JUVENILE COURT AND COMMUNITY SCHOOLS

North Region Community Schools, operated by the San Diego County Office of Education (SDCOE), provide educational opportunities for students who have been referred by social services, probation, or one of the 42 school districts in San Diego County. They also serve pregnant and parenting teens.

Each campus is tailored to meet the diverse needs of each student population, united by a common mission to remove barriers and provide students with a high-quality education, academic and wellness supports, and access to community resources.

Several teaching and learning models are available ranging from traditional community school classes, interdisciplinary project-based learning, multiple independent-study models, and hybrid options.

North Region offers seat-based programs in Vista, San Marcos, and Escondido in addition to hybrid and independent studies programs throughout North County, including Oceanside, Vista, Carlsbad, Fallbrook, Ramona, Poway, Escondido, and San Marcos. All community and courts schools are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges.
