WHY MONTESSORI?

The Montessori philosophy focuses on intrinsic motivation, participatory learning, and the process of understanding—all critical in the development of a revolutionary thinker who will succeed when faced with any obstacle. With a Montessori education, the possibilities are endless.

- The Montessori classroom environment and curriculum are designed to support each individual child’s specific needs and abilities, allowing the child to explore and learn at his or her own pace through exposure to a sequenced curriculum.
- A child’s natural curiosity is nurtured, rather than stifled by the limitations of “teaching to the test” and standardization.
- The combination of uninterrupted work periods and individualized lessons teach students to effectively problem solve, manage time, and think differently.
