

1/9/26

Dear Wyoming Families,

We hope 2026 is off to a positive and healthy start for you and your family. It has been energizing to welcome students back into the building and begin the second semester together. The enthusiasm and readiness students have shown as they return to their learning routines has been encouraging, and we are excited about the months ahead.

As the semester continues, we encourage students to advocate for themselves by communicating with their teachers whenever questions arise. Families are always welcome to reach out with questions or concerns, whether to a teacher, our counseling team, or the front office. Open communication is essential as we work together to support each student's growth and success.

Thank you for your continued partnership and trust. Please know that our staff remains committed to supporting your student in every way possible, and we look forward to a strong and successful start to the new year.
