadership, responsibility, and a unique class room atmosphere. The students of

New Market have the opportunity to get a head start in the real world.

There is a wide variety of vocational classes to choose from, such as computer technology. You do not only learn the basics, but you learn all you need to know to get started in the world of computers. Early Childhood Education and Customer Financial Service are only two of many classes that offer internship and possible job opportunities. There are so many classes to choose from, and the possibilities are endless.

S Debate O PEAKING OUT

Debate in the past, had a reputation of being the intellectual equivalent to Big Time Wrestling. However, competition debate, rather than being a free for all, is carefully structured.

Debate, or a more sophisticated term, Forensics, is a form of public interaction that helps build skills such as analysis, logic, public speaking, argumentation research, and other valuable skills that can be used later on in life.

Each year high schools and colleges across the country debate the same resolution for an entire year. For a year they prepare for tournaments and league competitions that prepare them for state competitions. This year's topic is "The federal government shall guarantee comprehensive National health insurance to the United States Citizen." All teams participating must follow careful guidelines and do extensive research. Thus, it is often the most flamboyant debater who wins, but the debater who is most conscientious and thorough really wins.

Many debate team members chose debate as a class, while others chose to make time in their busy schedule to participate in debate as an after school activity.

LEARNING A NEW LANGUAGE

ESL is a special program for people new to the United States. North Thurston is a very diverse school. These students came from various backgrounds such as Spanish, Laotian, Guamanian, Chinese, Vietnamese, etc.

The purpose of ESL is so that the students could mainstream into the school's curriculum and the American society.

FAR AWAY FROM HOME

Wouldn't it be fun to go to a foreign country for one year of high school? There's a lot of work involved, especially in learning the language. That's exactly what six students here at North Thurston have done this year. They've come from near and far such as Mexico, Germany, Poland, Colombia and even the Ukraine. When we asked a couple of them what they thought about

American High School, they replied:

Sweet Sounding Strings

Orchestra

The music maestros of our school are separated into two different groups: the String and Symphony Orchestras.

Mr. Ian Edlund, also the music director of the Olympia Symphony Orchestra, directs the String Orchestra who performed at the Fall, Holiday, and Spring concerts. The Strings enjoy challenging pieces and work hard to perform at top rate.

The Symphony Orchestra is made only by audition. They perform in three school concerts and this year went on tour to perform throughout Washington. The Orchestra is very special in one way. For two concerts all the string players add the top performing wind players from the Symphonic Band. They are the last full orchestra in the Olympia area. Melissa Curtis enjoys playing bass for the orchestra;

"Music gives me a chance to illustrate my feelings and to experience different cultures expressed through music."

On Broadway

Chorus

"They say the neon lights are bright on Broadway..." Now the lights are pointing on all three North Thurston choir groups. Mr. Randy Poff has directed the Chorus, Concert Chorale, and Jazz Choir into top rate performing groups.

to seniors. Performances include concerts, mall performances, and community concerts.

Concert Chorale is made only by audition for both male and female vocalists. The choir sings a variety of compositions ranging from contemporary Michael W. Smith to famous composer Heinrich Schiitz music. The concert chorale performs at three concerts and competes in various state-wide competitions.

Jazz Choir is the top performing choir at North Thurston. The choir sings mostly jazz tunes and performs frequently for the community.

"The fingers touch lightly on the ebony and ivory to sing a song of harmony that brings the people together for the purpose of expression."

How I Playing

Band and Flag Team

The band is a very vital part of the entertainment at North Thurston. They play for NTHS home football and basketball games. While the teams control the mood on the playing field, the band sets the mood for the fans in the stands. They also help get the crowd pumped up for upcoming games during pep assemblies.

The band performed during football halftime shows. Much time and effort went into planning these shows. The first step was to pick out songs and develop a march to go with them. These were two of band director Mr. Terry Turner's many important rules. The next step was to introduce the music to the band members and begin practicing. Naturally, the band's favorite part of the entire routine was hours and hours of practice on the field in the evenings. The reward of all their extraordinary dedication was to perform for an audience of many.

North Thurston's symphonic and concert bands also appeared at various events throughout the year. One of these was the Husky Band Day which was an invitational event that only a few select high schools were invited to attend. They also traveled to band contests all over the state. They were honored to host one of these contests as well.

All the World's a Stage

Drama

The Drama Club had a spectacular year that started off with the Fall play, "The Vampire" by Tim Kelly. The Drama Club also performed the Winter play, "You Can't Take It With You" and Shakespeare's "Cymbeline" in the Spring. This year, the Thespians had three advisors. They were teachers Mark Gregorich, Bill Bassett, and Jessica Malay. During rehearsals, the actors practiced their lines, learned entrances, exits and positions on the stage, and the stage crew put together the props. It just goes to show what a terrific Drama Club we have. "All's Well That Ends Well!"

One night during their stay at camp, each cheerstaff voted for the squad that they felt should win the "Pep Paddle." They were judged on spirit, teamwork, and positive attitudes. Good job Cheerstaff!

We've got spirit! How 'bout you? This is one of the many cheers you might hear the Varsity Cheerstaff yelling to the crowd at football and basketball games. The Cheerstaff started off at summer camp in Ellensburg, Washington. The girls learned cheers, teamwork, and most of all, how to have fun! They also performed in the Lakefair Parade where they took second place.

With captains like Michelle Wilson and Tiffany Bac, it's no wonder the rest of their season was a great success. The girls not only cheered on the football and basketball teams, but they also made them signs, favors, and put on Pep Assemblies in their honor.

