Dear Glen Cove Community,

I am writing to provide an important update on our ongoing work to ensure that all school water sources meet the highest standards of safety.

As part of the most recent round of lead retesting, I am pleased to share that all identified items have either been fully remediated, marked as non-potable, or are in the final stages of remediation. At this time, only four faucets remain pending remediation, all of which are located in the High School kitchen. The kitchen at the high school is still under construction and cannot be tested until they are finished.

To keep our community fully informed, we will be posting the most recent list of results on the District website. This list reflects the updated status of each faucet and demonstrates the progress that has been made since the New York State Comptroller's Audit was released in July.

As shared previously, the District has strengthened its internal protocols to ensure compliance with the New York State Department of Health's Lead Testing in School Drinking Water Program. This includes:

- Clear labeling of all faucets that are not designated as potable sources.
- Timely reporting and communication of results.
- Thorough documentation of testing, remediation, and retesting efforts.
- A Corrective Action Plan submitted to the Board of Education to ensure ongoing oversight and accountability was Board approved on August 20th.

Please know that the health and safety of our students, staff, and families remains our top priority. We will continue to take every precaution and follow all state guidelines to maintain safe and healthy learning environments across our schools.

If you have any questions or concerns, please do not hesitate to contact my office directly.

Sincerely,

Dr. Alexa Doeschner
