

EARLY CHILDHOOD TEACHER - KINDERGARTEN

Job Information

Job Title	Early Childhood Teacher - Kindergarten
Location	Durham, North Carolina
About Duke School	Founded in 1947, Duke School has as its mission to "inspire learners to boldly and creatively shape their future." Duke School offers an exceptional project-based learning environment that seeks to develop high-level analytical and critical thinking skills in all of its students. Duke School is a preschool through 8 th grade day school enrolling approximately 500 students.

Job Summary

Our Kindergarten is a part of the Early Childhood Division (alongside Preschool). Kindergarten has three cohorts. Two highly qualified teachers work collaboratively with 16-18 students in each class. We are seeking an early childhood teacher to join our Kindergarten team with a sound understanding of best practices in teaching to begin in August 2026. Duke School offers an exceptional learning experience with an emphasis on inquiry. Students explore topics through a project-based approach.

The ideal candidate will have an early childhood and/or elementary education degree and at least three years of teaching experience. A bachelor's degree is required. Commitment to students' academic and social-emotional growth is essential. Working collaboratively with a teaching partner is critical for this position.

Reports to: Early Childhood Division Director

To Apply

NOTICE OF NONDISCRIMINATORY POLICY: Duke School does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in its hiring practices and encourages people of traditionally marginalized groups to apply for employment.

Please e-mail your resume, including a list of references along with a cover letter to teach@dukeschool.org. Diverse candidates encouraged to apply. Compensation is commensurate with experience and abilities and reflective of local salary levels.