The Spunky Side of Life

Pep and Rally Squads

Cheering the wrestlers on, this year's Rally Squad, headed by captain Becky Ohnemus, spent their summer practicing, learning cheers, and having fun. They attended summer cheer camp along with the Varsity and Pep Squads in July. After camp they prepared for the wrestling season. Besides cheering at meets, they also supported the wrestlers by making signs and good luck cards.

The 1993-1994 Pep Squad was a young, fresh team. They started off cheering for the Girl's Volleyball team in September and finished the season cheering for the Girl's Varsity Basketball team. Both the Pep and Rally Squads are much appreciated by all the teams they cheer for and are wished good luck in their upcoming seasons.

Dancin' Machines

Dance Team

The 1993-1994 North Thurston Dance Team was young, talented, and full of energy. They started off the season at camp which was held at the University of Puget Sound. The girls were judged on their home routine as well as three routines they were taught at camp. Although they didn't place in competition, they did qualify for nationals in Orlando, Florida. The Dance Team also danced at Lakefair where they performed an excellent routine and placed first above Timberline and other local dance teams.

The rest of the year was spent performing at football and basketball games during halftime. Their routines were well choreographed and always pleased the crowd. To finish off the season, the dancers held the annual Tolo dance on February 12. The theme was "Forever Young" by Alphaville. The Dance Team had a successful year from start to finish and will surely be just as great in the upcoming year.

OF CLUBS

These are the clubs offered at NTHS:

- Amnesty International
- DECA
- FBLA
- FFA
- FHA
- Fire and Safety
- French Society
- German
- Hiking
- Honor Society
- Human Relations
- Interact
- International
- Knowledge Bowl
- Math
- Mountain Biking
- Parking Patrol
- SAVE
- Sing-and-Sign
- Ski
- Sky
- Snowboard
- Spanish
- VICA

Why join a club at North Thurston? Well, there are a lot of reasons. For example, you may want to meet new people, help strangers, or help keep the environment from getting worse. Club members can participate in sporting activities that include skiing, snowboarding, hiking, and mountain biking. Speak a foreign language? Join a foreign language club to learn more about another culture. You may join a club just to use up some of your spare time. No matter what you have an interest in, there's a club for you.

The clubs are usually organized by a leader or an advisor. The advisor is usually a teacher here at North Thurston who shares the same interests as the club. Common club activities are going on field trips, adopting a road or stream, or travelling to Crystal Mountain and Mt. Bachelor to go skiing or snowboarding.

Above: The Future Farmers of America, a club not just for farmers, show how much fun they can have with their green hands. The FFA was a club that learned about the land and how to farm.

Above: Mr. Bill Bassett, an English teacher, shows he can help a student and erase a chalkboard at the same time.

Honor Society

RISING TO HONOR

North Thurston's Torchlight Chapter of Honor Society puts their time to good use. Between jobs, friends, and school events, this talented group finds time to do homework and keep their GPA above 3.4. This club donates money and helps the community in several different ways, like collecting canned food for the STOP program. In previous years, they have donated money to the Annual Staff, the local Lacey Library, North Thurston ASB, and various others.

Every year, they put on the Honors and Awards Night where they honor students and faculty for their achievements and service.

North Thurston's Honor Society has a great place in our school and community.

"Being a part of Honor Society can help you on your way to college."

Right: Mrs. Margaret Edwards, advisor of the International Club, shows how much fun the club is just by the smile on her face. Margaret Edwards was helping freshman Dung Nguyen with a problem during activity period.

The International Club celebrates the diversity of cultural heritages that create the unique nature of North Thurston High School's student body. Club activities include parties that have themes from festivals and holidays throughout the world. Thus, club members are able to enjoy themselves and learn about others simultaneously.

During the 93-94 school year, the International Club travelled to Vancouver, British Columbia. Students discovered an opportunity to experience the lifestyles of their Canadian neighbors.

Advised by Mrs. Margaret Edwards, the International Club has grown into one of the most popular clubs here at NTHS. Mrs. Edwards also teaches E.S.L. here at North Thurston.

S.A.V.E.

HELPING OUR EARTH

Front row- Courtney Brown, Kelly Quintus, Matt Russell. Back row- Anna Seaman, Mike Thorniley.

Students Against a Vanishing Earth is a club that strives to save the earth. In this club, the active members try to do their part to clean the earth. In S.A.V.E., the members are very serious about their club. They hope to someday adopt a road or stream which they could make sure that it stays clean at all times of the year. S.A.V.E. is a club that is advised by Ms. Claudia King. Ms. King firmly believes that the earth can get better, but it will take some work.

MAKING CHANGES

Special Kiwanis Youth, (SKY), is an organization that helps handicapped and elderly people in the community. During the year, SKY Club did different activities such as adopting a grandparent, making Christmas ornaments at a hospital, helping with the Special Olympics, and organizing SKY Club fundraisers. They have a conference every year in April, but it is considered a special privilege to go. In order for members to attend, they must earn points. They earn points according to what they do on their own, providing that it has something to do with the club. SKY Club is sponsored by Kiwanis which is made up of business people and service clubs in the community. It takes a special person to be in Special Kiwanis Youth.

THE UNSPEAKABLE TRUTH

Top: Practice makes perfect! Nathan Hall is caught practicing his signs for sign language before class starts.

Above: Jessica Fish demonstrates her knowledge and interest in sign language by practicing.

What a combination! This organization was founded five years ago to involve multiple handicapped teenagers in school assemblies. Eventually, it picked up, and many more people joined in. Now it is a special event for the kids who are involved, the ones who are "overlooked." Most of the students who are in this group are from Mr. Ted Karanson's sign language class.

