Peer Praises:

Ms. Gudeman would like to praise....

Ms. Jackson

I want to shout out Ms. Jackson for being a great library collaborator, being unafraid to seek out and utilize our materials and district resources to bring science to life for our 8th grade students! (And congrats on exceeding TJ's average Physics scores! 😊)

Ms. Sigurdson would like to praise....

Mr. Miller

Thank you for your service to Medrano Jr. High!
You will be missed!

Congratulations

Teacher of the Year:

Ms. Martineau

Ms. Martineau goes above and beyond for her students and colleagues, always stepping up to help wherever she is needed. Her kindness, patience, and problem-solving skills make a lasting difference in our school. Ms. Martineau truly embodies what it means to be a dedicated and compassionate educator. She is definitely the heart of Medrano. Her impact reaches every corner of our campus, and we are all better because of her.

Teacher of Promise:

Ms. Pulis

Ms. Pulis has been an outstanding addition to our campus as a SPED inclusion teacher. She consistently goes above and beyond to support students in the classroom, ensuring that they are engaged, taking notes, and receiving the assistance they need to be successful. She is always ready to pull a small group when necessary and provides thoughtful feedback on how students perform during these sessions. Her dedication and proactive approach have made a noticeable difference in the classroom environment and in student learning.

ASPIRE Award:

Ms. Leal

Ms. Leal is known for her collaborative spirit and her willingness to support colleagues across departments. She approaches every challenge with a solution-oriented mindset and leads by example, inspiring those around her to uphold the highest standards. Ms. Leal's longevity at Medrano is a testament to her loyalty and the value she brings to our mission every single day. Her contributions have helped shape our growth and success, and we believe she exemplifies the spirit of the Aspire Award through her excellence, dedication, and professionalism.
