Class History

By LUCIA JEAN BACOTE

When we first enrolled at Washington High in 1945, many of us were small in size, timid in looks, and afraid in feelings. The large and beautiful building fascinated us a great deal. The changing of classes from one teacher to another puzzled us at first; however, all of it was quite thrilling. We had to adjust ourselves to this revolutionary change from elementary to high school and, by the end of the first year, many of us had fallen in love with Washington High.

When we reached our junior year, we had become more conscious of our duties and responsibilities as students, and busied ourselves in developing high scholarship, clean character and wholesome sportsmanship.

During our junior year also, we became well organized and solidified as a class. Our class officers who were elected that year comprised: Louis Sullivan, President; Barbara Usher, Vice-President; Jennelle Mason, Secretary; Irene Meredith, Assistant Secretary; Helen Martin, Treasurer; Loring Valentine, Reporter; and Harold Turner, Business Manager.

Now that we have reached our senior year, we can say with all assurance and certainty that we have been greatly benefited by the wonderful instructions received from our teachers.

As we leave thee — Dear Washington High — our Alma Mater, we are not in a position to determine our destination; however, we are able to say that our thoughts will ever be with thee in the years to come.

Last Will and Testament

By CONSTANCE SCOTT

For four long and eventful years we have been looking to this year, 1950, and now that it is here, we welcome it with mixed feelings. . . . We begin to reminisce of the memorable experiences spent at Dear Old Washington High. . . . We think of all the things we could have done to make Washington High a better school . . . like showing more school spirit and cooperation. . . . Then having arrived at the end of an unforgettable period in our lives which will make tomorrow rich with memories of Washington . . . our Alma Mater . . . we, the senior class of 1950, do hereby make our last will and testament, revoking any and all others that we have made heretofore.

Barbara Adams wills to Marian Anderson her place in the Counselor's office. Barbara also wills to Beverly Hightower, her seat in Mr. Tate's English Literature class which was always a difficult subject for her to master. Willine Cox wills her old worn out band uniform to any deserving member of the band who is unable to secure a new one. James Mayes wills his unassigned new locker, "the best one in the school," to Sylvester Murray. Lucia Jean Bacote wills to Charlie Mae Dean her affinity and ability to remain cute and sweet to the opposite sex. Constance Scott wills to her brothers, Samuel and Herman Scott III, the ability to remain on the honor roll throughout their high school career, and also for them to become senior class officers and affiliated with the Teen Timer's Caravan.

Bobby Hodges wills to Percy Randall, his ability to get mathematics, which caused him to burn the mid-night oil many, many nights in order to finally qualify for graduation. Earlie Calhoun wills to James Schell his ability to spell all fifty weekly spelling words given by Mr. Thompson, instead of spelling only eight out of fifty. Machion Garrison wills to Douglas Burch his ability to keep everybody happy in class. Ernestine Hill wills to her brother, Archie Hill, Jr., her office in the Dramatic Circle. Ella Carolyn Phillips wills to her sister, Elaine Phillips, the ability to become the leading soloist in the Girls' Chorus. Albert Seals wills to Johnny Robinson his ability to be intelligent at all times. Jacquelyn Stephens wills to Gwendolyn Fannin her "bells." Bettye Flournoy wills to Florrie Flournoy her ability to get physics under Mr. Gaines' instruction.

Hannah Battle wills to Hazel Baker the ability to take it easy and to keep her nose out of other people's business. Ann Oglesby wills to Ruth and Barbara Simpson her ability to cut class and get away with it. Charles Bond wills to Coleman Hayes his ability to get along with all the girls but to settle down with only one. Willie Frances Kelsey wills to her sister, Ernestine Kelsey, her ability to make all A's in her classes and to keep her seat warm in Miss Cunningham's French class. Charles Kite wills to William Mann his old text books and hopes that William will gain as much knowledge from them as he and also that he will use this knowledge justly and wisely. Mildred Jeffries is willing her seat in Mr. Gaines' physics class to Clara Downing. Clementine Key is willing her keen sense of humor to Annie Ruth Williams. Sylvester Murray wills his old blue fountain pen to James Mayes. Roosevelt Wideman wills his green Scripto pencil to Frank Crowder who kept it all the time anyway.