They pick the songs that are performed in assemblies. The songs that are picked usually have an underlying message that is perfect to help get their point across to the rest of the school. So, the next time the Sing and Sign kids perform in an assembly, clap loudly. They deserve it!

VICA

THE BUILDING BLOCKS OF TOMORROW

VICA is the Vocational Industries Club of America. There are two parts to North Thurston's branch, welding and automotive. The skills used in these clubs can be very beneficial in careers later in life. It also looks great on a resume. Some of the members attend New Market Vocational Skills Center as well. Consequently, VICA helps prepare students for practical success in life.

Amnesty International

STRIVING FOR WORLD PEACE

Amnesty International is a club that is involved with the welfare of all people. They protest at the Capital steps about political controversies, like war. They also write to their representatives about freeing prisoners of conscience. This past March there was a conference for all club members in the northwest.

Hiking

ENJOYING NATURE

Hiking Club is for those who appreciate nature and like to explore the vast forests that surround us here in the Northwest. Many students joined this club to examine the many different types of plants and wildlife in our forests.

Small hikes were taken at Nisqually Delta, but most members liked cross-country skiing the most. Fund-raisers were held this year to help pay for the trips which all members enjoyed.

With around twenty-four members, the new mountain biking club was one of the largest clubs this year. This relatively new sport is being taken on by many and deserved its own club. Trips were taken to Capital Forest where members rode and raced through the many trails that are available to them.

When asked what he liked most about the Mountain Biking Club, member Tony Carroll answered, "It's more of a group thing where everyone's together."

CARING AND SHARING

What do people think when you say "clubs?" Do people lounge around and have their picture taken? Not the Interact Club! Interact is a very special club that participates in community opportunities to help feed the homeless. Interact has a strong objective which is to do community service and to promote their international standing. This is Interact's first year as a club, and it has already grown to sixty active members. The officers of the Interact Club are President Tiffany Burton, Vice President Hillary Barber, Secretary Rebecca Duran, and Treasurer Kevin Erickson. There is now a new scholarship in memory of Hillary Barber that is called the Hillary Barber Memorial Interact Scholarship. Mrs. Drennon, the advisor of the club, supported the students and hopes that this new club will leave a lasting impression on all of them.

USING YOUR BRAIN

This year's Knowledge Bowl was on a roll! The students were extremely competitive and very hard working. In fact, the team took second place in a number of events.

There were three district meets within the year and one regional meeting in March. Each of those were held at The Evergreen State College. The state tournament is held each year in Wenatchee.

Knowledge Bowl also plays a national game called Knowledge Master. It was played right inside the classroom by hooking up their computer to the TV and competing with hundreds of other teams all over the United States. Displaying their intellectual skill, the North Thurston team took second place in Washington at the fall tournament for Knowledge Master. Club advisor Ms. Marianne Larson believed in the class and that helped them achieve their goals.

Below: Sophomore Kim Ferencz intently watches Coach Marianne Larson as she quizzes the team.

Math Club

EQUATIONS & US

First Row - Jamison Nielson, Dawn Wiggins, Tony Kim and Chris Meyer. Second Row - Kevin Swanda, Jane Ritchie, Brian Sisco and Andy Sabroe. Top Row - Angela Vestal, Kristina Manor and Tamyra McKay

Math Club was off to a slow start this year. In fact they didn't even start meeting until January, but when they did their time was spent in intense practices for a tournament in March.

North Thurston took two teams, consisting of four club members each, to Bremerton Olympic college. Students took four tests, one in algebra, geometry, advanced algebra, and trigonometry. Even though the tests were multiple choice, they were extremely hard.

Math Club has also begun tutoring students at a local elementary school. The club is still small and needs new members, winning attitudes, and fresh ideas.

Above: First row-Eric Keiski, Adam Langer, Devon Montgomery, Katie Sullivan, Danielle Wiggins, Rob Silvis, Billy Fierst. Second row-Andy Sabroe, Ben Dicke, Quan Truong, Jane Ritchie, Rob Cantrall, Kim Ferencz, Jennifer Dittrich, Jared Brodin, Karen Thompson, Kerry Nicholson, Zac Turner, Dawn Wiggins. Last row-Ben Laurance, Kevin Swanda, Dan Kwail, Ben Powers, Curtis Baird, Jerry Blake, Matt Rockett, Kim Van Dalseur, David Kirkbride, Jeff Faubion, Eric Lontz, Matt Hanson.

Future Farmers of America (FFA) involves a variety of different activities. In fact, classes are offered all day that correspond with FFA such as Forestry, Animal Science, Horticulture, Marine Biology, and Floriculture.

Since students participate in FFA activities almost every day, they do not have frequent meetings, but the FFA chapter meets once a month here at North Thurston in Advisor Wayne Ramsey's classroom. Members also find themselves at fairs all over Western Washington showing livestock and plants. Some students raise animals at home or have landscape projects that they work on in addition to school related projects.

First row- Christy Twitty, Maricia Brown. Second row- Danielle Wiggins, Jennifer Scott, Julie Pahlitzsch, Julie Weber, Bobbi Anderson, Patti Taylor, Rebekah Melzer, Christine Deller, Angie Hunter, Nikke Vaughn, Chris Petit, Eric Scott. FHA

WHO'S COOKING?

Fact. No member of the Future Homemakers of America (FHA) in Washington is a cookie jock! Instead of cooking, FHA members at North Thurston High School are building a family environment and personal responsibilities not only for themselves but for others too.

