Junior Reserve Officers' Training Corps (JROTC)

Course Descriptions:

JROTC:

The JROTC programs are designed to provide meaningful leadership instruction of benefit to the student and of value to the Armed Forces. Students will acquire: (1) An understanding of the fundamental concept of leadership, military art, and science, (2) An introduction to related professional knowledge, and (3) An appreciation of requirements for national security. The dual roles of citizen/soldier and soldier/citizen are studied. The programs will enable cadets to better serve their country as leaders, as citizens, and in military service should they enter it. The JROTC is not in itself an officer-producing program but should create favorable attitudes and impressions toward the Services and toward careers in the Armed Forces.

MARINE CORPS JROTC: Offered at Tomball Memorial High School

The MCJROTC was the first to be nationally accredited under CITA/SACS and is directly linked to National Standards. MCJROTC Programs can be implemented as traditional model, cluster, school within a school, and stand-alone academy.

NAVY JROTC: Offered at Tomball High School & Tomball West High School

The NJROTC educates and trains young men and women for leadership positions in an increasingly technical Navy and Marine Corps. The NJROTC accredited curriculum emphasizes citizenship and leadership development, as well as our maritime heritage, the significance of sea power, and naval topics such as the fundamentals of naval operations, seamanship, navigation, and meteorology.
