2025-2026 RESOURCE DIRECTORY FOR HARRIS COUNTY

Designed for Agencies Serving Youth & Families

About This Directory

This resource directory serves as a practical guide to many of the most frequently accessed nonprofit, faith-based, United Way, and government services available to the public. While not exhaustive, it has been thoughtfully curated to assist professionals who work with youth and families in navigating available community support options.

In certain cases, private or for-profit providers may be listed when nonprofit alternatives are limited or when those providers offer free or specialized services that meet community needs. Inclusion in this directory is intended solely for informational purposes and does not constitute an endorsement or recommendation of any organization or program.

Because community resources evolve rapidly, a new edition of this directory is published each year. We welcome your help in keeping this tool accurate and current. If you come across outdated information or know of a valuable resource not yet included, we encourage you to contact us. If your agency is not currently included and meets the eligibility criteria, we welcome you to submit your information for consideration.

The submission deadline for the next edition is June 30th. Updates received after this date will be held for the following edition. To request an update form or to submit a new agency for review, please contact, Community Youth Services at 832-927-6369 or via email cys_directory@harriscountytx.gov.

For the most up-to-date information on state agencies, we recommend contacting the agency directly.

About Community Youth Services

Community Youth Services (CYS), a program of Harris County Resources for Children and Adults, provides school-based crisis intervention, counseling, and case management for youth and their families. The program is designed to offer practical support to children and adolescents who are experiencing challenges that affect their well-being or school success. The mission of CYS is to improve the lives of youth and their families through advocacy, education, and personal empowerment. In collaboration with local school districts and government agencies, CYS serves students across 13 Harris County school districts, as well as through partnerships with the Pasadena Police Department and the Educational Services Division of the Harris County Juvenile Probation Department. All services are voluntary and provided at no cost to families.

CYS Youth Service Specialists work closely with students and families to assess needs, provide counseling, and connect them with vital social services throughout the county. Issues such as truancy, running away, pregnancy, mental health needs, substance use, academic difficulties, and family stressors are among the most common reasons for referral. Support can be offered at school-based CYS offices, in the family's home, or another location within the community. When youth and families are involved with multiple agencies, CYS also helps coordinate care by serving as a liaison between families and partners such as Juvenile Probation, Children's Protective Services, and The Harris Center for Mental Health and IDD.

To access services, simply contact the Youth Service Specialist (YSS) assigned to your school district or reach out to their supervisor during regular school hours.