Although they have cooked up personal growth, friendships and community involvement, they also teamed up with the AIDS task force at NTHS and are helping to make students aware of AIDS. One thing we know about their future is you won't find any of them in the kitchen.

Fire and Safety

ASSURING YOUR SAFETY

This year's Fire and Safety staff has been on the ball conducting fire and earthquake drills and inspecting the buildings for all possible hazards. Their complete purpose was to insure the safety of all faculty and students.

Anyone who was a senior could apply, but only 15-20 students were selected to be on the Fire and Safety staff. Advisor Tony Hawkins selected those students through a drawing. Places at doors were assigned to members to assist students during fire drills.

Top: During a Fire and Safety meeting, Advisor Tony Hawkins makes a few jokes which gets a laughing response from members.

Bottom: Seniors Karen Thompson and Rebecca Weaver inspect the fire extinguishers. This is just one of the jobs they were assigned to.

Parking Patrol

ON PATROL AT N.T.H.S.

This year the parking lots of North Thurston have been a lot safer and a lot cleaner due to this year's "always alert" and "always on the ball" parking patrollers. Two patrollers each period were assigned duties from campus supervisor, Joe Beltico, who was also on patrol.

"It was a tough risk in my life everyday to ensure the safety of all the students attending North Thurston."

-Derreck Dalebout, senior

"It was fun and quite the challenge to ensure the safety of North Thurston."

-Missy Ross, senior

"It was a lot of fun putting my life on the line for my school. It was really tough patrolling Winchells for Broadway."

-Craig Sisson, senior

"The parking lot patrol students provide a great service for the student body by not only watching the parking lots, but also making sure no non-students come onto campus to endanger anyone. This service helps everyone from the administration on down."

-Joe Beltico, Campus Supervisor

Seniors Jason Williams, Kyle Hussey, and Vernell Willingham take time out to pose for a picture while keeping an eye on cars in our parking lot.

U-Make the Call

This year's parking patrollers...

A. worked extremely hard this year.

B. wondered what Beltico was doing most of the time.

C. like Winchell's donuts a lot.

"Broadway" Joe Beltico spends most of his time...

A. patrolling the lots.

B. ticketing cars.

C. sitting in Mr. Tim Brown's class drinking coffee, and talking about this year's basketball teams while the patrollers are out working hard.

Parking patrol is good because...

A. it's a good learning experience.

B. it keeps the parking lots safe and clean.

C. it's a good time to make a donut run.

Senior Drew Krauss shows the consequences of parking in the NO PARKING zone.

FBLA

COMPETING FOR BUSINESS

Here's what a few of the members had to say about FBLA:

"I think FBLA is a great experience for people interested in business. Its also a great way to meet a lot of people and learn about different business fields."

-Tina Laird, senior

"It's fun and a way to get involved!"

-Stephanie Funk, senior

"FBLA is a great club. I urge underclassmen that have business plans in their future to join. It gives you a chance to compete in the fields you're interested in and work on them as the years go by. If you do pretty well at regionals you could even place in your event! Yeah! Then you get to go to state! That's where you meet oodles of people from all over the state! Wow! But all in all, its a fun club! People even get to dress up! Even the guys with their ties!"

-Shantal Pantohan, senior

This year's Future Business Leaders of America were quite a large group of determined students. FBLA is for those students interested in furthering their business education, meeting people, and having fun while they're doing it.

FBLA members compete in many competitions such as the local, regional, and state leadership events. There are numerous written and performance events relating to business ranging from designing and illustrating posters to word processing.

DECA

WORKING TO LEARN

DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of America, was a hands on club experience for most of the members. Some received help in finding jobs. Many got the chance to work in the student store, wrap gifts in the mall, go to conferences, and competitions.

Left: Seniors Tonya Larson and Kristin Rolland are surrounded by a bear hug from senior Jared Maybee. Being DECA members and taking related classes allowed some the chance to work in the student store.

Here's what some of the members had to say:

"We do a lot of things together: sleep-overs, skating, parties, and fashion shows."

-Leann French, senior

"Ms. Reed is very supportive, she teaches us a lot and we feel like she's on our side."

-Miko Nanto, junior

Human Relations

ARE YOU AWARE?

Well, are you? Awareness is the whole point of the Human Relations club. "Awareness of what?" This club was organized to foster awareness of other cultures in the school. How many people REALLY know about another person's cultural background? To give students the opportunity to learn about each other, the Human Relations club creates assemblies every year and promotes Adopt-A-Family that assists needy families during the holiday season. This is one club at North Thurston that has it all together!

ESTAMOS PREVENIDOS

"We are aware," and yes, they are. The Spanish Club was founded this year to spread awareness of Hispanic culture and beliefs throughout the school. It also provides a chance for all students, ones who take Spanish or not, to learn or speak the language without the classroom setting.

This has been a busy year for the Spanish Club advisors. In September, the club hosted a picnic at Priest Point Park for all exchange students and they invited the other language clubs. Other activities included the Sadie Hawkins dance in January, Foreign Language week, and Hispanic Awareness Week.

German Club

AUF DEM WEGE!

The headline "we are aware" was chosen because of the purposes of the German Club. Which are to promote the language and culture of Germany. This was accomplished through going on field trips to German restaurants, and bakeries, watching movies, and participating in fund raisers such as candy sales and putting on Sadie Hawkins with the other foreign language clubs. Sadies was a major money producer for the club. Food tasting and Christmas caroling at Panorama City were other activities the German Club was involved in.

One significant event that the club participates in is a foreign exchange program. Every two years students from Kirchhain, Germany spend three weeks here in Olympia. There is a German dessert exchange for their arrival, a cruise on South Puget Sound, and a farewell party.