Ernestine Johnson wills her ability to make A's in physics under Mr. Gaines to Lizzie Mae Willingham. Shelby Welch wills his ability to leave the school campus — unofficially — to Cecelia Phillips. Dorothy Irene Holland wills to Nellie Mae Bridges her ability to be a good sport in athletics — no matter what the score. Irvin Britt wills his extensive vocabulary to the future D. C. T. class and that this class will make the best use of his vocabulary throughout the years. Lucile Hunt wills to John Simmons her ability to remain on the honor roll at all times. Vera Mae Townsend wills her seat in Miss Cunningham's French class to her sister Helen Townsend. Alma Lee Jones wills to Rosylane Few, her seat in Mrs. Groves' music class, and also her ability to sing well enough before graduation for Mrs. Groves to let her lead a solo part. Maxine Kimble wills her mathematical ability to Annie Ruth Williams, and to Margaret Ward, her ability to earn good grades in all her subjects. Lucia wills her ability to make and keep friends to Thomas Kener. Frank Crowder is willing to let anybody use his brains as he will not need them while matriculating to Harvard and Yale Universities. Lois Evelyn Farmer wills to her sister, Hazel Farmer, her seat in Mrs. O. B. Brown's typing class.

Bessie Martin wills to her cousin, Martell Cato, her extra graduation unit and her seat in Mr. Phillips' English Composition class. Winifred Miller wills to Helen Townsend her seat in Mr. Burch's history class, and to Essie Jewell her pleasing personality. Eloise Clark wills her ability and capabilities as soprano soloist in the Glee Club to Barbara Thomas. Beatrice Thomas wills her seat in Mrs. Taylor's English class to Maudestine Johnson. Louis Sullivan wills to Willis James his borrowing ability to use Mr. Richardson's car to take his girl friend riding on Sunday afternoons. Evelyn Beavers wills to her sister, Barbara Beavers, her seat in Miss Cunningham's French class. Helen Kinney wills to Freddie Willis the ability to enjoy her best subject, Recess. Hattie Ruth Russell wills to LaFrance Stephens her greatest ambition of finishing high school before becoming an old maid. Sylvia Gideon wills her seat in Mrs. Chaires' Social Living class to Ella Mae Mason. Iona Chunn wills her musical ability to Barbara Yancey, with hopes that she will become a great concert pianist in the years to come. Catherine Juliet Mahone wills her seat in Mr. Nathaniel Smith's Sociology class to Clinton Callahan. Fannie Arnold Ballard wills to Jacquelyn Goss the ability to sew for her future family after graduation. Mattie Goodrum wills her office as president of the D. C. T. class to the next deserving student.

