ANNOUNCEMENTS:

COLLEGE IN THE SPOTLIGHT

Harvey Mudd College is our college in the spotlight. Harvey Mudd is located in Claremont, California, Harvey Mudd is a small, private college focused on science, engineering, and math, and it's part of the Claremont Colleges. With only around 900 undergraduates, Harvey Mudd offers small classes and lots of opportunities for hands-on research, even as first-year students. The college is known for combining technical majors with a strong liberal arts foundation, so students graduate not only as skilled scientists and engineers, but also as strong writers, thinkers, and leaders. Fun fact: Harvey Mudd has one of the highest median starting salaries for graduates in the entire nation- so their investment in learning really pays off. To learn more, visit www.hmc.edu