Exchange students stay in host homes and attend classes with their host students. Sometimes they speak to different classes throughout the school about their culture, language, and history. Our German students also have the opportunity to visit Kirchhain during the summer. Mrs. Lauren Kiolet, club advisor, uses her creative talents to keep students learning and having fun at the same time.

French Society

NOUS SOMMES AU COURANT!

For it's first year the French Society had an exceptional amount of members. Students were willing to learn about the French language and culture. In fact this is why we chose the headline "we are aware."

Society members raised money by collecting dues, having a candy sale, and the planning and decoration of the Sadie Hawkins dance.

With the money raised, the club attended a bilingual production of "Les Trois Mousquetaires" in Seattle.

Mrs. Debby Parks, advisor, kept members in line while they watched French movies, went on field trips, and held meetings.

It was a good year for the French Society, and maybe you should consider joining next year.

Ski

EAT MY POWDER

Ski Club is all about having fun. It's for those who like to take ski trips and hang out with friends. Also it's a good way to meet other students with a certain interest in common.

This year the Ski Club went on a trip to Bachelor and visited other local resorts.

"Ski Club is really fun for everyone, . . . you get to meet a lot of people too."

Shall Survive

FOOTBALL Champions To All

The 1992-1993 co-championship was a hard act to follow. Even though the Rams did not repeat as Narrows League Champions, they were still champions to all of us.

The year was filled with great expectations as we started with an upset victory over the Lincoln Abes 21-7. This was North Thurston's first win ever against the powerful Tacoma school.

Ending the year at 5-4, coach Rocky Patchin once again led our team to a winning season.

The North Thurston Rams were crowned as Lacey "champs" by defeating the Timberline Blazers 14-7 and first year River Ridge Hawks 34-6. The latter being especially emotional playing against family and former players of North Thurston.

As in every year, we are losing good players and good friends from the team to graduation, but we must realize that the up and coming juniors and sophomores will fill those big shoes, and carry on our winning tradition.

FOOTBALL Rising To The Top Leaping Forward FOOTBALL

The Junior Varsity Rams ended the football season with seven victories and only one defeat. The Rams had a great defense to lead them to victory. The J.V. coaches were Tim Brown, Ronnie Leach, and Bill Broeker. Next season should be a good one.

"I thought the season went pretty well. A lot of the younger players got more experience and veterans got some playing time, even though we didn't play competitively to win like the varsity level."

-Robert Williams, junior

"The season was an experience. We had a lot of young guys on our team. We had no real challenge. No one could match our ability in football. No one could pass against us. We should do good next year."

-Kevin Mounts, junior

This year the Frosh football team showed how getting ahead was done. The team leaped forward with a record of five victories and three defeats. Both the defense and the offense played well, contributing to the success of the team. It was a new experience for the young Rams to play in the Narrows League. The Rams were coached by Carl Johnson, Dan Coleman, and Joe Beltico.

Here is what some of the frosh had to say about the team:

"I thought that we showed a lack of work at the beginning of the season but ended strong."

Mark Acker, freshman

"We should have won more games. This year we had very good coaching to lead us to victory."

-Chris Chase, freshman

VOLLEYBALL

"Together We Can..."

...together we will, together we did!" The varsity volleyball team had another successful season finishing in first place in the Narrows League and 8th place in the AAA state volleyball championship. Seniors Tonya Larson and Tiffany Burton were the captains for the group of twelve and expected the best out of each player. Even after the team complained everyday to the coaches, Kevin Head and Retha Dotson, about the well-known "boards" for conditioning, the team persistently worked hard to reach their goal of placing in state. The talented team had many standouts. The Narrows League coaches selected for honorable mention left side Melissa Curtis, second team right side Misty Hollingshead, and first team setter Jennifer Jewett. Tonya Larson was honored with Most Valuable Player.

"We came together better than ever. We never let up and kept focus on our highest goals. It is hard for a team to be together for four months and stay as close as we did. I will miss the unity we all shared."

- Tonya Larson, captain

Setting The Standard

The '93 North Thurston Junior Varsity and C team volleyball players had a fresh start this year with new coaches. Becky Carnell served as the JV team coach while Terri Caldwell coached the C team. Both coaches were said to have a great sense of humor and were really fun to work with. They did a great job of keeping up each team's morale!

The JV team had an awesome defense. Many of the players will be moving up to the Varsity team next year. How exciting for the girls!

NTHS has had a great volleyball program for years now, and these two teams definitely didn't break that tradition.

SOCCER

Terrors Of The Net

Left: Junior Desiree Bjornestad tones her ball handling skills by juggling the ball.

Below: Aggression is everything in soccer and that's what freshman Hillary Wertz displays to her opponents.

Underneath the coaching skills of a North Thurston High School graduate, Cindy Broadbent, the Girls' Varsity Soccer team made a big comeback. Due to the return of several key players lost to injury in the '92 season, the team dramatically improved their record.

Most players would admit that practice was tiring, yet they kept on toward their goals; even when they may have seemed unreachable. This kind of attitude made for an incredibly rewarding season with as all players contributed top notch performances.

The hard work and determination that was shown by the team resulted in double the number of victories from the previous year.

"I would like to thank the juniors and seniors for continuing to play soccer for the Rams. It took an incredible amount of heart, an unbearable desire, and once again an unconditional love for the game of soccer. This is the type of determination that builds successful programs."

Kickin' It

For a team with few returning players, the Junior Varsity Girls' Soccer team did extremely well this season. The girls practiced hard every day, and their efforts were rewarded. Their perseverance shone through as their skill improved throughout the season.