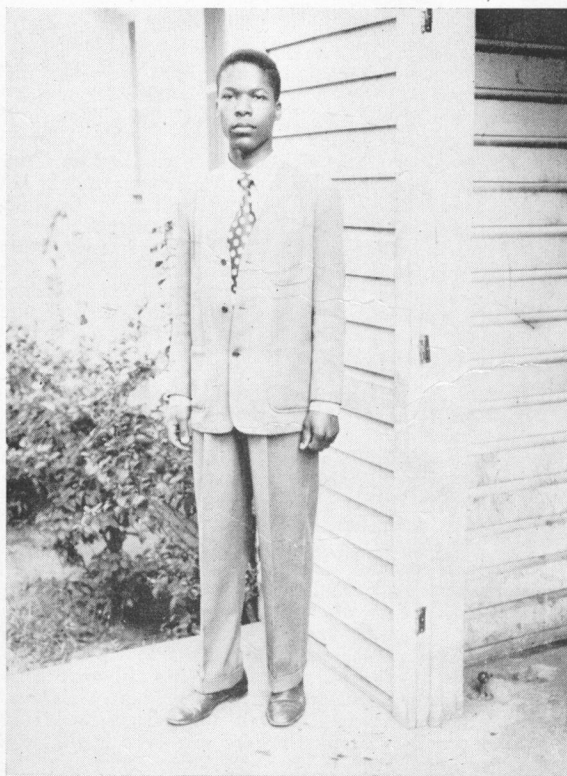

Hassie Mae Domineck wills her seat in physics to Doris Woodruff. Vera Latimore wills her seat in Mrs. Hatcher's D. C. T. class to Lesterine Hester. Larkin Mann wills his football uniform to Charlie Swain. Randolph Kendall wills his mathematical ability to Norma Tiller. Bina Louise Randolph wills her ability to miss Girls Chorus rehearsal and still know the music to Nellie Mae Bridges and Ernestine Mills. Catherine Brooks wills her pink, red, brown and white saddle oxfords to Bernice Johnson and Annie Roberts. Austin Willis wills her seat in physics to Janet Nelson. Fredine Gibson wills to her brother, Frank Gibson, her ability to make a few A's every now and then. Doris Jackson wills her cello in the orchestra to anyone who is capable of playing it as well as she. Frances Baker wills to Charlotte Davis the ability to finish high school at an early age. B. J. Johnson wills his football uniform, No. 13, to Herman Scott, and also his ability to play basketball without perspiring to Esquire Jackie Thomas. Richard Williams wills his seat in Mr. Thorpe's Human Biology class to anyone who can fight that "stuff."

Louis W. Sullivan wills seat 3, table 7, in physics to any deserving student who wishes to continue his education in the seat of one who is educated. Edward Williams wills to John Simmons his ability to "eat cheese" in some of his classes but to still maintain a good average. Doris Carter bequeaths to Lois McAfee any quality that she might possess that will help her to get along in the world.

Class Prophecy

In the June, 1950, graduating class of the Booker T. Washington High School there are many talented ambitious and intellectual students. So here we are ready, willing and quite able to give you all the details of what the future holds for you.

Let's see now. Where are my telescopic ray, my crystal ball and my imagination (mainly the latter)? Guess I'll need all three for this Herculean task.

Among the ambitious ones we see B. J. Johnson and Henry Culpepper headed for East Point in a huge red truck to perform their daily task of picking up the community's waste. The city hires them. As I gaze again I see the White House in Washington, D. C. There we find Harold Turner and Cameron Alexander, President and Vice-President, respectively. On Tenth Street in Washington, D. C., at the Lincoln Theater go Emily Morrow and Donald Thompson with twelve little Dons. Well, look at this! Marinel Thomas, Lucia Jean Bacote and Bettye Wilkins are Powers Models in New York. Around the corner is the Astoria Hotel owned by Fred Hill, Ferninda Harris and Harold McGuire. Ho hum. Of all things, the Empire State Building was bought by a newcomer. Who is it? Uh-huh, it's Willine Cox. Still in the money. How does she do it?

So! Jean Rutledge did make it. She is now President of Spelman College. An act has transformed the set-up to three months of school and nine months of vacation. I knew she would do it. Some of her co-workers are: Inez Hardnett, Delores Strong, Charles Bond, and Harold Alston, furthering their college education as janitors and maids.

Woe is me. How did I ever get back here? Atlanta, gosh! How I travel. Let's see now, there's Barbara Maddox, running off at the mouth as usual. Imagine trying to get Governor James (Jackie) Batts to marry her! Doris Carter has really made progress. She has established a Cartersville way down South. If I'm not mistaken I see Frances Collier as her cook and Willowdean Copeland as her personal maid. Doris Henderson has her own radio station and she doesn't need microphones. Dorothy Holland owns a beauty shop and she's really reasonable on her prices for her hair attachments. Daniel Allen is a salesman and guess what he's selling—Hadaacol. Arthur Mae Bridges is a sweet little nurse. Edwin Greene is her favorite doctor, but of course, Hassie Domineck controls the business. Well, whom do I see? It's Barbara Usher modeling a French Cocktail Gown which is fitting her to the extreme. Wait, she's bowing before her enthusiastic audience. Now, she's leaving the stage. I wonder what happened? Gee, she made one bow too many. This is terrific!

The years really have passed. Dr. Oberton has retired, and as I look into the crystal ball I see Christine Knox better known as Dr. Knox. She has taken over and is the only person capable of the job. May God bless the children of tomorrow. Well, well, there's William Jones and he's playing a new guitar version of that beloved song, "Don't you think I ought to know?"

Why there is our photographer, Loring Valentine. However, this time his camera is missing. He's first class cook at "Houston Rib Shack." I can't fight that. The crystal ball is getting cloudy with barbecue smoke, but oh, it's clearing up! There are nurses Mary Burch and Lucia Stevens working side by side at Mayo Clinic, and there's Marian Anderson looking rather annoyed. The reason is because Eloise Clark is fighting for one of her singing engagements at Town Hall. Iona Chunn has organized her own little rhythm band at E. R. Carter School. She's teaching them Revolutionay Etude.

