Dear Holland Middle School Families:

It is my honor to be writing this letter to the community introducing myself as the principal of Holland Middle School. My name is Scott Bindemann, and I am joining the district with 20 years of experience in education as a coach, teacher, and administrator.

As an educator and as a parent, I have learned a great deal about the importance of Middle School in a child's development. This level bridges the gap between elementary and high school, helping students build independence, develop critical thinking, and form their identities. During these years, children are learning to navigate new challenges and relationships. Success in middle school lays the foundation for future achievement.

My goal is to build upon a culture of excellence and achievement, and to work collaboratively with our exceptional staff to provide an enriching educational experience for all students. I believe in fostering a positive and inclusive school culture that celebrates student success in all areas, promotes positive citizenship, and values the unique talents and contributions of everyone.

I firmly believe that open communication and collaboration are essential to student success. I encourage parents and guardians to actively engage in their child's education and participate in the vibrant school community at Holland Middle School. Throughout the school year, you can expect regular updates on important events, dates, achievements, and extracurriculars through newsletters, emails, and more.

I am truly excited to embark on this journey with all of you and look forward to getting to know each and every one of our students and families. Please feel free to reach out to me if you have any questions, concerns, or simply want to introduce yourself.

Go Dutchmen!!

Sincerely,

Scott S Bindemann