The girls used teamwork to tie their game against South Kitsap. The team had an even amount of wins and losses, but they are improving all the time and are looking up for next year.

TENNIS

In the Swing of Things

The Boys' Tennis team swung into action with a bang this season. Coached by Diane Weston, this unstoppable team is rackin' its way to state with a 15-0 record, completing their second consecutive undefeated season.

The team earned their way to victory by practicing hard and using cooperative teamwork. All this directed them to a very satisfying season.

The Boys' Tennis team had their best match against Bellarmine. With all this, they proved themselves once again to be number one!

The Junior Varsity tennis team also did great this season, only losing two matches. They worked hard and well together, and it paid off.

Always on the Run

Runners take your mark, get set, GO! That's exactly what this year's cross-country team did at Millersylvania State Park where they held their home meets. Sophomores Jennifer Campbell and Mike Thorniley went on to compete in state. Campbell was the first girl from North Thurston to qualify for the state tournament. They finished this year's season with a record of 16-16.

Swimmers...take your mark... GO! The various sounds that you hear at a Girls' Swimming meet consist of screaming fans and coaches. Swimming may look boring, but for the swimmer, it is very stressful. The new captains this year, Molly Rogers and Holly Russel, helped the team greatly throughout the season. The captains and the coaches brought the team together despite the drawbacks of losing a few meets here and there. With hard work and sincere dedication, the "Ram Fish" have completed an all-around successful year, having concluded with a substantial amount of girls who went to districts.

Freestyle, medley relay, and backstroke are just a few of the events the Boys' North Thurston Swim team participated in this 93-94 winter season. In wins and losses, the team came out just about even. The swimmers were never without support from one another and their coach. Every meet was full of spirit from both teams.

Coaches Todd Haywood and Eric Strom held practice on most weekdays before and after school and on some Saturdays. A usual routine was two hundred to two hundred eighty laps. Sometimes it was timed, others it was not. Probably, the overall best event of the Boys' Swim team was the medley relay. This year it went as far as districts.

DIVING

The Big Splash

This year the Ram divers did fairly well in their event. They worked hard at practices after school with coach "Larry." Practice was held at Timberline for both Girls' and Boys' Diving teams. A key to diving practice was that they learned, more or less, by trial and error, but not without their share of belly flops. They tried hard and the effort paid off. Good job, Rams!

In An Awkward Position

North Thurston's own wrestling team was terrific from start to finish. New head coach, Tyrone Jenkins, made wonderful contributions to this year's team. The rest of the coaching staff included Mick Hamilton, Rick Yost, and Mike Pine. "We are trying to continue the winning tradition at North Thurston and are working on building a state caliber team in the years to come," comments Mick Hamilton.

Headed by captains Steve Ellis, Leonard Woolridge, Billy Estus, and Jared Maybee, this team couldn't go wrong. The highlights of the season were placing in the top four at the sub-district tournament and sending six wrestlers, including two sophomores, to the regional tournament. The Ram Wrestlers were hard working and put forth a lot of dedication to make this season a big success.

BASKETBALL

The Wild Bunch

This bunch was really wild, but they came together to give North Thurston a show. The Rams started out as separate individuals trying to win games on their own, but as time went on, a team formed from these nine individuals. A new coach stepped in, Mr. Tim Brown, and made sure this team knew what it meant to work together. The team often spent time together on the weekends and became close friends in order to respect and trust each other. The leadership of the seven seniors added to the enthusiasm and kept in focus their high set goals. The team wanted to play through districts and move on to the state competition.

The Rams tied for first in the Narrows League with a 16-2 record. For the first time in sixteen years and in the AAA division, the team went to the Seattle Coliseum to play in the state competition. With high talent and leadership, the Rams proved themselves to be an outstanding team with many memories to treasure forever. Congratulations!

"The team was good this year. We played well together because everyone contributed. We didn't look to one person to score. Everybody did their fair share."

Not In Our Gym

This year's Junior Varsity Boys' Basketball team had a tremendous season. It was a season filled with ups and downs and many learning experiences. This year, the team had a new head coach. Mr. Mike Reed filled the position and did an admirable job coaching the Rams. Way to go guys!

Hoopin' It Up

Over the years, North Thurston High School has built a strong basketball program. The C-team and freshmen teams are the building blocks for the basketball organization at NTHS. Sports teach discipline, respect for your body, and team work. Some players will not even make it up to the varsity level, while others will go on to college and maybe even play at the professional level. Both of their seasons were very exciting and gave some of the new players a taste of the North Thurston basketball program.

Shooting Machines

The Varsity Girls' Basketball team had an awesome year. The Rams held a 19-1 record and were off to districts led by captain Tonya Larson. The Rams were number 1 in the Narrows League.

To be a good team, you not only need good starters, but you also need a strong and healthy bench. The bench was a key point in the Rams' success. If it wasn't for the bench, the Rams wouldn't have made it as far as they did. Thanks to Mr. Bill Mendelson, the Girls Basketball team continued its tradition of excellence!

Step Up To The Plate

The fastpitch team had a very successful season. Although they were young with only four seniors, the Rams defeated crosstown rival Timberline twice and challenged for the league championship. Districts and State competitions in Tacoma are well in range for the tough players. The team finished in second place. The unity shown on the team brought out the best in every player, making a well rounded force ready to play hard.

Batting 1,000

Working together to improve themselves was the name of the game for our Junior Varsity and C-Team Fastpitch teams. Both teams had superior goals, including trying to win all of their games and trying harder to work together, so that they could have a fantastic season. The C-Team also had the goal of winning the league championship. This year both teams only had one loss. The JV team had ten wins and the C-Team had eleven wins.