Well, well, who is that just kayoed Ezzard Charles? Why it's Everett Render, and he's looking over his shoulder at Barbara Yancey. Watch out, Render!

If I am seeing straight I see Oliver Taylor, principal of B. T. Washington, and Gloria Lawson, head of the English Department, because of her likeness to a former head. (Express). How did I get to Harvard? Louis Sullivan is president, William Allison, Vice-President, and Jennelle Mason, Counselor.

Here comes a beautiful 1975 Cadillac and guess who is in it! Catherine Brooks and the great dramatic instructor, Ernestine Hill. One of her best plays was "Duel in the Sun."

Well now, Norman Davis, a well-known economist, is playing basketball with The Globe Trotters and Billy Harden is the star on the All-American football team. Gosh! Is this real? A set of twins with a set of twins. Ellen and Helen Kinney pushing sapphire and emerald carriages—without a doubt they married some very prosperous men. In California, Jean and Doris Jackson are presenting their Symphony Orchestra in concert at U.C.L.A.

A beauty contest and Ercell Burton won. I didn't think she had the nerve. What have we here? Turning the corner of Hollywood and Vine are Amelia Strong and "You Know Who" in a specially built Lincoln. Wonder where they're going? Now I see, they're in the "racket." Look who they are conversing with! Jumping cat fish! It's Hannah Battle.

Things are cloudy now, ah! Now isn't this becoming? At the Hotrod Notorious Studio we see Lucille Hunt, Barbara Tomlin, Jacquelyn Stephens, Edward Williams and Barbara Adams getting set for a renewed comeback of "Pinky." Barbara Adams is Pinky, you know.

This is what I've been waiting for—Ella Carolyn Phillips is presented in concert at Carnegie Hall, accompanied by Jacquelin Goss and Willena Torrence on bells and piano. Let's take a peep in the educational world. North Carolina, as president of the Palmer Memorial Institution is Freddie Gibson; teaching is Irene Merideth, Jo Ann Simmons and Juanita Hackney Glenn. Gee, she hooked Clinton after all. As president of Morehouse College I see Robert Thomas. Constance Scott now owns a real estate business on Auburn Avenue. In her office now I see Betty Smith, superintendent of nurses in New York City. Randolph Kendall is head of the police force in Los Angeles—he loves order and Bettyelaine Parks is demanding it for her kinds on tour to India. Herman Lester is now head of the Biology Department of Hampton Institute. It's done—Ruth Goodrum is married to the one and only Y. D. Powell and caring for the children well. Sarah Greene has five sets of twins. Helen Smith will be a loving modern housewife—Albert Haslam is still the C. C. C. play boy of Georgia.

There are quite a few competing night clubs in Chicago owned by Machion Garrison, Melvin Randolph and George Jeter (short man). Garrison is getting mighty good business. I wonder if it's level. I have my doubts.

Things are dark again, now it's clear. I see the senior class of '50 as it really is. Will these dreams come true? That, my dear classmates, is for you to determine. Remember:

"A great fortune depends on luck,
A small one on diligence."
There will never be another you,
So make the best of it.

Class Poem

Written by

GLORIA ELAINE LAWSON

and

EVELYN LUCIA NICHOLS

The day has come for us to part
And leave our school so true,
And through the years within our hearts
There will be happy thoughts of you.

Into the world we now must go
To seek our fortunes new
Your truths will guide us on we know
In all that we may say or do.

Good-bye, good-bye dear Washington
Good-bye, we love you so
Good-bye, good-bye dear Washington
How much we dread to go.

The shades of parting now are cast
We leave your guiding light
Our love for you will ever last
Be our future dark or bright.

Class Song

*Dear Washington High, our senior high
Departing time draws nigh;
We've done the best that we could do,
To prove that we were true.*

*Thy hallowed walls shall ne'er be bare
For our memories will always be there
A beacon lamp has been thy name
To guide us on the road to fame;
The standards of the blue and white
From age to age shall e'er be bright.*

*May God bless thee, dear Washington,
We'll e'er to thee be true;
Oh! Washington, we pledge our love;
Farewell, Dear School, to you.*
