COURSE DESCRIPTION

The Television Production Workshop (TPW) is the capstone class of the LOHS broadcast/video program. The TPW class produces programs for the school and community, including but not limited to the live newscast LO-AM, live sports/event broadcasts, and podcasts. The TPW group has been recognized annually with awards at the state and national level, and the students are expected to exceed expectations while studying the techniques and disciplines of live TV production. TPW members improve personal communication, leadership, time management, writing, and media literacy skills. They actively and consciously write, view, speak and listen. Television production is a team effort, and TPW members have various opportunities to practice skills needed for successful group dynamics. TPW students are not required to perform in front of the camera, and they are not required to have career goals in the broadcasting/video field. TPW meets the LOHS "Speaking and Listening" and "Visual, Performing, and Applied Art" Graduation requirements. TPW students can apply for ONTV-certification. TPW is considered an "Honors" course on the LOHS grading scale. All LOHS sophomores and juniors are welcome to apply to the course.

PRE-REQUISITE

Students must successfully complete Broadcast Communications 1 by the end of the current school year. It certainly doesn't hurt to take more classes, but nothing is required aside from Broadcast 1.

COMMITMENT

TPW students quickly learn that their audience, friends, and family do not appreciate the amount of work required to produce quality television. TPW students don't just commit to attending the class during the allotted time each school day; sometimes they have to do their "homework" outside of official class time by attending/covering popular events as a student journalist, and staying after school to work in the studio/classroom or to be part of an evening broadcast. If you are involved in other activities/teams, you CAN also be in TPW...you'll just need to work on managing your time!

Selection Criteria:

There are a limited number of spaces in the class. The course is open to students who will be juniors or seniors at LOHS in the 2026-27 academic year. Admission is determined by a Selection Committee. The Committee may include current TPW students and/or LOHS staff. Your identity is kept anonymous throughout most of this process. The Committee's decision may be based on some or all of the following criteria: your ability to make a favorable impression through your application, past success in previous broadcast/video course(s), your ability to communicate clearly, faculty input, the needs of the TPW team, and your ability to EXCEED expectations.

All applicants will receive a letter informing them of the Selection Committee's decision before Spring Break.

Honors TPW Application Instructions:

Answer in complete sentences, and use your best writing techniques as you answer each question completely. Please type OR use very neat handwriting. Do not answer on this form.

Please submit your application in-person to Mr. Smith in room D351 OR email it to roger.smith@lok12.org. It must be received by the deadline, even if you are absent that day. (You can turn it in electronically!) If you email it, Mr. Smith WILL WRITE BACK WITHIN 24 HOURS TO CONFIRM IT WAS RECEIVED.

Remember, the selection process could be based solely on your application!

1. Please list your name & grade.
2. Talk about why the Selection Committee should grant your application. This is your opportunity to discuss why YOU should be accepted into the Honors Television Production Workshop. SELL YOURSELF TO OUR SELECTION COMMITTEE! Include the information you believe will be most relevant and helpful as applications are screened. Be sure to discuss your unique characteristics & strengths. What do YOU bring to the team? And be sure to incorporate your personal motivation for joining the class.
3. Describe an idea you have for something you'd like to produce/film/edit as a member of TPW. It could be a LO-AM news story, a "Faces" segment, a LO-AM opener, an event you'd like to cover/broadcast, etc. Don't worry about the technical parts of editing/shooting...just describe your idea.
4. Please tell us about your TV/video/radio/podcast/broadcast/theater experience, if any. Please include relevant courses & teachers (from middle school & high school). Your answer can just be a list; it doesn't need to have any explanation. AND IT'S OKAY IF YOU DON'T HAVE ANY EXPERIENCE!
5. Tell us what you've been involved in since the start of high school through now, PLUS what do you plan to be involved in during your remaining year(s) at LOHS. This could be sports, clubs, jobs, volunteering, etc. If you have had any leadership roles in these activities, please note them. This answer can just be a list. AND IT'S OKAY IF YOU DON'T HAVE MUCH TO LIST!
6. [OPTIONAL] What else would you like to say, if anything? (Last chance to convince our Selection Committee why you should be invited to join TPW!) Remember, treat this application like an interview...what else do you want us to know about you?!

Return your responses to Mr. Smith in room D351
OR email it to roger.smith@lok12.org.