The ideas for next year are for about five or six of the key players to move up. Every individual on the team made contributions to the game, and they all had the greatest desire to improve themselves.

Beautiful form, like this, was always shown in practice and games by junior Heather Shelan.

Team members were asked what one thing they were sure to remember about the '94 tennis season in ten years:

"When we hid our coach's organizer at the Stadium match."
-Robin Sborov, sophomore

"Our coach talks for hours to get to her point. Pep talks were at least ten minutes long."

TENNIS

The Raquetteers

Coach Jory Seigal was a new addition to the tennis team this season. Since the previous coach had been around for five years, a new coach meant adjustments for everyone. Different coaching styles and losing players to River Ridge could have really hurt the team. Instead, Coach Seigal, along with co-captains senior Meagan Brown and senior Joanna Leuschen, built up team confidence and brought everyone together like a huge family. There was a real sense of equality among teammates and a ton of support for each other.

The North Thurston Junior Varsity baseball team had an extremely successful season, being defeated only twice. According to coach Mark Gregorich, defeating South Kitsap, 3-1, was the highlight of the season. Shane Lindseth pitched an excellent game, and Farron McKeon hit a game winning double.

Along with Shane Lindseth, catcher Brian Rich, shortstop Cole Bridges, and outfielder

Jerrimy Pantohan were the team's most valuable players.

Due to the outstanding performance of this year's J.V. team, North Thurston High School is anticipating a great varsity team next year.

Let's Play Ball

The North Thurston Rams Varsity Baseball team, although not quite as successful as last year's team, played well enough to finish third in the Narrows League. The Rams had seven players from last year's team, who gave them the experience they needed to compete in the Narrows League.

"Rob Backman, Shawn Schmidt, and D.J. Penick are returning all-league performers from last year. We had depth in the pitching staff, we played good defense, and we hit the ball well."

The North Thurston High School Boys and Girls track teams, coached by Don Backman, had successful seasons as each team suffered only a single loss. As a result the boys won the Southern Division, placing second in the Narrows League, while the girls finished second in their division.

One highlight of the season was sophomore Tina Olson's performance in the one hundred yard high hurdles. Tina set a new school record in the event with a time of 15.8 seconds.

Just A Little Bit Country

Lakefair 1994

Yee haw! Grab your cowboy hats and boots because Lakefair 1994 will be going "Just A Little Bit Country." Lakefair is an annual event held during April for senior girls who are interested in representing their high school at the Capital Lakefair Parade. This year's Grand Twilight Parade will be held on Saturday, July 16.

A new process was used for choosing this year's candidates. Senior girls interested in becoming Lakefair candidates were asked to sign themselves up. The senior class would then choose the final four finalists. In previous years, the senior class voted to choose the candidates. The four finalists for 1994 were Tiffany Bac, Alicia Jones, Maura Martinez, and Kira Wheeler.

Tiffany Bac was chosen as our princess.

The six contestants chosen from area high schools who are competing for queen, will be judged on personality, poise, sociability, attitude, and leadership. The queen will be announced at the coronation ceremonies before Lakefair weekend and will appear on her own float in the Grand Twilight Parade. The Lakefair queen and her princesses reign from coronation time in July to July of the following year. The queen will be the official representative for Capital Lakefair in all festivals, parades and other activities in Washington, Oregon, and Canada. Good work and good luck!

MAKING THE GRADE

The honor system at North Thurston High School is separated into three parts: 1) Highest Honors, 2) High Honors, and 3) Honors. To receive highest honors, a student must have a cumulative grade point average (GPA) of 3.75 or above. Highest Honors students will receive a medal. For High Honors, students must achieve a GPA of 3.5-3.74 and will receive a gold cord, while honors students must achieve a GPA of 3.25-3.49 and will receive a silver cord.

The medals and cords are given to students, as they receive their diplomas, walking across that glorious stage. Congratulations to all of the honor students of NTHS.

Sadie Goes To Carnival

Sadie Hawkins '94

Mardi Gras, Fat Tuesday in French, is held on the last day of Carnival, before Ash Wednesday, which marks the arrival of the fasting days of Lent. The name has come to represent the entire carnival period.

The French Celebration of

Mardi Gras was the theme behind "Sadie Goes to Carnival." This year's Sadie Hawkins Dance was held on January 8, 1994 in the commons. Everyone continued the tradition of wearing the same clothes as the person they came with. This year's Sadie Hawkins was sponsored by the Spanish Club. Though the Spanish Club sponsored it, Mardi Gras is a French holiday.

Tolo '94

Tolo 1994 was held this year on February 12 in the commons. Tolo's theme was "Forever Young" by Alphaville. The semi formal dance was put on by North Thurston's own Dance Team. "It was fun decorating the morning of the dance and then being able to see how good everything looked that night," says senior Kim Spradlin, Dance Team captain. "It was a big success!"

The Dance

May Dance '94

What is May Dance? For seniors, it is the final dance of high school life. May Dance is where you are able to dress up in that formal dress you have been waiting to wear, or the tux you just couldn't wait to look good in.

This year's May Dance was held on May 14 in North Thurston's very own gymnasium. The theme was "The Dance," a song by popular country singer Garth Brooks.

After waiting thirty minutes for the head apparel to appear, it was possible to crown the king and queen. For many participants, the crowning ceremonies gave them an excuse to stop dancing.

Princesses and Escorts: Ruth Melzer and Jason Williams, Tonya Larson and Jared Maybee, Shantal Pantohan and Scott Buck, Melissa Curtis and Leonard Woolridge, Heather Shanahan and Nick Mayr, Kira Wheeler and Matt Acker, Saleena Koher and David McGourin.

Times like this remind us to tell you how proud we are of you. You've become a fine young man—never lose that great smile and positive outlook. Thanks for being you.
 Love, Mom & Dad, Dave & Frances

If we measure success by the number of lives we touch and the ways that we reach out to others and truly make a difference, Then it's hard to imagine a richer career than yours.
 May looking back on all you've accomplished bring you pride, and may looking ahead to your retirement bring happy anticipation... For, if anyone deserves the best...
IT'S ALL OF YOU!

It seems like only yesterday with golden curls and a smile, You started this journey and walked the first mile. You have climbed every mountain and looked to the sun, Counting your blessings for the victories you've won. You've become a young woman, a most beautiful pearl, But to us you will always be, our precious little girl.
 God Bless and Keep You Always
 Love,
 Mom and Dad

Mandy,
 You have always brought sunshine into my life. Your smile is such a delight. I know you'll carry that smile with you everywhere you go, and it will bring you and those around you happiness. You can accomplish your dreams.
 I love you,
 Mom

In Memory of Hillary Barber and Lana Green

Hillary Barber was a sweet and well-liked person. Her smile was always identifiable. It brightened everyone's day! She was very involved in school activities, including cheerleading and Interact. Interact is a community service club, and it was very important to her. She made great contributions to everything she did!

Lana Green was truly one of a kind. Anyone who knew Lana, knew her laugh. It was full of sunshine and happiness. Lana was very involved in Spanish, and she was always doing anything involved with the subject. Lana contributed an abundance of love and warmth everywhere she went.

HILLARY AND LANA WILL ALWAYS BE REMEMBERED AND LOVED!

Nicole Brennan

To a very wonderful young lady. We are very proud of you. Work hard, be honest, and all of life's avenues will be open for you. You are a true kindred spirit.

Ruth,

You have grown up so much in the last four years, but you are still a little sister to me. There isn't another guy who is as lucky to have a sister like you, or is as proud of their sister as I am of you. Stay close.
Love Always,
Mike

ONLY LOVE CAN MAKE YOU A DANCER

To Wendi,
With All Our Love,
Mom & Dad

Congratulations, Rob!

You are one special guy! Reach for your dreams. We wish you life's best #22.
Love,
Mom and Dad

Dear Ben (B),

For 18 years we've been blessed for having you as son and brother. You've always made us proud of you and kept us laughing with your sense of humor. Good luck on your future - we know it will be great.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Jessi

Laura-

"You go, girl!"
Love always,
Mom and Dad

Kim,

It seems like only yesterday we moved to Germany, and you started the first grade. We have stood by and watched you grow older and wiser. You now have reached the time in life where you must make your own decisions. Always remember that we will be there for you. "You've come a long way, baby." Congratulations!

Love Always,
Mom and Dad

Holly the 'PERFECT CHILD'

As you graduate from NTHS and begin your journey through adulthood May you continue to be true to yourself and to your hopes and dreams May you continue to enrich the lives of those you touch as you travel As your presence has immeasurably enriched our lives

Love,
Dad and Mom

Jason,

Thank you for having the strength to set your own goals.
You can be anything...anything God wants you to be.

We love you bud,
Dad, Mom, and Jen

CONGRATULATIONS, REBECCA

LOVE! DAD

It seems like yesterday
when we look back,
Trying even then to decide
this or that.
Riding the fence seemed
the way to go,
Ruffle no feathers on the road to old.
Your Mom and I could see this trait,
Never wanting to
irritate.
Today you say what's on your mind.
But don't forget as
you look back,
You'll always be our Little Diplomat!

Randa and Lonnie
Best Friends Forever

Lonnie,
You make us so happy
that you are your own person. We are proud that you are our daughter.
Life holds many surprises for you. We wish you the best on your road to success!
Love & Luck,
Mom, Dad, and Ira

Randa Marlane, Tutti Bug,
There's no other like you, our special girl and lovely lady; sunshine of many lives, joy of our hearts. Our admiration never ending, our love
never ceasing.
Mom & Dad

Charisma-
To the best daughter, sister, friend, and co-worker anyone could ask for.
Good luck in all you do. You have a great future ahead of you.
From all of us who love you!

Nick,
Thank for these 18 years,
it has been good, very good.
We are proud of the man you've become. Congratulations on your graduation. Love always,
Mom & Dad

To Our Son, Erik;
 God has given us
 a special gift in you.
 May he bless and guide
 you as you face the future.
 We love you!

Mom and Dad

Erik, "Little Bro",
 Now is your opportunity to soar, and life can be whatever you want to make of it. You are more talented than you know.
 The choices are yours. Just be wise for life can be like a cliff; you can soar, but you're never sure what's at the bottom.

We love you lots and are very proud of you!

Love, Heidi and Cory

Being seniors, we appreciate the chance to be editors of the 1994 Rambler. We owe everything to the staff members who learned a lot in a short amount of time, put in many hours, and cooperated with us in many hard times. You should all be proud of what you have accomplished. Your creativity and effort has made this annual like no other.

We would also like to thank our advisor, Mr. Thomas Bennett. Being a first year teacher and annual advisor, you have come a long way.

We would also like to thank the administration, faculty, and staff for their understanding and cooperation with our many interruptions. Without all of your contributions, we would have never gotten started.

Goodbye to all and good luck in the future,

Mandy Ayers      Shannon Carlson
